If our security measures for our products and services are compromised and as a result, our data, our customers' data or our IT systems are accessed improperly, made unavailable, or improperly modified, our products and services may be perceived as vulnerable, our brand and reputation could be damaged, the IT services we provide to our customers could be disrupted, and customers may stop using our products and services, any of which could reduce our revenue and earnings, increase our expenses and expose us to legal claims and regulatory actions. Our products and services, including Oracle Cloud Services, store, retrieve, manipulate and manage third-party data, such as our customers' information and data, as well as our own data. We have a reputation for secure and reliable product offerings and related services, and we have invested a great deal of time and resources in protecting the integrity and security of our products, services and the internal and external data that we manage. Nonetheless, we believe that Oracle in particular is an attractive target for computer hackers and other bad actors because Oracle stores and processes large amounts of data, including in customer sectors involving particularly sensitive data such as health sciences, financial services, retail, hospitality and the government. We and our third-party vendors are regularly subject to attempts by third parties (which may include individuals or groups of hackers and sophisticated organizations, such as state-sponsored organizations, nation states and individuals sponsored by them) to identify and exploit product and service vulnerabilities, penetrate or bypass our security measures, and gain unauthorized access to our or our customers', partners' and suppliers' software, hardware and cloud offerings, networks and systems. Successful attempts by one of these malicious actors can lead to the compromise of personal information or the confidential information or data of Oracle or our customers. Attempts of this nature typically involve IT-related viruses, worms, and other malicious software programs that attack networks, systems, products and services, exploit potential security vulnerabilities of networks, systems, products and services, create system disruptions and cause shutdowns or denials of service. Third parties may attempt to fraudulently induce customers, partners, employees or suppliers into disclosing sensitive information such as user names, passwords or other information in order to gain access to our data, our customers', suppliers' or partners' data or the IT systems of Oracle, our customers, suppliers or partners. Our products and services, including our Oracle Cloud Services, may also be accessed or modified improperly as a result of customer, partner, employee, contractor or supplier error or malfeasance.

If a cyber-attack or other security incident results in unauthorized access to or modification of our customers' or suppliers' data, other external data, our own data or our IT systems, or if the services we provide to our customers are disrupted, or if our products or services are reported to have or are perceived as having security vulnerabilities, we could incur significant expenses and suffer significant damage to our brand and reputation. If our customers lose confidence in the security and reliability of our products and services, including our cloud offerings, and perceive them to not be secure, they may decide to reduce or terminate their spend with us. In addition, cyber-attacks and other security incidents could lead to significant investigation and remediation costs, loss or destruction of information, interruption of our operations, inappropriate use of proprietary and sensitive data, lawsuits, indemnity obligations, regulatory investigations and financial penalties, and claims and increased legal liability, including in some cases contractual costs related to customer notification and fraud monitoring. Our remediation efforts may not be successful. Because the techniques used to obtain unauthorized access to, or sabotage IT systems, change frequently, grow more complex over time, and often are not recognized until launched against a target, we may be unable to anticipate or implement adequate measures to prevent such techniques. Our internal IT systems continue to evolve and we are often early adopters of new technologies. However, our business policies and internal security controls may not keep pace with these changes as new threats emerge. In addition, we often experience increased activity of this nature during times of instability, including during the current COVID-19 pandemic when most of our employees are working from home, and our operations may be more susceptible to malfeasance due to operational changes instituted to comply with safety, health and regulatory requirements, among others. We may not discover any security breach and loss of information for a significant period of time after the security breach.

Our products operate in conjunction with and are dependent on a wide variety of third-party products, components and services. If there is a security vulnerability in one of these components, and if there is a security exploit targeting it, we could face increased costs, liability claims, customer dissatisfaction, reduced revenue, or harm to our reputation or competitive position. We also have an active acquisition program and have acquired a number of companies, products, services and technologies over the years. While we make significant efforts to address any IT security issues with respect to our acquired companies, we may still inherit such risks when we integrate these companies within Oracle.

Our business practices with respect to data could give rise to operational interruption, liabilities or reputational harm as a result of governmental regulation, legal requirements or industry standards relating to privacy and data protection. As regulatory focus on privacy issues continues to increase and worldwide laws and regulations concerning the handling of personal information expand and become more complex, potential risks related to data collection and use within our business will intensify. In addition, U.S. and foreign governments have enacted or are considering enacting legislation or regulations, or may in the near future interpret existing legislation or regulations, in a manner that could significantly impact our ability, as well as the ability of our customers, partners and data providers, to collect, augment, analyze, use, transfer and share personal and other information that is integral to certain services we provide.

In the wake of the European Union (EU) General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the rate of global consideration and adoption of privacy laws has increased, giving rise to more global jurisdictions in which regulatory inquiries and audits may be requested of Oracle, and if we are not deemed to be in compliance, could result in enforcement actions and/or fines. This is true in the U.S. where, for example, the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) became effective in January 2020, the U.S. Congress is considering several privacy bills at the federal level, and other state legislatures are considering privacy laws. Regulators globally are also imposing greater monetary fines for privacy violations. The GDPR, which became effective in May 2018, provides for monetary penalties of up to 4% of an organization's worldwide revenue. These penalties can be significant. For example, one European data protection regulator has fined a major U.S. technology company €50 million for its data handling practices. The U.S. Federal Trade Commission continues to fine companies on a regular basis for unfair and deceptive data protection practices, and these fines may increase in size. The CCPA provides for statutory damages or fines on a per violation basis that could be very large in the event of a significant data security breach or other CCPA violation. Taken together, the changes in laws or regulations associated with the enhanced protection of personal and other types of data could greatly increase the size of potential fines related to data protection, and our cost of providing our products and services could result in changes to our business practices or even prevent us from offering certain services in jurisdictions in which we operate. Although we have implemented contracts, diligence programs, policies and procedures designed to ensure compliance with applicable laws and regulations, there can be no assurance that our employees, contractors, partners, suppliers, data providers or agents will not violate such laws and regulations or our contracts, policies and procedures. Additionally, public perception and standards related to the privacy of personal information can shift rapidly, in ways that may affect our reputation or influence regulators to enact regulations and laws that may limit our ability to provide certain products and services.

We make statements about our use and disclosure of personal information through our privacy policy, information provided on our website and press statements. Any failure, or perceived failure, by us to comply with these public statements or with U.S. federal, state, or foreign laws and regulations, including laws and regulations regulating privacy, data security, or consumer protection, public perception, standards, self-regulatory requirements or legal obligations, could result in lost or restricted business, proceedings, actions or fines brought against us or levied by governmental entities or others, or could adversely affect our business and harm our reputation.

Third parties have claimed, and in the future may claim, infringement or misuse of intellectual property rights and/or breach of license agreement provisions.

We periodically receive notices from, or have lawsuits filed against us by, others claiming infringement or other misuse of their intellectual property rights and/or breach of our agreements with them. These third parties include entities that do not design, manufacture, or distribute products or services or that acquire intellectual property for the sole purpose of monetization through infringement assertions. We expect to continue to receive such claims as:

- we continue to expand into new businesses and acquire companies;
- the number of products and competitors in our industry segments grows;
- the use and support of third-party code (including open source code) becomes more prevalent in the industry;
- the volume of issued patents continues to increase; and
- non-practicing entities continue to assert intellectual property infringement in our industry segments.

Responding to any such claim, regardless of its validity, could:

- be time consuming, costly and result in litigation;
- divert management's time and attention from developing our business;
- require us to pay monetary damages or enter into royalty and licensing agreements that we would not normally find acceptable;
- require us to stop selling or to redesign certain of our products;
- require us to release source code to third parties, possibly under open source license terms;
- require us to satisfy indemnification obligations to our customers; or
- otherwise adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition or cash flows.

We may not be able to protect our intellectual property rights. We rely on copyright, trademark, patent and trade secret laws, confidentiality procedures, controls and contractual commitments to protect our intellectual property. Despite our efforts, these protections may be limited. Unauthorized third parties may try to copy or reverse engineer our products or otherwise use our intellectual property. Our patents may be invalidated or circumvented. Any of our pending or future patent applications may not be issued with the claim scope we seek, if at all. In addition, the laws of some countries do not provide the same level of intellectual property protection as U.S. laws and courts. If we cannot protect our intellectual property against unauthorized copying or use, or other misappropriation, we may not remain competitive.

We may not receive significant revenues from our current research and development efforts for several years, if at all. Developing our various product offerings is expensive and the investment in the development of these offerings often involves a long return on investment cycle. An important element of our corporate strategy is to continue to dedicate a significant amount of resources to research and development and related product and service opportunities both through internal investments and the acquisition of intellectual property from acquired companies. Accelerated product and service introductions and short lifecycles require high levels of expenditures for research and development that could adversely affect our operating results if not offset by revenue increases. We believe that we must continue to dedicate a significant amount of resources to our research and development efforts to maintain our competitive position. However, we do not expect to receive significant revenues from these investments for several years, if at all.

Legal and Regulatory Risks

Adverse litigation results could affect our business. We are subject to various legal proceedings. Litigation can be lengthy, expensive and disruptive to our operations, and can divert our management's attention away from running our core business. The results of our litigation also cannot be predicted with certainty. An adverse decision could result in monetary damages or injunctive relief that could affect our business, operating results or financial condition. Additional information regarding certain of the lawsuits we are involved in is discussed under Note 17 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report.

We may be subjected to increased taxes due to changes in U.S. or international tax laws or from adverse resolutions of tax audits and controversies. As a multinational corporation, we incur income taxes as well as non-income based taxes (such as payroll, sales, use, property and value-added taxes) in both the U.S. and various foreign jurisdictions. Significant uncertainties exist with respect to the application of the various taxes to the businesses in which we engage, often requiring that we make judgments in determining our tax liabilities and worldwide provision for income taxes. We are regularly under audit by tax authorities in the U.S. and internationally, which can lead to disagreements such as regarding our intercompany transfer prices and calculations and on the applicability of withholding taxes to our cross-border transactions. Any unfavorable resolution of these tax audits and controversies could cause our tax liabilities to increase and may have a significant adverse impact on our provision for income taxes and tax rate. Although we believe that our income and non-income based tax estimates are reasonable, there is no assurance that the final determination of tax audits or disputes will not be different from what is reflected in our historical income tax provisions and tax accruals.

Increasingly, countries around the world are actively considering or have enacted changes in relevant tax, accounting and other laws, regulations and interpretations. In the U.S., various proposals, if enacted, would dramatically raise the U.S. corporate tax rate and increase the tax on non-U.S. income. Such unfavorable tax legislation resulting from the shifting U.S. political landscape and economic environment create the potential for added volatility in our quarterly provision for income taxes and could have a significant adverse impact on our future income tax provision and tax rate.

Other countries also continue to consider changes to their tax laws that could negatively affect us by increasing taxes imposed on our international revenue streams, operations and cross-border transactions, including the imposition of taxes targeted at digital technology businesses and changes in withholding tax regimes. More fundamentally, longstanding international tax principles that determine each country's right to tax cross-border transactions are being reconsidered, creating significant uncertainty as to the future level of corporate income tax on our international operations. This re-examination of the global tax system is driven by a perceived need to provide greater taxing rights to market jurisdictions where customers or users are located. Various measures are being discussed, including adjustments to the manner in which taxable profits are allocated among jurisdictions, as well as the limitation of deductions for, or the imposition of additional withholding taxes on, intercompany payments.

The foregoing proposals to raise U.S. corporate income taxes in combination with the uncertain international tax environment have upended the predictability and reliability of the global tax system. Our future income tax provision and tax rate could significantly increase if such tax law changes are enacted in the U.S. or in countries in which we do business. Our provision for income taxes also could be adversely affected by shifts of earnings from jurisdictions that have relatively lower statutory tax rates to those in which the rates are relatively higher. In addition, changes in the valuation of our deferred tax assets or liabilities could negatively impact our income tax provision.

Our international sales and operations subject us to additional risks that can adversely affect our operating results. We derive a substantial portion of our revenues from, and have significant operations, outside of the U.S. Compliance with international and U.S. laws and regulations that apply to our international operations increases our cost of doing business in foreign jurisdictions. These laws and regulations include data privacy requirements, labor relations laws, tax laws, foreign currency-related regulations, competition regulations, anti-bribery laws and other laws prohibiting payments to governmental officials such as the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA), market access regulations, tariffs, and import, export and general trade regulations, including but not limited to economic sanctions and embargos. Violations of these laws and regulations could result in fines and penalties, criminal sanctions against us, our officers or our employees, and prohibitions on the conduct of our business, including the loss of trade privileges. Any such violations could result in prohibitions on our ability to offer our products and services in one or more countries, could delay or prevent potential acquisitions and could also materially damage our reputation, our brand, our international expansion efforts, our ability to attract and retain employees, our business and our operating results. These laws can require suspension or termination of business, including financial transactions, in certain countries, territories or with certain customers and any such action in the future could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Compliance with these laws also requires a significant amount of management attention and effort, which may divert management's attention from running our business operations and could harm our ability to grow our business, or may increase our expenses as we engage specialized or other additional resources to assist us with our compliance efforts.

Our success depends, in part, on our ability to anticipate these risks and manage these difficulties. We monitor our operations and investigate allegations of improprieties relating to transactions and the way in which such transactions are recorded. Where circumstances warrant, we provide information and report our findings to government authorities, and in some circumstances such authorities conduct their own investigations and we respond to their requests or demands for information. No assurance can be given that action will not be taken by such authorities or that our compliance program will prove effective.

We are also subject to a variety of other risks and challenges in managing an organization operating globally, including those related to:

- general economic conditions in each country or region;
- public health risks, social risks and supporting infrastructure stability risks, particularly in areas in which we have significant operations;
- fluctuations in currency exchange rates and related impacts on customer demand and our operating results;
- difficulties in transferring funds from or converting currencies in certain countries that could lead to a devaluation of our net assets, in particular our cash assets, in that country's currency;
- regulatory changes, including government austerity measures in certain countries that we may not be able to sufficiently plan for or avoid that may unexpectedly impair bank deposits or other cash assets that we hold in these countries or that impose additional taxes that we may be required to pay in these countries;
- political unrest, terrorism and the potential for other hostilities;
- common local business behaviors that are in direct conflict with our business ethics, practices and conduct policies;
- natural disasters;
- the effects of climate change (such as sea level rise, drought, flooding, wildfires and increased storm sensitivity);
- longer payment cycles and difficulties in collecting accounts receivable;
- overlapping tax regimes; and
- reduced protection for intellectual property rights in some countries.

The variety of risks and challenges listed above could also disrupt or otherwise negatively impact our supply chain operations and sales of our products and services in affected countries or regions.

As the majority shareholder of Oracle Financial Services Software Limited, a publicly traded company in India, and Oracle Corporation Japan, a publicly traded company in Japan, we are faced with several additional risks, including being subject to local securities regulations and being unable to exert full control that we would otherwise have if these entities were wholly-owned subsidiaries.

Our sales to government clients expose us to business volatility and risks, including government budgeting cycles and appropriations, procurement regulations, governmental policy shifts, early termination of contracts, audits, investigations, sanctions and penalties. We derive revenues from contracts with the U.S. government, state and local governments, and foreign governments and are subject to procurement laws relating to the award, administration and performance of those contracts.

Governmental entities are variously pursuing policies that affect our ability to sell our products and services. Changes in government procurement policy, priorities, regulations, technology initiatives and/or requirements may negatively impact our potential for growth in the government sector. For example, the U.S. government imposes evolving cybersecurity requirements, including, for example, the FedRAMP authorization process and the Department of Defense (DoD) Cybersecurity Maturity Model Certification (CMMC). These requirements may impact our lines of business in the U.S. federal government market. Compliance with these cybersecurity requirements is complex and costly, and failure to meet, or delays in meeting, the required security controls could limit our ability to sell products and services, directly or indirectly, to the DoD and other federal and state government entities that implement similar cybersecurity requirements.

We are also subject to early termination of our contracts. Many governmental entities have the right to terminate contracts at any time, without cause. For example, the U.S. federal government may terminate any of our government contracts and subcontracts at its convenience, or for default based on our performance.

U.S. federal, state and local government and foreign government contracts are generally subject to government funding authorizations/appropriations. Contracts may be terminated based upon a lack of government funds.

There is increased pressure on governments and their agencies, both domestically and internationally, to reduce spending as governments continue to face significant deficit reduction pressures. This may adversely impact spending on government programs.

Government contracts laws and regulations impose certain risks, and contracts are generally subject to audits and investigations. If violations of law are found, they could result in civil and criminal penalties and administrative sanctions, including termination of contracts, refund of a portion of fees received, forfeiture of profits, suspension of payments, fines and suspensions or debarment from future government business.

Environmental and other related laws and regulations subject us to a number of risks and could result in significant liabilities and costs. Some of our cloud and hardware operations are subject to state, federal and international laws governing protection of the environment, proper handling and disposal of materials used for these products, human health and safety, the use of certain chemical substances and the labor practices of suppliers, as well as local testing and labeling requirements. Compliance with these ever-changing environmental and other laws in a timely manner could increase our product design, development, procurement, manufacturing, delivery, cloud operations and administration costs, limit our ability to manage excess and obsolete non-compliant inventory, change our sales activities, or otherwise impact future financial results of our cloud and hardware businesses. Any violation of these laws can subject us to significant liability, including fines, penalties and possible prohibition of sales of our products and services into one or more states or countries and result in a material adverse effect on the financial condition or results of operations of our cloud and hardware businesses. Regulatory, market, and competitive pressures regarding the greenhouse gas emissions and energy mix for our data center operations may also grow.

A significant portion of our hardware revenues come from international sales. Environmental legislation, such as the EU Directive on Restriction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS), the EU Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment Directive (WEEE Directive) and China's regulation on Management Methods for Controlling Pollution Caused by Electronic Information Products, among others, may increase our cost of doing business internationally and impact our hardware revenues from the EU, China and other countries with similar environmental legislation as we endeavor to comply with and implement these requirements. The UK Government has announced a procurement policy that includes environmental, social and economic sustainability measures.

The SEC requires public disclosure for registrants that use certain "conflict minerals" in their products. Our supply chain is multi-tiered, global and highly complex. As a provider of hardware end-products, we are several steps removed from the mining and smelting or refining of any conflict minerals in our supply chain. Accordingly, our ability to determine with certainty the origin and chain of custody of conflict minerals is limited.

We have an Environmental Steering Committee (ESC) comprised of senior individuals from a wide range of Oracle business units, including our Chief Sustainability Officer who reports to our Chief Executive Officer and oversees our overall sustainability strategy, including climate related risk mitigation. The ESC evaluates if climate or environmental risks have the potential for significant chronic or acute impact on our core and/or strategic business functions, including service delivery and support, product development and deployment, supply chain management, facility operations, employee recruitment and retention, or brand reputation. A failure by the ESC to identify and assess these risks could adversely affect our reputation, business, financial performance and growth.

We publish an annual Corporate Citizenship Report, which includes disclosure of our Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) matters and goals. Our disclosures on these matters, and standards we set for ourselves or a failure to meet these standards, may potentially harm our reputation and brand. By electing to set and share publicly these corporate ESG standards, our business may also face increased scrutiny related to ESG activities.

Financial Risks

Our quarterly results of operations may fluctuate significantly based on a number of factors that make our results of operations difficult for us to predict. Our revenues, particularly certain of our cloud license and on-premise license revenues and hardware revenues, can be difficult to forecast. A substantial portion of our cloud license, on-premise license and hardware contracts is completed in the latter part of a quarter, and a significant percentage of these is comprised of larger value orders. Because a significant portion of our cost structure is largely fixed in the short term, sales and revenue shortfalls tend to have a disproportionately negative impact on our profitability. The number of large license transactions and, to a lesser extent, hardware products transactions increases the risk of fluctuations in our quarterly results because a delay in even a small number of these transactions could cause our quarterly sales, revenues and profitability to fall significantly short of our predictions. In addition, sudden shifts in regional or global economic activity, such as what we experienced initially at the outset of the COVID-19 pandemic, may cause our sales forecasts to be inaccurate.

We may experience foreign currency gains and losses. Changes in currency exchange rates can adversely affect customer demand and our revenue and profitability. We conduct a significant number of transactions and hold cash in currencies other than the U.S. Dollar. Changes in the values of major foreign currencies, particularly the Euro, Japanese Yen and British Pound, relative to the U.S. Dollar can significantly affect our total assets, revenues, operating results and cash flows, which are reported in U.S. Dollars. Fluctuations in foreign currency rates, including the strengthening of the U.S. Dollar against the Euro and most other major international currencies, adversely affects our revenue growth in terms of the amounts that we report in U.S. Dollars after converting our foreign currency results into U.S. Dollars and in terms of actual demand for our products and services as certain of these products may become relatively more expensive for foreign currency-based enterprises to purchase. In addition, currency variations can adversely affect margins on sales of our products in countries outside of the U.S. Generally, our reported revenues and operating results are adversely affected when the dollar strengthens relative to other currencies and are positively affected when the dollar weakens. In addition, our reported assets generally are adversely affected when the dollar strengthens relative to other currencies as a portion of our consolidated cash and bank deposits, among other assets, are held in foreign currencies and reported in U.S. Dollars.

In addition, we incur foreign currency transaction gains and losses, primarily related to sublicense fees and other intercompany agreements among us and our subsidiaries that we expect to cash settle in the near term, which are charged to earnings in the period incurred. We have a program which primarily utilizes foreign currency forward contracts designed to offset the risks associated with certain foreign currency exposures. We may suspend the program from time to time. As part of this program, we enter into foreign currency forward contracts so that increases or decreases in our foreign currency exposures are offset at least in part by gains or losses on the foreign currency forward contracts in an effort to mitigate the risks and volatility associated with our foreign currency transaction gains or losses. A large portion of our consolidated operations are international, and we expect that we will continue to realize gains or losses with respect to our foreign currency exposures, net of gains or losses from our foreign currency forward contracts. For example, we will experience foreign currency gains and losses in certain instances if it is not possible or cost-effective to hedge our foreign currency exposures, if our hedging efforts are ineffective, or should we suspend our foreign currency forward contract program. Our ultimate realized loss or gain with respect to currency fluctuations will generally depend on the size and type of cross-currency exposures that we enter into, the currency exchange rates associated with these exposures and changes in those rates, whether we have entered into foreign currency forward contracts to offset these exposures and any related fees paid to purchase such contracts, and other factors. All of these factors could materially impact our results of operations, financial position and cash flows.

We have incurred foreign currency losses associated with the devaluation of currencies in certain highly inflationary economies relative to the U.S. Dollar. We could incur future losses in emerging market countries where we do business should their currencies become designated as highly inflationary.

There are risks associated with our outstanding and future indebtedness. As of May 31, 2021, we had an aggregate of $84.2 billion of outstanding indebtedness that will mature between calendar year 2021 and calendar year 2061, and we may incur additional indebtedness in the future. Our ability to pay interest and repay the principal for our indebtedness is dependent upon our ability to manage our business operations, generate sufficient cash flows to service such debt and the other factors discussed in this section. There can be no assurance that we will be able to manage any of these risks successfully.

We may also need to refinance a portion of our outstanding debt as it matures. There is a risk that we may not be able to refinance existing debt or that the terms of any refinancing may not be as favorable as the terms of our existing debt. Furthermore, if prevailing interest rates or other factors at the time of refinancing result in higher interest rates upon refinancing, then the interest expense relating to that refinanced indebtedness would increase.

Should we incur future increases in interest expense, our ability to utilize certain of our foreign tax credits to reduce our U.S. federal income tax could be limited, which could unfavorably affect our provision for income taxes and effective tax rate. In addition, changes by any rating agency to our outlook or credit rating could negatively affect the value of both our debt and equity securities and increase the interest amounts we pay on certain outstanding or future debt. These risks could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Related to Our Common Stock

Our stock price could become more volatile and your investment could lose value. All of the factors discussed within this Risk Factors section could affect our stock price. The timing of announcements in the public market by us or by our competitors regarding new cloud services, products, product enhancements, technological advances, acquisitions or major transactions could also affect our stock price. Changes in the amounts and frequency of share repurchases or dividends could affect our stock price. Our stock price could also be affected by factors, some of which are beyond our control, including, among others: speculation in the press, social media and the analyst community, changes in recommendations or earnings related estimates by financial analysts, changes in investors' or analysts' valuation measures for our stock, negative analyst surveys or channel check surveys, earnings announcements where our financial results differ from our guidance or investors' expectations, our credit ratings and market trends unrelated to our performance. The stock market in general, and the market for technology companies in particular, has experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations that have often been unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of those companies. A significant drop in our stock price could also expose us to the risk of securities class action lawsuits, which could result in substantial costs and divert management's attention and resources, which could adversely affect our business.

We cannot guarantee that our stock repurchase program will be fully implemented or that it will enhance long-term stockholder value. In fiscal 2021, our Board of Directors approved expansions of our stock repurchase program totaling $20.0 billion. The repurchase program does not have an expiration date and we are not obligated to repurchase a specified number or dollar value of shares. Our repurchase program may be suspended or terminated at any time and, even if fully implemented, may not enhance long-term stockholder value.

General Risks

Economic, political and market conditions can adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition, including our revenue growth and profitability, which in turn could adversely affect our stock price. Our business is influenced by a range of factors that are beyond our control and that we have no comparative advantage in forecasting. These include:

- general economic and business conditions;
- overall demand for enterprise cloud, license and hardware products and services;
- governmental budgetary constraints or shifts in government spending priorities; and
- general legal, regulatory and political developments.

Macroeconomic developments such as the global economic effects resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic, the United Kingdom leaving the EU (Brexit), evolving trade policies between the U.S. and international trade partners, or the occurrence of similar events in other countries that lead to uncertainty or instability in economic, political or market conditions could negatively affect our business, operating results, financial condition and outlook, which, in turn, could adversely affect our stock price. Any general weakening of, and related declining corporate confidence in, the global economy or the curtailment of government or corporate spending could cause current or potential customers to reduce or eliminate their IT budgets and spending, which could cause customers to delay, decrease or cancel purchases of our products and services or cause customers not to pay us or to delay paying us for previously purchased products and services.

In addition, international, regional or domestic political unrest and the related potential impact on global stability, terrorist attacks and the potential for other hostilities in various parts of the world, public health crises such as the COVID-19 pandemic, and natural disasters continue to contribute to a climate of economic and political uncertainty that could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition, including our revenue growth and profitability. These factors generally have the strongest effect on our sales of cloud license and on-premise license, hardware and related services and, to a lesser extent, also may affect our renewal rates for license support and our subscription-based cloud offerings.

Business disruptions could adversely affect our operating results. A significant portion of our critical business operations are concentrated in a few geographic areas, some of which include emerging market international locations that may be less stable relative to running such business operations solely within the U.S. We are a highly automated business and a disruption or failure of our systems, supply chains and processes could cause delays in completing sales, providing services, including some of our cloud offerings, and enabling a seamless customer experience with respect to our customer facing back office processes. A major earthquake or fire, political, social or other disruption to infrastructure that supports our operations or other catastrophic event or the effects of climate change (such as increased storm severity, drought and pandemics) that results in the destruction or disruption of any of our critical business, supply chains or IT systems could severely affect our ability to conduct normal business operations and, as a result, our future operating results could be materially and adversely affected.

Item 1B. Unresolved Staff Comments

None.

Item 2. Properties

Our properties consist of owned and leased office facilities for sales, support, research and development, services, manufacturing, cloud operations and administrative and other functions. Our headquarters facility consists of approximately 0.9 million square feet in Austin, Texas, substantially all of which we own. We also own or lease other facilities for current use consisting of approximately 24.1 million square feet in various other locations in the U.S. and abroad. Approximately 3.9 million square feet, or 16%, of our total owned and leased space is sublet or is being actively marketed for sublease or disposition. We lease our principal internal manufacturing facility for our hardware products in Hillsboro, Oregon. Our cloud operations deliver our Oracle Cloud Services through the use of global data centers, substantially all of which were leased through colocation suppliers. We believe that our facilities are in good condition and suitable for the conduct of our business.

Item 3. Legal Proceedings

The material set forth in Note 14 (pertaining to information regarding contingencies related to our income taxes) and Note 17 (pertaining to information regarding legal contingencies) of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 15 of this Annual Report on Form 10-K is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 4. Mine Safety Disclosures

Not applicable.

PART IIItem 5. Market for Registrant’s Common Equity, Related Stockholder Matters and Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities

Our common stock is traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol “ORCL.” According to the records of our transfer agent, we had 8,100 stockholders of record as of May 31, 2021.

For equity compensation plan information, please refer to Item 12 in Part III of this Annual Report.

Stock Repurchase Program

Our Board of Directors has approved a program for us to repurchase shares of our common stock. On March 10, 2021, we announced that our Board of Directors approved an expansion of our stock repurchase program by an additional $20.0 billion. As of May 31, 2021, approximately $15.6 billion remained available for stock repurchases pursuant to our stock repurchase program.

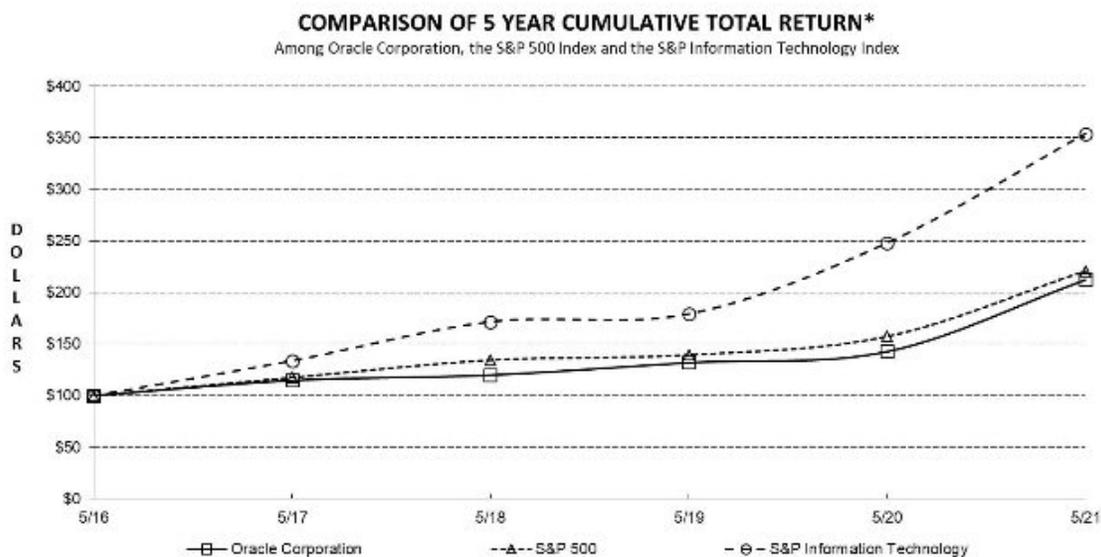

Our stock repurchase authorization does not have an expiration date and the pace of our repurchase activity will depend on factors such as our working capital needs, our cash requirements for acquisitions and dividend payments, our debt repayment obligations or repurchases of our debt, our stock price, and economic and market conditions. Our stock repurchases may be effected from time to time through open market purchases or pursuant to a Rule 10b5-1 plan. Our stock repurchase program may be accelerated, suspended, delayed or discontinued at any time.

The following table summarizes the stock repurchase activity for the three months ended May 31, 2021 and the approximate dollar value of shares that may yet be purchased pursuant to our stock repurchase program:

Item 7. Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

We begin Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations with an overview of our businesses and significant trends. This overview is followed by a summary of our critical accounting policies and estimates that we believe are important to understanding the assumptions and judgments incorporated in our reported financial results. We then provide a more detailed analysis of our results of operations and financial condition for fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020. A discussion regarding our financial condition and results of operations for fiscal 2020 compared to fiscal 2019 can be found in Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in Part II, Item 7 of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended May 31, 2020, as filed with the SEC on June 22, 2020, which is available free of charge on the SEC’s website at www.sec.gov and on our Investor Relations website at www.oracle.com/investor.

Business Overview

Oracle provides products and services that address enterprise information technology (IT) environments. Our products and services include enterprise applications and infrastructure offerings that are delivered worldwide through a variety of flexible and interoperable IT deployment models. These models include on-premise deployments, cloud-based deployments, and hybrid deployments (an approach that combines both on-premise and cloud-based deployment) such as our Oracle Cloud@Customer offering (an instance of Oracle Cloud in a customer’s own data center). Accordingly, we offer choice and flexibility to our customers and facilitate the product, service and deployment combinations that best suit our customers’ needs. Through our worldwide sales force and Oracle Partner Network, we sell to customers all over the world including businesses of many sizes, government agencies, educational institutions and resellers.

We have three businesses: cloud and license; hardware; and services; each of which comprises a single operating segment. The descriptions set forth below as a part of this Item 7 and the information contained within Item 1 Business and Note 15 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report provide additional information related to our businesses and operating segments and align to how our chief operating decision makers (CODMs), which include our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Technology Officer, view our operating results and allocate resources.

Impacts of the COVID-19 Pandemic on Oracle’s Business

For a discussion of the impacts on and risks to our business from COVID-19, please refer to “Impacts of the COVID-19 Pandemic on Oracle’s Business” included in Item 1 Business in this Annual Report, the risks included in Item 1A Risk Factors in this Annual Report and the information presented below in “Results of Operations” in this Item 7.

Cloud and License Business

Our cloud and license business, which represented 84% and 83% of our total revenues in fiscal 2021 and 2020, respectively, markets, sells and delivers a broad spectrum of enterprise applications and infrastructure technologies through our cloud and license offerings. Revenue streams included in our cloud and license business are:

- Cloud services and license support revenues, which include:
 - license support revenues, which are earned by providing Oracle license support services to customers that have elected to purchase support services in connection with the purchase of Oracle applications and infrastructure software licenses for use in cloud, on-premise and other IT environments. Substantially all license support customers renew their support contracts with us upon expiration in order to continue to benefit from technical support services and the periodic issuance of unspecified updates and enhancements, which current license support customers are entitled to receive. License support contracts are generally priced as a percentage of the net fees paid by the customer to purchase a cloud license and/or on-premise license; are generally billed in advance of the support services being performed; are generally renewed at the customer’s option; and are generally recognized as revenues ratably over the contractual period that the support services are provided, which is generally one year; and

- cloud services revenues, which provide customers access to Oracle Cloud applications and infrastructure technologies via cloud-based deployment models that Oracle develops, provides unspecified updates and enhancements for, deploys, hosts, manages and supports and that customers access by entering into a subscription agreement with us for a stated period. Oracle Cloud Services arrangements are generally billed in advance of the cloud services being performed; generally have durations of one to three years; are generally renewed at the customer's option; and are generally recognized as revenues ratably over the contractual period of the cloud contract or, in the case of usage model contracts, as the cloud services are consumed over time.
- Cloud license and on-premise license revenues, which include revenues from the licensing of our software products including Oracle Applications, Oracle Database, Oracle Middleware and Java, among others, which our customers deploy within cloud-based, on-premise and other IT environments. Our cloud license and on-premise license transactions are generally perpetual in nature and are generally recognized as revenues up front at the point in time when the software is made available to the customer to download and use. Revenues from usage-based royalty arrangements for distinct cloud licenses and on-premise licenses are recognized at the point in time when the software end user usage occurs. The timing of a few large license transactions can substantially affect our quarterly license revenues due to the point-in-time nature of revenue recognition for license transactions, which is different than the typical revenue recognition pattern for our cloud services and license support revenues in which revenues are generally recognized ratably over the contractual terms. Cloud license and on-premise license customers have the option to purchase and renew license support contracts, as further described above.

Providing choice and flexibility to our customers as to when and how they deploy Oracle applications and infrastructure technologies are important elements of our corporate strategy. In recent periods, customer demand for our applications and infrastructure technologies delivered through our Oracle Cloud Services has increased. To address customer demand and enable customer choice, we have introduced certain programs for customers to pivot their applications and infrastructure licenses and the related license support to the Oracle Cloud for new deployments and to migrate to and expand with the Oracle Cloud for their existing workloads. The proportion of our cloud services and license support revenues relative to our cloud license and on-premise license revenues, hardware revenues and services revenues has increased and we expect this trend to continue. Cloud services and license support revenues represented 71%, 70% and 68% of our total revenues during fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively.

Our cloud and license business' revenue growth is affected by many factors, including the strength of general economic and business conditions; governmental budgetary constraints; the strategy for and competitive position of our offerings; the continued renewal of our cloud services and license support customer contracts by the customer contract base; substantially all customers continuing to purchase license support contracts in connection with their license purchases; the pricing of license support contracts sold in connection with the sales of licenses; the pricing, amounts and volumes of licenses and cloud services sold; our ability to manage Oracle Cloud capacity requirements to meet existing and prospective customer demand; and foreign currency rate fluctuations.

On a constant currency basis, we expect that our total cloud and license revenues generally will continue to increase due to:

- expected growth in our cloud services and license support offerings; and
- continued demand for our cloud license and on-premise license offerings.

We believe these factors should contribute to future growth in our cloud and license business' total revenues, which should enable us to continue to make investments in research and development and our cloud operations to develop, improve, increase the capacity of and expand the geographic footprint of our cloud and license products and services.

Our cloud and license business' margin has historically trended upward over the course of the four quarters within a particular fiscal year due to the historical upward trend of our cloud and license business' revenues over those quarterly periods and because the majority of our costs for this business are generally fixed in the short term. The historical upward trend of our cloud and license business' revenues over the course of the four quarters within a particular fiscal year is primarily due to the addition of new cloud services and license support contracts to the customer contract base that we generally recognize as revenues ratably or based upon customer usage over the respective contractual terms; the renewal of existing customers' cloud services and license support contracts over the course of each fiscal year that we generally recognize as revenues ratably; and the historical upward trend of our cloud license and on-premise license revenues, which we generally recognize at a point in time upon delivery; in each case over those four quarterly periods.

Hardware Business

Our hardware business, which represented 8% and 9% of our total revenues in fiscal 2021 and 2020, respectively, provides a broad selection of enterprise hardware products and hardware-related software products including Oracle Engineered Systems, servers, storage, industry-specific hardware offerings, operating systems, virtualization, management and other hardware-related software, and related hardware support. Each hardware product and its related software, such as an operating system or firmware, are highly interdependent and interrelated and are accounted for as a combined performance obligation. The revenues for this combined performance obligation are generally recognized at the point in time that the hardware product and its related software are delivered to the customer and ownership is transferred to the customer. We expect to make investments in research and development to improve existing hardware products and services and to develop new hardware products and services. The majority of our hardware products are sold through indirect channels, including independent distributors and value-added resellers. Our hardware support offerings provide customers with unspecified software updates for software components that are essential to the functionality of our hardware products and associated software products such as Oracle Solaris. Our hardware support offerings can also include product repairs, maintenance services and technical support services. Hardware support contracts are entered into and renewed at the option of the customer, are generally priced as a percentage of the net hardware products fees and are generally recognized as revenues ratably as the hardware support services are delivered over the contractual terms.

We generally expect our hardware business to have lower operating margins as a percentage of revenues than our cloud and license business due to the incremental costs we incur to produce and distribute these products and to provide support services, including direct materials and labor costs.

Our quarterly hardware revenues are difficult to predict. Our hardware revenues, cost of hardware and hardware operating margins that we report are affected by many factors, including our manufacturing partners' abilities to timely manufacture or deliver a few large hardware transactions; our strategy for and the position of our hardware products relative to competitor offerings; customer demand for competing offerings, including cloud infrastructure offerings; the strength of general economic and business conditions; governmental budgetary constraints; whether customers decide to purchase hardware support contracts at or in close proximity to the time of hardware product sale; the percentage of our hardware support contract customer base that renews its support contracts and the close association between hardware products, which have a finite life, and customer demand for related hardware support as hardware products age; customer decisions to either maintain or upgrade their existing hardware infrastructure to newly developed technologies that are available; and foreign currency rate fluctuations.

Services Business

Our services business, which represented 8% of our total revenues in each of fiscal 2021 and 2020, helps customers and partners maximize the performance of their investments in Oracle applications and infrastructure technologies. We believe that our services are differentiated based on our focus on Oracle technologies, extensive experience, broad sets of intellectual property and best practices. Our services offerings include consulting services and advanced customer services. Our services business has lower margins than our cloud and license and hardware businesses. Our services revenues are affected by many factors including our strategy for, and the competitive position of, our services; customer demand for our cloud and license and hardware offerings and the associated services for these offerings; general economic conditions; governmental budgetary constraints; personnel reductions in our customers' IT departments; tighter controls over customer discretionary spending; and foreign currency rate fluctuations.

Acquisitions

Our selective and active acquisition program is another important element of our corporate strategy. Historically, we have invested billions of dollars to acquire a number of complementary companies, products, services and technologies. The pace of our acquisitions has slowed in recent years, but as compelling opportunities become available, we may acquire companies, products, services and technologies in furtherance of our corporate strategy. Note 2 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report provides additional information related to our recent acquisitions.

We believe that we can fund our future acquisitions with our internally available cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities, cash generated from operations, additional borrowings or from the issuance of additional securities. We estimate the financial impact of any potential acquisition with regard to earnings, operating margin, cash flows and return on invested capital targets before deciding to move forward with an acquisition.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Our consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) as set forth in the Financial Accounting Standards Board's Accounting Standards Codification (ASC), and we consider the various staff accounting bulletins and other applicable guidance issued by the SEC. GAAP, as set forth within the ASC, requires us to make certain estimates, judgments and assumptions. We believe that the estimates, judgments and assumptions upon which we rely are reasonable based upon information available to us at the time that these estimates, judgments and assumptions are made. These estimates, judgments and assumptions can affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the periods presented. To the extent that there are differences between these estimates, judgments or assumptions and actual results, our financial statements will be affected. The accounting policies that reflect our more significant estimates, judgments and assumptions and which we believe are the most critical to aid in fully understanding and evaluating our reported financial results include:

- Revenue Recognition;
- Business Combinations;
- Goodwill and Intangible Assets—Impairment Assessments;
- Accounting for Income Taxes; and
- Legal and Other Contingencies.

Our senior management has reviewed our critical accounting policies and related disclosures with the Finance and Audit Committee of the Board of Directors. Note 1 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report includes additional information about our critical and other accounting policies.

Revenue Recognition

The most critical judgments required in applying ASC 606, Revenue Recognition from Customers, and our revenue recognition policy relate to the determination of distinct performance obligations and the evaluation of the standalone selling price (SSP) for each performance obligation.

Many of our customer contracts include multiple performance obligations. Judgment is required in determining whether each performance obligation within a customer contract is distinct. Oracle products and services generally do not require a significant amount of integration or interdependency. Therefore, multiple products and services contained within a customer contract are generally considered to be distinct and are not combined for revenue recognition purposes. We allocate the transaction price for each customer contract to each performance obligation based on the relative SSP (the determination of SSP is discussed below) for each performance obligation within each contract. We recognize the amount of transaction price allocated to each performance obligation within a customer contract as revenue as each performance obligation is delivered.

We use historical sales transaction data and judgment, among other factors, in determining the SSP for products and services. For substantially all performance obligations except cloud licenses and on-premise licenses, we are able to establish the SSP based on the observable prices of products or services sold separately in comparable circumstances to similar customers. We typically establish an SSP range for our products and services, which is reassessed on a periodic basis or when facts and circumstances change. SSP for our products and services can evolve over time due to changes in our pricing practices that are influenced by intense competition, changes in demand for our products and services, and economic factors, among others. Our cloud licenses and on-premise licenses have not historically been sold on a standalone basis, as substantially all customers elect to purchase license support contracts at the time of a license purchase. License support contracts are generally priced as a percentage of the net fees paid by the customer to purchase the license. We are unable to establish the SSP for our cloud licenses and on-premise licenses based on observable prices given the same products are sold for a broad range of amounts (that is, the selling price is highly variable) and a representative SSP is not discernible from past transactions or other observable evidence. As a result, the SSP for a cloud license and an on-premise license included in a contract with multiple performance obligations is generally determined by applying a residual approach whereby all other performance obligations within a contract are first allocated a portion of the transaction price based upon their respective SSPs, with any residual amount of transaction price allocated to cloud license and on-premise license revenues.

Business Combinations

We apply the provisions of ASC 805, Business Combinations (ASC 805), in accounting for our acquisitions. ASC 805 requires that we evaluate whether a transaction pertains to an acquisition of assets, or to an acquisition of a business. A business is defined as an integrated set of assets and activities that is capable of being conducted and managed for the purpose of providing a return to investors. Asset acquisitions are accounted for by allocating the cost of the acquisition to the individual assets and liabilities assumed on a relative fair value basis; whereas the acquisition of a business requires us to recognize separately from goodwill the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed at the acquisition date fair values. Goodwill as of the acquisition date is measured as the excess of consideration transferred over the net of the acquisition date fair values of the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed. While we use our best estimates and assumptions to accurately value assets acquired and liabilities assumed at the acquisition date as well as any contingent consideration, where applicable, our estimates are inherently uncertain and subject to refinement. As a result, during the measurement period, which may be up to one year from the business acquisition date, we record adjustments to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed with the corresponding offset to goodwill. Upon the conclusion of a business acquisition's measurement period or final determination of the values of assets acquired or liabilities assumed, whichever comes first, any subsequent adjustments are recorded to our consolidated statements of operations.

Accounting for business combinations requires our management to make significant estimates and assumptions, especially at the acquisition date, including our estimates for intangible assets, contractual obligations assumed, pre-acquisition contingencies and any contingent consideration, where applicable. Although we believe that the assumptions and estimates we have made in the past have been reasonable and appropriate, they are based in part on historical experience and information obtained from the management of the acquired companies and are inherently uncertain. Unanticipated events and circumstances may occur that may affect the accuracy or validity of such assumptions, estimates or actual results.

For a given business acquisition, we may identify certain pre-acquisition contingencies as of the acquisition date and may extend our review and evaluation of these pre-acquisition contingencies throughout the measurement period in order to obtain sufficient information to assess whether we include these contingencies as a part of the fair value estimates of assets acquired and liabilities assumed and, if so, to determine their estimated amounts.

If we cannot reasonably determine the fair value of a non-income tax related pre-acquisition contingency by the end of the measurement period, which is generally the case given the nature of such matters, we will recognize an asset or a liability for such pre-acquisition contingency if: (1) it is probable that an asset existed or a liability had been incurred at the acquisition date and (2) the amount of the asset or liability can be reasonably estimated. Subsequent to the measurement period or final determination of the net asset values for the business combination, whichever comes first, changes in our estimates of such contingencies will affect earnings and could have a material effect on our results of operations and financial position.

In addition, uncertain tax positions and tax related valuation allowances assumed in a business combination are initially estimated as of the acquisition date. We reevaluate these items quarterly based upon facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date with any adjustments to our preliminary estimates being recorded to goodwill if identified within the measurement period. Subsequent to the measurement period or our final determination of the tax allowance's or contingency's estimated value, whichever comes first, changes to these uncertain tax positions and tax related valuation allowances will affect our provision for income taxes in our consolidated statement of operations and could have a material impact on our results of operations and financial position.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets—Impairment Assessments

We review goodwill for impairment annually and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate its carrying value may not be recoverable. We make certain judgments and assumptions to determine our reporting units and in allocating shared assets and liabilities to determine the carrying values for each of our reporting units.

Judgment in the assessment of qualitative factors of impairment include cost factors; financial performance; legal, regulatory, contractual, political, business, and other factors; entity specific factors; industry and market considerations, macroeconomic conditions, and other relevant events and factors affecting the reporting unit. To the extent we determine that it is more likely than not that the fair value of the reporting unit is less than its carrying value, a quantitative test is then performed.

Performing a quantitative goodwill impairment test includes the determination of the fair value of a reporting unit and involves significant estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions include, among others, revenue growth rates and operating margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rates, future economic and market conditions, and the determination of appropriate market comparables.

We make judgments about the recoverability of purchased finite lived intangible assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that impairment may exist. In such situations, we are required to evaluate whether the net book values of our finite lived intangible assets are recoverable. We determine whether finite lived intangible assets are recoverable based upon the forecasted future cash flows that are expected to be generated by the lowest level associated asset grouping. Assumptions and estimates about future values and remaining useful lives of our intangible assets are complex and subjective and include, among others, forecasted undiscounted cash flows to be generated by certain asset groupings. These assumptions and estimates can be affected by a variety of factors, including external factors such as industry and economic trends and internal factors such as changes in our business strategy and our internal forecasts.

Accounting for Income Taxes

Judgment is required in determining our worldwide income tax provision. In the ordinary course of a global business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax outcome is uncertain. Some of these uncertainties arise as a consequence of revenue sharing and cost reimbursement arrangements among related entities, the process of identifying items of revenues and expenses that qualify for preferential tax treatment, and the segregation of foreign and domestic earnings and expenses to avoid double taxation. Although we believe that our estimates are reasonable, the final tax outcome of these matters could be different from that which is reflected in our historical income tax provisions and accruals. Such differences could have a material effect on our income tax provision and net income in the period in which such determination is made.

We record a valuation allowance to reduce our deferred tax assets to the amount that is more likely than not to be realized. In order for us to realize our deferred tax assets, we must be able to generate sufficient taxable income in those jurisdictions where the deferred tax assets are located. We consider future growth, forecasted earnings, future taxable income, the mix of earnings in the jurisdictions in which we operate, historical earnings, taxable income in prior years, if carryback is permitted under the law, and prudent and feasible tax planning strategies in determining the need for a valuation allowance. In the event we were to determine that we would not be able to realize all or part of our net deferred tax assets in the future, an adjustment to the deferred tax assets valuation allowance would be charged to earnings in the period in which we make such a determination, or goodwill would be adjusted at our final determination of the valuation allowance related to an acquisition within the measurement period. If we later determine that it is more likely than not that the net deferred tax assets would be realized, we would reverse the applicable portion of the previously provided valuation allowance as an adjustment to our provision for income taxes at such time.

We calculate our current and deferred tax provision based on estimates and assumptions that could differ from the actual results reflected in income tax returns filed during the subsequent year. Adjustments based on filed returns are generally recorded in the period when the tax returns are filed and the global tax implications are known, which can materially impact our effective tax rate.

The amount of income tax we pay is subject to ongoing audits by federal, state and foreign tax authorities, which often result in proposed assessments. Our estimate of the potential outcome for any uncertain tax issue may require certain judgments. A description of our accounting policies associated with tax related contingencies assumed as a part of a business combination is provided under “Business Combinations” above.

For those tax related contingencies that are not a part of a business combination, we account for these uncertain tax issues pursuant to ASC 740, Income Taxes, which contains a two-step approach to recognizing and measuring uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. The first step is to determine if the weight of available evidence indicates that it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained in an audit, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. The second step is to measure the tax benefit as the largest amount that is more than 50% likely to be realized upon ultimate settlement. Although we believe that we have adequately reserved for our uncertain tax positions, no assurance can be given with respect to the final outcome of these matters. We adjust reserves for our uncertain tax positions due to changing facts and circumstances, such as the closing of a tax audit, judicial rulings, and refinement of estimates or realization of earnings or deductions that differ from our estimates. To the extent that the final outcome of these matters is different than the amounts recorded, such differences generally will impact our provision for income taxes in the period in which such a determination is made. Our provisions for income taxes include the impact of reserve provisions and changes to reserves that are considered appropriate and also include the related interest and penalties.

Legal and Other Contingencies

We are currently involved in various claims and legal proceedings. Quarterly, we review the status of each significant matter and assess our potential financial exposure. A description of our accounting policies associated with contingencies assumed as a part of a business combination is provided under “Business Combinations” above. For legal and other contingencies that are not a part of a business combination, we accrue a liability for an estimated loss if the potential loss from any claim or legal proceeding is considered probable, and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Significant judgment is required in both the determination of probability and the determination as to whether the amount of an exposure is reasonably estimable. Because of uncertainties related to these matters, accruals are based only on the best information available at the time the accruals are made. As additional information becomes available, we reassess the potential liability related to our pending claims and litigation and may revise our estimates. Such revisions in the estimates of the potential liabilities could have a material impact on our results of operations and financial position.

Results of Operations

Presentation of Operating Segment Results and Other Financial Information

In our fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 results of operations discussion below, we provide an overview of our total consolidated revenues, total consolidated operating expenses and total consolidated operating margin, all of which are presented on a GAAP basis. We also present a GAAP-based discussion below for substantially all of the other expense items as presented in our consolidated statements of operations that are not directly attributable to our three businesses.

In addition, we discuss below the fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 results of each of our three businesses—cloud and license, hardware and services—which are our operating segments as defined pursuant to ASC 280, Segment Reporting. The financial reporting for our three businesses that is presented below is presented in a manner that is consistent with that used by our CODMs. Our operating segment presentation below reflects revenues, direct costs and sales and marketing expenses that correspond to and are directly attributable to each of our three businesses. We also utilize these inputs to calculate and present a segment margin for each of our three businesses in the discussion below.

Consistent with our internal management reporting processes, the below operating segment presentation is noted to include any revenues adjustments related to cloud services and license support contracts that would have otherwise been recorded by the acquired businesses as independent entities but were not recognized in our consolidated statements of operations for the periods presented due to business combination accounting requirements. Refer to “Supplemental Disclosure Related to Certain Charges” below for additional discussion of these items and Note 15 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report for a reconciliation of the summations of our total operating segment revenues as presented in the discussion below to total revenues as presented per our consolidated statements of operations for all periods presented.

In addition, research and development expenses, general and administrative expenses, stock-based compensation expenses, amortization of intangible assets, certain other expense allocations, acquisition related and other expenses, restructuring expenses, interest expense, non-operating expenses or income, net and provision for income taxes are not attributed to our three operating segments because our management does not view the performance of our three businesses including such items and/or it is impractical to do so. Refer to “Supplemental Disclosure Related to Certain Charges” below for additional discussion of certain of these items and Note 15 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report for a reconciliation of the summations of total segment margin as presented in the discussion below to total income before provision for income taxes as presented per our consolidated statements of operations for all periods presented.

We experienced COVID-19 related impacts to our business during fiscal 2021 and 2020. Certain of these historical impacts on our operating results are further discussed below. Any future impacts are currently unknown.

Separately, as described further below and in Notes 1 and 14 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report, we recorded a $2.3 billion non-recurring net deferred tax benefit during fiscal 2021 that related to a partial realignment of our legal entity structure that resulted in the intra-group transfer of certain intellectual property rights.

Constant Currency Presentation

Our international operations have provided and are expected to continue to provide a significant portion of each of our businesses’ revenues and expenses. As a result, each of our businesses’ revenues and expenses and our total revenues and expenses will continue to be affected by changes in the U.S. Dollar against major international currencies. In order to provide a framework for assessing how our underlying businesses performed, excluding the effects of foreign currency rate fluctuations, we compare the percent change in the results from one period to another period in this Annual Report using constant currency disclosure. To present this information, current and comparative prior period results for entities reporting in currencies other than U.S. Dollars are converted into U.S. Dollars at constant exchange rates (i.e., the rates in effect on May 31, 2020, which was the last day of our prior fiscal year) rather than the actual exchange rates in effect during the respective periods. For example, if an entity reporting in Euros had revenues of 1.0 million Euros from products sold on May 31, 2021 and 2020, our financial statements would reflect reported revenues of $1.19 million in fiscal 2021 (using 1.19 as the month-end average exchange rate for the period) and $1.10 million in fiscal 2020 (using 1.10 as the month-end average exchange rate for the period). The constant currency presentation, however, would translate the fiscal 2021 results using the fiscal 2020 exchange rate and indicate, in this example, no change in revenues during the period. In each of the tables below, we present the percent change based on actual, unrounded results in reported currency and in constant currency.

Excluding the effects of foreign currency rate fluctuations, our total revenues increased in fiscal 2021. The constant currency increase in our cloud and license business' revenues during fiscal 2021 was offset by decreases in our hardware business' revenues and services business' revenues. The constant currency increase in our cloud and license business' revenues during fiscal 2021 relative to fiscal 2020 was attributable to growth in our cloud services and license support revenues and growth in our cloud license and on-premise license revenues as customers purchased our applications and infrastructure technologies via cloud and license deployment models and renewed their related cloud contracts and license support contracts to continue to gain access to the latest versions of our technologies and to receive support services. The constant currency decrease in our hardware business' revenues during fiscal 2021 relative to fiscal 2020 was due to the emphasis we placed on the marketing and sale of our growing cloud-based infrastructure technologies and the de-emphasis of our sales and marketing efforts for certain of our non-strategic hardware products and related support services. The constant currency decrease in our services business' revenues during fiscal 2021 relative to fiscal 2020 was primarily attributable to a decline in our consulting revenues. All three of our businesses' revenues were adversely impacted during fiscal 2021 and 2020 due to the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic and some of these effects may continue into fiscal 2022. While we expect these effects to be temporary, the impacts of COVID-19 for future periods are unknown. In constant currency, the Americas, EMEA and Asia Pacific regions contributed 54%, 39% and 7%, respectively, to the growth in our total revenues during fiscal 2021.

Excluding the effects of foreign currency rate fluctuations, our total operating expenses decreased during fiscal 2021 relative to fiscal 2020 primarily due to lower sales and marketing expenses, lower hardware expenses and lower services expenses, all of which were primarily attributable to lower headcount and a reduction in certain variable expenditures as further described below. In addition, we also incurred lower amortization of intangible assets during fiscal 2021. These constant currency expense decreases were partially offset by certain constant currency expense increases during fiscal 2021, primarily: higher cloud services and license support expenses, which increased primarily due to higher infrastructure investments that were made to support the increase in our cloud and license business' revenues; higher research and development and general and administrative expenses, each of which increased primarily due to higher employee related expenses; higher acquisition related and other expenses, which increased primarily due to certain right-of-use assets and other assets that were abandoned in connection with plans to improve our cost structure and operations; and higher restructuring expenses, which increased due to actions taken during fiscal 2021 pursuant to the Fiscal 2019 Oracle Restructuring Plan (2019 Restructuring Plan). During fiscal 2021 and 2020, we curtailed a number of variable expenditures across all of our lines of businesses and functions including employee travel expenses and marketing expenses, among others, primarily in response to COVID-19. We expect certain of these expenses may normalize in future periods provided global economic and health conditions improve.

In constant currency, our total operating margin and total operating margin as a percentage of total revenues increased in fiscal 2021 due to higher total revenues and lower total operating expenses. In fiscal 2022, we expect to accelerate our investments primarily in our cloud and license business. We expect fiscal 2022 total expenses growth to exceed total revenues growth and, as a result, our fiscal 2022 total operating margin as a percentage of total revenues to be modestly lower relative to fiscal 2021.

Supplemental Disclosure Related to Certain Charges

To supplement our consolidated financial information, we believe that the following information is helpful to an overall understanding of our past financial performance and prospects for the future.

Our operating results reported pursuant to GAAP included the following business combination accounting adjustments and expenses related to acquisitions and certain other expense and income items that affected our GAAP net income:

Cloud services and license support deferred revenues ⁽¹⁾	$ 2	$ 4
Amortization of intangible assets ⁽²⁾	1,379	1,586

Income tax effects ⁽⁶⁾	(3,408)	(939)
	$ 379	$ 2,547

(1) In connection with our acquisitions, we have estimated the fair values of the cloud services and license support contracts assumed. Due to our application of business combination accounting rules, we did not recognize the cloud services and license support revenue amounts as presented in the above table that would have otherwise been recorded by the acquired businesses as independent entities upon delivery of the contractual obligations. To the extent customers for which these contractual obligations pertain renew these contracts with us, we expect to recognize revenues for the full contracts' values over the respective contracts' renewal periods.

(2) Represents the amortization of intangible assets, substantially all of which were acquired in connection with our acquisitions. As of May 31, 2021, estimated future amortization related to intangible assets was as follows (in millions):

Fiscal 2022	$	1,122
Fiscal 2023		698
Fiscal 2024		453
Fiscal 2025		123
Fiscal 2026		24
Thereafter		10
Total intangible assets, net	$	2,430

(3) Acquisition related and other expenses primarily consist of personnel related costs for transitional and certain other employees, integration related professional services, certain business combination adjustments including certain adjustments after the measurement period has ended and certain other operating items, net.

(4) Restructuring expenses during fiscal 2021 and 2020 primarily related to employee severance in connection with our 2019 Restructuring Plan. Additional information regarding certain of our restructuring plans is provided in management's discussion below under "Restructuring Expenses" and in Note 8 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report.

(5) Stock-based compensation was included in the following operating expense line items of our consolidated statements of operations (in millions):

	Year Ended May 31,
	2021	2020
Cloud services and license support	$ 134	$ 110
Hardware	11	11

Research and development	1,188	1,035
General and administrative	136	119
Total stock-based compensation	$ 1,837	$ 1,590

(6) For fiscal 2021, the applicable jurisdictional tax rates applied to our income before provision for income taxes after excluding the tax effects of items within the table above such as for stock-based compensation, amortization of intangible assets, restructuring, and certain other acquisition related items, and after excluding a $2.3 billion tax benefit arising from the increase of a deferred tax asset associated with a partial realignment of our legal entity structure and any related deferred tax expense (refer to Notes 1 and 14 in our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report for additional information), resulted in an effective tax rate of 15.9%, instead of (5.7%), which represented our effective tax rate as derived per our consolidated statement of operations. For fiscal 2020, the applicable jurisdictional tax rates applied to our income before provision for income taxes after adjusting for the effects of items within the table above, such as for stock-based compensation, amortization of intangible assets, restructuring, and certain other acquisition related items, resulted in an effective tax rate of 18.4%, instead of 16.0%, which represented our effective tax rate as derived per our consolidated statement of operations.

Cloud and License Business

Our cloud and license business engages in the sale and marketing of our applications and infrastructure technologies that are delivered through various deployment models and include: Oracle license support offerings; Oracle cloud services offerings; and Oracle cloud license and on-premise license offerings. License support revenues are typically generated through the sale of license support contracts related to cloud licenses and on-premise licenses; are purchased by our customers at their option; and are generally recognized as revenues ratably over the contractual term, which is generally one year. Our cloud services deliver applications and infrastructure technologies on a subscription basis via cloud-based deployment models that we develop, provide unspecified updates and enhancements for, deploy, host, manage and support. Revenues for our cloud services are generally recognized over the contractual term, which is generally one to three years, or in the case of usage model contracts, as the cloud services are consumed. Cloud license and on-premise license revenues represent fees earned from granting customers licenses, generally on a perpetual basis, to use our database and middleware and our applications software products within cloud and on-premise IT environments and are generally recognized up front at the point in time when the software is made available to the customer to download and use. We continue to place significant emphasis, both domestically and internationally, on direct sales through our own sales force. We also continue to market certain of our offerings through indirect channels. Costs associated with our cloud and license business are included in cloud services and license support expenses, and sales and marketing expenses. These costs are largely personnel and infrastructure related including the cost of providing our cloud services and license support offerings, salaries and commissions earned by our sales force for the sale of our cloud and license offerings, and marketing program costs.

(1) Includes cloud services and license support revenue adjustments related to certain cloud services and license support contracts that would have otherwise been recorded as revenues by the acquired businesses as independent entities but were not recognized in our GAAP-based consolidated statements of operations for the periods presented due to business combination accounting requirements. Such revenue adjustments were included in our operating segment results for purposes of reporting to and review by our CODMs. See "Presentation of Operating Segment Results and Other Financial Information" above for additional information.

(2) Excludes stock-based compensation and certain expense allocations. Also excludes amortization of intangible assets and certain other GAAP-based expenses, which were not allocated to our operating segment results for purposes of reporting to and review by our CODMs, as further described under "Presentation of Operating Segment Results and Other Financial Information" above.

Excluding the effects of foreign currency rate fluctuations, our cloud and license business' total revenues increased in fiscal 2021 relative to fiscal 2020 due to growth in our cloud services and license support revenues and cloud license and on-premise license revenues as customers purchased our applications and infrastructure technologies via cloud and license deployment models and renewed their related cloud contracts and license support contracts to continue to gain access to the latest versions of our technologies and to receive support for which we delivered such cloud and support services during fiscal 2021. The growth in our cloud and license business' revenues were adversely impacted during fiscal 2021 and 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic, and the impacts of COVID-19 for future periods are unknown. In constant currency, the Americas, EMEA and Asia Pacific regions contributed 57%, 38% and 5%, respectively, of the constant currency revenue growth for this business in fiscal 2021.

In constant currency, our total cloud and license business' expenses decreased in fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 due to lower sales and marketing expenses, which decreased primarily due to lower employee related expenses and our curtailment of variable expenditures, including lower employee travel expenses and lower marketing expenses, primarily in response to COVID-19. These constant currency expense decreases were partially offset by higher cloud services and license support expenses during fiscal 2021, which were primarily attributable to higher technology infrastructure expenses to support the increase in our cloud and license business' revenues. Our cloud services and license support expenses have grown in recent periods and, in fiscal 2022, we expect this growth to accelerate as we increase our existing data center capacity and establish data centers in new geographic locations in order to meet current and expected customer demand.

Excluding the effects of foreign currency rate fluctuations, our cloud and license business' total margin and total margin as a percentage of revenues increased in fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 due to the fiscal 2021 increases in total revenues and the decreases in total expenses for this business.

Hardware Business

Our hardware business' revenues are generated from the sales of our Oracle Engineered Systems, server, storage, and industry-specific hardware offerings. The hardware product and related software, such as an operating system or firmware, are highly interdependent and interrelated and are accounted for as a combined performance obligation. The revenues for this combined performance obligation are generally recognized at the point in time that the hardware product is delivered to the customer and ownership is transferred to the customer. Our hardware business also earns revenues from the sale of hardware support contracts purchased by our customers at their option and that are generally recognized as revenues ratably as the hardware support services are delivered over the contractual term, which is generally one year. The majority of our hardware products are sold through indirect channels such as independent distributors and value-added resellers and we also market and sell our hardware products through our direct sales force. Operating expenses associated with our hardware business include the cost of hardware products, which consists of expenses for materials and labor used to produce these products by our internal manufacturing operations or by third-party manufacturers, warranty expenses and the impact of periodic changes in inventory valuation, including the impact of inventory determined to be excess and obsolete; the cost of materials used to repair customer products; the cost of labor and infrastructure to provide support services; and sales and marketing expenses, which are largely personnel related and include variable compensation earned by our sales force for the sales of our hardware offerings.

Also excludes amortization of intangible assets and certain other GAAP-based expenses, which were not allocated to our operating segment results for purposes of reporting to and review by our CODMs, as further described under "Presentation of Operating Segments and Other Financial Information" above.

Our constant currency hardware revenues declined in fiscal 2021 relative to fiscal 2020 primarily due to our continued emphasis on the marketing and sale of our growing cloud-based infrastructure technologies and the de-emphasis of our sales and marketing efforts for certain of our non-strategic hardware products and related support services, the net impact of which resulted in reduced sales volumes of certain of our hardware product lines and also impacted the volume of hardware support contracts sold in recent periods. Our hardware business' revenues were also adversely impacted during fiscal 2021 and 2020 by the unfavorable economic effects caused by COVID-19. Geographically, we experienced constant currency revenue declines in all regions during fiscal 2021, other than Asia Pacific.

Excluding the effects of currency rate fluctuations, total hardware expenses decreased in fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 primarily due to lower hardware product expenses, lower hardware support costs and lower sales and marketing costs, all of which aligned to lower hardware revenues.

In constant currency, our hardware business' total margin and total margin as a percentage of revenues increased in fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 primarily due to lower total expenses for this business.

Services Business

We offer services to customers and partners to help maximize the performance of their investments in Oracle applications and infrastructure technologies. Services revenues are generally recognized over time as the services are performed. The cost of providing our services consists primarily of personnel related expenses, technology infrastructure expenditures, facilities expenses and external contractor expenses.

(1) Excludes stock-based compensation and certain allocations. Also excludes certain other GAAP-based expenses, which were not allocated to our operating segment results for purposes of reporting to and review by our CODMs, as further described under "Presentation of Operating Segments and Other Financial Information" above.

Excluding the effects of currency rate fluctuations, our total services revenues decreased in fiscal 2021 relative to fiscal 2020 primarily due to a decline in our consulting revenues. Our services business revenues were also adversely impacted during fiscal 2021 and 2020 by the impacts of COVID-19, including the impacts of consulting project delays due to customer resource constraints and in-person meeting restrictions imposed by certain jurisdictions. In addition, we incurred lower billable travel expenses and lower billable sub-contractor expenses for which we would have been reimbursed by our customers, which reduced the amount of revenues and expenses we reported for our services business during fiscal 2021 and 2020. Geographically, we experienced constant currency revenue declines in all regions during fiscal 2021.

In constant currency, total services expenses decreased in fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 primarily due to lower employee related costs caused by lower headcount in addition to lower travel and sub-contractor expenses as described above.

In constant currency, total margin and total margin as a percentage of total services revenues increased during fiscal 2021 relative to fiscal 2020 due to lower total expenses for this business.

Research and Development Expenses: Research and development expenses consist primarily of personnel related expenditures. We intend to continue to invest significantly in our research and development efforts because, in our judgment, they are essential to maintaining our competitive position.

(1) Excluding stock-based compensation

On a constant currency basis, total research and development expenses increased in fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 primarily due to higher fiscal 2021 employee related expenses including higher salary expenses due to increased headcount, higher variable compensation expenses and higher stock-based compensation expenses. These constant currency expense increases were partially offset by lower travel expenses during fiscal 2021 primarily due to the impacts of COVID-19.

(1) Excluding stock-based compensation

Excluding the effects of foreign currency rate fluctuations, total general and administrative expenses increased in fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 primarily due to certain higher employee related expenses including higher variable compensation expenses and higher stock-based compensation expenses. These increases were partially offset by lower salary expenses due to lower headcount, and by lower travel expenses and certain other variable expense curtailments that we implemented during fiscal 2021 primarily due to the impacts of COVID-19. In addition, general and administrative expenses during fiscal 2021 were unfavorably affected in comparison to the prior year due to a $29 million litigation related benefit that reduced our expenses during fiscal 2020.

Amortization of Intangible Assets: Substantially all of our intangible assets were acquired through our business combinations. We amortize our intangible assets over, and monitor the appropriateness of, the estimated useful lives of these assets. We also periodically review these intangible assets for potential impairment based upon relevant facts and circumstances. Note 6 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report has additional information regarding our intangible assets and related amortization.

Total amortization of intangible assets	$ 1,379	-13%	-14%	$ 1,586

Amortization of intangible assets decreased in fiscal 2021 due to a reduction in expenses associated with certain of our intangible assets that became fully amortized, partially offset by a smaller amount of additional amortization from intangible assets that we acquired in connection with our recent acquisitions.

Acquisition Related and Other Expenses: Acquisition related and other expenses primarily consist of personnel related costs for transitional and certain other employees, certain business combination adjustments, including adjustments after the measurement period has ended, and certain other operating items, net.

On a constant currency basis, acquisition related and other expenses increased during fiscal 2021 due to higher other expenses, net which primarily related to certain facilities-related right-of-use assets and certain other assets that were abandoned in connection with plans to improve our cost structure and operations during fiscal 2021.

Restructuring Expenses: Restructuring expenses resulted from the execution of management approved restructuring plans that were generally developed to improve our cost structure and/or operations, often in conjunction with our acquisition integration strategies and/or other strategic initiatives. Restructuring expenses consist of employee severance costs and other contract termination costs to improve our cost structure prospectively. For additional information regarding our restructuring plans, see Note 8 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report.

Restructuring expenses in fiscal 2021 and 2020 primarily related to our 2019 Restructuring Plan, which is substantially complete. Our management approved, committed to and initiated the 2019 Restructuring Plan in order to restructure and further improve efficiencies in our operations. We may incur additional restructuring expenses in future periods due to the initiation of new restructuring plans or from changes in estimated costs associated with existing restructuring plans.

The majority of the initiatives undertaken by our 2019 Restructuring Plan were effected to implement our continued emphasis in developing, marketing and selling our cloud-based offerings. These initiatives impacted certain of our sales and marketing and research and development operations. Certain of the cost savings realized pursuant to our 2019 Restructuring Plan initiatives were offset by investments in resources and geographies that better address the development, marketing, sale and delivery of our cloud-based offerings including investments in our second-generation cloud infrastructure.

	2021	Percent Change		2020
		Actual	Constant
Interest expense	$ 2,496	25%	25%	$ 1,995

Interest expense increased in fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 substantially due to higher average borrowings resulting from our issuance of $15.0 billion of senior notes in March 2021 and $20.0 billion of senior notes in March 2020.

Non-Operating Income, net: Non-operating income, net consists primarily of interest income, net foreign currency exchange losses, the noncontrolling interests in the net profits of our majority-owned subsidiaries (primarily Oracle Financial Services Software Limited and Oracle Corporation Japan) and net other income and expenses, including net realized gains and losses related to all of our investments, net unrealized gains and losses related to the small portion of our investment portfolio related to our deferred compensation plan, net unrealized gains and losses related to equity securities and non-service net periodic pension income and losses.

Total non-operating income, net	$ 282	74%	95%	$ 162

* Not meaningful

Our non-operating income, net increased in fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 primarily due to higher other income, net that primarily resulted from a $299 million unrealized investment gain for certain non-marketable securities due to an observable price change and a $193 million unrealized investment gain associated with certain marketable equity securities that we held for certain employee benefit plans and classified as trading, and for which an equal and offsetting amount was recorded to our operating expenses during the same period. These increases in non-operating income, net were partially offset by lower interest income that we recognized in fiscal 2021, which was caused by lower average interest rates that were applicable to our cash, cash equivalent and marketable securities balances.

Benefit from (Provision for) Income Taxes: Our effective income tax rates for each of the periods presented were the result of the mix of income earned in various tax jurisdictions that apply a broad range of income tax rates. Refer to Note 14 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report for a discussion regarding the differences between the effective income tax rates as presented for the periods below and the U.S. federal statutory income tax rates that were in effect during these periods. Future effective tax rates could be adversely affected by an unfavorable shift of earnings weighted to jurisdictions with higher tax rates, by unfavorable changes in tax laws and regulations, by adverse rulings in tax related litigation, or by shortfalls in stock-based compensation realized by employees relative to stock-based compensation that was recorded for book purposes, among others.

Benefit from (provision for) income taxes	$ 747	*	*	$ (1,928)
Effective tax (benefit) expense rate	(5.7%)			16.0%

* Not meaningful

We recognized a benefit from income taxes in fiscal 2021 in comparison to income tax expense in fiscal 2020 primarily due to the favorable impact of a $2.3 billion net tax benefit arising from an increase in a net deferred tax asset associated with a partial realignment of our legal entity structure that resulted in the intra-group transfer of certain intellectual property rights in fiscal 2021 and, to a lesser extent, a net change in unrecognized tax benefits due to settlements with tax authorities and an increase in excess tax benefits related to stock-based compensation expense, partially offset by an unfavorable jurisdictional mix of earnings and higher pre-tax income in fiscal 2021.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

(Dollars in millions)	As of May 31,
	2021	Change	2020
Working capital	$ 31,403	-10%	$ 34,940
Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities	$ 46,554	8%	$ 43,057

Working capital: The decrease in working capital as of May 31, 2021 in comparison to May 31, 2020 was primarily due to cash used for repurchases of our common stock, the reclassification of $8.3 billion of long-term senior notes as current liabilities, cash used to pay dividends to our stockholders and cash used for capital expenditures during fiscal 2021. These unfavorable impacts were partially offset by our issuance of $15.0 billion of long-term senior notes in March 2021 (refer to Recent Financing Activities below for additional information), the favorable impacts to our net current assets resulting from our net income during fiscal 2021 and cash proceeds from stock option exercises. Our working capital may be impacted by some or all of the aforementioned factors in future periods, the amounts and timing of which are variable.

Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities: Cash and cash equivalents primarily consist of deposits held at major banks, money market funds, Tier-1 commercial paper and other securities with original maturities of 90 days or less. Marketable securities consist of corporate debt securities and certain other securities. The increase in cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities at May 31, 2021 in comparison to May 31, 2020 was primarily due to cash inflows generated by our issuance of $15.0 billion of long-term senior notes in March 2021, cash inflows generated by our operations and cash inflows from stock option exercises during fiscal 2021. These cash inflows during fiscal 2021 were partially offset by certain cash outflows, primarily $20.9 billion for settled repurchases of our common stock, payments of cash dividends to our stockholders, the repayment of $2.6 billion related to our borrowings, and cash used for capital expenditures.

The amount of cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities that we report in U.S. Dollars for a significant portion of the cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities balances held by our foreign subsidiaries is subject to translation adjustments caused by changes in foreign currency exchange rates as of the end of each respective reporting period (the offset to which is substantially recorded to accumulated other comprehensive loss (AOCL) in our consolidated balance sheets and is also presented as a line item in our consolidated statements of comprehensive income included elsewhere in this Annual Report). As the U.S. Dollar generally weakened against certain major international currencies during fiscal 2021, the amount of cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities that we reported in U.S. Dollars for these subsidiaries increased on a net basis as of May 31, 2021 relative to what we would have reported using constant currency rates from the May 31, 2020 balance sheet date.

	2021	Change	2020
Net cash provided by operating activities	$ 15,887	21%	$ 13,139
Net cash (used for) provided by investing activities	$ (13,098)	*	$ 9,843
Net cash used for financing activities	$ (10,378)	69%	$ (6,132)

* Not meaningful

Cash flows from operating activities: Our largest source of operating cash flows is cash collections from our customers following the purchase and renewal of their license support agreements. Payments from customers for these license support agreements are generally received near the beginning of the contracts' terms, which are generally one year in length. Over the course of a fiscal year, we also have historically generated cash from the sales of new licenses, cloud services, hardware offerings and other services. Our primary uses of cash from operating activities are for employee related expenditures, material and manufacturing costs related to the production of our hardware products, taxes, interest payments and leased facilities.

Net cash provided by operating activities increased during fiscal 2021 compared to fiscal 2020 primarily due to higher net income, higher cash collections from customers, a portion of which were previously delayed due to the global economic effects that resulted from COVID-19, and certain other cash favorable working capital changes, in each case in fiscal 2021 relative to fiscal 2020.

Cash flows from investing activities: The changes in cash flows from investing activities primarily relate to the timing of our purchases, maturities and sales of our investments in marketable securities, and investments in capital and other assets, including certain intangible assets, to support our growth.

Net cash used for investing activities was $13.1 billion during fiscal 2021 in comparison to net cash provided by investing activities of $9.8 billion during fiscal 2020. Net cash used for investing activities during fiscal 2021 primarily resulted from an increase in cash used for the purchases of marketable securities and other investments and an increase in capital expenditures, partially offset by an increase in cash proceeds from sales and maturities of marketable securities and other investments, in each case during fiscal 2021 relative to fiscal 2020. In fiscal 2022, we expect our capital expenditures could nearly double relative to fiscal 2021, primarily to increase data center capacities and geographic locations to meet current and expected customer demand for our cloud services.

Cash flows from financing activities: The changes in cash flows from financing activities primarily relate to borrowings and repayments related to our debt instruments, stock repurchases, dividend payments and net proceeds related to employee stock programs.

Net cash used for financing activities during fiscal 2021 increased compared to fiscal 2020 primarily due to lower proceeds from the issuance of senior notes and higher stock repurchases, partially offset by lower debt repayments and higher cash proceeds from stock option exercises, in each case during fiscal 2021 in comparison to fiscal 2020.

Free cash flow: To supplement our statements of cash flows presented on a GAAP basis, we use non-GAAP measures of cash flows on a trailing 4-quarter basis to analyze cash flows generated from our operations. We believe that free cash flow is also useful as one of the bases for comparing our performance with our competitors. The presentation of non-GAAP free cash flow is not meant to be considered in isolation or as an alternative to net income as an indicator of our performance, or as an alternative to cash flows from operating activities as a measure of liquidity. We calculate free cash flow as follows:

	2021	Change	2020
Net cash provided by operating activities	$ 15,887	21%	$ 13,139
Capital expenditures	(2,135)	37%	(1,564)
Free cash flow	$ 13,752	19%	$ 11,575
Net income	$ 13,746		$ 10,135
Free cash flow as percent of net income	100%		114%

Long-Term Customer Financing: We offer certain of our customers the option to acquire licenses, cloud services, hardware and other services offerings through separate long-term payment contracts. We generally sell these contracts that we have financed for our customers on a non-recourse basis to financial institutions within 90 days of the contracts' dates of execution. We generally record the transfers of amounts due from customers to financial institutions as sales of financing receivables because we are considered to have surrendered control of these financing receivables. We financed $941 million in fiscal 2021 and $1.0 billion in each of fiscal 2020 and 2019 of our cloud license and on-premise license revenues.

Recent Financing Activities:

Cash Dividends: In fiscal 2021, we declared and paid cash dividends of $1.04 per share that totaled $3.1 billion. In June 2021, our Board of Directors declared a quarterly cash dividend of $0.32 per share of our outstanding common stock payable on July 29, 2021 to stockholders of record as of the close of business on July 15, 2021. Future declarations of dividends and the establishment of future record and payment dates are subject to the final determination of our Board of Directors.

Senior Notes: In March 2021, we issued $15.0 billion of senior notes comprised of the following:

- $2.75 billion of 1.65% senior notes due March 2026;
- $2.00 billion of 2.30% senior notes due March 2028;
- $3.25 billion of 2.875% senior notes due March 2031;
- $2.25 billion of 3.65% senior notes due March 2041;
- $3.25 billion of 3.95% senior notes due March 2051; and
- $1.50 billion of 4.10% senior notes due March 2061.

We issued the senior notes for general corporate purposes, which may include stock repurchases, payment of cash dividends on our common stock, repayment of indebtedness and future acquisitions. Additionally, in fiscal 2021, we repaid $1.0 billion and €1.25 billion of senior notes pursuant to their terms. Additional details regarding our senior notes are included in Note 7 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report.

Common Stock Repurchase Program: Our Board of Directors has approved a program for us to repurchase shares of our common stock. On March 10, 2021, we announced that our Board of Directors approved an expansion of our stock repurchase program by an additional $20.0 billion. As of May 31, 2021, approximately $15.6 billion remained available for stock repurchases pursuant to our stock repurchase program. We repurchased 329.2 million shares for $21.0 billion, 361.0 million shares for $19.2 billion, and 733.8 million shares for $36.0 billion in fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively. Our stock repurchase authorization does not have an expiration date and the pace of our repurchase activity will depend on factors such as our working capital needs, our cash requirements for acquisitions and dividend payments, our debt repayment obligations or repurchases of our debt, our stock price, and economic and market conditions. Our stock repurchases may be effected from time to time through open market purchases and pursuant to a Rule 10b5-1 plan. Our stock repurchase program may be accelerated, suspended, delayed or discontinued at any time.

Contractual Obligations: Our largest contractual obligations as of May 31, 2021 consisted of:

- principal payments related to our senior notes and other borrowings that are included in our consolidated balance sheet and the related periodic interest payments;
- routine tax payments including those that are payable pursuant to the transition tax under the U.S. Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 that are included in our consolidated balance sheet;
- operating lease liabilities that are included in our consolidated balance sheet; and
- other contractual commitments associated with agreements that are enforceable and legally binding.

In addition, as of May 31, 2021, we had $8.5 billion of gross unrecognized income tax benefits, including related interest and penalties, recorded on our consolidated balance sheet, the nature of which is uncertain with respect to settlement or release with the relevant tax authorities, although we believe it is reasonably possible that certain of these liabilities could be settled or released during fiscal 2022. We are involved in claims and legal proceedings, which are inherently uncertain with respect to outcomes, estimates and assumptions that we make as of each reporting period, are inherently unpredictable, and many aspects are out of our control. Notes 7, 11, 14 and 17 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report include additional information regarding our contractual obligations and contingencies.

We believe that our current cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities and cash generated from operations will be sufficient to meet our working capital, capital expenditures and contractual obligation requirements. In addition, we believe that we could fund our future acquisitions, dividend payments and repurchases of common stock or debt with our internally available cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities, cash generated from operations, additional borrowings or from the issuance of additional securities.

Restricted Stock-Based Awards and Stock Options

Our stock-based compensation program is a key component of the compensation package we provide to attract and retain certain of our talented employees and align their interests with the interests of existing stockholders.

We recognize that restricted stock-based awards and stock options dilute existing stockholders and have sought to control the number of stock-based awards granted while providing competitive compensation packages. Consistent with these dual goals, our cumulative potential dilution since June 1, 2018 has been a weighted-average annualized rate of 1.0% per year. The potential dilution percentage is calculated as the average annualized new restricted stock-based awards and stock options granted and assumed, net of restricted stock-based awards and stock options forfeited by employees leaving the company, divided by the weighted-average outstanding shares during the calculation period. This maximum potential dilution will only result if all restricted stock-based awards vest and stock options are exercised. Of the outstanding stock options at May 31, 2021, which generally have a ten-year exercise period, all have exercise prices lower than the market price of our common stock on such date. In recent years, our stock repurchase program has more than offset the dilutive effect of our stock-based compensation program. However, we may modify the levels of our stock repurchases in the future depending on a number of factors, including the amount of cash we have available for acquisitions, to pay dividends, to repay or repurchase indebtedness or for other purposes. As of May 31, 2021, the maximum potential dilution from all outstanding restricted stock-based awards and unexercised stock options, regardless of when granted and regardless of whether vested or unvested, was 7.7%.

During fiscal 2021, the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors reviewed and approved the annual organization-wide stock-based award grants to selected employees; all stock-based award grants to senior officers; and any individual grant of restricted stock units of 62,500 or greater. Each member of a separate executive officer committee, referred to as the Plan Committee, was allocated a fiscal 2021 equity budget that could be used throughout the fiscal year to grant equity within his or her organization, subject to certain limitations established by the Compensation Committee.

Restricted stock-based award and stock option activity from June 1, 2018 through May 31, 2021 is summarized as follows (shares in millions):

Restricted stock-based awards and stock options outstanding at May 31, 2018	393
Restricted stock-based awards and stock options granted	164
Restricted stock-based awards vested and issued and stock options exercised	(267)
Forfeitures, cancellations and other, net	(73)
Restricted stock-based awards and stock options outstanding at May 31, 2021	217
Weighted-average annualized restricted stock-based awards and stock options granted and assumed, net of forfeitures and cancellations	31
Weighted-average annualized stock repurchases	(475)
Shares outstanding at May 31, 2021	2,814
Basic weighted-average shares outstanding from June 1, 2018 through May 31, 2021	3,263
Restricted stock-based awards and stock options outstanding as a percent of shares outstanding at May 31, 2021	7.7%
Total restricted stock-based awards and in the money stock options outstanding (based on the closing price of our common stock on the last trading day of fiscal 2021) as a percent of shares outstanding at May 31, 2021	7.7%
Weighted-average annualized restricted stock-based awards and stock options granted and assumed, net of forfeitures and cancellations and before stock repurchases, as a percent of weighted-average shares outstanding from June 1, 2018 through May 31, 2021	1.0%
Weighted-average annualized restricted stock-based awards and stock options granted and assumed, net of forfeitures and cancellations and after stock repurchases, as a percent of weighted-average shares outstanding from June 1, 2018 through May 31, 2021	-13.6%

Item 7A. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

Interest Rate Risk

Cash, Cash Equivalents and Marketable Securities

Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities were $46.6 billion and $43.1 billion as of May 31, 2021 and 2020, respectively. Our bank deposits are generally held with large, diverse financial institutions worldwide with high investment-grade credit ratings or financial institutions that meet investment-grade ratings criteria, which we believe mitigates credit risk and certain other risks. In addition, as of May 31, 2021, substantially all of our marketable securities were high quality, fixed-rate debt securities and had maturity dates within one year (a description of the types of marketable securities held as of May 31, 2021 and 2020 is included in Notes 3 and 4 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report and "Liquidity and Capital Resources" above). The market values of our fixed-rate marketable securities investments are adversely impacted as interest rates increase. Due in part to these factors, we may realize losses if we sell securities prior to their scheduled maturities that declined in market value due to changes in interest rates. However, because we classify substantially all of our investments in debt securities as available-for-sale and record changes in their fair values to AOCL on our consolidated balance sheets, no gains or losses are recognized in our earnings due to market changes in interest rates unless such securities are sold prior to their scheduled maturities or the declines in fair values are due to expected credit loss. We generally do not use our marketable debt securities investments for trading purposes.

Borrowings and Related Fair Value Hedges

Our total borrowings were $84.2 billion as of May 31, 2021, consisting of $84.1 billion of fixed-rate borrowings and $113 million of other borrowings, compared to $71.6 billion as of May 31, 2020, consisting of $71.5 billion of fixed-rate borrowings and $113 million of other borrowings. With the exception of those senior notes for which we have corresponding fair value hedges that are recorded at their fair values as of each reporting period and discussed further below, we record all of our fixed-rate borrowings at amortized cost and therefore, any changes in interest rates do not impact the values that we report for these senior notes or our consolidated financial statements.

As of May 31, 2021, we held certain interest rate and cross-currency interest rate swap agreements that have the economic effect of modifying the fixed-interest rate obligations associated with certain of our senior notes to variable interest rate obligations based on LIBOR that we have designated as fair value hedges, among certain other effects. Consequently, these swap agreements are recorded at their fair values at each reporting period and incur gains and losses due to changes in market interest rates but are substantially offset by the corresponding losses and gains on the related senior notes for which the swap agreements pertained. By entering into these swap arrangements, we have assumed risks associated with variable interest rates based upon LIBOR. Changes in interest rates affected the interest expense that we recognized in our consolidated statements of operations and the values that we report for these instruments as of each reporting date. Additional details regarding our senior notes and related swap agreements are included in Notes 7 and 10 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report. We do not use these swap arrangements for trading purposes.

Currency Risk

Foreign Currency Translation Risk

As described under “Constant Currency Presentation” above, our international operations have provided and are expected to continue to provide a significant portion of our consolidated revenues and expenses that we report in U.S. Dollars. As a result, our consolidated revenues and expenses are affected and will continue to be affected by changes in the U.S. Dollar against major foreign currencies. Fluctuations in foreign currencies impact the amount of total assets, liabilities, earnings and cash flows that we report for our foreign subsidiaries upon the translation of these amounts into U.S. Dollars for, and as of the end of, each reporting period. In particular, the strengthening of the U.S. Dollar generally will reduce the reported amount of our foreign-denominated cash, cash equivalents, marketable securities, total revenues and total expense that we translate into U.S. Dollars and report in our consolidated financial statements for, and as of the end of, each reporting period.

Foreign Currency Transaction Risk

We transact business in various foreign currencies. Our principal currency exposures include the Euro, Japanese Yen, Saudi Arabian Riyal, Indian Rupee and British Pound. Our foreign currency exposures primarily arise from various intercompany transactions. We have established a program that primarily utilizes foreign currency forward contracts to offset the risks that arise from the aforementioned transactions. Under this program, our strategy is to enter into foreign currency forward contracts for major currencies in which we have an exposure so that increases or decreases in our foreign currency exposures are offset by gains or losses on the foreign currency forward contracts which mitigate the risks and volatility associated with our foreign currency transactions. We may suspend this program from time to time. Our foreign currency forward contracts are generally short-term in duration and we do not use them for trading purposes.

We realize gains or losses with respect to our foreign currency exposures, net of gains or losses from our foreign currency forward contracts, and we also incur costs to enter into these foreign currency forward contracts, substantially all of which are included in non-operating income, net in our consolidated financial statements. Our ultimate realized gain or loss with respect to foreign currency exposures will generally depend on the size and type of cross-currency transactions that we enter into, the currency exchange rates associated with these exposures and changes in those rates, the net realized gain or loss on our foreign currency forward contracts and other factors. Furthermore, as a large portion of our consolidated operations are international, we could experience additional foreign currency volatility in the future, in which the amounts and timing are unknown. Refer to Notes 1 and 10 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report for additional details about our foreign currency forward contracts.

Sensitivity Analysis

The following table sets forth the hypothetical potential losses that we consider to be the most material to the fair values of our interest rate and currency influenced holdings, including associated derivatives, or future earnings resulting from hypothetical changes in relevant market rates as of or for the reporting periods below:

(in millions)	Hypothetical Change	Impact	Year Ended May 31,
			2021	2020
Interest rate risk:
Marketable securities	50 basis points increase in interest rates	Fair values	$ (23)	$ (15)
Interest rate swap and cross-currency interest rate swap agreements	100 basis points increase in interest rates	Fair values	$ (37)	$ (63)
Interest rate swap and cross-currency interest rate swap agreements	100 basis points increase in interest rates	Earnings	$ (24)	$ (24)
Foreign currency risk:
Total revenues	10% decrease in foreign exchange rates	Earnings	$ (2,061)	$ (1,942)
Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities	10% decrease in foreign exchange rates	Fair values	$ (650)	$ (491)

Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data

The response to this item is submitted as a separate section of this Annual Report. See Part IV, Item 15.

Item 9. Changes In and Disagreements with Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosure

None.

Item 9A. Controls and ProceduresEvaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

As of the end of the period covered by this Annual Report on Form 10-K, we carried out an evaluation under the supervision and with the participation of our Disclosure Committee and our management, including our Principal Executive and Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e).

Based on our management's evaluation (with the participation of our Principal Executive and Financial Officer), as of the end of the period covered by this report, our Principal Executive and Financial Officer has concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of May 31, 2021 to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed by us in reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is (i) recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC rules and forms and (ii) accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Principal Executive and Financial Officer as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Management's Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting, as such term is defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f). Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Principal Executive and Financial Officer, we conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of May 31, 2021 based on the guidelines established in Internal Control—Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission's 2013 framework. Our internal control over financial reporting includes policies and procedures that provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external reporting purposes in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

Based on the results of our evaluation, our management concluded that our internal control over financial reporting was effective as of May 31, 2021. We reviewed the results of management's assessment with our Finance and Audit Committee.

The effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of May 31, 2021 has been audited by Ernst & Young LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, as stated in their report which is included in Part IV, Item 15 of this Annual Report.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting identified in connection with the evaluation required by paragraph (d) of Exchange Act Rules 13a-15 or 15d-15 that occurred during our last fiscal quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Inherent Limitations on Effectiveness of Controls

Our management, including our Principal Executive and Financial Officer, believes that our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting are designed to provide reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives and are effective at the reasonable assurance level. However, our management does not expect that our disclosure controls and procedures or our internal control over financial reporting will prevent all errors and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty and that breakdowns can occur because of a simple error or mistake. Additionally, controls can be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people or by management override of the controls. The design of any system of controls also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions; over time, controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or the degree of compliance with policies or procedures may deteriorate. Because of the inherent limitations in a cost-effective control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Stockholders and the Board of Directors of Oracle Corporation

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Oracle Corporation (the Company) as of May 31, 2021 and 2020, the related consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive income, equity, and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended May 31, 2021, the related notes and the financial statement schedule listed in the Index at Item 15(a) 2 (collectively referred to as the “financial statements”). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company at May 31, 2021 and 2020, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended May 31, 2021, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

We also have audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of May 31, 2021, based on criteria established in Internal Control-Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (2013 framework) and our report dated June 21, 2021 expressed an unqualified opinion thereon.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Critical Audit Matter

The critical audit matters communicated below are matters arising from the current period audit of the financial statements that were communicated or required to be communicated to the audit committee and that: (1) relate to accounts or disclosures that are material to the financial statements and (2) involved our especially challenging, subjective, or complex judgments. The communication of critical audit matters does not alter in any way our opinion on the financial statements, taken as a whole, and we are not, by communicating the critical audit matters below, providing separate opinions on the critical audit matters or on the accounts or disclosures to which they relate.

Legal Contingencies

Description of the matter

As discussed in Note 17 of the financial statements, the Company is involved in various claims and legal proceedings. The Company accrues a liability for an estimated loss if the potential loss from any claim or legal proceeding is considered probable, and the amount can be reasonably estimated. For purposes of disclosure, the Company also performs an assessment of the materiality of legal contingencies where a loss is either reasonably possible or it is reasonably possible that an exposure to loss exists in excess of the amount accrued.

The audit of the Company's accounting for and disclosure of legal contingencies was highly subjective and required significant judgment in assessing the Company's evaluation of the probability of a loss, and the estimated amount or range of loss. These judgments were impacted by uncertainties related to the ultimate outcome of the legal contingencies, the status of the litigation or the appeals processes, and the status of any settlement discussions associated with the legal contingencies.

How we addressed the matter in our audit We obtained an understanding, evaluated the design, and tested the operating effectiveness of the controls over the identification and evaluation of these matters, including controls over management’s assessment of the probability of incurrence of a loss and whether the loss or range of loss was reasonably estimable.

Our substantive audit procedures, among others, included gaining an understanding of the status of ongoing lawsuits, reviewing letters addressing the matters from internal and external legal counsel, meetings with internal legal counsel to discuss the allegations, and obtaining a representation letter from management on these matters. We also evaluated the Company’s disclosures in relation to these matters.

Income Tax – Uncertain tax positions

Description of the matter As discussed in Note 14 of the financial statements, the Company recognizes uncertain tax positions and measures unrecognized tax benefits related to various domestic and foreign matters. As of May 31, 2021, the total amount of unrecognized tax benefits was $6.9 billion, of which $4.4 billion, if recognized would impact the Company’s effective tax rate. The Company uses significant judgment in the accounting for uncertain tax positions including the interpretation and application of tax laws and legal rulings in various jurisdictions.

Auditing management’s evaluation of whether an uncertain tax position is more likely than not to be sustained and the measurement of the benefit of various tax positions was complex, involved significant judgment, and was based on interpretations of tax laws and legal rulings.

How we addressed the matter in our audit We obtained an understanding, evaluated the design, and tested the operating effectiveness of the controls over management’s process for interpretation of tax laws and legal rulings, as well as development of the assumptions and estimates used in the measurement of uncertain tax positions.

To test management’s assessment of which uncertain tax positions are more likely than not to be sustained, we performed audit procedures that included, among others reading and evaluating management’s assumptions and analysis, including any communications with taxing authorities that detailed the basis and technical merits of the uncertain tax positions. We involved our tax subject matter professionals in assessing the technical merits of certain tax positions based on our knowledge of relevant tax laws and experience with related taxing authorities.

In addition, we also evaluated the Company’s disclosures in relation to these matters included in Note 14 of the financial statements.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Stockholders and the Board of Directors of Oracle Corporation

Opinion on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

We have audited Oracle Corporation's internal control over financial reporting as of May 31, 2021, based on criteria established in Internal Control— Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (2013 framework) (the COSO criteria). In our opinion, Oracle Corporation (the Company) maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of May 31, 2021, based on the COSO criteria.

We also have audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), the consolidated balance sheets of Oracle Corporation as of May 31, 2021 and 2020, the related consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive income, equity, and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended May 31, 2021, the related notes, and the financial statement schedule listed in the Index at Item 15(a) 2 and our report dated June 21, 2021 expressed an unqualified opinion thereon.

Basis for Opinion

The Company's management is responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting included in the accompanying Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal control over financial reporting based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects.

Our audit included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk, and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Definition and Limitations of Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

ORACLE CORPORATION
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
May 31, 2021

1. ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Oracle Corporation provides products and services that substantially address all aspects of enterprise information technology (IT) environments, including applications and infrastructure technologies. We deliver our products and services to customers worldwide through a variety of flexible and interoperable IT deployment models, including cloud-based, Cloud@Customer (an instance of Oracle Cloud in the customer's own data center), on premise and hybrid models. Oracle Cloud Software-as-a-Service and Infrastructure-as-a-Service (SaaS and IaaS, respectively, and collectively, Oracle Cloud Services) offerings provide a comprehensive and integrated stack of applications and infrastructure services delivered via cloud-based deployment models that Oracle develops, deploys, hosts, upgrades, supports and manages for the customer. Customers may also elect to purchase Oracle software licenses and hardware products and related services to manage their own cloud-based or on-premise IT environments. Customers that purchase our software licenses may elect to purchase license support contracts, which provide our customers with rights to unspecified license upgrades and maintenance releases issued during the support period as well as technical support assistance. Customers that purchase our hardware products may elect to purchase hardware support contracts, which provide customers with software updates and can include product repairs, maintenance services, and technical support services. We also offer customers a broad set of services offerings that are designed to improve customer utilization of their investments in Oracle applications and infrastructure technologies.

Oracle Corporation conducts business globally and was incorporated in 2005 as a Delaware corporation and is the successor to operations originally begun in June 1977.

Basis of Financial Statements

The consolidated financial statements included our accounts and the accounts of our wholly- and majority-owned subsidiaries. Noncontrolling interest positions of certain of our consolidated entities are reported as a separate component of consolidated equity from the equity attributable to Oracle's stockholders for all periods presented. The noncontrolling interests in our net income were not significant to our consolidated results for the periods presented and therefore have not been presented separately and instead are included as a component of non-operating income, net in our consolidated statements of operations. Intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated. Certain prior year balances have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation. Such reclassifications did not affect total revenues, operating income or net income.

The comparability of our operating results during fiscal 2021 compared to the corresponding prior year periods, and of our consolidated balance sheets as of May 31, 2021 and 2020, was impacted by the income tax related effects of a partial realignment of our legal entity structure that resulted in the intra-group transfer of certain intellectual property rights. During fiscal 2021, we recognized a benefit from income taxes primarily due to the result of a total net tax benefit of $2.3 billion that was recorded as a deferred tax asset of $11.3 billion and a non-current deferred tax liability of $9.1 billion. The deferred tax asset was recognized as a result of the book and tax basis difference on the intra-group transfer of certain intellectual property and the realignment of certain legal entities, partially offset by a Global Intangible Low-Taxed Income (GILTI) non-current deferred tax liability. The tax amortization related to the intellectual property deferred tax asset will be recognized in future periods and any unused amortization in a particular year will carry forward indefinitely. The $11.3 billion deferred tax asset was measured based on the tax rate at which it is expected to reverse in the future. We expect to realize the net deferred tax asset recorded as a result of the intangible property transfer and will periodically assess the realizability of the net deferred tax asset. Refer to Note 14 below for additional information regarding our income taxes.

In fiscal 2021, we adopted Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2016-13, Financial Instruments—Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments and subsequent amendments to the initial guidance; and ASU 2020-01, Investments—Equity Securities (Topic 321), Investments—Equity Method and Joint Ventures (Topic 323), and Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815); neither of which had a material impact to our consolidated financial statements for the year ended May 31, 2021.

Use of Estimates

Our consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) as set forth in the Financial Accounting Standards Board's (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC), and we consider the various staff accounting bulletins and other applicable guidance issued by the SEC. These accounting principles require us to make certain estimates, judgments and assumptions. We believe that the estimates, judgments and assumptions upon which we rely are reasonable based upon information available to us at the time that these estimates, judgments and assumptions are made. These estimates, judgments and assumptions can affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the periods presented. To the extent that there are differences between these estimates, judgments or assumptions and actual results, our consolidated financial statements will be affected. In many cases, the accounting treatment of a particular transaction is specifically dictated by GAAP and does not require management's judgment in its application. There are also areas in which management's judgment in selecting among available alternatives would not produce a materially different result.

Revenue Recognition

Our sources of revenues include:

- cloud and license revenues, which include the sale of: cloud services and license support; and cloud licenses and on-premise licenses, which typically represent perpetual software licenses purchased by customers for use in both cloud and on-premise IT environments;
- hardware revenues, which include the sale of hardware products, including Oracle Engineered Systems, servers, and storage products, and industry-specific hardware; and hardware support revenues; and
- services revenues, which are earned from providing cloud-, license- and hardware-related services including consulting and advanced customer services.

License support revenues are typically generated through the sale of license support contracts related to cloud license and on-premise licenses purchased by our customers at their option. License support contracts provide customers with rights to unspecified software product upgrades, maintenance releases and patches released during the term of the support period and include internet access to technical content, as well as internet and telephone access to technical support personnel. License support contracts are generally priced as a percentage of the net cloud license and on-premise license fees. Substantially all of our customers elect to purchase and renew their license support contracts annually.

Cloud services revenues include revenues from Oracle Cloud Services offerings, which deliver applications and infrastructure technologies via cloud-based deployment models that we develop functionality for, provide unspecified updates and enhancements for, deploy, host, manage, upgrade and support and that customers access by entering into a subscription agreement with us for a stated period.

Cloud license and on-premise license revenues primarily represent amounts earned from granting customers perpetual licenses to use our database, middleware, application and industry-specific software products, which our customers use for cloud-based, on-premise and other IT environments. The vast majority of our cloud license and on-premise license arrangements include license support contracts, which are entered into at the customer's option.

Revenues from the sale of hardware products represent amounts earned primarily from the sale of our Oracle Engineered Systems, computer servers, storage, and industry-specific hardware. Our hardware support offerings generally provide customers with software updates for the software components that are essential to the functionality of the hardware products purchased and can also include product repairs, maintenance services and technical support services. Hardware support contracts are generally priced as a percentage of the net hardware products fees.

Our services are offered to customers as standalone arrangements or as a part of arrangements to customers buying other products and services. Our consulting services are designed to help our customers to, among others, deploy, architect, integrate, upgrade and secure their investments in Oracle applications and infrastructure technologies. Our advanced customer services are designed to provide supplemental support services, performance and higher availability for Oracle products and services.

We apply the provisions of ASC 606, Revenue From Contracts with Customers (ASC 606) as a single standard for revenue recognition that applies to all of our cloud, license, hardware and services arrangements and generally require revenues to be recognized upon the transfer of control of promised goods or services provided to our customers, reflecting the amount of consideration we expect to receive for those goods or services. Pursuant to ASC 606, revenues are recognized upon the application of the following steps:

- identification of the contract, or contracts, with a customer;
- identification of the performance obligations in the contract;
- determination of the transaction price;
- allocation of the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract; and
- recognition of revenues when, or as, the contractual performance obligations are satisfied.

Our customers that contract with us for the provision of cloud services, software, hardware or other services include businesses of many sizes, government agencies, educational institutions and our channel partners, which include resellers and system integrators.

The timing of revenue recognition may differ from the timing of invoicing to our customers. We record an unbilled receivable, which is included within accounts receivable on our consolidated balance sheets, when revenue is recognized prior to invoicing. We record deferred revenues on our consolidated balance sheets when revenues are to be recognized subsequent to cash collection for an invoice. Our standard payment terms are generally net 30 days but may vary. Invoices for cloud license and on-premise licenses and hardware products are generally issued when the license is made available for customer use or upon delivery to the customer of the hardware product. Invoices for license support and hardware support contracts are generally invoiced annually in advance. Cloud SaaS and IaaS contracts are generally invoiced annually, quarterly or monthly in advance. Services are generally invoiced in advance or as the services are performed. Most contracts that contain a financing component are contracts financed through our Oracle financing division. The transaction price for a contract that is financed through our Oracle financing division is adjusted to reflect the time value of money and interest revenue is recorded as a component of non-operating income, net within our consolidated statements of operations based on market rates in the country in which the transaction is being financed.

Our revenue arrangements generally include standard warranty or service level provisions that our arrangements will perform and operate in all material respects as defined in the respective agreements, the financial impacts of which have historically been and are expected to continue to be insignificant. Our arrangements generally do not include a general right of return relative to the delivered products or services. We recognize revenues net of any taxes collected from customers, which are subsequently remitted to governmental authorities.

Revenue Recognition for Cloud Services

Revenues from cloud services provided on a subscription basis are generally recognized ratably over the contractual period that the cloud services are delivered, beginning on the date our service is made available to a customer. We recognize revenue ratably because the customer receives and consumes the benefits of the cloud services throughout the contract period. Revenues from cloud services that are provided on a consumption basis, such as metered services, are generally recognized based on the utilization of the services by the customer.

Revenue Recognition for License Support and Hardware Support

Oracle's primary performance obligations with respect to license support contracts and hardware support contracts are to provide customers with technical support as needed and unspecified software product upgrades, maintenance releases and patches during the term of the support period, if and when they are available, and hardware product repairs, as applicable. Oracle is obligated to make the license and hardware support services available continuously throughout the contract period. Therefore, revenues for license support contracts and hardware support contracts are generally recognized ratably over the contractual periods that the support services are provided.

Revenue Recognition for Cloud Licenses and On-Premise Licenses

Revenues from distinct cloud license and on-premise license performance obligations are generally recognized upfront at the point in time when the software is made available to the customer to download and use. Revenues from usage-based royalty arrangements for distinct cloud licenses and on-premise licenses are recognized at the point in time when the software end user usage occurs. For usage-based royalty arrangements with a fixed minimum guarantee amount, the minimum amount is generally recognized upfront when the software is made available to the royalty customer.

Revenue Recognition for Hardware Products

The hardware product and related software, such as an operating system or firmware, are highly interdependent and interrelated and are accounted for as a combined performance obligation. The revenues for this combined performance obligation are generally recognized at the point in time that the hardware product is delivered and ownership is transferred to the customer.

Revenue Recognition for Services

Services revenues are generally recognized over time as the services are performed. Revenues for fixed price services are generally recognized over time applying input methods to estimate progress to completion. Revenues for consumption-based services are generally recognized as the services are performed.

Allocation of the Transaction Price for Contracts that have Multiple Performance Obligations

Many of our contracts include multiple performance obligations. Judgment is required in determining whether each performance obligation is distinct. Oracle products and services generally do not require a significant amount of integration or interdependency; therefore, our products and services are generally not combined. We allocate the transaction price for each contract to each performance obligation based on the relative standalone selling price (SSP) for each performance obligation within each contract.

We use judgment in determining the SSP for products and services. For substantially all performance obligations except cloud licenses and on-premise licenses, we are able to establish the SSP based on the observable prices of products or services sold separately in comparable circumstances to similar customers. We typically establish an SSP range for our products and services which is reassessed on a periodic basis or when facts and circumstances change. Our cloud licenses and on-premise licenses have not historically been sold on a standalone basis, as the vast majority of all customers elect to purchase license support contracts at the time of a cloud license and on-premise license purchase. License support contracts are generally priced as a percentage of the net fees paid by the customer to access the license. We are unable to establish the SSP for our cloud licenses and on-premise licenses based on observable prices given the same products are sold for a broad range of amounts (that is, the selling price is highly variable) and a representative SSP is not discernible from past transactions or other observable evidence. As a result, the SSP for a cloud license and an on-premise license included in a contract with multiple performance obligations is generally determined by applying a residual approach whereby all other performance obligations within a contract are first allocated a portion of the transaction price based upon their respective SSPs, with any residual amount of transaction price allocated to cloud license and on-premise license revenues.

Remaining Performance Obligations from Customer Contracts

Trade receivables, net of allowance for doubtful accounts, and deferred revenues are reported net of related uncollected deferred revenues in our consolidated balance sheets as of May 31, 2021 and 2020. The amount of revenues recognized during the year ended May 31, 2021 and 2020, respectively, that were included in the opening deferred revenues balance as of May 31, 2020 and 2019, respectively, was approximately $8.0 billion and $8.4 billion, respectively. Revenues recognized from performance obligations satisfied in prior periods and impairment losses recognized on our receivables were immaterial during each year ended May 31, 2021, 2020 and 2019.

Remaining performance obligations represent contracted revenues that had not yet been recognized, and include deferred revenues; invoices that have been issued to customers but were uncollected and have not been recognized as revenues; and amounts that will be invoiced and recognized as revenues in future periods. The volumes and amounts of customer contracts that we book and total revenues that we recognize are impacted by a variety of seasonal factors. In each fiscal year, the amounts and volumes of contracting activity and our total revenues are typically highest in our fourth fiscal quarter and lowest in our first fiscal quarter. These seasonal impacts influence how our remaining performance obligations change over time and, combined with foreign exchange rate fluctuations and other factors, influence the amount of remaining performance obligations that we report at a point in time. As of May 31, 2021, our remaining performance obligations were $41.3 billion, approximately 60% of which we expect to recognize as revenues over the next twelve months, 29% over the subsequent month 13 to month 36 and the remainder thereafter.

Sales of Financing Receivables

We offer certain of our customers the option to acquire certain of our cloud and license, hardware and services offerings through separate long-term payment contracts. We generally sell these contracts that we have financed for our customers on a non-recourse basis to financial institutions within 90 days of the contracts' dates of execution. We record the transfers of amounts due from customers to financial institutions as sales of financing receivables because we are considered to have surrendered control of these financing receivables. During fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, $1.7 billion, $1.5 billion and $1.8 billion, respectively, of our financing receivables were sold to financial institutions.

Business Combinations

We apply the provisions of ASC 805, Business Combinations (ASC 805), in accounting for our acquisitions. ASC 805 requires that we evaluate whether a transaction pertains to an acquisition of assets, or to an acquisition of a business. A business is defined as an integrated set of assets and activities that is capable of being conducted and managed for the purpose of providing a return to investors. Asset acquisitions are accounted for by allocating the cost of the acquisition to the individual assets and liabilities assumed on a relative fair value basis; whereas the acquisition of a business requires us to recognize separately from goodwill the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed at the acquisition date fair values. Goodwill as of the business acquisition date is measured as the excess of consideration transferred over the net of the acquisition date fair values of the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed. While we use our best estimates and assumptions to accurately value assets acquired and liabilities assumed at the business acquisition date as well as any contingent consideration, where applicable, our estimates are inherently uncertain and subject to refinement. As a result, during the measurement period, which may be up to one year from the business acquisition date, we record adjustments to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed with the corresponding offset to goodwill. Upon the conclusion of a business acquisition's measurement period or final determination of the values of assets acquired or liabilities assumed, whichever comes first, any subsequent adjustments are recorded to our consolidated statements of operations. Costs to exit or restructure certain activities of an acquired company or our internal operations are accounted for as termination and exit costs pursuant to ASC 420, Exit or Disposal Cost Obligations (ASC 420), and are accounted for separately from the business combination. A liability for costs associated with an exit or disposal activity is recognized and measured at its fair value in our consolidated statement of operations in the period in which the liability is incurred. Prior to June 1, 2019, we accounted for operating lease abandonment pursuant to the provisions of ASC 420. Effective June 1, 2019, abandoned operating leases related to an acquired company or our internal operations are accounted for as Right-of-Use (ROU) asset impairment charges pursuant to ASC 842, Leases (ASC 842) and are accounted for separately from the business combination. In all periods presented, when estimating the asset impairment charges, assumptions were applied regarding estimated sub-lease payments to be received, which can differ from actual results. This may require us to revise our initial estimates which may affect our results of operations and financial position in the period the revision is made.

For a given business acquisition, we may identify certain pre-acquisition contingencies as of the acquisition date and may extend our review and evaluation of these pre-acquisition contingencies throughout the measurement period in order to obtain sufficient information to assess whether we include these contingencies as a part of the fair value estimates of assets acquired and liabilities assumed and, if so, to determine their estimated amounts. If we cannot reasonably determine the fair value of a non-income tax related pre-acquisition contingency by the end of the measurement period, which is generally the case given the nature of such matters, we will recognize an asset or a liability for such pre-acquisition contingency if: (1) it is probable that an asset existed or a liability had been incurred at the business acquisition date and (2) the amount of the asset or liability can be reasonably estimated. Subsequent to the measurement period or final determination of the net asset values for the business combination, whichever comes first, changes in our estimates of such contingencies will affect earnings and could have a material effect on our results of operations and financial position.

In addition, uncertain tax positions and tax related valuation allowances assumed in a business combination are initially estimated as of the acquisition date. We reevaluate these items quarterly based upon facts and circumstances that existed as of the business acquisition date with any adjustments to our preliminary estimates being recorded to goodwill if identified within the measurement period. Subsequent to the measurement period or our final determination of the tax allowance's or contingency's estimated value, whichever comes first, changes to these uncertain tax positions and tax related valuation allowances will affect our provision for income taxes in our consolidated statement of operations and could have a material impact on our results of operations and financial position.

Marketable and Non-Marketable Securities

In accordance with ASC 320, Investments—Debt Securities, and based on our intentions regarding these instruments, we classify substantially all of our marketable debt securities as available-for-sale. We carry these securities at fair value, and report the unrealized gains and losses, net of taxes, as a component of stockholders' equity, except for any unrealized losses determined to be related to credit losses, which we record within non-operating income, net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations. We periodically evaluate our investments to determine if impairment charges are required. Substantially all of our marketable debt securities investments are classified as current based on the nature of the investments and their availability for use in current operations.

Investments in equity securities, other than any equity method investments, are generally recorded at their fair values, if the fair values are readily determinable. Non-marketable equity securities where we do not have control of, nor significant influence in, the investee are recorded at cost, less any impairment, adjusted for observable price changes from orderly transactions for identical or similar investments of the same issuer with any gains or losses recorded as a component of non-operating income, net as of and for each reporting period. For investments through which we have significant influence in, but not control of, the investee, we account for such investments pursuant to the equity method of accounting whereby we record our proportionate share of the investee's earnings or losses, amortization of differences between our investment basis and the proportional book equity of the investee, and impairment, if any, as a component of non-operating income, net for each reporting period. Our non-marketable equity securities and related instruments totaled $971 million and $219 million as of May 31, 2021 and 2020, respectively, and are included either in other current assets or in other non-current assets in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and are subject to periodic impairment reviews and adjustments for observable price changes from orderly transactions. Certain of the non-marketable equity securities held as of May 31, 2021 and 2020 were with a related party entity for which we follow the equity method of accounting. We are also a counterparty to certain options to acquire additional equity interests in that entity at various times through December 2023 and we could obtain control of that entity should such options be exercised.

Fair Values of Financial Instruments

We apply the provisions of ASC 820, Fair Value Measurement (ASC 820), to our assets and liabilities that we are required to measure at fair value pursuant to other accounting standards, including our investments in marketable debt and equity securities and our derivative financial instruments.

The additional disclosures regarding our fair value measurements are included in Note 4.

Allowances for Doubtful Accounts

We record allowances for doubtful accounts based upon a specific review of all significant outstanding invoices. For those invoices not specifically reviewed, provisions are provided at differing rates, based upon the age of the receivable, the collection history associated with the geographic region that the receivable was recorded in and current and expected future economic conditions. We write-off a receivable and charge it against its recorded allowance when we have exhausted our collection efforts without success.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that are potentially subject to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents, marketable securities, derivatives and trade receivables. Our cash and cash equivalents are generally held with large, diverse financial institutions worldwide to reduce the amount of exposure to any single financial institution. Investment policies have been implemented that limit purchases of marketable debt securities to investment-grade securities. Our derivative contracts are transacted with various financial institutions with high credit standings and any exposure to counterparty credit-related losses in these contracts is largely mitigated with collateral security agreements that provide for collateral to be received or posted when the net fair values of these contracts fluctuate from contractually established thresholds. We generally do not require collateral to secure accounts receivable. The risk with respect to trade receivables is mitigated by credit evaluations we perform on our customers, the short duration of our payment terms for the significant majority of our customer contracts and by the diversification of our customer base. No single customer accounted for 10% or more of our total revenues in fiscal 2021, 2020 or 2019.

May 31, 2021

We outsource the manufacturing, assembly and delivery of the substantial majority of our hardware products to a variety of companies, many of which are located outside the U.S. Further, we have simplified our supply chain processes by reducing the number of third-party manufacturing partners and the number of locations where these third-party manufacturers build our hardware products. Any inability of these third-party manufacturing partners to deliver the contracted services for our hardware products could adversely impact future operating results of our cloud and license and hardware businesses.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Cost is computed using standard cost, which approximates actual cost, on a first-in, first-out basis. We evaluate our ending inventories for estimated excess quantities and obsolescence. This evaluation includes analysis of sales levels by product and projections of future demand within specific time horizons (generally six to nine months). Inventories in excess of future demand are written down and charged to hardware expenses. In addition, we assess the impact of changing technology to our inventories and we write down inventories that are considered obsolete. At the point of loss recognition, a new, lower-cost basis for that inventory is established, and subsequent changes in facts and circumstances do not result in the restoration or increase in that newly established cost basis. Inventories are included in prepaid expenses and other current assets in our consolidated balance sheets and totaled $142 million and $211 million at May 31, 2021 and 2020, respectively.

Other Receivables

Other receivables represent value-added tax and sales tax receivables associated with the sale of our products and services to third parties. Other receivables are included in prepaid expenses and other current assets in our consolidated balance sheets and totaled $798 million and $778 million at May 31, 2021 and 2020, respectively.

Deferred Sales Commissions

We defer sales commissions earned by our sales force that are considered to be incremental and recoverable costs of obtaining a cloud, license support and hardware support contract. Initial sales commissions for the majority of these aforementioned contracts are generally deferred and amortized on a straight-line basis over a period of benefit that we estimate to be four years. We determine the period of benefit by taking into consideration the historical and expected durations of our customer contracts, the expected useful lives of our technologies, and other factors. Sales commissions for renewal contracts relating to certain of our cloud-based arrangements are generally deferred and then amortized on a straight-line basis over the related contractual renewal period, which is generally one to three years. Amortization of deferred sales commissions is included as a component of sales and marketing expenses in our consolidated statements of operations and asset balances for deferred sales commissions are included in other current assets and other non-current assets in our consolidated balance sheets.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at the lower of cost or realizable value, net of accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method based on estimated useful lives of the assets, which range from one to 40 years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the estimated useful lives of the improvements or the lease terms, as appropriate. Property, plant and equipment are periodically reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. We did not recognize any significant property impairment charges in fiscal 2021, 2020 or 2019.

Goodwill, Intangible Assets and Impairment Assessments

Goodwill represents the excess of the purchase price in a business combination over the fair value of net tangible and intangible assets acquired. Intangible assets that are not considered to have an indefinite useful life are amortized over their useful lives, which generally range from one to 10 years. Each period we evaluate the estimated remaining useful lives of purchased intangible assets and whether events or changes in circumstances warrant a revision to the remaining periods of amortization.

The carrying amounts of our goodwill and intangible assets are periodically reviewed for impairment (at least annually for goodwill and indefinite lived intangible assets) and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of these assets may not be recoverable. When goodwill is assessed for impairment, we have the option to perform an assessment of qualitative factors of impairment (optional assessment) prior to necessitating a quantitative impairment test. Should the optional assessment be used for any given fiscal year, qualitative factors to consider for a reporting unit include: cost factors; financial performance; legal, regulatory, contractual, political, business, or other factors; entity specific factors; industry and market considerations; macroeconomic conditions; and other relevant events and factors affecting the reporting unit. If we determine in the qualitative assessment that it is more likely than not that the fair value of the reporting unit is less than its carrying value, a quantitative test is then performed. Otherwise, no further testing is required. For those reporting units tested using a quantitative approach, we compare the fair value of each reporting unit with the carrying amount of the reporting unit, including goodwill. To determine the fair value of each reporting unit we utilize estimates, judgments and assumptions including estimated future cash flows the reporting unit is expected to generate on a discounted basis; the discount rate used as a part of the discounted cash flow analysis; future economic and market conditions; and market comparables of peer companies, among others. If, as per the quantitative test, the estimated fair value of the reporting unit is less than the carrying amount of the reporting unit, impairment is recognized for the difference, limited to the amount of goodwill recognized for the reporting unit. Our most recent goodwill impairment analysis was performed on March 1, 2021 and did not result in a goodwill impairment charge. We did not recognize impairment charges in fiscal 2020 or 2019.

Recoverability of finite lived intangible assets is measured by comparison of the carrying amount of the asset to the future undiscounted cash flows the asset is expected to generate. Recoverability of indefinite lived intangible assets is measured by comparison of the carrying amount of the asset to its fair value. If the asset is considered to be impaired, the amount of any impairment is measured as the difference between the carrying value and the fair value of the impaired asset. We did not recognize any intangible asset impairment charges in fiscal 2021, 2020 or 2019. At least annually, we assess the useful lives of our finite lived intangible assets and may adjust the period over which these assets are amortized whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that a shorter amortization period is more reflective of the period in which these assets contribute to our cash flows.

Derivative Financial Instruments

During fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, we used derivative financial instruments to manage foreign currency and interest rate risks (see Note 10 below for additional information). We do not use derivative financial instruments for trading purposes. We account for these instruments in accordance with ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging (ASC 815), which requires that every derivative instrument be recorded on the balance sheet as either an asset or liability measured at its fair value as of each reporting date. ASC 815 also requires that changes in our derivatives' fair values be recognized in earnings, unless specific hedge accounting and documentation criteria are met (i.e., the instruments are accounted for as hedges).

The accounting for changes in the fair value of a derivative depends on the intended use of the derivative and the resulting designation. For a derivative instrument designated as a fair value hedge, loss or gain attributable to the risk being hedged is recognized in earnings in the period of change with a corresponding earnings offset recorded to the item for which the risk is being hedged.

May 31, 2021

For a derivative instrument designated as a cash flow hedge, each reporting period we record the change in fair value of the derivative to AOCL in our consolidated balance sheets, and the change is reclassified to earnings in the period the hedged item affects earnings.

Leases

Our accounting policy for leases pursuant to ASC 842, Leases, was prospectively effective for us as of June 1, 2019. We determine if an arrangement is a lease at its inception. Operating lease liabilities are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. We generally use our incremental borrowing rate based on the information available at the lease commencement date in determining the present value of future payments, because the implicit rate of the lease is generally not known. ROU assets related to our operating lease liabilities are measured at lease inception based on the initial measurement of the lease liability, plus any prepaid lease payments and less any lease incentives. Our lease terms that are used in determining our operating lease liabilities at lease inception may include options to extend or terminate the leases when it is reasonably certain that we will exercise such options. We amortize our ROU assets as operating lease expense generally on a straight-line basis over the lease term and classify both the lease amortization and imputed interest as operating expenses. We have lease agreements with lease and non-lease components, and in such cases, we generally account for the components as a single lease component. We do not recognize lease assets and lease liabilities for any lease with an original lease term of less than one year.

ROU assets related to our operating leases are included in other non-current assets, short-term operating lease liabilities are included in other current liabilities, and long-term operating lease liabilities are included in other non-current liabilities in our consolidated balance sheets. Cash flow movements related to our lease activities are included in prepaid expenses and other assets and accounts payable and other liabilities as presented in net cash provided by operating activities in our consolidated statements of cash flows for the years ended May 31, 2021 and 2020. Note 11 below provides additional information regarding our leases.

Legal and Other Contingencies

We are currently involved in various claims and legal proceedings. Quarterly, we review the status of each significant matter and assess our potential financial exposure. Descriptions of our accounting policies associated with contingencies assumed as a part of a business combination are provided under “Business Combinations” above. For legal and other contingencies that are not a part of a business combination or related to income taxes, we accrue a liability for an estimated loss if the potential loss from any claim or legal proceeding is considered probable, and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Note 17 below provides additional information regarding certain of our legal contingencies.

Foreign Currency

We transact business in various foreign currencies. In general, the functional currency of a foreign operation is the local country’s currency. Consequently, revenues and expenses of operations outside the U.S. are translated into U.S. Dollars using weighted-average exchange rates while assets and liabilities of operations outside the U.S. are translated into U.S. Dollars using exchange rates at the balance sheet dates. The effects of foreign currency translation adjustments are substantially included in stockholders’ equity as a component of Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss (AOCL) in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and related periodic movements are summarized as a line item in our consolidated statements of comprehensive income. Net foreign exchange transaction losses included in non-operating income, net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations were $112 million, $185 million and $111 million in fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively.

Stock-Based Compensation

We account for share-based payments to employees, including grants of service-based restricted stock unit awards, service-based employee stock options, performance-based stock options (PSOs), and purchases under employee stock purchase plans in accordance with ASC 718, Compensation—Stock Compensation, which requires that share-based payments (to the extent they are compensatory) be recognized in our consolidated statements of operations based on their fair values. We account for forfeitures of stock-based awards as they occur.

For our service-based stock awards, we recognize stock-based compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the service period of the award, which is generally four years.

For our PSOs, we recognize stock-based compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the longer of the derived, explicit or implicit service period (which is the period of time expected for the performance condition to be satisfied). During our interim and annual reporting periods, stock-based compensation expense is recorded based on expected attainment of performance targets. Changes in our estimates of the expected attainment of performance targets that result in a change in the number of shares that are expected to vest, or changes in our estimates of implicit service periods, may cause the amount of stock-based compensation expense that we record for each interim reporting period to vary. Any changes in estimates that impact our expectation of the number of shares that are expected to vest are reflected in the amount of stock-based compensation expense that we recognize for each PSO tranche on a cumulative catch up basis during each interim reporting period in which such estimates are altered. Changes in estimates of the implicit service periods are recognized prospectively.

We record deferred tax assets for stock-based compensation awards that result in deductions on certain of our income tax returns based on the amount of stock-based compensation recognized in each reporting period and the fair values attributable to the vested portion of stock awards assumed in connection with a business combination at the statutory tax rates in the jurisdictions that we are able to recognize such tax deductions. The impacts of the actual tax deductions for stock-based awards that are realized in these jurisdictions are generally recognized in the reporting period that a restricted stock-based award vests or a stock option is exercised with any shortfall/windfall relative to the deferred tax asset established recorded as a discrete detriment/benefit to our provision for income taxes in such period. Note 13 below provides additional information regarding our stock-based compensation plans.

Advertising

Substantially all advertising costs are expensed as incurred. Advertising expenses, which were included within sales and marketing expenses, were $202 million, $178 million and $169 million in fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively.

Research and Development Costs and Software Development Costs

All research and development costs are expensed as incurred in accordance with ASC 730, Research and Development. Software development costs required to be capitalized under ASC 985-20, Costs of Software to be Sold, Leased or Marketed, and under ASC 350-40, Internal-Use Software, were not material to our consolidated financial statements in fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019.

Non operating income net in fiscal 2021 included a $299 million unrealized investment gain for certain non marketable securities due to an observable price change and a $193 million unrealized investment gain associated with certain marketable equity securities that we held for certain employee benefit plans and classified as trading, and for which an equal and offsetting amount was recorded to our operating expenses during the same period.

Income Taxes

We account for income taxes in accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes (ASC 740). Deferred income taxes are recorded for the expected tax consequences of temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and amounts recognized for income tax purposes. We record a valuation allowance to reduce our deferred tax assets to the amount of future tax benefit that is more likely than not to be realized.

A two-step approach is applied pursuant to ASC 740 in the recognition and measurement of uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. The first step is to determine if the weight of available evidence indicates that it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained in an audit, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. The second step is to measure the tax benefit as the largest amount that is more than 50% likely to be realized upon ultimate settlement. We recognize interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions in our provision for income taxes line of our consolidated statements of operations.

A description of our accounting policies associated with tax related contingencies and valuation allowances assumed as a part of a business combination is provided under "Business Combinations" above.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Financial Instruments: In March 2020, the FASB issued ASU 2020-04, Reference Rate Reform (Topic 848): Facilitation of the Effects of Reference Rate Reform on Financial Reporting (ASU 2020-04) and also issued subsequent amendments to the initial guidance (collectively, Topic 848). Topic 848 provides optional guidance for contract modifications and certain hedging relationships associated with the transition from reference rates that are expected to be discontinued. We will adopt Topic 848 when our relevant contracts are modified upon transition to alternative reference rates. We do not expect our adoption of Topic 848 will have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

Income Taxes: In December 2019, the FASB issued ASU 2019-12, Income Taxes (Topic 740): Simplifying the Accounting for Income Taxes (ASU 2019-12), which is intended to simplify various areas related to the accounting for income taxes and improve consistent application of Topic 740. ASU 2019-12 is effective for us beginning in fiscal 2022, and earlier adoption is permitted. We do not expect our adoption of ASU 2019-12 will have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

2. ACQUISITIONSFiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019 Acquisitions

During fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, we acquired certain companies and purchased certain technology and development assets primarily to expand our products and services offerings. These acquisitions were not significant individually or in the aggregate to our consolidated financial statements.

3. CASH, CASH EQUIVALENTS AND MARKETABLE SECURITIES

Cash and cash equivalents primarily consist of deposits held at major banks, Tier-1 commercial paper debt securities, money market funds and other securities with original maturities of 90 days or less. Marketable securities consist of Tier-1 commercial paper debt securities, corporate debt securities and certain other securities.

The amortized principal amounts of our cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities approximated their fair values at May 31, 2021 and 2020. We use the specific identification method to determine any realized gains or losses from the sale of our marketable securities classified as available-for-sale. Such realized gains and losses were insignificant for fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019. The following table summarizes the components of our cash equivalents and marketable securities held, substantially all of which were classified as available-for-sale:

(in millions)	May 31,
Money market funds	$ 12,263	$ 18,587

As of May 31, 2021 and 2020, substantially all of our marketable securities investments mature within one year. Our investment portfolio is subject to market risk due to changes in interest rates. As described above, we limit purchases of marketable debt securities to investment-grade securities, which have high credit ratings and also limit the amount of credit exposure to any one issuer. As stated in our investment policy, we are averse to principal loss and seek to preserve our invested funds by limiting default risk and market risk.

4. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

We perform fair value measurements in accordance with ASC 820. ASC 820 defines fair value as the price that would be received from selling an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. When determining the fair value measurements for assets and liabilities required to be recorded at their fair values, we consider the principal or most advantageous market in which we would transact and consider assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the assets or liabilities, such as inherent risk, transfer restrictions and risk of nonperformance.

ASC 820 establishes a fair value hierarchy that requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. An asset's or a liability's categorization within the fair value hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. ASC 820 establishes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

- Level 1: quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2: inputs other than Level 1 that are observable, either directly or indirectly, such as quoted prices in active markets for similar assets or liabilities, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities; or
- Level 3: unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair values of the assets or liabilities.

Assets and Liabilities Measured at Fair Value on a Recurring Basis

Our assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis consisted of the following (Level 1 and Level 2 inputs are defined above):

Our marketable securities investments consist of money market funds, Tier 1 commercial paper debt securities, corporate debt securities and certain other securities. Marketable securities as presented per our consolidated balance sheets included securities with original maturities at the time of purchase greater than three months and the remainder of the securities were included in cash and cash equivalents. Our valuation techniques used to measure the fair values of our instruments that were classified as Level 1 in the table above were derived from quoted market prices and active markets for these instruments that exist. Our valuation techniques used to measure the fair values of Level 2 instruments listed in the table above were derived from the following: non-

May 31, 2021

- (1) In July 2013, we issued €2.0 billion of fixed-rate senior notes comprised of €1.25 billion of 2.25% senior notes that were due and were settled in January 2021 (January 2021 Notes) and €750 million of 3.125% senior notes due July 2025 (July 2025 Notes, and together with the January 2021 Notes, the Euro Notes). Principal and unamortized discount/issuance costs for the Euro Notes in the table above were calculated using foreign currency exchange rates, as applicable, as of May 31, 2021 and May 31, 2020, respectively. The July 2025 Notes are registered and trade on the New York Stock Exchange.
- (2) In connection with the issuance of the January 2021 Notes, we entered into certain cross-currency swap agreements, all of which were cash settled upon their maturity during fiscal 2021 (see Note 10 for additional information).
- (3) We entered into certain interest rate swap agreements that have the economic effects of modifying the fixed-interest obligations associated with the 2.80% senior notes due July 2021 (July 2021 Notes) so that the interest payable on these notes effectively became variable based on LIBOR. The effective interest rates after consideration of these fixed to variable interest rate swap agreements were 0.87% and 1.99%, respectively, for the July 2021 Notes as of May 31, 2021 and 2020, respectively. Refer to Notes 1 and 10 for a description of our accounting for fair value hedges associated with our July 2021 Notes.
- (4) In fiscal 2018 we entered into certain cross-currency interest rate swap agreements that have the economic effect of converting our fixed-rate, Euro-denominated debt, including annual interest payments and the payment of principal at maturity, to a variable-rate, U.S. Dollar-denominated debt of $871 million based on LIBOR. The effective interest rates as of May 31, 2021 and 2020 after consideration of the cross-currency interest rate swap agreements were 3.15% and 4.46%, respectively, for the July 2025 Notes. Refer to Notes 1 and 10 for a description of our accounting for fair value hedges.
- (5) In March 2021, we issued $15.0 billion of senior notes for general corporate purposes, which may include stock repurchases, payment of cash dividends on our common stock and repayment of indebtedness and future acquisitions. The interest is payable semi-annually. We may redeem some or all of the senior notes of each series prior to their maturity, subject to certain restrictions, and the payment of an applicable make-whole premium in certain instances.

Future principal payments (adjusted for the effects of the cross-currency interest rate swap agreements associated with the July 2025 Notes) for all of our borrowings at May 31, 2021 were as follows (in millions):

Fiscal 2022	$	8,250
Fiscal 2023		3,750
Fiscal 2024		3,500
Fiscal 2025		10,000
Fiscal 2026		3,734
Thereafter		55,250
Total	$	84,484

Senior Notes

Interest is payable semi-annually for the senior notes listed in the above table except for the Euro Notes for which interest is payable annually. We may redeem some or all of the senior notes of each series prior to their maturity, subject to certain restrictions, and the payment of an applicable make-whole premium in certain instances.

The senior notes rank pari passu with any other notes we may issue in the future pursuant to our commercial paper program (see additional discussion regarding our commercial paper program below) and all existing and future unsecured senior indebtedness of Oracle Corporation. All existing and future liabilities of the subsidiaries of Oracle Corporation are or will be effectively senior to the senior notes and any future issuances of commercial paper notes. We were in compliance with all debt-related covenants at May 31, 2021.

Commercial Paper Program and Commercial Paper Notes

Our existing $3.0 billion commercial paper program allows us to issue and sell unsecured short-term promissory notes pursuant to a private placement exemption from the registration requirements under federal and state securities laws pursuant to dealer agreements with various banks and an Issuing and Paying Agency Agreement with Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas. As of May 31, 2021 and 2020, we did not have any outstanding commercial paper notes.

8. RESTRUCTURING ACTIVITIESFiscal 2019 Oracle Restructuring Plan

During fiscal 2019, our management approved, committed to and initiated plans to restructure and further improve efficiencies in our operations due to our acquisitions and certain other operational activities (2019 Restructuring Plan). In fiscal 2021, our management supplemented the 2019 Restructuring Plan to reflect additional actions that we expected to take. Restructuring costs associated with the 2019 Restructuring Plan were recorded to the restructuring expense line item within our consolidated statements of operations as they were incurred. We recorded $430 million and $261 million of restructuring expenses in connection with the 2019 Restructuring Plan in fiscal 2021 and 2020, respectively. The total costs recorded to date in our consolidated statements of operations in connection with the 2019 Restructuring Plan were $1.2 billion. Actions pursuant to the 2019 Restructuring Plan were substantially complete as of May 31, 2021.

Deferred revenues, current	8,775	8,002
Deferred revenues, non-current (in other non-current liabilities)	679	597
Total deferred revenues	$ 9,454	$ 8,599

Deferred cloud services and license support revenues and deferred hardware revenues substantially represent customer payments made in advance for cloud or support contracts that are typically billed in advance with corresponding revenues generally being recognized ratably over the contractual periods. Deferred services revenues include prepayments for our services business and revenues for these services are generally recognized as the services are performed. Deferred cloud license and on-premise license revenues typically resulted from customer payments that related to undelivered products and services or specified enhancements.

Fair Value Hedges—Interest Rate Swap Agreements and Cross-Currency Interest Rate Swap Agreements

In May 2018, we entered into certain cross-currency interest rate swap agreements to manage the foreign currency exchange rate risk associated with our July 2025 Notes by effectively converting the fixed-rate, Euro denominated 2025 Notes, including the annual interest payments and the payment of principal at maturity, to variable-rate, U.S. Dollar denominated debt based on LIBOR. In July 2014, we entered into certain interest rate swap agreements that have the economic effect of modifying the fixed-interest obligations associated with our July 2021 Notes so that the interest payable on these senior notes effectively became variable based on LIBOR. The critical terms of the swap agreements match the critical terms of the July 2025 Notes and July 2021 Notes that the swap agreements pertain to, including the notional amounts and maturity dates.

We have designated the aforementioned swap agreements as qualifying hedging instruments and are accounting for them as fair value hedges pursuant to ASC 815. The changes in fair values of the cross-currency interest rate swap agreements associated with our July 2025 Notes are recognized as interest expense and non-operating income, net in our consolidated statements of operations with the corresponding amounts included in non-current assets or non-current liabilities in our consolidated balance sheets.

The changes in fair values of our interest rate swap agreements associated with our July 2021 Notes are recognized as interest expense in our consolidated statements of operations with the corresponding amounts included in other current assets or other current liabilities in our consolidated balance sheets. The amount of net gain (loss) attributable to the interest rate risk being hedged is recognized as interest expense and amount of net gain (loss) attributable to the foreign exchange risk being hedged, as applicable, is recognized as non-operating income, net in our consolidated statements of operations with the corresponding amount included in notes payable, current or notes payable, non-current. We exclude the portion of the change in fair value of cross-currency interest rate swap agreements attributable to the related cross-currency basis spread in our assessment of hedge effectiveness. The change in fair value of these cross-currency interest rate swap agreements attributable to the cross-currency basis spread is included in AOCL. The periodic interest settlements for the swap agreements for the July 2025 Notes and July 2021 Notes are recorded as interest expense and are included as a part of cash flows from operating activities and cash flows that pertain to the principal balance are classified as financing activities.

Cash Flow Hedges—Cross-Currency Swap Agreements

In connection with the issuance of the January 2021 Notes, we entered into certain cross-currency swap agreements to manage the related foreign currency exchange risk by effectively converting the fixed-rate, Euro-denominated January 2021 Notes, including the annual interest payments and the payment of principal at maturity, to a fixed-rate of 3.53% and U.S. Dollar-denominated principal amount of $1.6 billion. We had designated these cross-currency swap agreements as qualifying hedging instruments and accounted for these as cash flow hedges pursuant to ASC 815. In fiscal 2021, the cross-currency swap agreements and the January 2021 Notes matured and were settled in cash. The cash flows related to the cross-currency swap agreements that pertained to the periodic interest settlements were classified as operating activities and the cash flows that pertained to the principal balance were classified as financing activities.

Foreign Currency Forward Contracts Not Designated as Hedges

We transact business in various foreign currencies and have established a program that primarily utilizes foreign currency forward contracts to offset the risks associated with the effects of certain foreign currency exposures. Under this program, our strategy is to enter into foreign currency forward contracts so that increases or decreases in our foreign currency exposures are offset by gains or losses on the foreign currency forward contracts in order to mitigate the risks and volatility associated with our foreign currency transactions. We may suspend this program from time to time. Our foreign currency exposures typically arise from intercompany sublicense fees, intercompany loans and other intercompany transactions that are generally expected to be cash settled in the near term. Our foreign currency forward contracts are generally short-term in duration. Our ultimate realized gain or loss with respect to currency fluctuations will generally depend on the size and type of cross-currency exposures that we enter into, the currency exchange rates associated with these exposures and changes in those rates, the net realized and unrealized gains or losses on foreign currency forward contracts to offset these exposures and other factors.

We do not designate these forward contracts as hedging instruments pursuant to ASC 815. Accordingly, we recorded the fair values of these contracts as of the end of each reporting period to our consolidated balance sheets with changes in fair values recorded to our consolidated statements of operations. The balance sheet classification for the fair values of these forward contracts is other current assets for forward contracts in an unrealized gain position and other current liabilities for forward contracts in an unrealized loss position. The statement of operations classification for changes in fair values of these forward contracts is non-operating income, net for both realized and unrealized gains and losses.

As of May 31, 2021 and 2020, the notional amounts of the forward contracts we held to purchase U.S. Dollars in exchange for other major international currencies were $4.3 billion and $4.2 billion, respectively, and the notional amounts of forward contracts we held to sell U.S. Dollars in exchange for other major international currencies were $4.5 billion and $3.9 billion, respectively. The fair values of our outstanding foreign currency forward contracts were nominal at May 31, 2021 and 2020. The cash flows related to these foreign currency contracts are classified as operating activities.

11. LEASES, OTHER COMMITMENTS AND CERTAIN CONTINGENCIES
Leases

We have operating leases that primarily relate to certain of our facilities, data centers and vehicles. As of May 31, 2021, our operating leases substantially have remaining terms of one year to eleven years, some of which include options to extend and/or terminate the leases.

Operating lease expenses totaled $654 million, net of sublease income of $13 million in fiscal 2021 and $599 million, net of sublease income of $16 million in fiscal 2020. At May 31, 2021, ROU assets, current lease liabilities and non-current lease liabilities for our operating leases were $2.6 billion, $664 million and $2.1 billion, respectively. We recorded ROU assets of $1.7 billion in exchange for operating lease obligations during the year ended May 31, 2021. Cash paid for amounts included in the measurement of operating lease liabilities was $696 million for year ended May 31, 2021. As of May 31, 2021, the weighted average remaining lease term for operating leases was approximately seven years and the weighted average discount rate used for calculating operating lease obligations was 2.8%. As of May 31, 2021, we have $653 million of additional operating lease commitments, primarily for data centers, that commence in fiscal 2022 for terms of one to eleven years that were not reflected on our consolidated balance sheet as of May 31, 2021 or in the maturities table below.

Unconditional Obligations

In the ordinary course of business, we enter into certain unconditional purchase obligations with our suppliers, which are agreements that are enforceable and legally binding and specify terms, including: fixed or minimum quantities to be purchased; fixed, minimum or variable price provisions; and the approximate timing of the payment. We utilize several external manufacturers to manufacture sub-assemblies, perform final assemblies and perform testing of our hardware products. We also obtain individual components for our hardware products from a variety of individual suppliers based on projected demand information. Such purchase commitments are based on our forecasted component and manufacturing requirements and typically provide for fulfillment within agreed upon lead-times and/or commercially standard lead-times for the particular part or product and have been included in the amounts disclosed below. Certain routine arrangements for other materials and goods that are not related to our external manufacturers and certain other suppliers and that are entered into in the ordinary course of business are not included in the amounts below, as they are generally entered into in order to secure pricing or other negotiated terms and are difficult to quantify in a meaningful way.

As of May 31, 2021, our unconditional purchase and certain other obligations were as follows (in millions):

Fiscal 2022	$	1,484
Fiscal 2023		143
Fiscal 2024		89
Fiscal 2025		61
Fiscal 2026		28
Thereafter		212
Total	$	2,017

As described in Notes 7 and 10 above, as of May 31, 2021 we have senior notes and other borrowings that mature at various future dates and derivative financial instruments outstanding that we leverage to manage certain risks and exposures.

Guarantees

Our cloud, license and hardware sales agreements generally include certain provisions for indemnifying customers against liabilities if our products infringe a third party's intellectual property rights. To date, we have not incurred any material costs as a result of such indemnifications and have not accrued any material liabilities related to such obligations in our consolidated financial statements. Certain of our sales agreements also include provisions indemnifying customers against liabilities in the event we breach confidentiality or service level requirements. It is not possible to determine the maximum potential amount under these indemnification agreements due to our limited and infrequent history of prior indemnification claims and the unique facts and circumstances involved in each particular agreement.

Our Oracle Cloud Services agreements generally include a warranty that the cloud services will be performed in all material respects as defined in the agreement during the service period. Our license and hardware agreements also generally include a warranty that our products will substantially operate as described in the applicable program documentation for a period of one year after delivery. We also warrant that services we perform will be provided in a manner consistent with industry standards for a period of 90 days from performance of the services.

We occasionally are required, for various reasons, to enter into financial guarantees with third parties in the ordinary course of our business including, among others, guarantees related to taxes, import licenses and letters of credit on behalf of parties with whom we conduct business. Such agreements have not had a material effect on our results of operations, financial position or cash flows.

In connection with certain litigation, we posted certain court-mandated surety bonds with a court and entered into related indemnification agreements with each of the surety bond issuing companies. Additional information is provided in Note 17 below.

12. STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY

Common Stock Repurchases

Our Board of Directors has approved a program for us to repurchase shares of our common stock. On March 10, 2021, we announced that our Board of Directors approved an expansion of our stock repurchase program by an additional $20.0 billion. As of May 31, 2021, approximately $15.6 billion remained available for stock repurchases pursuant to our stock repurchase program. We repurchased 329.2 million shares for $21.0 billion (including 0.8 million shares for $66 million that were repurchased but not settled), 361.0 million shares for $19.2 billion, and 733.8 million shares for $36.0 billion in fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively, under the stock repurchase program.

Our stock repurchase authorization does not have an expiration date and the pace of our repurchase activity will depend on factors such as our working capital needs, our cash requirements for acquisitions and dividend payments, our debt repayment obligations or repurchases of our debt, our stock price, and economic and market conditions. Our stock repurchases may be effected from time to time through open market purchases or pursuant to a Rule 10b5-1 plan. Our stock repurchase program may be accelerated, suspended, delayed or discontinued at any time.

Dividends on Common Stock

During fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, our Board of Directors declared cash dividends of $1.04, $0.96 and $0.81 per share of our outstanding common stock, respectively, which we paid during the same period.

In June 2021, our Board of Directors declared a quarterly cash dividend of $0.32 per share of our outstanding common stock. The dividend is payable on July 29, 2021 to stockholders of record as of the close of business on July 15, 2021. Future declarations of dividends and the establishment of future record and payment dates are subject to the final determination of our Board of Directors.

13. EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLANSStock-Based Compensation Plans*Stock Plans

In fiscal 2021, we adopted the 2020 Equity Incentive Plan (the 2020 Plan) to replace the Amended and Restated 2000 Long-Term Equity Incentive Plan (the 2000 Plan and, together with the 2020 Plan, the Plans) which provides for the issuance of long-term performance awards, including restricted stock-based awards, non-qualified stock options and incentive stock options, as well as stock purchase rights and stock appreciation rights, to our eligible employees, officers and directors who are also employees or consultants, independent consultants and advisers.

The total number of shares authorized under the 2020 Plan is (i) 90 million shares, plus (ii) the number of shares that remained unissued and were available for grant under the 2000 Plan as of the date of adoption of the 2020 Plan, plus (iii) the number of shares granted and outstanding as of the date of adoption of the 2020 Plan which would have been available again for issuance under the terms of the 2000 Plan had the 2020 Plan not been adopted. Under the Plans, for each share granted as a full value award in the form of a restricted stock unit (RSU) or a performance-based restricted stock award (PSU), an equivalent of 2.5 shares is deducted from our pool of shares available for grant.

As of May 31, 2021, 107 million unvested restricted stock units (RSUs), 36 million performance-based stock options (PSOs), and service-based stock options (SOs) to purchase 69 million shares of common stock, of which 66 million shares were vested, were outstanding under the Plans. Approximately 210 million shares of common stock were available for future awards under the 2020 Plan as of May 31, 2021. To date, we have not issued any stock options under the 2020 Plan or any stock purchase rights or stock appreciation rights under either of the Plans.

The vesting schedule for all awards granted under the Plans is established by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. RSUs generally require service-based vesting of 25% annually over four years. SOs were previously granted under the 2000 Plan at not less than fair market value, become exercisable generally 25% annually over four years of service, and generally expire 10 years from the date of grant.

PSOs granted under the 2000 Plan to our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Technology Officer in fiscal 2018 consisted of seven numerically equivalent vesting tranches that potentially may vest. One tranche vests solely on the attainment of a market-based metric. The remaining six tranches require the attainment of both a performance metric and a market capitalization metric. In each case, the market-based metric, performance metrics and market capitalization metrics for the PSOs may be achieved at any time during the required performance period, assuming continued employment and service through the date the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors certifies that performance has been achieved. The PSOs have contractual lives of eight years in comparison to the typical ten year contractual lives for SOs. For the six tranches of the PSOs with both performance and market conditions, stock-based compensation expense is to be recognized starting at the time each vesting tranche becomes probable of achievement over the longer of the estimated implicit service period or derived service period. Stock-based compensation associated with a vesting tranche where vesting is no longer determined to be probable is reversed on a cumulative basis and is no longer prospectively recognized in the period when such a determination is made. Stock-based compensation for the market-based tranche was recognized using the derived service period for the market-based metric achievement, which we estimated to be approximately three years.

In connection with certain of our acquisitions, we assumed certain outstanding restricted stock-based awards and stock options under each acquired company's respective stock plans, or we substituted substantially similar awards under the Plans. These restricted stock-based awards and stock options assumed or substituted generally retained all of the rights, terms and conditions of the respective plans under which they were originally granted. As of May 31, 2021, stock options to purchase approximately 1 million shares of common stock were outstanding under acquired company stock plans that Oracle assumed.

In fiscal 1993, the Board adopted the 1993 Directors' Stock Plan (the Directors' Plan), which provides for the issuance of RSUs and other stock-based awards, including non-qualified stock options, to non-employee directors. The Directors' Plan has from time to time been amended and restated. Under the terms of the Directors' Plan, 10 million shares of common stock are reserved for issuance (including a fiscal 2013 amendment to increase the number of shares of our common stock reserved for issuance by 2 million shares). In prior years, we granted stock options at not less than fair market value, that vest over four years, and expire no more than 10 years from the date of grant. Currently, we only grant RSUs that vest fully on the one-year anniversary of the date of grant. The Directors' Plan was most recently amended on April 29, 2016 and permits the Compensation Committee of the Board to determine the amount and form of automatic grants of stock awards, if any, to each non-employee director upon first becoming a director and thereafter on an annual basis, as well as automatic grants for chairing certain Board committees, subject to certain stockholder approved limitations set forth in the Directors' Plan. In April 2020, the Compensation Committee reduced the maximum value of the annual automatic RSU grants to each non-employee director from $400,000 to $350,000 and eliminated all equity grants for chairing board committees. As of May 31, 2021, approximately 49,000 unvested RSUs and stock options to purchase approximately 1 million shares of common stock (all of which were vested) were outstanding under the Directors' Plan. As of May 31, 2021, approximately 1 million shares were available for future stock awards under this plan.

The following table summarizes restricted stock-based award activity granted pursuant to Oracle-based stock plans and stock plans assumed from our acquisitions for our last three fiscal years ended May 31, 2021:

(1) The aggregate intrinsic value was calculated based on the gross difference between our closing stock price on the last trading day of fiscal 2021 of $78.74 and the exercise prices for all “in-the-money” options outstanding, excluding tax effects.

(2) The unrecognized compensation expense calculated under the fair value method for shares expected to vest (unvested shares net of expected forfeitures) as of May 31, 2021 was approximately $17 million and is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 1.44 years. Approximately 31 million shares outstanding as of May 31, 2021 were not expected to vest.

Stock-Based Compensation Expense and Valuations of Stock Awards

We estimated the fair values of our restricted stock-based awards that are solely subject to service-based vesting requirements based upon their market values as of the grant dates, discounted for the present values of expected dividends.

Stock-based compensation expense was included in the following operating expense line items in our consolidated statements of operations:

Tax Benefits from Exercises of Stock Options and Vesting of Restricted Stock-Based Awards

Total cash received as a result of stock option exercises was approximately $1.7 billion, $1.5 billion and $2.0 billion for fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively. The total aggregate intrinsic value of restricted stock-based awards that vested and were issued and stock options that were exercised was $3.7 billion, $2.9 billion and $3.1 billion for fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively. In connection with the vesting and issuance of restricted stock-based awards and stock options that were exercised, the tax benefits realized by us were $842 million, $638 million and $692 million for fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively.

Employee Stock Purchase Plan

We have an Employee Stock Purchase Plan (Purchase Plan) that allows employees to purchase shares of common stock at a price per share that is 95% of the fair market value of Oracle stock as of the end of the semi-annual option period. As of May 31, 2021, 42 million shares were reserved for future issuances under the Purchase Plan. We issued 2 million shares in each of fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively, under the Purchase Plan.

Defined Contribution and Other Postretirement Plans

We offer various defined contribution plans for our U.S. and non-U.S. employees. Total defined contribution plan expense was $380 million, $376 million and $380 million for fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively.

In the U.S., regular employees can participate in the Oracle Corporation 401(k) Savings and Investment Plan (Oracle 401(k) Plan). Participants can generally contribute up to 40% of their eligible compensation on a per-pay-period basis as defined by the Oracle 401(k) Plan document or by the section 402(g) limit as defined by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (IRS). We match a portion of employee contributions, currently 50% up to 6% of compensation each pay period, subject to maximum aggregate matching amounts. Our contributions to the Oracle 401(k) Plan, net of forfeitures, were $150 million, $152 million and $154 million in fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively.

We also offer non-qualified deferred compensation plans to certain employees whereby they may defer a portion of their annual base and/or variable compensation until retirement or a date specified by the employee in accordance with the plans. Deferred compensation plan assets and liabilities were each approximately $813 million and approximately $636 million as of May 31, 2021 and 2020, respectively, and were presented in other non-current assets and other non-current liabilities in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

May 31, 2021

We sponsor certain defined benefit pension plans that are offered primarily by certain of our foreign subsidiaries. Many of these plans were assumed through our acquisitions or are required by local regulatory requirements. We may deposit funds for these plans with insurance companies, third-party trustees, or into government-managed accounts consistent with local regulatory requirements, as applicable. Our total defined benefit plan pension expenses were $105 million, $97 million and $90 million for fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively. The aggregate projected benefit obligation and aggregate net liability (funded status) of our defined benefit plans as of May 31, 2021 were $1.4 billion and $889 million, respectively, and as of May 31, 2020 were $1.3 billion and $884 million, respectively.

14. INCOME TAXES

Our effective tax rates for each of the periods presented are the result of the mix of income earned in various tax jurisdictions that apply a broad range of income tax rates. Our provision for income taxes for fiscal 2021 varied from the tax computed at the U.S. federal statutory income tax rate primarily due to a net deferred tax benefit that totaled $2.3 billion that we recognized as a result of a partial realignment of our legal entity structure that resulted in the intra-group transfer of certain intellectual property (IP) rights, earnings in foreign operations, state taxes, the U.S. research and development tax credit, settlements with tax authorities, the tax effects of stock-based compensation, the Foreign Derived Intangible Income deduction and the tax effect of GILTI. Our provision for income taxes for fiscal 2020 varied from the tax computed at the U.S. federal statutory income tax rate primarily due to earnings in foreign operations, state taxes, the U.S. research and development tax credit, settlements with tax authorities, the tax effects of stock-based compensation, the Foreign Derived Intangible Income deduction and the tax effect of GILTI. Our provision for income taxes for fiscal 2019 varied from the 21% U.S. statutory rate imposed by the U.S. Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 (the Tax Act) primarily due to earnings in foreign operations, state taxes, the U.S. research and development tax credit, settlements with tax authorities, the tax effects of stock-based compensation, the Foreign Derived Intangible Income deduction, GILTI, and a $389 million net reduction to our transition tax recorded in connection with the Tax Act pursuant to SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 118.

We provide for United States income taxes on the undistributed earnings and the other outside basis temporary differences of foreign subsidiaries unless they are considered indefinitely reinvested outside the United States. At May 31, 2021, the amount of temporary differences related to undistributed earnings and other outside basis temporary differences of investments in foreign subsidiaries upon which U.S. income taxes have not been provided was approximately $7.9 billion. If the undistributed earnings and other outside basis differences were recognized in a taxable transaction, they would generate foreign tax credits that would reduce the federal tax liability associated with the foreign dividend or the otherwise taxable transaction. At May 31, 2021, assuming a full utilization of the foreign tax credits, the potential net deferred tax liability associated with these other outside basis temporary differences would be approximately $1.4 billion.

Our net deferred tax assets were $5.8 billion and $3.2 billion as of May 31, 2021 and 2020, respectively. We believe that it is more likely than not that the net deferred tax assets will be realized in the foreseeable future. Realization of our net deferred tax assets is dependent upon our generation of sufficient taxable income in future years in appropriate tax jurisdictions to obtain benefit from the reversal of temporary differences, net operating loss carryforwards and tax credit carryforwards. The amount of net deferred tax assets considered realizable is subject to adjustment in future periods if estimates of future taxable income change.

The valuation allowance was $1.5 billion and $1.4 billion as of May 31, 2021 and 2020, respectively. A majority of the valuation allowances as of May 31, 2021 and 2020 related to tax assets established in purchase accounting and other tax credits. Any subsequent reduction of that portion of the valuation allowance and the recognition of the associated tax benefits associated with our acquisitions will be recorded to our provision for income taxes subsequent to our final determination of the valuation allowance or the conclusion of the measurement period (as defined above), whichever comes first.

At May 31, 2021, we had federal net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $502 million, which are subject to limitation on their utilization. Approximately $447 million of these federal net operating losses expire in various years between fiscal 2022 and fiscal 2038. Approximately $55 million of these federal net operating losses are not currently subject to expiration dates. We had state net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $2.0 billion at May 31, 2021, which expire between fiscal 2022 and fiscal 2040 and are subject to limitations on their utilization. We had total foreign net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $1.8 billion at May 31, 2021, which are subject to limitations on their utilization. Approximately $1.7 billion of these foreign net operating losses are not currently subject to expiration dates. The remainder of the foreign net operating losses, approximately $86 million, expire between fiscal 2022 and fiscal 2041. At May 31, 2021, we had federal capital loss carryforwards of approximately $501 million, which expire in fiscal 2026. We had state capital loss carryforwards of approximately $661 million, which expire between fiscal 2025 and fiscal 2026. We had tax credit carryforwards of approximately $1.1 billion at May 31, 2021, which are subject to limitations on their utilization. Approximately $765 million of these tax credit carryforwards are not currently subject to expiration dates. The remainder of the tax credit carryforwards, approximately $378 million, expire in various years between fiscal 2022 and fiscal 2041.

We classify our unrecognized tax benefits as either current or non-current income taxes payable in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets. The aggregate changes in the balance of our gross unrecognized tax benefits, including acquisitions, were as follows:

(in millions)	Year Ended May 31,
	2021	2020	2019
Gross unrecognized tax benefits as of June 1	$ 6,972	$ 6,348	$ 5,592
Increases related to tax positions from prior fiscal years	225	624	772
Decreases related to tax positions from prior fiscal years	(836)	(298)	(135)
Increases related to tax positions taken during current fiscal year	531	628	540
Settlements with tax authorities	(51)	(177)	(153)

Total gross unrecognized tax benefits as of May 31	$ 6,912	$ 6,972	$ 6,348

As of May 31, 2021, 2020 and 2019, $4.4 billion, $4.3 billion and $4.2 billion, respectively, of unrecognized tax benefits would affect our effective tax rate if recognized. We recognized interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions in our provision for income taxes line of our consolidated statements of operations of $166 million, $202 million and $312 million during fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019, respectively. Interest and penalties accrued as of May 31, 2021 and 2020 were $1.6 billion and $1.4 billion, respectively.

Domestically, U.S. federal and state taxing authorities are currently examining income tax returns of Oracle and various acquired entities for years through fiscal 2019. Many issues are at an advanced stage in the examination process, the most significant of which include transfer pricing, domestic production activity, foreign tax credits, research and development credits, state economic nexus, and qualification as a state manufacturer. With all of these domestic audit issues considered in the aggregate, we believe that it was reasonably possible that, as of May 31, 2021, the gross unrecognized tax benefits related to these audits could decrease (whether by payment, release, or a combination of both) in the next 12 months by as much as $798 million ($671 million net of offsetting tax benefits). Our U.S. federal income tax returns have been examined for all years prior to fiscal 2010 and, with some exceptions, we are no longer subject to audit for those periods. Our U.S. state income tax returns, with some exceptions, have been examined for all years prior to fiscal 2007, and we are no longer subject to audit for those periods.

May 31, 2021

Internationally, tax authorities for numerous non-U.S. jurisdictions are also examining returns affecting our unrecognized tax benefits. We believe that it was reasonably possible that, as of May 31, 2021, the gross unrecognized tax benefits could decrease (whether by payment, release, or a combination of both) by as much as $197 million ($89 million net of offsetting tax benefits) in the next 12 months related primarily to transfer pricing. With some exceptions, we are generally no longer subject to tax examinations in non-U.S. jurisdictions for years prior to fiscal 2001.

We are under audit by the IRS and various other domestic and foreign tax authorities with regards to income tax and indirect tax matters and are involved in various challenges and litigation in a number of countries, including, in particular, Australia, Brazil, Canada, India, Indonesia, Israel, Mexico, New Zealand, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, South Korea and Spain, where the amounts under controversy are significant. In some, although not all, cases, we have reserved for potential adjustments to our provision for income taxes and accrual of indirect taxes that may result from examinations by, or any negotiated agreements with, these tax authorities or final outcomes in judicial proceedings, and we believe that the final outcome of these examinations, agreements or judicial proceedings will not have a material effect on our results of operations. If events occur which indicate payment of these amounts is unnecessary, the reversal of the liabilities would result in the recognition of benefits in the period we determine the liabilities are no longer necessary. If our estimates of the federal, state, and foreign income tax liabilities and indirect tax liabilities are less than the ultimate assessment, it could result in a further charge to expense.

We believe that we have adequately provided under GAAP for outcomes related to our tax audits. However, there can be no assurances as to the possible outcomes or any related financial statement effect thereof.

15. SEGMENT INFORMATION

ASC 280, Segment Reporting, establishes standards for reporting information about operating segments. Operating segments are defined as components of an enterprise about which separate financial information is available that is evaluated regularly by the chief operating decision maker, or decision-making group, in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance. Our chief operating decision makers (CODMs) are our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Technology Officer. We are organized by line of business and geographically. While our CODMs evaluate results in a number of different ways, the line of business management structure is the primary basis for which the allocation of resources and financial results are assessed. The tabular information below presents the financial information provided to our CODMs for their review and assists our CODMs with evaluating the company's performance and allocating company resources.

We have three businesses—cloud and license, hardware and services—each of which is comprised of a single operating segment. All three of our businesses market and sell our offerings globally to businesses of many sizes, government agencies, educational institutions and resellers with a worldwide sales force positioned to offer the combinations that best meet customer needs.

Our cloud and license business engages in the sale, marketing and delivery of our enterprise applications and infrastructure technologies through cloud and on-premise deployment models including our cloud services and license support offerings; and our cloud license and on-premise license offerings. Cloud services and license support revenues are generated from offerings that are typically contracted with customers directly, billed to customers in advance, delivered to customers over time with our revenue recognition occurring over the contractual terms, and renewed by customers upon completion of the contractual terms. Cloud services and license support contracts provide customers with access to the latest updates to the applications and infrastructure technologies as they become available and for which the customer contracted and also include related technical support services over the contractual term. Cloud license and on-premise license revenues represent fees earned from granting customers licenses, generally on a perpetual basis, to use our database and middleware and our applications software products within cloud and on-premise IT environments. We generally recognize revenues at the point in time the software is made available to the customer to download and use, which typically is immediate upon signature of the license contract. In each fiscal year, our cloud and license business' contractual activities are typically highest in our fourth fiscal quarter and the related cash flows are typically highest in the following quarter (i.e., in the first fiscal quarter of the next fiscal year) as we receive payments from these contracts.

Our hardware business provides Oracle Engineered Systems, servers, storage, industry-specific hardware, operating systems, virtualization, management and other hardware-related software to support diverse IT environments. Our hardware business also offers hardware support, which provides customers with software updates for the software components that are essential to the functionality of their hardware products, such as Oracle So aris and certain other software, and can also include product repairs, maintenance services and technical support services.

Our services business provides services to customers and partners to help maximize the performance of their investments in Oracle applications and infrastructure technologies.

We do not track our assets for each business. Consequently, it is not practical to show assets by operating segment.

The following table presents summary results for each of our three businesses for each of fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019:

(1) Cloud and license revenues presented for management reporting included revenues related to cloud and license obligations that would have otherwise been recorded by the acquired businesses as independent entities but were not recognized in our consolidated statements of operations for the periods presented due to business combination accounting requirements. The table below provides a reconciliation of our total operating segment revenues to our total consolidated revenues as reported in our consolidated statements of operations.

(2) The margins reported reflect only the direct controllable costs of each line of business and do not include allocations of product development, general and administrative and certain other allocable expenses, net. Additionally, the margins reported above do not reflect amortization of intangible assets, acquisition related and other expenses, restructuring expenses, stock-based compensation, interest expense or non-operating income, net. Refer to the table below for a reconciliation of our total margin for operating segments to our income before provision for income taxes as reported per our consolidated statements of operations.

This table provides a reconciliation of our total operating segment revenues to our total revenues as reported in our consolidated statements of operations.

Disaggregation of Revenues

We have considered information that is regularly reviewed by our CODMs in evaluating financial performance, and disclosures presented outside of our financial statements in our earnings releases and used in investor presentations to disaggregate revenues to depict how the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenues and cash flows are affected by economic factors. The principal category we use to disaggregate revenues is the nature of our products and services as presented in our consolidated statements of operations, the total of which is reconciled to revenues from our reportable segments as per the preceding tables of this footnote.

The following table is a summary of our total revenues by geographic region. The relative proportion of our total revenues between each geographic region as presented in the table below was materially consistent across each of our operating segments' revenues for each of fiscal 2021, 2020 and 2019:

16. EARNINGS PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing net income for the period by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing net income for the period by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period, plus the dilutive effect of outstanding restricted stock-based awards, stock options, and shares issuable under the employee stock purchase plan as applicable pursuant to the treasury stock method. The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted earnings per share:

(in millions, except per share data)	Year Ended May 31,
	2021	2020	2019
Net income	$ 13,746	$ 10,135	$ 11,083

Diluted earnings per share	$ 4.55	$ 3.08	$ 2.97
Shares subject to anti-dilutive restricted stock-based awards and stock options excluded from calculation ⁽¹⁾	36	56	71

(1) These weighted shares relate to anti-dilutive restricted stock-based awards and stock options, both of which were service-based, as calculated using the treasury stock method and contingently issuable shares, substantially all of which were related to PSO agreements. Such shares could be dilutive in the future. See Note 13 for information regarding the exercise prices of our outstanding, unexercised stock options.

17. LEGAL PROCEEDINGSHewlett-Packard Company Litigation

On June 15, 2011, Hewlett-Packard Company, now Hewlett Packard Enterprise Company (HP), filed a complaint in the California Superior Court, County of Santa Clara against Oracle Corporation alleging numerous causes of action including breach of contract, breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing, defamation, intentional interference with prospective economic advantage, and violation of the California Unfair Business Practices Act. The complaint alleged that when Oracle announced on March 22 and 23, 2011 that it would no longer develop future versions of its software to run on HP's Itanium-based servers, it breached a settlement agreement signed on September 20, 2010 (the HP Settlement Agreement), resolving litigation between HP and one of Oracle's former CEOs who had previously acted as HP's chief executive officer and chairman of HP's board of directors. HP sought a judicial declaration of the parties' rights and obligations under the HP Settlement Agreement and other equitable and monetary relief. Oracle answered the complaint and filed cross-claims.

After a bench trial on the meaning of the HP Settlement Agreement, the court found that the HP Settlement Agreement required Oracle to continue to develop certain of its software products for use on HP's Itanium-based servers at no cost to HP. The case proceeded to a jury trial in May 2016. On June 30, 2016, the jury returned a verdict in favor of HP on its claims for breach of contract and breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing and against Oracle on its cross-claims. The jury awarded HP $3.0 billion in damages. Under the court's rulings, HP is entitled to post-judgment interest, but not pre-judgment interest, on this award.

After the trial court denied Oracle's motion for a new trial, Oracle filed a notice of appeal on January 17, 2017. On February 2, 2017, HP filed a notice of appeal of the trial court's denial of pre-judgment interest. Oral argument was held on May 27, 2021. On June 14, 2021, the Court of Appeal affirmed both the judgment against Oracle noted above, and the denial of pre-judgment interest. Oracle has posted a mandated surety bond with the trial court for the amounts owing. No amounts have been paid or recorded to our results of operations. If the Court of Appeal's judgment is ultimately affirmed, we would be liable for the amount of the jury award that is described above plus post-judgment interest.

We continue to believe that we have meritorious defenses against HP's claims and intend to vigorously defend against them including our intention to petition for review by the California Supreme Court.

We cannot currently estimate a reasonably possible range of loss for this action due to the complexities and uncertainty surrounding this process and the nature of the claims. Litigation is inherently unpredictable, and the outcome of the process related to this action is uncertain. It is possible that the resolution of this action could have a material impact on our future cash flows and results of operations.

Derivative Litigation Concerning Oracle's NetSuite Acquisition

On May 3 and July 18, 2017, two alleged stockholders filed separate derivative lawsuits in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, purportedly on Oracle's behalf. Thereafter, the court consolidated the two derivative cases and designated the July 18, 2017 complaint as the operative complaint. The consolidated lawsuit was brought against all the then-current members and one former member of our Board of Directors, and Oracle as a nominal defendant. Plaintiff alleged that the defendants breached their fiduciary duties by causing Oracle to agree to purchase NetSuite Inc. (NetSuite) at an excessive price. The complaint sought (and the operative complaint continues to seek) declaratory relief, unspecified monetary damages (including interest), and attorneys' fees and costs. The defendants filed a motion to dismiss, which the court denied on March 19, 2018.

On May 4, 2018, our Board of Directors established a Special Litigation Committee (the SLC) to investigate the allegations in this derivative action. Three non-employee directors served on the SLC. On August 15, 2019, the SLC filed a letter with the court, stating that the SLC believed that plaintiff should be allowed to proceed with the derivative litigation on behalf of Oracle. After the SLC advised the Board that it had fulfilled its duties and obligations, the Board withdrew the SLC's authority, except that the SLC maintained certain authority to respond to discovery requests in the litigation.

After plaintiff filed the July 18, 2017 complaint, an additional plaintiff joined the case. Plaintiffs filed several amended complaints, and filed their most recent amended complaint on December 11, 2020. The operative complaint asserts claims for breach of fiduciary duty against our Chief Executive Officer, our Chief Technology Officer, the estate of Mark Hurd (our former Chief Executive Officer who passed away on October 18, 2019), and two other members of our Board of Directors. Oracle is named as a nominal defendant. On December 11, 2020, the estate of Mark Hurd and the two other members of our Board of Directors moved to dismiss this complaint, and a hearing on this motion was held on February 16, 2021. The court has not yet ruled on this motion. On December 28, 2020, our Chief Executive Officer, our Chief Technology Officer, and Oracle as a nominal defendant filed answers to the operative complaint.

The parties are conducting discovery. Trial is scheduled to commence on July 18, 2022.

While Oracle continues to evaluate these claims, we do not believe this litigation will have a material impact on our financial position or results of operations.

Securities Class Action and Derivative Litigation Concerning Oracle's Cloud Business

On August 10, 2018, a putative class action, brought by an alleged stockholder of Oracle, was filed in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California against us, our Chief Technology Officer, our then-two Chief Executive Officers, two other Oracle executives, and one former Oracle executive. As noted above, Mr. Hurd, one of our then-two Chief Executive Officers, passed away on October 18, 2019. On March 8, 2019, plaintiff filed an amended complaint. Plaintiff alleges that the defendants made or are responsible for false and misleading statements regarding Oracle's cloud business. Plaintiff further alleges that the former Oracle executive engaged in insider trading. Plaintiff seeks a ruling that this case may proceed as a class action, and seeks damages, attorneys' fees and costs, and unspecified declaratory/injunctive relief. On April 19, 2019, defendants moved to dismiss plaintiff's amended complaint. On December 17, 2019, the court granted this motion, giving plaintiffs an opportunity to file an amended complaint, which plaintiff filed on February 17, 2020. On April 23, 2020, defendants filed a motion to dismiss, and the court held a hearing on this motion on September 24, 2020. On March 22, 2021, the court granted in part and denied in part this motion. The court dismissed the action as to one Oracle executive and the former Oracle executive. The court permitted plaintiff to proceed with only a narrow omissions theory against the remaining defendants. On April 21, 2021, defendants filed an answer to the complaint. Trial is scheduled to commence on November 6, 2023. We believe that we have meritorious defenses against this action, and we will continue to vigorously defend it.

On February 12 and May 8, 2019, two stockholder derivative lawsuits were filed in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California. The cases were consolidated, and on July 8, 2019, a single plaintiff filed a consolidated complaint. The consolidated complaint brought various claims relating to the 10b-5 class action described immediately above. The parties agreed to stay the derivative case pending resolution of defendants' motion to dismiss the securities case, which the court granted in part and denied in part on March 22, 2021.

Plaintiff filed an amended complaint on June 4, 2021. The derivative suit is brought by an alleged stockholder of Oracle, purportedly on Oracle's behalf, against our Chief Technology Officer, our Chief Executive Officer, and the estate of Mark Hurd. Plaintiff claims that the alleged actions described in the class action discussed above caused harm to Oracle, and that defendants violated their fiduciary duties of candor, good faith, loyalty, and due care by failing to prevent this alleged harm. Plaintiff also brings derivative claims for violations of federal securities laws. Plaintiffs seek a ruling that this case may proceed as a derivative action, a finding that defendants are liable for breaching their fiduciary duties, damages, an order directing defendants to enact corporate reforms, attorneys' fees and costs, and unspecified relief. On June 14, 2021, the court "so ordered" a stipulation from the parties, staying this case pending resolution of the 10b-5 action.

While Oracle continues to evaluate these claims, we do not believe this litigation will have a material impact on our financial position or results of operations.

Derivative Litigation Concerning Oracle’s Board Composition and Hiring Practices

On July 2 and 10, 2020, two alleged stockholders filed derivative lawsuits in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California, purportedly on Oracle’s behalf, and thereafter, filed a consolidated complaint on August 21, 2020. On July 30, 2020, a third alleged stockholder filed a derivative lawsuit in the same court. On October 16, 2020, defendants moved to consolidate all these actions, and the court granted this motion on November 30, 2020.

On December 7, 2020, plaintiffs filed a consolidated derivative complaint against all members of our Board of Directors, and Oracle as a nominal defendant, seeking declaratory and injunctive relief, monetary damages, interest, corporate governance changes, disgorgement, restitution, punitive damages, and an award of attorneys’ fees, expert fees, and costs. Plaintiffs allege that: (a) defendants breached their fiduciary duties by permitting Oracle to violate anti-discrimination laws and Oracle’s own policies, failing to ensure sufficient diversity on the board, failing to ensure an independent board chairman, rehiring Ernst & Young LLP as Oracle’s auditors, and by breaching the HP Settlement Agreement (discussed above); (b) defendants made false and misleading statements in Oracle’s proxy statements; (c) defendants received unjust compensation and were unjustly enriched; (d) defendants aided and abetted this conduct; and (e) our Chief Technology Officer and our Chief Executive Officer are liable for abuse of control. On January 6, 2021, defendants moved to dismiss the complaint. On May 24, 2021, the court granted defendants’ motion. Regarding the claims concerning Oracle’s proxy statements, the court granted plaintiffs leave to file an amended complaint within 30 days. Regarding the remaining claims, the court granted plaintiffs leave to re-file those claims in Delaware Chancery Court.

While Oracle continues to evaluate these claims, we do not believe this litigation will have a material impact on our financial position or results of operations.

Other Litigation

We are party to various other legal proceedings and claims, either asserted or unasserted, which arise in the ordinary course of business, including proceedings and claims that relate to acquisitions we have completed or to companies we have acquired or are attempting to acquire. While the outcome of these matters cannot be predicted with certainty, we do not believe that the outcome of any of these matters, individually or in the aggregate, will result in losses that are materially in excess of amounts already recognized, if any.

8. VERIFICATION: This section must be signed by a principal of the consultant, contractor or Vendor authorized as a signatory of the firm for the purpose of executing Contracts.

The undersigned affirms and so swears that he/she has read and understood the foregoing statements and they are, to his/her knowledge, true and accurate.

Electronically signed and certified at the date and time indicated by:

Dated: 25-Oct-2021 | 2:39 PM PDT

Title: Group Vice President

The above signatory is an authorized representative of Oracle America, Inc. and is signing this form on behalf of Oracle America, Inc. and not in his or her individual capacity.

The term lobbying shall mean any attempt to influence: any determination made by the Nassau County Legislature, or any member thereof, with respect to the introduction, passage, defeat, or substance of any local legislation or resolution; any determination by the County Executive to support, oppose, approve or disapprove any local legislation or resolution, whether or not such legislation has been introduced in the County Legislature; any determination by an elected County official or an officer or employee of the County with respect to the procurement of goods, services or construction, including the preparation of contract specifications, including by not limited to the preparation of requests for proposals, or solicitation, award or administration of a contract or with respect to the solicitation, award or administration of a grant, loan, or agreement involving the disbursement of public monies; any determination made by the County Executive, County Legislature, or by the County of Nassau, its agencies, boards, commissions, department heads or committees, including but not limited to the Open Space and Parks Advisory Committee, the Planning Commission, with respect to the zoning, use, development or improvement of real property subject to County regulation, or any agencies, boards, commissions, department heads or committees with respect to requests for proposals, bidding, procurement or contracting for services for the County; any determination made by an elected county official or an officer or employee of the county with respect to the terms of the acquisition or disposition by the county of any interest in real property, with respect to a license or permit for the use of real property of or by the county, or with respect to a franchise, concession or revocable consent; the proposal, adoption, amendment or rejection by an agency of any rule having the force and effect of law; the decision to hold, timing or outcome of any rate making proceeding before an agency; the agenda or any determination of a board or commission; any determination regarding the calendaring or scope of any legislature oversight hearing; the issuance, repeal, modification or substance of a County Executive Order; or any determination made by an elected county official or an officer or employee of the county to support or oppose any state or federal legislation, rule or regulation, including any determination made to support or oppose that is contingent on any amendment of such legislation, rule or regulation, whether or not such legislation has been formally introduced and whether or not such rule or regulation has been formally proposed.

Amendment #2

THIS AMENDMENT dated as of the date of execution by the County (together with the schedules, appendices, attachments and exhibits, if any, this "Amendment"), is entered into by and between (i) Nassau County, a municipal corporation having its principal office at 1550 Franklin Avenue, Mineola, New York 11501 (the "County"), acting on behalf of the County Department of Information Technology, having offices located at 240 Old Country Road, Mineola, New York 11501 (the "Department"), and (ii) Oracle America, Inc. (as successor in interest to Oracle USA, Inc.), a Delaware corporation, having its principal office at 500 Oracle Parkway, Redwood Shores, California 94065 (the "Contractor").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, pursuant to County contract number CFIT09000001 between the County and the Contractor, executed on behalf of the County on May 29, 2009, and amended thereafter February 10, 2015, (the "Original Agreement"), the Contractor performs maintenance and support services for the County in connection with the County's Enterprise Resource Planning ("ERP") software, which services are more fully described in the Original Agreement (the "Services" or "Technical Support Services"); and

WHEREAS, the term of the Original Agreement, for the purpose of annual renewal of Technical Support and Maintenance for ERP software purchased under the Original Agreement as amended, is until May 31, 2019, (the "Term"); and

WHEREAS, the Maximum Amount, as defined in the Original Agreement, that the County agreed to pay the Contractor for Services is One Million, Seven Hundred and Twenty-Six Thousand, Two Hundred and Ninety-One Dollars and Seventy-Five Cents ($1,726,291.75); and

WHEREAS, the Original Agreement provides for renewal of Technical Support and Maintenance pursuant to an ordering process as outlined in the Original Agreement; and

WHEREAS, County and the Contractor desire to amend the Original Agreement to increase the Maximum Amount to provide funding for additional licenses and future technical support services.

WHEREAS, the services contemplated by this Amendment are personal services within the context and purview of Section 2206 of the County Government Law of Nassau County.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the promises and mutual covenants contained in this Amendment, the parties agree as follows:

1. Renewal of Technical Support and Maintenance. The Technical Support and Maintenance shall be renewed until May 31, 2024, for the purpose supporting the ERP software purchased under the Original Agreement, unless sooner terminated as provided for in the Original Agreement.

2. Licenses. County shall purchase additional software licenses as outlined in Contractor's Order Document attached hereto as Attachment A. Future additional licenses may be purchased based on County's needs pursuant to an agreed-upon ordering document executed during the Term of the Original Agreement, as amended herein.
3. Payment. (a) The Maximum Amount shall be increased by Two Million, Fifteen Thousand, Nine Hundred and Twenty-Seven Dollars and Twenty Cents ($2,015,927.20) to total Three Million, Seven Hundred and Forty-Two Thousand, Two Hundred and Eighteen Dollars and Ninety- Five Cents ($3,742,218.95), payable based on: (i) number of years of renewals as outlined below; and ii) for additional license increments as described in Attachment A; and (iii) for additional licenses as may be ordered by the County in accordance with the Original Agreement and this Amendment; provided, however, that County acknowledges and agrees that any additional licenses shall be purchased at agreed-upon terms and pricing, and in the event agreed-upon pricing for such additional licenses exceeds the Maximum Amount allocated here, County will increase the Maximum Amount prior to entering into any ordering document to fund the purchase of such additional license.

Year of Maintenance	Annual Maintenance	Total Cost of Maintenance
June 1, 2019- May 31, 2020	$361,344.47	$361,344.47
June 1, 2020- May 31, 2021	$368,571.36	$729,915.83
June 1, 2021- May 31, 2022	$375,942.78	$1,105,858.61
June 1, 2022- May 31, 2023	$383,461.64	$1,489,320.25
June 1, 2023- May 31, 2024	391,130.87	$1,880,451.12

(b) Partial Encumbrance. The Contractor understands that only Four Hundred Fifty Thousand, Five Hundred and Forty-Nine Dollars and Thirty-Two Cents ($450,549.32) for licenses and Technical Support and Maintenance is being encumbered at this time. The Contractor is cautioned not to perform services that would cause billings to exceed this amount unless additional funds are encumbered. The County shall not be liable for payment of any amounts which have not been encumbered and approved for this agreement by the Nassau County Comptroller. Contractor shall have no obligation to perform any services should the County fail to encumber sufficient funds to pay for said services, and Contractor shall have the right to cease support upon County's failure to encumber such funds. Contractor shall work and cooperate with the County to allow County to take reasonable actions necessary to resolve funding matters and minimize interruption to services.

(c) Payments will be made in accordance with the terms set forth in the Original Agreement.

4. Compliance with Law. The "Compliance with Law", Paragraph 8 of the Original Agreement is hereby modified to include the following two additional new sub-sections:

g. Prohibition of Gifts. In accordance with County Executive Order 2-2018, the Contractor shall not offer, give, or agree to give anything of value to any County employee, agent, consultant, construction manager, or other person or firm representing the County (a "County Representative"), including members of a County Representative's immediate family, in connection with the performance by such County Representative of duties involving transactions with the Contractor on behalf of the County, whether such duties are related to this Agreement or any other County contract or matter. As used herein, "anything of value" shall include, but not be limited to, meals, holiday gifts, holiday baskets, gift cards, tickets to golf outings, tickets to sporting events, currency of any kind, or any other gifts, gratuities, favorable opportunities or preferences. For purposes of this subsection, an immediate family member shall include a spouse, child, parent, or sibling. The Contractor shall include the provisions of this subsection in each subcontract entered into under this Agreement.

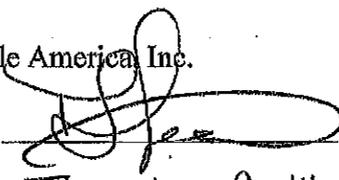

h. Disclosure of Conflicts of Interest. In accordance with County Executive Order 2-2018, the Contractor has disclosed as part of its response to the County's Business History Form, or other disclosure form(s), any and all instances where the Contractor employs any spouse, child, or parent of a County employee of the agency or department that contracted or procured the goods and/or services described under this Agreement. The Contractor shall have a continuing obligation, as circumstances arise, to update this disclosure throughout the term of this Agreement.

5. Full Force and Effect. All the terms and conditions of the Original Agreement not expressly amended herein shall remain in full force and effect and govern the relationship of the parties for the remainder of the Term of this agreement.

(SIGNATURE PAGE TO FOLLOW)

SOFTWARE LICENSE AND SERVICES AGREEMENT BETWEEN
AND
ORACLE USA, INC.

THIS SOFTWARE LICENSE AND SERVICES AGREEMENT (hereinafter "Agreement") is entered into between Nassau County, New York (hereinafter, "Nassau") whose address is 160 Old County Road, Mineola, New York, 11501, and Oracle USA, Inc. (hereinafter "Oracle"), a Colorado corporation whose main office and principal place of business is 500 Oracle Parkway, Redwood Shores, California 94065 and is effective as of the date set forth with the final signature below (the effective date). Orders may be placed under this Agreement for up to three (3) years after its effective date or as otherwise extended by amendment.

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Nassau has determined that its current and future administrative systems needs require that its current aging and diverse systems be replaced; and

WHEREAS, Nassau has determined that the upgrade and replacement of its administrative systems requires the acquisition of a new commercial off-the-shelf integrated information system using Enterprise Resource Planning (hereinafter "ERP") software, and the retention of related services for such software; and

WHEREAS, Nassau issued a Request for Proposal seeking such software and services and thereafter supplemented this with a Request for Clarification, (collectively, the "RFP"); and

WHEREAS, Oracle submitted a proposal, Clarifications, and Best and Final Offers in response to the RFP (hereinafter "Proposal"); and

WHEREAS, based upon the competitive solicitation and evaluation of proposals for the provision of the ERP Software and for the performance of the Services (as hereinafter defined), Nassau has determined that Oracle possesses the qualifications necessary to provide such Software and Services; and that the Proposal offers the best value to Nassau from among the competing proposals received by Nassau, and that Nassau awards this Agreement to Oracle on the basis of the merits of the Proposal; and

WHEREAS, Nassau desires to retain Oracle to provide the Software and Services as set forth hereinafter, and Oracle agrees to provide such Software and perform such Services;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the terms and the mutual covenants and obligations of the parties set forth in this Agreement, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties do hereby agree as follows:

I. DEFINITIONS

Advanced Customer Services: On-site services, set forth in Exhibit 3, that Nassau may purchase from Oracle under this Agreement.

Agreement: The writing(s) which contain the agreement of Nassau and Oracle setting forth the total legal obligation between the parties as determined by applicable rules of law.

Ancillary Programs: Third party materials specified in the Documentation, which may only be used for the purposes of installing or operating the programs with which the Ancillary Programs are delivered.

Documentation or Program Documentation: Program user manual(s) and Program Installation manual(s) for the Software.

Emergency: An urgent and unexpected requirement where health and public safety or the conservation of public resources is at risk.

Enterprise License: A license grant that permits a defined entity (the "Enterprise") to use the acquired the Software across its Enterprise, where the numerical limits of the license is calculated by reference to its employee count or its operating budget or other agreed upon metric. The specific terms of the Enterprise License are set forth in the Ordering Document.

Error Corrections: Machine executable software code furnished by Oracle which corrects the Software so as to conform to the applicable Documentation of Oracle.

Incremental Licenses: An increase in the number of licenses for Software previously acquired by Nassau. Such Incremental License purchases are accepted upon delivery.

License Effective Date: The date Software is delivered to Nassau. Where a License involves Software which was previously licensed by Nassau, the License Effective Date for the additional licenses shall be deemed to be the date on which the Purchase Order is executed.

Material: Any information, design, specification, instruction, Software, data, or material furnished by Oracle and used by Nassau.

Ordering Document: The Oracle form, signed by both parties, that sets forth the Software and/or Services to be purchased, Software metrics, prices, discounts, and specific terms relevant to the purchase.

New Software Releases (Software Revisions): Any commercially released revisions to the licensed version of the Software as may be generally offered and available to Nassau, if current on technical support. New releases involve a substantial revision of functionality from a previously released version of the Software. Updates are provided when available, and Oracle is under no obligation to develop any future Software or functionality.

Proprietary: Created and / or owned by Oracle, which may be protected by confidentiality, secrecy, patent, copyright or trademark against commercial competition.

Purchase Order: Nassau's fiscal form or format that is used when making a purchase (e.g., formal written Purchase Order, electronic Purchase Order, or other authorized instrument).

Services: Technical support (also referred to as "Maintenance"), training, or Advanced Customer Services that Nassau purchases under this Agreement.

Site: The location (street address) where the Software will be used or Services delivered.

Software or Programs: Software acquired under the terms and conditions set forth in the Agreement. "Software" or "Programs" includes error corrections, upgrades, enhancements, new releases, and updates delivered to Oracle's current subscribers under Technical Support or Maintenance.

Source Code: The programming statements or instructions written and expressed in any language understandable by a human being skilled in the art which are translated by a language compiler to produce executable machine Object Code.

Supported Program License: Programs for which Oracle offers Technical Support.

Technical Support or Maintenance: Technical support services for the Software that are offered by Oracle under this Agreement.

Training: The services provided by Oracle University, as set forth in Exhibit 4.

II. SOFTWARE

Oracle shall provide the Programs in accordance with the following terms and conditions.

A. License Scope: Following delivery of the Software, Nassau is granted a non-exclusive, non-assignable, royalty free, perpetual, limited right to use the Software ordered for its governmental and business operations subject to the terms of this Agreement, including the license definitions and rules and Documentation. For Software that is specifically designed to allow a third party to interact with Nassau in furtherance of Nassau's governmental or business operations, such use is allowed under this Agreement. Nassau may make a sufficient number of copies of the Software for its licensed use and one copy of each software media.

B. Documentation: Documentation is delivered with the Software or Nassau may access the Documentation online at <http://oracle.com/contracts>. Oracle hereby grants to Nassau a perpetual license right to make, reproduce and distribute, either electronically or otherwise, copies of Documentation in accordance with the terms of the license, and the Documentation fully describes the proper procedure for using the Software.

C. Permitted License Transfers: Upon prior written notice to Oracle, the following license transfers are permitted under this Agreement, at no cost to Nassau, unless the license type specifically prohibits such a transfer:

1. Nassau may transfer Software internally within its own entity;
2. If Nassau is subject to a governmental reorganization or otherwise mandated by its governing body to convey any of its specific functions to another governmental entity, the Software used to support the conveyed functions may be transferred to the entity acquiring the transferred functions. The transferor must discontinue its use of the transferred Software.
3. If Nassau merges with another governmental entity, the Software acquired may be used by the merged entity.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to relieve Nassau or the transferee entity of the obligation to use the Software in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement and all applicable Ordering Documents placed hereunder, including, without limitation, limiting usage of the Software to the quantity and license type for which such software is licensed.

D. Restricted Use By Outsourcers / Facilities Management, Service Bureaus / or Other Third Parties: Outsourcers, facilities management, consultants and agents (collectively, "Agents") retained by Nassau shall have the limited right to use the Software to maintain Nassau's internal business operations subject to the terms of this Agreement, including data processing, for the time period that they are engaged in such activities, provided that Nassau is responsible for the compliance of its Agents with the terms and conditions of this Agreement and their use of the Software.

E. Archival Back-Up and Disaster Recovery Nassau shall be entitled to use and copy the Software and related Documentation for archival backup and disaster recovery and shall have the rights under "Cold", "Warm" or "Hot" Backup, as defined below, to initiate disaster recovery on such backup systems testing up to four times annually, up to two day per testing, at no charge other as set forth below:

1. "Cold Backup" is a backup copy of the Software, which is retained on Oracle's software media only. In the event of failure of a primary machine, Nassau may download the Software from Oracle's website or it may use the software media to load Oracle's Software on a second machine of Nassau of the same hardware/operating system combination. There is no additional fee for maintaining a Cold Backup.
2. "Warm Backup" is a backup copy of the Software, which is loaded on a machine, which is accessed for the processing of data and/or applications only in the event of a failure of the primary machine. In the event of a failure of the primary machine, the secondary machine is accessed and used to run the Software. There is no additional fee for maintaining a Warm Backup.

3. "Hot Backup" is a copy of the Software, which is loaded on a machine and operated simultaneously with the primary machine. No processing of data or applications takes place on the backup machine. In the event of a failure of the primary machine, all processing is switched to the backup machine in real time. The fee for a Hot Backup is 25% of the contract price of the primary license and/or technical support.

F. Confidentiality Restrictions: The Software is a trade secret, copyrighted and proprietary product of Oracle. Nassau and its employees will keep the Software strictly confidential, and Nassau will not disclose or otherwise distribute or reproduce any Software to anyone other than as authorized under the terms of Agreement. Nassau will not remove or destroy any proprietary markings or notice of Oracle's or its licensors' proprietary rights. Oracle or its licensors retain all ownership and intellectual property rights to the Software.

G. Restricted Use by Nassau: Except as expressly authorized by the terms of this Agreement, Nassau shall not:

1. Copy the Software;
2. Cause or permit reverse engineering (unless required by law for interoperability), disassembly or decompilation of the Software (the foregoing prohibition includes but is not limited to review of data structures or similar materials produced by the Software);
3. Make the Software or Materials resulting from Services available in any manner to any third party for use in the third party's business operations (unless such access is expressly permitted for the specific software license or Materials from the services acquired);
4. Export the Software in violation of any U.S. Department of Commerce export administration regulations;
5. Release benchmarking results: unless required by law or compelled by court order or subpoena, Nassau shall not disclose to third parties not authorized by it to implement or maintain its systems, results of any Software benchmark test without Oracle's prior written consent. The foregoing restriction shall not apply to benchmark results of non-Oracle software which accessed the Software or to benchmark results of an overall system, provided such results: (a) are released only as the benchmark results of such non-Oracle software or of the total system and (b) do not make any reference to Oracle Software. Nassau shall notify Oracle of requests for the release of benchmarking results under the New York State Freedom of Information Law (FOIL) or applications for court orders or subpoenas and give Oracle an opportunity to oppose disclosure.

H. Open Source Software: Open source software is developed independently of Oracle and may be governed by a separate license ("open source software"). If the open source software is governed by a separate license, Oracle shall provide a copy of that license in the applicable Documentation and Nassau's license rights and obligations with respect to that open source software shall be defined by those separate license terms and subject to the conditions, if any, therein. Nothing in this Agreement shall restrict, limit, or otherwise affect any rights or obligations Nassau may have, or conditions to which Nassau may be subject, under such separate open source license terms.

III. SOFTWARE DELIVERY

Oracle has made available to Nassau for electronic download at the electronic delivery web site located at the following Internet URL: <http://edelivery.oracle.com>. Through the Internet URL, Nassau can access and electronically download the Software and related Documentation. Provided that Nassau has continuously maintained technical support for the Software, Nassau may continue to download the software and related Documentation. Please be advised that not all programs are available on all hardware / operating system combinations. For current program availability please check the electronic delivery web site. Nassau acknowledges that Oracle's delivery obligation under this Agreement is met by the provision of the electronic delivery web site URL. Provided Nassau continuously maintains Technical Support, CD Packs for the Software provided under the Ordering Document may be ordered through the Oracle Store independent of this Agreement. If Nassau loses or damages the media containing a Program licensed here under, upon Nassau's written notice Oracle will provide a replacement copy thereof, for a media and shipping charge. The following shipping terms shall apply: FCA Shipping Point, Prepaid, and Add. These terms shall also apply to any options exercised by Nassau. Unless otherwise agreed to by Nassau and Oracle, Nassau shall be responsible for installation of the Software.

Nassau acknowledges that, unless otherwise provided for in this Agreement, it accepts sole responsibility for (i) its system configuration, design and requirements, (ii) the selection of the Programs to achieve its intended results, and (iii) modifications, changes or alterations to the Programs.

IV. SOFTWARE ACCEPTANCE

A. Unless otherwise provided by mutual agreement of Nassau and Oracle, Nassau shall have sixty (60) days from the date of delivery to accept all Software. Where Oracle is responsible for installation, acceptance shall be from completion of installation. Failure to provide notice of acceptance or rejection to Oracle by the end of the period provided for under this clause constitutes acceptance by Nassau as of the expiration of that period. Nassau may, in writing, waive the Acceptance Period, or any part thereof, at any time.

If Nassau rejects the Software, it shall (a) cease using the applicable Software, and (b) certify to Oracle that it has destroyed or has returned to Oracle the Software, Documentation and all copies. This requirement applies to copies in all forms, partial and complete, in all types of media and computer memory, and whether or not modified or merged into other materials.

Oracle may offer Nassau a free trial of the Software pursuant to (B) immediately below. If Nassau accepts such free trial license for the Software, the length of the trial shall count toward the sixty (60) day acceptance period and such trial license will grant to Nassau the right to examine the Software for at least sixty (60) days (unless the parties thereto agree otherwise). Upon the expiration of such period,

Nassau must either issue a Purchase Order to Oracle for purchase of the Software or portions thereof in accordance with this Agreement, or forthwith discontinue all use and return the Software to Oracle. Nassau shall be deemed to have tested the Software to its satisfaction and accepted the Software upon its issuance of the Purchase Order.

If any agreed trial license period is less than sixty (60) days, then in addition to the trial license period, Nassau shall have the number of days to accept the Software that is the difference between sixty (60) days and the length of the agreed trial license, provided Nassau notifies Oracle in writing of its intention to use such acceptance period at the time Nassau issues its Purchase Order. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this provision does not apply to purchases which merely increase the number of licenses for software previously acquired by Nassau ("incremental licenses"). Such incremental license purchases are accepted upon delivery.

- B. Trial Software. Nassau may order trial Software, or Oracle may include additional trial Software with the order which Nassau may use for trial, non-production purposes only. Nassau may not use the trial Software to provide or attend third party training on the content and/or functionality of the Software. Nassau has sixty (60) days from delivery to evaluate such trial Software. If it decides to use any of this trial Software after the sixty (60) day trial period, Nassau must obtain a license for such trial Software from Oracle. If it decides not to obtain a license for the trial Software after the sixty (60) day trial period, Nassau will cease using and will delete any such trial Software from its computer systems. Software licensed for trial purposes is provided "as is" and Oracle does not provide technical support or offer any warranties for these programs.

V. SERVICES

- A. Nassau may acquire Technical Support (maintenance), Advanced Customer Services, and Training, under this Agreement. The rates for the purchase of Advanced Customer Services and Training are set forth in Exhibits 3 and 4, respectively. The terms for the purchase of Technical Support are set forth in the Article immediately below and in the Technical Support policies attached as Exhibit 1.
- B. Upon payment for Services, Nassau will have a perpetual, non-exclusive, non-assignable, royalty free license to use for its internal business operations, anything developed by Oracle and delivered to Nassau. Nassau may allow its agents and contractors to use the deliverables for such purpose and Nassau is responsible for their compliance with this Agreement and the Ordering Document. Oracle retains ownership and all intellectual property rights to anything developed by it and delivered by it under the applicable Ordering Document resulting from the Services, except as stated in (C) immediately below.
- C. Advanced Customer Services ("ACS"). The only consulting services offered by Oracle under this Agreement are Advanced Customer Services ("ACS"). Oracle states that no development or customization work can be provided pursuant to the performance of the ACS.

To the extent that Oracle may produce incidental deliverables in the performance of ACS and following payment of all fees for the applicable ACS order: (a) the allocation of ownership and license rights to such incidental deliverables shall be the Joint Property (as defined below) of both Oracle and Nassau; and (b) Oracle grants to Nassau a non-exclusive, non-assignable, royalty free, perpetual, internal-use license to use Oracle Works (as defined below) that are embodied in the Joint Property.

1. "Incidental Deliverables" shall mean those deliverables developed by Oracle solely for Nassau in the performance of the applicable Ordering Document, except for any Oracle Works (as defined below).
2. "Oracle Works" shall mean: (a) anything provided by or on behalf of Oracle from a repository; (b) any software code generated by computer aided software engineering (CASE) tools; (c) any tools, interfaces, and utilities developed by or on behalf of Oracle; and (d) any derivative works of (a), (b), or (c) above. Nothing in this section shall be construed to grant, amend, or modify any license for any Software or Documentation owned or distributed by Oracle.
3. "Joint Property" shall mean the Incidental Deliverables which are those deliverables developed using ACS and shall be owned jointly by Oracle and Nassau; Joint Property does not include any Oracle Works (as defined above). Oracle and Nassau agree that each party jointly shall own the copyright interest in the Joint Property and that each party may freely use, share, license or sub-license the Joint Property without requiring the approval of the other party, and shall have no duty of accounting to the other party for use of the Joint Property.

Oracle retains all right, title and interest, including all copyrights, in any Oracle Works and Software. Any property or material furnished by Nassau to Oracle hereunder is and will remain the property of Nassau.

- D. At Nassau's request, Oracle shall provide Nassau with the resumes of all Oracle's employees, consultants, and subcontractors who shall perform Services at Nassau's site under this Agreement. Nassau shall have the right to conduct interviews, unless otherwise agreed to by the parties, of all such employees, consultants, or subcontractors provided such interview occurs before the commencement of Services by the relevant employees, consultants or subcontractors. Nassau shall have the right to reject assignment of any Oracle employee, consultant, or subcontractor to a particular Service by providing Oracle a reasonable and non-discriminatory basis for such rejection. This paragraph shall not apply to the provision of Technical Support Services.
- E. The Services provided under this Agreement may be related to Nassau's license to use Programs which it acquires under a separate order. The Agreement referenced in that order shall govern Nassau's use of such Programs. Any Services acquired from Oracle are bid separately from such Program licenses, and Nassau may acquire either Services or such Program licenses without acquiring the other.

VI. TECHNICAL SUPPORT & MAINTENANCE

- A. Technical Support consists of annual technical support services ordered by Nassau for the Software. Payment shall be due quarterly in arrears or as otherwise agreed to by the parties. If ordered, annual Technical Support (including first year and all subsequent years) is provided under Oracle's Technical Support Policies that are attached to this Agreement at the time the Services are ordered. The Technical Support Policies shall be updated annually by amendment to this Agreement. Nassau should review the Technical Support Policies prior to ordering the applicable services.

Technical support is effective upon the effective date of the Ordering Document unless otherwise stated therein. The effective date of an order is when the Ordering Document is fully signed and Oracle receives the Purchase Order; provided however, if the order is subject to an acceptance period, the effective date will be upon acceptance.

The Technical Support service level, which may also be referred to as Software Update License & Support, (or any successor technical support offering to Software Update License & Support, "SULS") acquired with Nassau's order may be renewed annually and, if Nassau renews SULS for the same number of licenses for the same Software, Nassau will be entitled to receive the caps on fee increases which are set forth in Exhibit 1.

If Nassau decides to purchase Technical Support for any Software within a license set, Nassau is required to purchase Technical Support at the same level for all Software within that license set. Nassau may desupport a subset of Software in a license set only if there is also agreement to terminate that subset of licenses. The Technical Support fees for the remaining licenses will be priced in accordance with the Technical Support Policies in effect at the time of termination. The applicable discount to be used in the event of support re-pricing is set forth in Exhibit 2. Oracle's license set definition is available in the Technical Support Policies. If Nassau decides not to purchase Technical Support, Nassau may not update any unsupported Software with new versions of the Software.

Technical Support term(s) and any renewal(s) thereof are independent of the expiration of this Agreement and will not automatically renew. Nassau may discontinue Technical Support at the end of any current Technical Support term. In the event that Nassau discontinues Technical Support of Software, it may, at any time thereafter, reinstate Technical Support for the Software without any additional penalties or other charges, by paying Oracle the amount which would have been due under the order for the period of time that such Technical Support had lapsed.

- B. Oracle's Technical Support offering, entitled "Lifetime Support", is comprised of the following:
- 1. Premier Support: Premier Support provides updates, fixes and security alerts; tax, legal, and regulatory updates; upgrade scripts; technical support; major product and technology releases, access to Oracle's Customer Service Website, and certification with new third-party products/versions.

2. Extended Support: Oracle may grant Nassau the right to acquire an additional three years of Extended Support. Extended Support provides updates, fixes and security alerts; tax, legal, and regulatory updates; upgrade scripts; technical support; access to its Customer Service Website; and major product and technology releases. Extended Support does not include certification with new third-party products/versions.
3. Sustaining Support: As an alternative to Extended Support, Oracle grants Nassau the right to acquire Sustaining Support for as long as it licenses the Software. Sustaining Support provides access to Oracle's Customer Service Support Website, pre-existing fixes, and major product and technology releases. Sustaining Support does not include Updates, fixes, and security alerts; Tax, legal, and regulatory updates; Certification with new third-party products/versions; and Certification with other Oracle products.

Additional information about Oracle's Lifetime Support offering may be found in the Technical Support Policies, attached as Exhibit 1.

C. Successor Products and Re-Named Programs.

1. Successor Products. If Oracle makes successor products available for Oracle's product lines ("New Software") that includes substantially similar functionality and features as a Program for which Nassau has purchased a Program License ("Old Software"), Oracle will provide Nassau with a migration path from the Old Software to the New Software and the right to use the New Software under this Agreement at no additional charge, provided that (i) Nassau is current on Technical Support for the Old Software; (ii) this right shall only apply to New Software that is available in production release status on the operating system identified by Nassau at the time of the request; and (iii) Oracle is currently making available, such migration path from the Old Software to the New Software to all of its other supported customers without additional charge.
If Oracle does not provide to all of its supported customers a migration path from the Old Software to the New Software free of additional charge, then Oracle will provide Nassau with the right to use only the functionality and features contained in the New Software that is substantially similar to the functionality and features contained in the Old Software. Nassau shall not have the right to use nor shall it use any additional functionality or features in such New Software. All use of New Software shall otherwise be subject to this Agreement.
2. Re-Named Programs. If any Program licensed under this Agreement ("Original Program") is re-named or divided into two or more separate Programs ("Re-Named Program") and the functionality of the Re-Named Program is and remains the same as the functionality of the Original Program, and Oracle makes such Re-Named Program generally available at no additional license fees to all of its customers who have maintained Technical Support for the Original Program, then Oracle shall provide the Re-Named Program to Nassau for no additional license fees, provided that the Re-Named Program is available in production release and that Nassau is current on Technical Support for the Original Program pursuant to Oracle's Technical Support Policies (or reinstated Technical Support for such Program pursuant to Oracle's then current Technical Support Policies).

In the event that Oracle offers successor or renamed programs, as referenced above, Oracle will notify Nassau of the affected Software to the same extent and in the same manner that it provides notification to its other supported customers of the affected Software. The parties acknowledge that Oracle offers Lifetime Support for many of its Programs; if Lifetime Support is offered for a Program, such Program is not deemed to be discontinued under the meaning of this section.

VII. SOURCE CODE

Oracle shall retain in escrow a copy of the source code necessary to support the Software (not including any Software for which source code is delivered with such Software). The escrowed material shall be maintained under an agreement which provides that if Oracle ceases to be in the business of supporting the Software, the escrow agent shall furnish Nassau with a copy of the escrowed material that has become unsupported. Nassau shall pay the escrow agent a nominal fee sufficient to cover the cost of reproduction and distribution of source materials, including reasonable administrative expenses thereto. Any escrowed material furnished under this provision shall be considered licensed subject to the terms of this Agreement and shall be used solely to maintain the Software. If Oracle replaces Iron Mountain Intellectual Property Management with a substitute escrow agent, Nassau will receive notice of the name and address of the substitute agent.

VIII. COMPENSATION / PAYMENTS / INVOICES

- A. Upon acceptance of Software or as otherwise provided by Agreement, Oracle may invoice for payment. The required payment date shall be thirty (30) calendar days, excluding legal holidays, from the receipt and approval by the County Comptroller of a proper invoice and County Claim Voucher, in accordance with paragraph B.
- B. All payment invoices shall include, at a minimum, the following terms:
 - 1. Delivery on official form of Oracle;
 - 2. Name, Address and Remittance Address of Oracle if different from that contained in the introductory paragraph of this Agreement;
 - 3. Agreement Number;
 - 4. An executed County Claim Voucher detailing of the Programs or Services for which Oracle requests payment;
 - 5. Total amount to be invoiced.
- C. Oracle shall submit all payment invoices to the designated payment office for this Agreement, which shall be, unless Oracle receives written notification to the contrary, the address listed in the first paragraph of this Agreement.
- D. The fees due under an Ordering Document signed by Nassau and Oracle shall be non-cancelable and the sums paid nonrefundable, except as expressly provided therein or in this Agreement.
- E. Nassau's signature on an Ordering Document referencing this Agreement and Nassau's issuance of a purchase order are its representations to Oracle that the purchase has been fully authorized and that all funds for the purchase have been fully appropriated.

- F. Nassau agrees that it has not relied on the future availability of any Programs or Updates in entering into the payment obligations arising under this Agreement; however, (a) if Nassau orders SULS for programs, the preceding sentence does not relieve Oracle of its obligation to provide Updates under this Agreement or the relevant Ordering Document, if-and-when available, in accordance with Oracle's then current Technical Support Policies, and (b) the preceding sentence does not change the rights granted to Nassau for any program licensed under this Agreement or the relevant Ordering Document, per the terms of this Agreement and/or the Ordering Document.
- G. Submission of an invoice and payment thereof shall not preclude Nassau from reimbursement or demanding a price adjustment where the billing was inaccurate. Oracle shall provide, upon request of Nassau, the information reasonably necessary to verify the accuracy of the billings. Such information shall be provided in the format reasonably requested by Nassau and in a media commercially available from Oracle.
- H. If Nassau is exempt from sales tax, Oracle will not invoice it for applicable sales tax provided a copy of a valid sales tax certificate of exemption is provided to Oracle on or before the effective date of this Agreement. Also, Nassau will reimburse Oracle for reasonable expenses related to providing the Services. Fees for Services listed in an Ordering Document are exclusive of taxes and expenses.

IX. WARRANTY

- A. Title and Ownership Warranty. Oracle warrants that it possesses (i) full ownership, clear title free of all liens, or (ii) the right to transfer or deliver perpetual or term license rights to the Software. Oracle shall be solely liable for its costs of acquisition of such ownership rights and/or clear title. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary in this Agreement, Article X(A), Intellectual Property Infringement Indemnification, of this Agreement states Nassau's exclusive remedy and Oracle's entire liability for any breach of this particular warranty.
- B. Software Warranty. Software offered shall be a current production release. Oracle warrants that the Software will perform in all material respects as described in the Documentation for eighteen (18) months from the date of acceptance. Nassau must notify Oracle of any Program warranty deficiency within eighteen (18) months after acceptance.

For Nassau's initial purchase of Software under this Agreement only, Oracle also warrants that the Software will perform in all material respects in accordance with Oracle's response to the functional and technical requirements attached as Exhibit 5 for eighteen (18) months from the date of acceptance. Nassau must notify Oracle of any Software warranty deficiency under this paragraph within eighteen (18) months year after acceptance of the initial purchase of the Software.

- C. Virus Warranty. Oracle represents and warrants that prior to delivery Oracle shall use commercially reasonable methods to test and protect the Software against viruses and other harmful elements designed to disrupt the orderly operation of, or impair the integrity of data files resident on, any data processing system. Oracle represents and warrants that it will not deliver Software that contains any known virus. Oracle will also maintain a master copy of the appropriate versions of the Software, free of viruses. If Nassau believes a virus may be present in the delivered Software, then upon its request, Oracle will provide a master copy to Nassau for comparison with and correction of its copy of the Software.
- D. Date/Time Warranty. Oracle represents that during the term of this Agreement, including any extension or renewal hereof, the Software shall, when used in accordance with the Program Documentation, be able to accurately process (including, but not limited to, calculating, comparing, and sequencing) date/time data transitions, including leap year and daylight savings time calculations.
- E. Services Warranty. Oracle warrants that the Services will be provided in a professional manner in accordance with industry standards. Nassau must notify Oracle of any Services warranty deficiencies within ninety (90) days from performance of the Service that gave rise to the warranty claim.
- F. Survival of Warranties. All warranties contained in this Agreement, which have not expired by their terms, shall survive the termination of this Agreement.
- G. NO IMPLIED WARRANTIES
TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, THESE WARRANTIES ARE EXCLUSIVE AND THERE ARE NO OTHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS, INCLUDING WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.
- H. Oracle does not warrant or guarantee that the Software will be error free or operate without interruption or that Oracle will correct all Software errors. Oracle is not obliged to develop error corrections or updates for Nassau's benefit but, in the event such corrections or updates are made generally commercially available by Oracle at no additional charge, Oracle shall provide them to Nassau at no additional charge. Nassau acknowledges that the Software has not been prepared to meet its individual requirements; it is Nassau's responsibility to ensure that the facilities and functions described in its specification meet its requirements, and Nassau is solely responsible for results obtained from its use of the Software.
- I. EXCLUSIVE REMEDIES. FOR ANY BREACH OF THE WARRANTIES IN B, D AND E ABOVE, NASSAU'S EXCLUSIVE WARRANTY REMEDY, AND ORACLE'S ENTIRE WARRANTY LIABILITY, SHALL BE: (A) THE CORRECTION OF SOFTWARE ERRORS THAT CAUSE BREACH OF THE WARRANTY, OR IF ORACLE CANNOT SUBSTANTIALLY CORRECT SUCH BREACH IN A COMMERCIALY REASONABLE TIME AND MANNER, NASSAU MAY END ITS SOFTWARE LICENSE AND RECOVER THE FEES PAID TO ORACLE FOR THE SOFTWARE LICENSE; OR (B) THE REPERFORMANCE OF THE DEFICIENT SERVICES, OR IF ORACLE CANNOT SUBSTANTIALLY CORRECT A BREACH

IN A COMMERCIALY REASONABLE TIME AND MANNER, NASSAU MAY END THE RELEVANT SERVICES AND RECOVER THE FEES PAID TO ORACLE FOR THE DEFICIENT SERVICES.

X. INDEMNIFICATION AND LIABILITY

- A. Intellectual Property Infringement Indemnification. Oracle will also indemnify and hold Nassau harmless from and against any and all damages, expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), claims, judgments, liabilities and costs that may be finally assessed against Nassau in any action for infringement of a United States Letter Patent, or of any copyright, trademark, trade secret or other third party proprietary right based upon Materials provided to Nassau by Oracle and except to the extent such claims arise from Nassau's negligence or willful misconduct, provided that Nassau shall give Oracle: (i) prompt written notice of any action, claim or threat of infringement suit, or other suit, no later than 30 days after it receives notice of the claim (or sooner if required by law) (ii) sole control to settle or defend such action, claim or suit at Oracle's sole expense, and (iii) assistance in the defense of any such action at the expense of Oracle. Nassau reserves the right to join such action, at its sole expense, when it determines there is an issue involving a significant public interest.

If usage shall be enjoined for any reason or if Oracle believes that it may be enjoined, Oracle shall have the right, at its own expense and sole discretion: (i) to procure for Nassau the right to continue Usage (ii) to modify the material so that usage becomes non-infringing, while preserving its utility or functionality, or if these alternatives are not commercially reasonable, Oracle may terminate the license for, and require return of, the Material and refund any fees Nassau may have paid for it. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau if it alters the Material or uses it outside the scope of use identified in the Documentation or if Nassau uses a version of the Materials which has been superseded, to the extent the infringement claim could have been avoided by using an unaltered current version of the Material which was provided to Nassau and Nassau either has actual knowledge or is notified by Oracle to use such version due to a potential or existing infringement claim; any such notice will be in writing or, for any software licensed under this Agreement, may be posted at Oracle's customer support web site or included with a software update. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau to the extent that an infringement claim is based upon any information, design, specification, instruction, software, data, or material not furnished by Oracle. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau to the extent that an infringement claim is based upon the combination of any Material with any products or services not provided by Oracle except where such combinations are expressly specified by Oracle in the Documentation. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau for infringement caused by its actions against any third party if the Program(s) as delivered to Nassau and used in accordance with the terms of this Agreement would not otherwise infringe any third party intellectual property rights.

In the event that an action at law or in equity is commenced against Nassau arising out of a claim that Nassau's use of the Material under the Agreement infringes any patent, copyright or proprietary right, and Oracle is of the opinion that the allegations in such action in whole or in part are not covered by the indemnification and defense provisions set forth in the Agreement, Oracle shall promptly notify Nassau in writing and shall specify to what extent Oracle believes it is obligated to defend and indemnify under the terms and conditions of the Agreement. Oracle shall in such event attempt to secure a continuance to permit Nassau to appear and defend its interests in cooperation with Oracle, as is appropriate, including any jurisdictional defenses Nassau may have. This Article X(A) constitutes Nassau's sole and exclusive remedy for any infringement claims or damages.

B. Personal Injury / Property Damage Indemnification. Oracle shall be fully liable for any act or omission of Oracle, its employees, Subcontractors and agents, and shall fully indemnify and hold harmless Nassau from suits, actions, damages and costs of every name and description relating to personal injury and damage to real or tangible personal property caused by fault or negligence of Oracle, its employees, Subcontractors or agents arising from Oracle's performance of this Agreement, without limitation; provided, however, that Oracle shall not be obligated to indemnify Nassau for that portion of any claim, loss or damage arising hereunder due to the negligent act or failure to act of Nassau or the acts of third parties, other than those provided by Oracle to perform under the Agreement. In connection with the foregoing, Nassau shall give Oracle: (i) prompt written notice of any action, claim or threat of suit, (ii) the opportunity to take over, settle or defend such action, claim or suit at Oracle's sole expense, and (iii) assistance in the defense of any such action at the expense of Oracle. This paragraph does not apply to any claims arising from damage to "intangible personal property," which includes documentation, software, data or data files that are in electronic format.

C. Limitation on Liability. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE SET FORTH IN THE INDEMNIFICATION PARAGRAPHS ABOVE, THE LIMIT OF LIABILITY SHALL BE AS FOLLOWS:

1. ORACLE'S LIABILITY FOR ANY DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF, OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT, WHETHER IN CONTRACT, TORT OR OTHERWISE, SHALL IN NO CASE EXCEED DIRECT DAMAGES IN: (I) AN AMOUNT EQUAL TO TWO (2) TIMES THE CHARGES SPECIFIED IN THE PURCHASE ORDER FOR THE SOFTWARE AND SERVICES, OR PARTS THEREOF FORMING THE BASIS OF NASSAU'S CLAIM, (SAID AMOUNT NOT TO EXCEED A TOTAL OF TWELVE (12) MONTHS CHARGES PAYABLE UNDER THE APPLICABLE PURCHASE ORDER) OR (II) ONE MILLION DOLLARS ($1,000,000), WHICHEVER IS GREATER. NOTWITHSTANDING THE LIMITATION IN THE FIRST SENTENCE OF THIS PARAGRAPH (1), ORACLE'S LIABILITY TO NASSAU FOR DAMAGES RESULTING FROM THE WRONGFUL DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL DATA BY ORACLE IN ITS PERFORMANCE OF TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES IN BREACH OF ORACLE'S OBLIGATIONS UNDER ARTICLE XI(D) (CONFIDENTIALITY AND NON-DISCLOSURE) SHALL NOT EXCEED THE GREATER OF: (A) $1,000,000 OR (B) TWO TIMES THE FEES PAID BY NASSAU UNDER THIS AGREEMENT FOR TECHNICAL SUPPORT WITHIN THE TWO (2) YEARS IMMEDIATELY PRECEDING THE ACTION THAT GAVE RISE TO THE BREACH.

- 2. NOTWITHSTANDING THE ABOVE, NEITHER ORACLE OR NASSAU SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY CONSEQUENTIAL, INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, PUNITIVE OR SPECIAL DAMAGES OF ANY KIND, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, DAMAGES RESULTING FROM LOSS OF USE OR LOSS OF PROFIT BY NASSAU, ORACLE, OR BY OTHERS.

XI. CONFIDENTIALITY AND NON-DISCLOSURE

- A. As used in this Section, "Disclosing Party" means Nassau when disclosing its Confidential Information (defined below) to Oracle, or Oracle when disclosing its Confidential Information to Nassau, and "Receiving Party" means Nassau when receiving disclosure of Confidential Information from Oracle, or Oracle when receiving disclosure of Confidential Information from Nassau. "Confidential Information" means all confidential information disclosed by a party (the "Disclosing Party") to the other party (the "Receiving Party") after the effective date of this Agreement including, without limitation, information relating to the Disclosing Party's operations, processes, plans or intentions, know-how, design rights, trade secrets or business affairs. Confidential Information shall be clearly marked as "confidential," "proprietary," "restricted" or some similar designation. Except as provided in this Agreement and specifically in Article XI(B) hereunder, the Receiving Party further agrees that any Confidential Information obtained by the Receiving Party from the Disclosing Party, its agents, subcontractors, officers, or employees in the course of performing its obligations, including without limitation, security procedures, business operations information, or commercial proprietary information in the possession of the Disclosing Party hereunder, will not be divulged to any third parties. Nassau acknowledges that the Source Code to the Software and the Documentation are Confidential Information of Oracle.
- B. The Receiving Party:
- 1. may not use any Confidential Information for any purpose other than in accordance with, and in the performance of, its obligations under this Agreement;
 - 2. may not disclose any Confidential Information to any person except with the prior written consent of the Disclosing Party or in accordance with Section C; and
 - 3. shall make every reasonable effort to prevent the use or disclosure, other than as expressly permitted herein, of Confidential Information.
- C. The Receiving Party may disclose information, which would otherwise be Confidential Information if and to the extent that:
- 1. it is required by law (such as the New York State Freedom of Information Law);
 - 2. the information has come into the public domain, otherwise than through (a) a breach of this Clause by the Receiving Party, (b) a third party's breach of any duty of confidentiality owed to the Disclosing Party of which the Receiving Party was aware, or (c) a violation of law;

3. It was in the Receiving Party's lawful possession prior to the disclosure and had not been obtained by the Receiving Party either directly or indirectly from the Disclosing Party;
 4. It is required by existing contractual obligations of which the Disclosing Party is aware;
 5. It is independently developed by the Receiving Party without reliance on the Confidential Information;
 6. It is required by any securities exchange or regulatory or governmental body to which it is subject or by judicial process;
 7. It is otherwise obtained under the Freedom of Information Law or other applicable New York State laws or regulations; or
 8. the disclosure is to its professional advisers, auditors or banker; or to any of its directors, other officers, employees and subcontractors (a "Recipient") to the extent that disclosure is reasonably necessary for the purposes of this Agreement.
- D. In addition to the foregoing, Nassau represents that it has certain obligations with regard to the use and protection of Personal Data. "Personal Data" means non-public, personally identifiable information of Nassau's employees or citizenry. Oracle will not store, maintain or process any Personal Data on Nassau's behalf connection with the provision of programs, related technical support and other services under the Agreement. Any access by Oracle to Personal Data will be incidental to the software and related services provided by Oracle to Nassau. Nassau agrees that it will endeavor not to unnecessarily provide any Personal Data to Oracle under the Agreement. To the extent that Oracle has any incidental access to Personal Data in providing its Software and services to Nassau, Oracle agrees that (1) it shall not disclose or use Personal Data except to the extent reasonably required to carry out its obligations under the Agreement; and (2) it shall maintain appropriate information security measures to protect such Personal Data from unauthorized disclosure or use. The obligations set forth in this paragraph shall survive termination of this Agreement.

XII. BREACH

- A. Breach, Generally. If either party breaches a material term of this Agreement and fails to correct the breach within 30 days of written specification of the breach, then the breaching party is in default and the non-breaching party may terminate this Agreement, subject to the Dispute Resolution process set forth in the Article immediately below.
- B. Failure to Make Payment. In the event Nassau fails to make payment to Oracle for Software or Services delivered and accepted, and invoiced as set forth herein, within thirty (30) days of such delivery and acceptance, Oracle may, upon 10 days advance written notice to Nassau's purchasing official, suspend additional shipments of Software or provision of Services to Nassau until such time as reasonable arrangements have been made and assurances given by such entity for current and future payments. If the breach is for the failure to pay for Software and the breach continues unabated, upon written notice of termination, Oracle may terminate

Nassau's license for the unpaid-for Software. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Oracle shall, at least 10 days prior to declaring a breach of contract by Nassau, by certified or registered mail, notify the purchasing official of Nassau of the specific facts, circumstances and grounds upon which a breach will be declared. It is understood, however, that if Oracle's basis for declaring a breach is insufficient, Oracle's declaration of breach and failure to service Nassau shall constitute a breach of its Agreement and Nassau may thereafter seek any remedy available at law or equity.

C. Remedies for Breach. It is understood and agreed that all rights and remedies afforded below shall be in addition to all remedies or actions otherwise authorized or permitted by law, except where expressly limited in this Agreement:

1. Cover/Substitute Performance. In the event of Oracle's material, uncured breach, Nassau may, with or without formally bidding: (i) purchase from other sources; or (ii) if Nassau is unsuccessful after making reasonable attempts, under the circumstances then existing, to timely obtain acceptable service or acquire replacement software of equal or comparable quality, Nassau may acquire acceptable replacement software of lesser or greater quality. Such purchases may, in the discretion of Nassau, be deducted from the Agreement quantity and payments due Oracle.
2. Withhold Payment. In any case where a reasonable question of material non-performance by Oracle arises, payment may be withheld in whole or in part at the discretion of Nassau.
3. Bankruptcy. In the event that Oracle files a petition under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code during the term of this Agreement, Nassau may, at its discretion, make application to exercise its right to set-off against monies due the Debtor or, under the Doctrine of Recoupment, credit Nassau the amounts owed by Oracle arising out of the same transactions.
4. Reimbursement of Costs Incurred. Oracle agrees to reimburse Nassau promptly for any and all additional costs incurred for acquiring acceptable services, and/or replacement software. Should the cost of cover be less than the price charged under this Agreement, Oracle shall have no claim to the difference.
5. Deduction/Credit. Sums due as a result of these remedies may be deducted or offset by Nassau from payments due, or to become due, Oracle on the same or another transaction. If no deduction or only a partial deduction is made in such fashion Oracle shall pay to Nassau the amount of such claim or portion of the claim still outstanding, on demand.

XIII. DISPUTE RESOLUTION

- A. In the event there is a dispute or controversy under this Agreement, the parties agree to exercise their best efforts to resolve the dispute as soon as possible. The parties shall, without delay, continue to perform their respective obligations under this Agreement, which are not affected by the dispute.
- B. In the event Nassau is dissatisfied with Oracle's Software or Services provided under this Agreement, Nassau shall notify Oracle in writing. In the event Oracle has any disputes with Nassau, Oracle shall so notify Nassau in writing. If either party notifies the other of such dispute or controversy, the other party shall then make good faith efforts to solve the problem or settle the dispute amicably, including meeting with the party's representatives to attempt diligently to reach a satisfactory result.

- C. If negotiation between such persons fails to resolve any such dispute to the satisfaction of the parties within 14 business days or as otherwise agreed to by the parties, of such notice, then the matter shall be submitted to Nassau's senior county executive and Oracle's senior officer of the rank of Vice President or higher as its representative. Such representatives shall meet in person and shall attempt in good faith to resolve the dispute within the next 14 business days or as otherwise agreed to by the parties. This meeting must be held before either party may seek any other method of dispute resolution, including judicial or governmental resolutions. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Article shall not be construed to prevent either party from seeking and obtaining temporary equitable remedies, including injunctive relief.
- D. Oracle shall extend the dispute resolution period for so long as Nassau continues to make reasonable efforts to cure the breach, except with respect to disputes about the breach of payment of fees or infringement of its or its licensors' intellectual property rights.
- E. This Article XIII does not apply to any breach by Nassau of Oracle's or its licensor's intellectual property rights.

XIV. TERMINATION

The following termination provisions are subject to the Dispute Resolution provision, to terms of the Technical Support Policies, and other provisions of this Agreement. Termination under this Article does not relieve Nassau of its obligation to pay for Programs or Services delivered by Oracle under this Agreement.

- A. For Cause: For a material breach that remains uncured for more than thirty (30) days or other specified period after written notice to Oracle, the Agreement or Purchase Order may be terminated by Nassau at Oracle's expense where Oracle becomes unable or incapable of performing, or meeting any requirements or qualifications set forth in the Agreement, or for non-performance, or upon a determination that Oracle is non-responsible. Such termination shall be upon written notice to Oracle. In such event, Nassau may complete the contractual requirements in any manner it may deem advisable and pursue available legal or equitable remedies for breach. If the Agreement is terminated pursuant to this subdivision, Nassau shall remain liable for all accrued but unpaid fees and charges incurred through the date of the termination.
- B. For Convenience: By written notice, this Agreement may be terminated at any time by Nassau for convenience upon sixty (60) days written notice or other specified period without penalty or other early termination charges due. Such termination of the Agreement shall not affect any Purchase Order that has been issued under the Agreement prior to the date of such termination. If the Agreement is terminated pursuant to this subdivision, Nassau shall remain liable for all accrued but unpaid charges incurred through the date of the termination. Oracle shall use due diligence and provide any outstanding deliverables.

XV. FORCE MAJEURE

A force majeure occurrence is an event or effect that cannot be reasonably anticipated or controlled. Force majeure includes, but is not limited to, acts of God, acts of war, acts of public enemies, strikes, fires, explosions, actions of the elements, floods, or other similar causes beyond the control of Nassau or Oracle in the performance of the Agreement which non-performance, by exercise of reasonable diligence, cannot be prevented. Oracle shall provide Nassau with written notice of any force majeure occurrence as soon as the delay is known.

Neither Nassau nor Oracle shall be liable to the other for any delay in or failure of performance under the Agreement due to a force majeure occurrence. Any such delay in or failure of performance shall not constitute default or give rise to any liability for damages. The existence of such causes of such delay or failure shall extend the period for performance to such extent as determined by Oracle or Nassau to be necessary to enable complete performance by Oracle if reasonable diligence is exercised after the cause of delay or failure has been removed.

If such event continues for more than 90 days, either party may cancel unperformed Services upon written notice. This section does not excuse either party's obligation to take reasonable steps to follow its normal disaster recovery procedures or Nassau's obligation to pay for Software delivered or Services provided.

XVI. AUDIT OF SOFTWARE USAGE

Upon 45 days written notice, Oracle may audit Nassau's use of the Software. Oracle agrees not to audit Nassau's use more frequently than once annually. Nassau agrees to cooperate with Oracle's audit and provide reasonable assistance and access to information during its normal business hours. Nassau shall be entitled to designate a representative who shall be entitled to participate in such audit. Nassau agrees that Oracle shall not be responsible for any of Nassau's reasonable costs incurred in cooperating with the audit.

Oracle shall provide Nassau with a report of any such audit, and Nassau shall have the right to provide a written response to the report to Oracle. All such audit reports and responses to such audit reports shall be considered confidential and subject to the non-disclosure obligations in this Agreement. In the event such audit discloses that Nassau exceeds the scope of the permissible use of the licenses for the Software, Nassau agrees to immediately cease its impermissible use of such Software. To continue its use of such licenses, Nassau agrees to pay within thirty (30) days of the receipt of written notification and provision of an invoice.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Nassau in good faith provides Oracle with written notice of an alleged error in the amount of underpaid fees reported in the audit and agrees to pay any amounts not in dispute, Nassau may invoke the Dispute Resolution Process provided in Article XIII of this Agreement. If Nassau pays the undisputed amounts and provides the aforementioned notice of error, Nassau is not obligated to cease its alleged impermissible use of the Software during the Dispute Resolution process. During the Dispute Resolution process, Oracle agrees not to terminate the Software or any associated Technical Support services, nor commence formal proceedings for the judicial resolution of such dispute, except for the seeking of equitable relief, until an amicable resolution of the dispute through continued negotiation of the matter at issue does not appear likely.

XVII. POLICIES AND SECURITY

In performing this Agreement, Oracle warrants, covenants and represents that it will comply fully with Nassau's rules, procedures and protocols ("Procedures"), including but not limited to physical, facility, documentary, information security and cyber security, provided that such Procedures do not violate any state, local or federal law. Nassau shall make available the relevant Procedures and Oracle shall be responsible for distributing to its representatives and assessing and ensuring compliance. If any part of the Procedures should violate Oracle's Code of Ethics and Business Conduct or Oracle is otherwise unable to comply, Oracle shall notify Nassau in writing. Nassau shall be responsible for acquiring the necessary approvals for the waiver from the entity that issued the Procedure. Oracle and Nassau agree that the Procedures do not modify or amend the other terms and conditions of the Agreement.

XVIII. MISCELLANEOUS

- A. Cooperation Between Contractors. Oracle shall be responsible for fully cooperating with any third party, including but not limited to other contractors or subcontractors of Nassau, as necessary to ensure delivery of Software or coordination of performance of Services.
- B. Independent Contractors. It is understood and agreed that the legal status of Oracle, its agents, officers and employees under this Agreement is that of an independent contractor, and in no manner shall they be deemed employees of Nassau, and therefore are not entitled to any of the benefits associated with such employment. Oracle agrees, during the term of this Agreement, to maintain at Oracle's expense those benefits to which its employees would otherwise be entitled by law, including health benefits, and all necessary insurance for its employees, including worker's compensation, disability and unemployment insurance, and to provide Nassau with certification of such insurance upon request. Oracle remains responsible for all applicable federal, state and local taxes, and all FICA contributions.
- C. No Hard Stop / Passive License Monitoring. Unless Nassau is otherwise specifically advised to the contrary in writing at the time of order and prior to purchase, Oracle hereby warrants and represents that either: (1) the Software and all Updates do not and will not contain any computer code that would disable the Software or Updates or impair in any way its operation based on the elapsing of a period of time, exceeding an authorized number of copies, advancement to a particular date or other numeral, or other similar self-destruct mechanisms (sometimes referred to as "time bombs," "time locks," or "drop dead" devices) or that would permit Oracle to access the Software to cause such disablement or impairment (sometimes referred to as a "trap door" device); or (2) if the Software or Updates does contain any such computer code, such computer code shall not be enabled. Oracle agrees that in the event of a breach or alleged breach of this provision, Nassau may seek a temporary restraining order, injunction, or other form of equitable relief against the continuance of such breach, in addition to any and all remedies to which Nassau shall be entitled.

- D. Proof of License. The fully signed Ordering Document, Nassau's corresponding Purchase Order and payment of Oracle's invoice shall serve as Nassau's proof of License.
- E. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is deemed invalid or unenforceable, such determination shall have no effect on the balance of the Agreement, which shall be enforced and interpreted as if such provision was never included in the Agreement.
- F. Entire Agreement and Modification of Agreement Terms. This Agreement and the referenced appendices constitute the entire agreement between the parties thereto and no statement, promise, condition, understanding, inducement or representation, oral or written, expressed or implied, which is not contained herein shall be binding or valid, and the Agreement shall not be changed, modified or altered in any manner except by an instrument in writing executed by both parties hereto. No preprinted terms or conditions on a Purchase Order issued by Nassau, which seek to vary the terms of this Agreement or impose new duties or obligations on Oracle, shall have any force or effect.
- G. Assignments and Mergers, Acquisitions, Divestitures. Upon notice to Oracle, the Agreement may be assigned without the consent of Oracle to another Nassau subdivision pursuant to a governmental reorganization or assignment of functions under which the functions are transferred to a successor entity that assumes Nassau's responsibilities for the Agreement. If Nassau grants a security interest in the Programs and/or any Services deliverables, the secured party has no right to use or transfer the Programs and/or any Services deliverables, and if Nassau decides to finance an acquisition of the programs and/or any services, it will follow Oracle's policies regarding financing which are at <http://oracle.com/contracts>. Except in the event of a merger, consolidation, acquisition, internal restructuring, or sale of all or substantially all of the assets of Oracle, Oracle may not assign this Agreement without Nassau's prior written consent. Oracle's obligation to perform under this Agreement shall not be affected or impaired by any reorganization, consolidation or merger to which Oracle is, or may become, a party.
- H. Press Releases / Publicity. Oracle shall obtain the prior written approval of Nassau relative to the Agreement for press or other media releases.
- I. UCITA. The Uniform Computer Information Transactions Act does not apply to this Agreement or orders placed under it.
- J. Legal Compliance. Oracle represents it will pay at its sole expenses for all applicable permits, licenses, tariffs, tolls and fees and that it shall secure all notices and comply with all laws, ordinances, rules and regulations of any governmental entity applicable to the performance of obligations under the Agreement or seek waiver therefrom. Prior to award and during the Agreement term and any renewals thereof, Oracle must establish to the satisfaction of Nassau that it meets or exceeds all requirements of the Agreement and any applicable laws, including but not limited to, permits, insurance coverage, licensing, and proof of coverage for workers' compensation, and shall provide such proof as required by Nassau. Failure to comply or failure to provide proof may constitute grounds for Nassau to cancel or suspend the Agreement, in whole or in part or to take any other action deemed necessary by Nassau.

- K. Captions. The captions contained in this Agreement are intended for convenience and reference purposes only and shall in no way be deemed to define or limit any provision thereof.
- L. Governing Law. This procurement, the resulting contract and any purchase orders issued hereunder shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York except where the Federal supremacy clause requires otherwise, and actions or proceedings arising from the contract shall be heard in a court of competent jurisdiction in the State of New York.
- M. Order of Precedence. The documents comprising this Agreement shall have the following order of precedence: (1) Appendix A; (2) Ordering Document(s); (3) this Agreement; and (4) all other exhibits.

XIX. NASSAU SPECIFIC LAWS, ORDINANCES, REQUIREMENTS

A. Insurance.

1. Types and Amounts. Oracle shall obtain and maintain throughout the term of this Agreement, at its own expense: (i) one or more policies for commercial general liability insurance, which policy(ies) shall name "Nassau County" as an additional insured and have a minimum single combined limit of liability of not less than two million dollars ($2,000,000) per occurrence and four million dollars ($4,000,000) aggregate coverage, (ii) compensation insurance for the benefit of Oracle's employees ("Workers' Compensation Insurance"), which insurance is in compliance with the New York State Workers' Compensation Law, and (iii) such additional insurance, including, without limitation, builder's all risk, if applicable, automobile liability insurance and umbrella liability insurance, as Nassau may from time to time specify.
2. Acceptability; Deductibles; Subcontractors. All insurance obtained and maintained by Oracle pursuant to this Agreement shall be (i) written by one or more commercial insurance carriers licensed or authorized to do business in New York State and acceptable to Nassau; and (ii) in form and substance acceptable to Nassau. Oracle shall be solely responsible for the payment of all deductibles to which such policies are subject. Oracle shall require any subcontractor hired in connection with this Agreement to carry insurance with the same limits and provisions required to be carried by Oracle under this Agreement.
3. Delivery; Coverage Change; No Inconsistent Action. Prior to the execution of this Agreement, copies of current certificates of insurance evidencing the Insurance coverage required by this Agreement shall be delivered to the Nassau County Attorney's Office. Not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date of any expiration or renewal of, or actual, proposed or threatened reduction or cancellation of coverage under, any insurance required hereunder, Oracle shall provide written notice to the Nassau County Attorney's Office of the same and deliver to Nassau County Attorney's Office renewal or replacement certificates of insurance. Oracle shall cause all insurance to remain in full force and effect throughout the term of this Agreement and shall not take any action, or omit to take any action, which would suspend or invalidate any of the required coverages. The failure of Oracle to maintain Workers' Compensation Insurance shall render this contract void and of no effect. The failure of Oracle to maintain the other required coverages shall be deemed a material breach of this Agreement upon which Nassau reserves the right to consider this Agreement terminated as of the date of such failure.

- B. No Arrears or Default. Oracle is not in arrears to Nassau upon any debt or contract and it is not in default as surety, contractor, or otherwise upon any obligation to Nassau, including any obligation to pay taxes to, or perform services for or on behalf of, Nassau.
- C. Nassau County Living Wage Law. Pursuant to LL 12006, as amended, and to the extent that a waiver has not been obtained in accordance with such law or any rules of the County Executive, with respect to Services provided to Nassau which are performed within the United States, Oracle agrees as follows:
1. Oracle shall comply with the applicable requirements of the Living Wage Law, as amended;
 2. Failure to comply with the Living Wage Law, as amended, may constitute a material breach of this Agreement, the occurrence of which shall be determined solely by the County. Oracle has the right to cure such breach within thirty days of receipt of notice of breach from Nassau. In the event that such breach is not timely cured, Nassau may terminate this Agreement as well as exercise any other rights available to Nassau under applicable law.
 3. It shall be a continuing obligation of Oracle to inform Nassau of any material changes in the content of its certification of compliance, attached as Exhibit 6, and shall provide to Nassau any information necessary to maintain the certification's accuracy.
- C. Administrative Service Charge. Oracle agrees to pay Nassau an administrative service charge of five hundred and thirty-three dollars ($533.00) for the processing of this Agreement pursuant to Ordinance Number 741979, as amended by Ordinance Number 1282006.
- D. Executory Clause. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement:
1. Approval and Execution. Nassau shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to Oracle unless:
 - (i) all Nassau approvals have been obtained, including, if required, approval by the Nassau County Legislature, and

- (ii) this Agreement has been executed by the Nassau.
2. Availability of Funds: Nassau shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to Oracle beyond funds appropriated or otherwise lawfully available for this Agreement, and, if any portion of the funds for this Agreement are from the State and/or federal governments, then beyond funds available to Nassau from the State and/or federal governments. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (a) Nassau agrees to pay for all Software ordered and Services performed by Oracle prior to Oracle's receipt of Nassau's notice of the unavailability of funding or appropriations and (b) Nassau's issuance of a Purchase Order to Oracle is its representation to Oracle that funds for that purchase have been fully appropriated and are presently available.

XX. NOTICES

If Nassau has a dispute with Oracle or if Nassau wishes to provide a notice under the Indemnification section of this Agreement, or if Nassau becomes subject to insolvency or other similar legal proceedings, it will promptly send written notice to: Oracle USA, Inc., 500 Oracle Parkway, Redwood City, California, USA, Attention: General Counsel, Legal Department.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement.

B. General Terms

1. Commencement Date

All program licenses and the period of performance for all services are effective upon shipment of tangible media or upon the effective date of this ordering document if shipment of tangible media is not required.

2. Fees, Invoicing, and Payment Obligation

a. All fees due under this ordering document shall be non-cancelable and the sums paid nonrefundable, except as provided in the agreement.

b. In entering into payment obligations under this ordering document, you agree and acknowledge that you have not relied on the future availability of any program or updates. However, (a) if you order technical support for programs licensed under this ordering document, the preceding sentence does not relieve Oracle of its obligation to provide such technical support under this ordering document, if and when available, in accordance with Oracle's then current technical support policies, and (b) the preceding sentence does not change the rights granted to you for any program licensed under this ordering document, per the terms of this ordering document and the agreement.

c. In accordance with the agreement: (i) license fees are invoiced as of the commencement date; and (ii) service fees are invoiced after the performance of the service; specifically, technical support fees are invoiced quarterly in arrears from the commencement date.

d. In addition to the fees listed in section A, Oracle will invoice you for any applicable shipping charges or applicable taxes.

3. Delivery and Installation

a. You shall be responsible for installation of the software.

b. Oracle has made available to you for electronic download at the electronic delivery web site located at the following Internet URL: <http://edelivery.oracle.com> the programs listed in section A. Through the Internet URL, you can access and electronically download to your location the software and related documentation for each program listed in section A. Provided that you have continuously maintained technical support for the programs listed in section A, you may continue to download the software and related program documentation for the programs listed in section A. Please be advised that not all programs are available on all hardware/operating system combinations. For current program availability please check the electronic delivery web site. You acknowledge that Oracle's delivery obligation under this ordering document is met by the provision of the electronic delivery web site URL.

4. Source Code

Oracle may deliver source code as part of its standard delivery for particular programs; all source code delivered by Oracle is subject to the terms of the agreement, ordering document and program documentation.

5. Segmentation

The program licenses provided in this ordering document are offered separately from any other proposal for consulting services you may receive or have received from Oracle and do not require you to purchase Oracle consulting services.

6. Order of Precedence

In the event of any inconsistencies between the agreement and this ordering document, this ordering document shall take precedence.

7. Customer Reference

In consideration of the discounts granted to you under this ordering document, Oracle may refer to you as a customer in sales presentations, marketing vehicles and activities. In addition you agree to become part of Oracle's reference program by working with a representative from Oracle Marketing to develop a customer profile for use on Oracle.com and for other promotional activities at Oracle's discretion. The profile will include a quote from an executive of your organization and your organization's logo.

8. Territory

The program licenses and services described in section A are for use in the U.S.

9. Limited Use Programs

The programs listed in section A-4 are limited use programs and maybe used only with the programs listed in section A.1, section A.2 and section A.3.

10. Technical Support Cap

Software Update License & Support (or any successor technical support offering to Software Update License & Support, "SULS") acquired with your order may be renewed annually and, if you renew SULS for the same number of licenses for the same programs, for the first, second, third and fourth renewal years, the fee for SULS will not increase over the prior year's fee. If you renew SULS for the same number of licenses for the same programs for the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth or ninth renewal year, the fee for SULS will not increase by more than three percent (3%) over the prior year's fees.

C. Future Purchases

1. Expansion

a. If you exceed your licensed quantity you must order the programs (and first year Software Update License & Support for the programs) at the appropriate license and support fees specified on the attached Expansion Exhibit. The number of additional program licenses to be ordered shall be equal to the actual dollar amount of Enterprise $M of Operating Budget listed in section A.1 and/or the actual number of Enterprise Employees listed in section A.2 as of the order date less the total number of licensed quantity (under this ordering document or other ordering documents) rounded up to the next increment on the attached Expansion Exhibit.

b. The license definitions and program specific terms contained in section D of this ordering document will apply to program licenses ordered pursuant to this section.

c. Oracle has no delivery obligation for program licenses ordered pursuant to this section.

D. Enterprise Application Specific Terms

1. Enterprise $M Operating Budget

$M Operating Budget is defined as one million US Dollars of your gross budget reflected in an audited statement from your external accounting firm.

2. Applicable to programs with the license type of Enterprise $M Operating Budget

The value of these program licenses is determined by the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget. For these program licenses, the licensed quantity purchased must, at a minimum, be equal to the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget as of the effective date of your order. If at any time the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget exceeds the licensed quantity, you are required to order additional licenses (and technical support for such additional licenses) such that the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget is equal to or less than the licensed quantity. You are not entitled to any refund, credit or other consideration of any kind if there is a reduction in the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget. In addition, each year 90 days before the anniversary date (defined as the day and month of the ordering document effective date), you are required to report to Oracle the number of Enterprise $M Operating Budget as of such date.

3. Enterprise Employee

Enterprise Employee is defined as all of your full-time, part-time, temporary employees and all of your agents, contractors and consultants. The quantity of the licenses required is determined by the number of Enterprise Employees and not the actual number of users. In addition, if you elect to outsource any business function(s) to another company, all of the company's full-time, part-time, temporary employees and agents, contractors and consultants that are providing the outsourcing services for you must be counted for the purposes of determining the number of Enterprise Employees.

4. Applicable to programs with the license type of Enterprise Employee

The value of these program licenses is determined by the number of Enterprise Employees. For these program licenses, the licensed quantity purchased must, at a minimum, be equal to the number of Enterprise Employees as of the effective date of your order. If at any time the number of Enterprise Employees exceeds the licensed quantity, you are required to order additional licenses (and technical support for such additional licenses) such that the number of Enterprise Employees is equal to or less than the licensed quantity. You are not entitled to any refund, credit or other consideration of any kind if there is a reduction in the number of Enterprise Employees. In addition, each year 90 days before the anniversary date (defined as the day and month of the ordering document effective date), you are required to report to Oracle the number of Enterprise Employees as of such date.

5. Archival Back-Up and Disaster Recovery

The last sentence of Article II, Section E.3 of the agreement shall not apply to the programs listed in sections A.1, A.2 and A.3 of this ordering document.

F. Program Specific Terms for the Peoplesoft Product Lines

1. License Grant

Oracle grants to you a non-exclusive, nontransferable license for your UPK Developer(s) to: (i) use those User Productivity Kit ("UPK") products listed in Section A (collectively referred to as "materials") only as necessary to create and provide training solely for UPK to use the underlying programs for your benefit; (ii) make an unlimited number of copies of the materials only as necessary to create and provide training solely to UPK to use the underlying programs for your benefit; and (iii) develop modifications and customizations to the UPK programs licensed per UPK Module, if applicable, all subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the agreement, provided all copyright notices are reproduced as provided on the original. You are prohibited from reselling or distributing the materials to any other party or using the materials other than as explicitly permitted in this ordering document or in the agreement. Oracle represents that the materials and any content created by you using the program materials contain valuable proprietary information. Oracle (or its third-party program providers) retains title to all portions of the materials and any copies thereof. You shall use materials modifications created by you solely for your internal use in accordance with the terms of the agreement. You may provide access to and use of the materials only to those third parties that are licensed as UPK Users and that: (a) provide services to you concerning your use of the materials; (b) have a need to use and access the materials; and (c) have agreed to substantially similar non-disclosure obligations imposed by you as those contained in the agreement. NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING IN THE AGREEMENT TO THE CONTRARY, PROGRAMS LICENSED PER UPK MODULE ARE PROVIDED "AS IS" AND ARE PROVIDED WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND.

1. UPK Materials

For UPK content materials licensed under this ordering document, you represent and warrant that you have a valid license for the underlying program(s). All content materials are published in English language only.

2. UPK Module

UPK Module is defined as the functional software component described in the product documentation.

3. Included Programs - Crystal Reports for PeopleSoft Enterprise

This program is a third party program and it is also a supportable program. "Unlimited users" for purposes of this program means all users who are authorized by you to use such program. You may use this third party program solely in conjunction with PeopleSoft Enterprise programs licensed by you.

4. Included Programs - Crystal Enterprise/BusinessObjects Enterprise for PeopleSoft Enterprise

You acknowledge that this program requires a web application server. This third party program is a supportable program. A "concurrent access license" is a license for one person to access all features and functions of this program. A concurrent access license user is accessing the program from the time the concurrent access license user logs onto the program until the concurrent access license user exits or closes the program. You may use this third party program solely in conjunction with PeopleSoft Enterprise programs licensed by you.

5. Included Programs - WebSphere

Notwithstanding anything in the agreement to the contrary, Oracle shall not be obligated to indemnify you for any claims based on: (i) any third party products identified in the "README" AND "LICENSE.TXT" files included with WebSphere; (ii) open source code delivered with the WebSphere product; (iii) any trade secret embodied within WebSphere; and (iv) the combination, operation or use of WebSphere with any non-International Business Machine Corporation product, data, or apparatus. In addition to the terms set forth in the agreement and this ordering document, use of this program shall be subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the "README" and "LICENSE.TXT" files included with the WebSphere program, as those terms may change from time to time. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary: (a) source code is not included for this program and (b) this third party program is a supportable program.

By signing below, the parties agree that the agreement and this ordering document constitute the entire agreement between the parties with regard to the subject matter herein and as such, no other preprinted, non-negotiated or other terms and conditions, on the customer's purchase order or elsewhere, shall apply. The offer is valid through 30-NOV-2008 and shall become binding upon execution by you and acceptance by Oracle.

STANDARD CLAUSES FOR NYS CONTRACTS

The parties to the attached contract, license, lease, amendment or other agreement of any kind (hereinafter, "the contract" or "this contract") agree to be bound by the following clauses which are hereby made a part of the contract (the word "Contractor" herein refers to any party other than the State, whether a contractor, licenser, licensee, lessor, lessee or any other party):

1. EXECUTORY CLAUSE. In accordance with Section 41 of the State Finance Law, the State shall have no liability under this contract to the Contractor or to anyone else beyond funds appropriated and available for this contract.

2. NON-ASSIGNMENT CLAUSE. In accordance with Section 138 of the State Finance Law, this contract may not be assigned by the Contractor or its right, title or interest therein assigned, transferred, conveyed, sublet or otherwise disposed of without the previous consent, in writing, of the State and any attempts to assign the contract without the State's written consent are null and void. The Contractor may, however, assign its right to receive payment without the State's prior written consent unless this contract concerns Certificates of Participation pursuant to Article 5-A of the State Finance Law.

3. COMPTROLLER'S APPROVAL. In accordance with Section 112 of the State Finance Law (or, if this contract is with the State University or City University of New York, Section 355 or Section 6218 of the Education Law), if this contract exceeds $50,000 (or the minimum thresholds agreed to by the Office of the State Comptroller for certain S.U.N.Y. and C.U.N.Y. contracts), or if this is an amendment for any amount to a contract which, as so amended, exceeds said statutory amount, or if, by this contract, the State agrees to give something other than money when the value or reasonably estimated value of such consideration exceeds $10,000, it shall not be valid, effective or binding upon the State until it has been approved by the State Comptroller and filed in his office. Comptroller's approval of contracts let by the Office of General Services is required when such contracts exceed $85,000 (State Finance Law Section 163.6.a).

4. WORKERS' COMPENSATION BENEFITS. In accordance with Section 142 of the State Finance Law, this contract shall be void and of no force and effect unless the Contractor shall provide and maintain coverage during the life of this contract for the benefit of such employees as are required to be covered by the provisions of the Workers' Compensation Law.

5. NON-DISCRIMINATION REQUIREMENTS. To the extent required by Article 15 of the Executive Law (also known as the Human Rights Law) and all other State and Federal statutory and constitutional non-discrimination provisions, the Contractor will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, genetic predisposition or carrier status, or marital status. Furthermore, in accordance with Section 220-e of the Labor Law, if this is a contract for the construction, alteration or repair of any public building or public work or for the manufacture, sale or distribution of materials, equipment or supplies, and to the extent that this contract shall be performed within the State of New York, Contractor agrees that neither it nor its subcontractors shall, by reason of race, creed, color, disability, sex, or national origin: (a) discriminate in hiring against any New York State citizen who is qualified and available to perform the work; or (b) discriminate against or intimidate any employee hired for the performance of work under this contract. Contractor is subject to fines of $50.00 per person per day for any violation of Section 220-e or Section 239 as well as possible termination of this contract and forfeiture of all moneys due hereunder for a second or subsequent violation.

6. WAGE AND HOURS PROVISIONS. If this is a public work contract covered by Article 8 of the Labor Law or a building service contract covered by Article 9 thereof, neither Contractor's employees nor the employees of its subcontractors may be required or permitted to work more than the number of hours or days stated in said statutes, except as otherwise provided in the Labor Law and as set forth in prevailing wage and supplement schedules issued by the State Labor Department. Furthermore, Contractor and its subcontractors must pay at least the prevailing wage rate and pay or provide the prevailing supplements, including the premium rates for overtime pay, as determined by the State Labor Department in accordance with the Labor Law.

7. NON-COLLUSIVE BIDDING CERTIFICATION. In accordance with Section 139-d of the State Finance Law, if this contract was awarded based upon the submission of bids, Contractor affirms, under penalty of perjury, that its bid was arrived at independently and without collusion aimed at restricting competition. Contractor further affirms that, at the time Contractor submitted its bid, an authorized and responsible person executed and delivered to the State a non-collusive bidding certification on Contractor's behalf.

8. INTERNATIONAL BOYCOTT PROHIBITION. In accordance with Section 220-f of the Labor Law and Section 139-h of the State Finance Law, if this contract exceeds $5,000, the Contractor agrees, as a material condition of the contract, that neither the Contractor nor any substantially owned or affiliated person, firm, partnership or corporation has participated, is participating, or shall participate in an international boycott in violation of the federal Export Administration Act of 1979 (50 USC App. Sections 2401 et seq.) or regulations thereunder. If such Contractor, or any of the aforesaid affiliates of Contractor, is convicted or is otherwise found to have violated said laws or regulations upon the final determination of the United States Commerce Department or any other appropriate agency of the United States subsequent to the contract's execution, such contract, amendment or modification thereto shall be rendered forfeit and void. The Contractor shall so notify the State Comptroller within five (5) business days of such conviction, determination or disposition of appeal (2NYCRR 105.4).

9. SET-OFF RIGHTS. The State shall have all of its common law, equitable and statutory rights of set-off. These rights shall include, but not be limited to, the State's option to withhold for the purposes of set-off any moneys due to the Contractor under this contract up to any amounts due and owing to the State with regard to this contract, any other contract with any State department or agency, including any contract for a term commencing prior to the term of this contract, plus any amounts due and owing to the State for any other reason including, without limitation, tax delinquencies, fee delinquencies or monetary penalties relative thereto. The State shall exercise its set-off rights in accordance with normal State practices including, in cases of set-off pursuant to an audit, the finalization of such audit by the State agency, its representatives, or the State Comptroller.

10. RECORDS. The Contractor shall establish and maintain complete and accurate books, records, documents, accounts and other evidence directly pertinent to performance under this contract (hereinafter, collectively, "the Records"). The Records must be kept for the balance of the calendar year in which they were made and for six (6) additional years thereafter. The State Comptroller, the Attorney General and any other person or entity authorized to conduct an examination, as well as the agency or agencies involved in this contract, shall have access to the Records during normal business hours at an office of the Contractor within the State of New York or, if no such office is available, at a mutually agreeable and reasonable venue within the State, for the term specified above for the purposes of inspection, auditing and copying. The State shall take reasonable steps to protect from public disclosure any of the Records which are exempt from disclosure under Section 87 of the Public Officers Law (the "Statute") provided that: (i) the Contractor shall timely inform an appropriate State official, in writing, that said records should not be disclosed; and (ii) said records shall be sufficiently identified; and (iii) designation of said records as exempt under the Statute is reasonable. Nothing contained herein shall diminish, or in any way adversely affect, the State's right to discovery in any pending or future litigation.

11. IDENTIFYING INFORMATION AND PRIVACY NOTIFICATION. (a) FEDERAL EMPLOYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER and/or FEDERAL SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER. All invoices or New York State standard vouchers submitted for payment for the sale of goods or services or the lease of real or personal property to a New York State agency must include the payee's identification number, i.e., the seller's or lessor's identification number. The number is either the payee's Federal employer identification number or Federal social security number, or both such numbers when the payee has both such numbers. Failure to include this number or numbers may delay payment. Where the payee does not have such number or numbers, the payee, on its invoice or New York State standard voucher, must give the reason or reasons why the payee does not have such number or numbers.

(b) PRIVACY NOTIFICATION. (1) The authority to request the above personal information from a seller of goods or services or a lessor of real or personal property, and the authority to maintain such information, is found in Section 5 of the State Tax Law. Disclosure of this information by the seller or lessor to the State is mandatory. The principal purpose for which the information is collected is to enable the State to identify individuals, businesses and others who have been delinquent in filing tax returns or may have understated their tax liabilities and to generally identify persons affected by the taxes administered by the Commissioner of Taxation and Finance. The information will be used for tax administration purposes and for any other purpose authorized by law.

(2) The personal information is requested by the purchasing unit of the agency contracting to purchase the goods or services or lease the real or personal property covered by this contract or lease. The information is maintained in New York State's Central Accounting System by the Director of Accounting Operations, Office of the State Comptroller, 110 State Street, Albany, New York 12236.

12. EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES FOR MINORITIES AND WOMEN. In accordance with Section 312 of the Executive Law, if this contract is: (i) a written agreement or purchase order instrument, providing for a total expenditure in excess of $25,000.00, whereby a contracting agency is committed to expend or does expend funds in return for labor, services, supplies, equipment, materials or any combination of the foregoing, to be performed for, or rendered or furnished to the contracting agency; or (ii) a written agreement in excess of $100,000.00 whereby a contracting agency is committed to expend or does expend funds for the acquisition, construction, demolition, replacement, major repair or renovation of real property and improvements thereon; or (iii) a written agreement in excess of $100,000.00 whereby the owner of a State assisted housing project is committed to expend or does expend funds for the acquisition, construction, demolition, replacement, major repair or renovation of real property and improvements thereon for such project, then:

(a) The Contractor will not discriminate against employees or applicants for employment because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status, and will undertake or continue existing programs of affirmative action to ensure that minority group members and women are afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination. Affirmative action shall mean recruitment, employment, job assignment, promotion, upgradings, demotion, transfer, layoff, or termination and rates of pay or other forms of compensation;

(b) at the request of the contracting agency, the Contractor shall request each employment agency, labor union, or authorized representative of workers with which it has a collective bargaining or other agreement or understanding, to furnish a written statement that such employment agency, labor union or representative will not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status and that such union or representative will affirmatively cooperate in the implementation of the contractor's obligations herein; and

(c) the Contractor shall state, in all solicitations or advertisements for employees, that, in the performance of the State contract, all qualified applicants will be afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status.

Contractor will include the provisions of "a", "b", and "c" above, in every subcontract over $25,000.00 for the construction, demolition, replacement, major repair, renovation, planning or design of real property and improvements thereon (the "Work") except where the Work is for the beneficial use of the Contractor. Section 312 does not apply to: (i) work, goods or services unrelated to this contract; or (ii) employment outside New York State; or (iii) banking services, insurance policies or the sale of securities. The State shall consider compliance by a contractor or subcontractor with the requirements of any federal law concerning equal employment opportunity which effectuates the purpose of this section. The contracting agency shall determine whether the imposition of the requirements of the provisions hereof duplicate or conflict with any such federal law and if such duplication or conflict exists, the contracting agency shall waive the applicability of Section 312 to the extent of such duplication or conflict. Contractor will comply with all duly promulgated and lawful rules and regulations of the Governor's Office of Minority and Women's Business Development pertaining hereto.

13. CONFLICTING TERMS. In the event of a conflict between the terms of the contract (including any and all attachments thereto and amendments thereof) and the terms of this Appendix A, the terms of this Appendix A shall control.

14. GOVERNING LAW. This contract shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York except where the Federal supremacy clause requires otherwise.

15. LATE PAYMENT. Timeliness of payment and any interest to be paid to Contractor for late payment shall be governed by Article 11-A of the State Finance Law to the extent required by law.

16. NO ARBITRATION. Disputes involving this contract, including the breach or alleged breach thereof, may not be submitted to binding arbitration (except where statutorily authorized), but must, instead, be heard in a court of competent jurisdiction of the State of New York.

17. SERVICE OF PROCESS. In addition to the methods of service allowed by the State Civil Practice Law & Rules ("CPLR"), Contractor hereby consents to service of process upon it by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested. Service hereunder shall be complete upon Contractor's actual receipt of process or upon the State's receipt of the return thereof by the United States Postal Service as refused or undeliverable. Contractor must promptly notify the State, in writing, of each and every change of address to which service of process can be made. Service by the State to the last known address shall be sufficient. Contractor will have thirty (30) calendar days after service hereunder is complete in which to respond.

18. PROHIBITION ON PURCHASE OF TROPICAL HARDWOODS. The Contractor certifies and warrants that all wood products to be used under this contract award will be in accordance with, but not limited to, the specifications and provisions of State Finance Law §165. (Use of Tropical Hardwoods) which prohibits purchase and use of tropical hardwoods, unless specifically exempted, by the State or any governmental agency or political subdivision or public benefit corporation. Qualification for an exemption under this law will be the responsibility of the contractor to establish to meet with the approval of the State.

In addition, when any portion of this contract involving the use of woods, whether supply or installation, is to be performed by any subcontractor, the prime Contractor will indicate and certify in the submitted bid proposal that the subcontractor has been informed and is in compliance with specifications and provisions regarding use of tropical hardwoods as detailed in §165 State Finance Law. Any such use must meet with the approval of the State; otherwise, the bid may not be considered responsive. Under bidder certifications, proof of qualification for exemption will be the responsibility of the Contractor to meet with the approval of the State.

19. MACBRIDE FAIR EMPLOYMENT PRINCIPLES. In accordance with the MacBride Fair Employment Principles (Chapter 807 of the Laws of 1992), the Contractor hereby stipulates that the Contractor either (a) has no business operations in Northern Ireland, or (b) shall take lawful steps in good faith to conduct any business operations in Northern Ireland in accordance with the MacBride Fair Employment Principles (as described in Section 165 of the New York State Finance Law), and shall permit independent monitoring of compliance with such principles.

20. OMNIBUS PROCUREMENT ACT OF 1992. It is the policy of New York State to maximize opportunities for the participation of New York State business enterprises, including minority and women-owned business enterprises as bidders, subcontractors and suppliers on its procurement contracts.

Information on the availability of New York State subcontractors and suppliers is available from:

NYS Department of Economic Development
Division for Small Business
30 South Pearl St -- 7th Floor
Albany, New York 12245
Telephone: 518-292-5220
Fax: 518-292-5884

The Omnibus Procurement Act of 1992 requires that by signing this bid proposal or contract, as applicable, Contractors certify that whenever the total bid amount is greater than $1 million:

(a) The Contractor has made reasonable efforts to encourage the participation of New York State Business Enterprises as suppliers and subcontractors, including certified minority and women-owned business enterprises, on this project, and has retained the documentation of these efforts to be provided upon request to the State;

(b) The Contractor has complied with the Federal Equal Opportunity Act of 1972 (P.L. 92-261), as amended;

(c) The Contractor agrees to make reasonable efforts to provide notification to New York State residents of employment opportunities on this project through listing any such positions with the Job Service Division of the New York State Department of Labor, or providing such notification in such manner as is consistent with existing collective bargaining contracts or agreements. The Contractor agrees to document these efforts and to provide said documentation to the State upon request; and

(d) The Contractor acknowledges notice that the State may seek to obtain offset credits from foreign countries as a result of this contract and agrees to cooperate with the State in these efforts.

21. RECIPROCITY AND SANCTIONS PROVISIONS. Bidders are hereby notified that if their principal place of business is located in a country, nation, province, state or political subdivision that penalizes New York State vendors, and if the goods or services they offer will be substantially produced or performed outside New York State, the Omnibus Procurement Act 1994 and 2000 amendments (Chapter 684 and Chapter 383, respectively) require that they be denied contracts which they would otherwise obtain. NOTE: As of May 15, 2002, the list of discriminatory jurisdictions subject to this provision includes the states of South Carolina, Alaska, West Virginia, Wyoming, Louisiana and Hawaii. Contact NYS Department of Economic Development for a current list of jurisdictions subject to this provision.

22. PURCHASES OF APPAREL. In accordance with State Finance Law 162 (4-a), the State shall not purchase any apparel from any vendor unable or unwilling to certify that: (i) such apparel was manufactured in compliance with all applicable labor and occupational safety laws, including, but not limited to, child labor laws, wage and hours laws and workplace safety laws, and (ii) vendor will supply, with its bid (or, if not a bid situation, prior to or at the time of signing a contract with the State), if known, the names and addresses of each subcontractor and a list of all manufacturing plants to be utilized by the bidder.

ORACLE TECHNICAL SUPPORT POLICIES

Technical Support Policies

Effective Date: 27-October-2008

Unless otherwise stated, these Technical Support Policies apply to technical support for all Oracle product lines. These Technical Support Policies may be referred to in former PeopleSoft agreements as the "Software Support Services Terms and Conditions"; in former Siebel agreements as the "Maintenance Services Policy", in former Hyperion agreements as the "Standard Maintenance Program", in former Agile agreements as the "product support policy" and in former BEA agreements as the "Support Services" policies.

"You" and "your" refers to the individual or entity that has ordered technical support from Oracle or an authorized distributor.

To receive technical support as provided by Oracle Support Services ("OSS") and described in the Oracle Technical Support Levels section below, all programs must be properly licensed.

Technical support is provided for issues (including problems created by you) that are demonstrable in the currently supported release(s) of an Oracle licensed program, running unaltered, and on an appropriate hardware, database and operating system configuration, as specified in your order or program documentation.

Product release and supported platforms information for all Oracle programs, other than Cimmetry AutoVue and Vuelink programs ("Cimmetry programs"), Crystal Ball programs, and AdminServer programs, is available through Oracle's web-based customer support systems as described in the Web-Based Customer Support Systems section below. Product release and supported platforms information for Cimmetry programs is available in the AutoVue Administration Guide that is included with the Cimmetry program documentation.

Product release and supported platforms information for the following programs will be provided to you in writing:

Crystal Ball
AdminServer
Skywire (programs not included on the Skywire Online Support Portal)

Oracle will provide technical support in accordance with Oracle's privacy policy available at <http://www.oracle.com/html/privacy.html>.

These Technical Support Policies are subject to change at Oracle's discretion, however the services provided will not be materially reduced during the support period (defined below).

To view changes that have been made, please refer to the attached Statement of Changes (PDF).

Technical Support Fees

Technical support fees are due and payable annually in advance of a support period, unless otherwise stated in the relevant ordering document or financing or payment contract with Oracle or an Oracle affiliate. Your commitment to pay is required to process your technical support order with Oracle (e.g., purchase order, actual payment, or other approved method of payment). An invoice will be issued only upon receipt of your commitment to pay, and will be sent to a single billing address as designated by you. Failure to submit payment will result in the termination of support.

Support Period

Technical support is effective upon the effective date of your ordering document unless stated otherwise in your ordering document. If your order was placed through the Oracle Store, the effective date is the date your order was accepted by Oracle. Unless otherwise stated in the ordering document, Oracle technical support terms, including pricing, reflect a 12 month support period (the "support period"). All technical support services ordered for a support period and the related fees are non-cancelable and non-refundable. Oracle is not obligated to provide technical support beyond the end of the support period unless your technical support contract is renewed on or before the service expiration date.

License Set

A license set consists of (i) all of your licenses of a program, including any options* (e.g., Database Enterprise Edition and Enterprise Edition Options; Purchasing and Purchasing Options), Enterprise Manager* (e.g., Database Enterprise Edition and Diagnostics Pack), or self-service module* (e.g., Human Resources and Self-Service Human Resources) licensed for such programs, or (ii) all of your licenses of a program that share the same source code. Development and demonstration licenses available through the Oracle Partner Network or the Oracle Technology Network are not included in the definition of a license set. For Crystal Ball programs, a license set is defined as the same licenses of a program contained on a single order.

*As specified on Oracle's price list.

Programs that share the same source code are:

- Database Enterprise Edition, Database Standard Edition, Database Standard Edition One, and Personal Edition, and
- Internet Application Server Enterprise Edition, Internet Application Server Standard Edition, Internet Application Server Standard Edition One, and Internet Application Server Java Edition.

Matching Service Levels

When acquiring technical support, all licenses in any given license set must be supported under the same technical support service level (e.g., Software Update License & Support or unsupported). You may not support a subset of licenses within a license set; the license set must be reduced by terminating any unsupported licenses. You will be required to document license terminations via a termination letter.

Reinstatement of Oracle Technical Support

In the event that technical support lapses or was not originally purchased, upon the commencement of technical support a reinstatement fee will be assessed. The reinstatement fee is equal to 150% of the last-paid support fee, or 150% of the last-published list technical support price for the licensed program less the applicable standard discount as published on the Oracle Store ("standard discount") in effect at the time of reinstatement if support was not originally purchased for the relevant programs, prorated from the date technical support is being ordered back to the date technical support lapsed (or the license order date if technical support was never purchased). Applicable renewal adjustments are applied. Once the reinstatement fee has been assessed, technical support for the year following the reinstatement period may be purchased for an additional technical support fee as calculated based on how long the licensed program has been unsupported ("go-forward support fee"). If the lapsed support period is less than 6 months, the go-forward support fee is calculated based on the last-published list technical support price less the applicable standard discount in effect at the time of reinstatement. If the lapsed support period is 6 months or greater, the go-forward support fee is calculated based on the last-paid support fee. If support is not reinstated for the entire license set or if support for a subset of licenses from an ordering document is reinstated, then the "License Set", "Matching Service Levels", and "Pricing following Reduction of Licenses or Support Level" policies will apply. Applicable renewal adjustments are applied to the reinstatement fee and go-forward support fee.

Pricing following Reduction of Licenses or Support Level

Pricing for support is based upon the level of support and the volume of licenses for which support is ordered. In the event that a subset of licenses on a single order is terminated or if the level of support is reduced, support for the remaining licenses on that license order will be priced at Oracle's list price for support in effect at the time of termination or reduction minus the applicable standard discount. Such support price will not exceed the previous support fees paid for both the remaining licenses and the licenses being terminated or unsupported, and will not be reduced below the previous support fees paid for the licenses continuing to be supported. If the license order from which licenses are being terminated established a price hold for additional licenses, support for all of the licenses ordered pursuant to the price hold will be priced at Oracle's list price for support in effect at the time of reduction minus the applicable standard discount.

Custom Application Bundles

Technical support may not be discontinued for a single program module within a custom application bundle.

Unsupported Programs

Customers with unsupported programs do not receive updates, maintenance releases, patches, telephone assistance, or any other technical support services for the unsupported programs. CD packs or programs purchased or downloaded for trial use, use with other supported programs, or purchased or downloaded as replacement media may not be used to update any unsupported programs.

Technical Contacts

Your technical contacts are the sole liaisons between you and OSS for technical support of programs. It is the recommended standard that your technical contacts are trained representatives of your company. Such training shall include initial basic product training and, as needed, supplemental training appropriate for specific role or implementation phase, specialized product usage, and/or migration. Your technical contacts should be knowledgeable about the Oracle programs and your Oracle environment in order to help resolve system issues and to assist Oracle in analyzing and resolving service requests. When submitting a service request, your technical contact should have a baseline understanding of the problem you are encountering and an ability to reproduce the problem in order to assist Oracle in diagnosing and triaging the problem. To avoid interruptions in support services, you must notify OSS whenever technical contact responsibilities are transferred to another individual.

With the order of Software Update License & Support, you may designate one (1) primary and four (4) backup individuals ("technical contact") per license set, to serve as liaisons with OSS. With each USD$250,000 in net support fees per license set, you have the option to designate an additional two (2) primary and four (4) backup technical contacts. Your primary technical contact shall be responsible for (i) overseeing your service request activity, and (ii) developing and deploying troubleshooting processes within your organization. The backup technical contacts shall be responsible for resolving user issues. You may be charged a fee to designate additional technical contacts.

Oracle may review service requests logged by your technical contacts, and may recommend specific training to help avoid service requests that would be prevented by such training.

Program Updates

"Update" means a subsequent release of the program which Oracle generally makes available for program licenses to its supported customers at no additional license fee, other than shipping charges if applicable, provided you have ordered a technical support offering that includes software updates for such licenses for the relevant time period. Updates do not include any release, option or future program that Oracle licenses separately. Updates are provided when available, and Oracle is under no obligation to develop any future programs or functionality. Any updates made available will be delivered to you, or made available to you for download. If delivered, you will receive one update copy for each supported operating system for which your program licenses were ordered. You shall be responsible for copying, downloading and installing the updates.

Oracle Configuration Manager

Oracle provides Oracle Configuration Manager (OCM) with some of its programs. The OCM is a tool that assists in the collection and transmission of your configuration data to Oracle to enable us to respond more efficiently to your service requests. The OCM tool will connect to Oracle over the internet. You may not receive a separate notice upon connection. You may turn the OCM tool off, however we strongly discourage this as it impedes our ability to provide services to you. More information on the tool is available at <http://www.oracle.com/technology/documentation/ocm.html>. By using this tool, you consent to the transmission of your configuration information to Oracle.

OCM will not access, collect or store any personally identifiable information (except for technical support contact information) or business data files residing in your software environment. Configuration data provided to Oracle by software tools will be stored in password-protected repositories. It will be used to assist in resolving service requests and to provide recommendations regarding configuration of your environment and deployment of programs. In addition, because the configuration information will be updated, it may be used by Oracle to assist you in managing your Oracle product portfolio, for license and services compliance and to help Oracle improve upon product and service offerings for you.

Payment Plan, Financing and Leasing Agreements

Technical support fees due under payment plans, financing or leasing agreements between you and Oracle or an Oracle affiliate ("payment plan") are due and payable in accordance with the terms and conditions of such payment plan, but the technical support shall be ordered pursuant to the terms of the applicable ordering document.

Lifetime Support

Lifetime Support consists of the following service levels:

- "Premier Support" which refers to the first 5 years of basic technical support services (also referred to as, and will be documented on your ordering document as, "Software Update License & Support")
- Extended Support (if offered)
- Sustaining Support

A description of the services available under Premier Support, Extended Support and Sustaining Support is included in the Oracle Technical Support Levels section below.

When offered, Premier Support will be available for five years from the date a release of the Oracle program becomes generally available, except as noted below.

Based on availability, support may be extended for an additional three years with Extended Support for specific releases.

Alternatively, support may be extended with Sustaining Support which will be available for as long as you maintain technical support for your Oracle licenses.

SOFTWARE LICENSE AND SERVICES AGREEMENT BETWEEN
AND
ORACLE USA, INC.

THIS SOFTWARE LICENSE AND SERVICES AGREEMENT (hereinafter "Agreement") is entered into between Nassau County, New York (hereinafter, "Nassau") whose address is 160 Old County Road, Mineola, New York, 11501, and Oracle USA, Inc. (hereinafter "Oracle"), a Colorado corporation whose main office and principal place of business is 500 Oracle Parkway, Redwood Shores, California 94065 and is effective as of the date set forth with the final signature below (the effective date). Orders may be placed under this Agreement for up to three (3) years after its effective date or as otherwise extended by amendment.

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Nassau has determined that its current and future administrative systems needs require that its current aging and diverse systems be replaced; and

WHEREAS, Nassau has determined that the upgrade and replacement of its administrative systems requires the acquisition of a new commercial off-the-shelf integrated information system using Enterprise Resource Planning (hereinafter "ERP") software, and the retention of related services for such software; and

WHEREAS, Nassau issued a Request for Proposal seeking such software and services and thereafter supplemented this with a Request for Clarification, (collectively, the "RFP"); and

WHEREAS, Oracle submitted a proposal, Clarifications, and Best and Final Offers in response to the RFP (hereinafter "Proposal"); and

WHEREAS, based upon the competitive solicitation and evaluation of proposals for the provision of the ERP Software and for the performance of the Services (as hereinafter defined), Nassau has determined that Oracle possesses the qualifications necessary to provide such Software and Services; and that the Proposal offers the best value to Nassau from among the competing proposals received by Nassau, and that Nassau awards this Agreement to Oracle on the basis of the merits of the Proposal; and

WHEREAS, Nassau desires to retain Oracle to provide the Software and Services as set forth hereinafter, and Oracle agrees to provide such Software and perform such Services;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the terms and the mutual covenants and obligations of the parties set forth in this Agreement, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties do hereby agree as follows:

I. DEFINITIONS

Advanced Customer Services: On-site services, set forth in Exhibit 3, that Nassau may purchase from Oracle under this Agreement.

Agreement: The writing(s) which contain the agreement of Nassau and Oracle setting forth the total legal obligation between the parties as determined by applicable rules of law.

Ancillary Programs: Third party materials specified in the Documentation, which may only be used for the purposes of installing or operating the programs with which the Ancillary Programs are delivered.

Documentation or Program Documentation: Program user manual(s) and Program Installation manual(s) for the Software.

Emergency: An urgent and unexpected requirement where health and public safety or the conservation of public resources is at risk.

Enterprise License: A license grant that permits a defined entity (the "Enterprise") to use the acquired the Software across its Enterprise, where the numerical limits of the license is calculated by reference to its employee count or its operating budget or other agreed upon metric. The specific terms of the Enterprise License are set forth in the Ordering Document.

Error Corrections: Machine executable software code furnished by Oracle which corrects the Software so as to conform to the applicable Documentation of Oracle.

Incremental Licenses: An increase in the number of licenses for Software previously acquired by Nassau. Such Incremental License purchases are accepted upon delivery.

License Effective Date: The date Software is delivered to Nassau. Where a License involves Software which was previously licensed by Nassau, the License Effective Date for the additional licenses shall be deemed to be the date on which the Purchase Order is executed.

Material: Any information, design, specification, instruction, Software, data, or material furnished by Oracle and used by Nassau.

Ordering Document: The Oracle form, signed by both parties, that sets forth the Software and/or Services to be purchased, Software metrics, prices, discounts, and specific terms relevant to the purchase.

New Software Releases (Software Revisions): Any commercially released revisions to the licensed version of the Software as may be generally offered and available to Nassau, if current on technical support. New releases involve a substantial revision of functionality from a previously released version of the Software. Updates are provided when available, and Oracle is under no obligation to develop any future Software or functionality.

Proprietary: Created and / or owned by Oracle, which may be protected by confidentiality, secrecy, patent, copyright or trademark against commercial competition.

Purchase Order: Nassau's fiscal form or format that is used when making a purchase (e.g., formal written Purchase Order, electronic Purchase Order, or other authorized instrument).

Services: Technical support (also referred to as "Maintenance"), training, or Advanced Customer Services that Nassau purchases under this Agreement.

Site: The location (street address) where the Software will be used or Services delivered.

Software or Programs: Software acquired under the terms and conditions set forth in the Agreement. "Software" or "Programs" includes error corrections, upgrades, enhancements, new releases, and updates delivered to Oracle's current subscribers under Technical Support or Maintenance.

Source Code: The programming statements or instructions written and expressed in any language understandable by a human being skilled in the art which are translated by a language compiler to produce executable machine Object Code.

Supported Program License: Programs for which Oracle offers Technical Support.

Technical Support or Maintenance: Technical support services for the Software that are offered by Oracle under this Agreement.

Training: The services provided by Oracle University, as set forth in Exhibit 4.

II. SOFTWARE

Oracle shall provide the Programs in accordance with the following terms and conditions.

- A. License Scope: Following delivery of the Software, Nassau is granted a non-exclusive, non-assignable, royalty free, perpetual, limited right to use the Software ordered for its governmental and business operations subject to the terms of this Agreement, including the license definitions and rules and Documentation. For Software that is specifically designed to allow a third party to interact with Nassau in furtherance of Nassau's governmental or business operations, such use is allowed under this Agreement. Nassau may make a sufficient number of copies of the Software for its licensed use and one copy of each software media.
- B. Documentation: Documentation is delivered with the Software or Nassau may access the Documentation online at <http://oracle.com/contracts>. Oracle hereby grants to Nassau a perpetual license right to make, reproduce and distribute, either electronically or otherwise, copies of Documentation in accordance with the terms of the license, and the Documentation fully describes the proper procedure for using the Software.

C. Permitted License Transfers: Upon prior written notice to Oracle, the following license transfers are permitted under this Agreement, at no cost to Nassau, unless the license type specifically prohibits such a transfer:

1. Nassau may transfer Software internally within its own entity;
2. If Nassau is subject to a governmental reorganization or otherwise mandated by its governing body to convey any of its specific functions to another governmental entity, the Software used to support the conveyed functions may be transferred to the entity acquiring the transferred functions. The transferor must discontinue its use of the transferred Software.
3. If Nassau merges with another governmental entity, the Software acquired may be used by the merged entity.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to relieve Nassau or the transferee entity of the obligation to use the Software in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement and all applicable Ordering Documents placed hereunder, including, without limitation, limiting usage of the Software to the quantity and license type for which such software is licensed.

D. Restricted Use By Outsourcers / Facilities Management, Service Bureaus / or Other Third Parties: Outsourcers, facilities management, consultants and agents (collectively, "Agents") retained by Nassau shall have the limited right to use the Software to maintain Nassau's internal business operations subject to the terms of this Agreement, including data processing, for the time period that they are engaged in such activities, provided that Nassau is responsible for the compliance of its Agents with the terms and conditions of this Agreement and their use of the Software.

E. Archival Back-Up and Disaster Recovery Nassau shall be entitled to use and copy the Software and related Documentation for archival backup and disaster recovery and shall have the rights under "Cold", "Warm" or "Hot" Backup, as defined below, to initiate disaster recovery on such backup systems testing up to four times annually, up to two day per testing, at no charge other as set forth below:

1. "Cold Backup" is a backup copy of the Software, which is retained on Oracle's software media only. In the event of failure of a primary machine, Nassau may download the Software from Oracle's website or it may use the software media to load Oracle's Software on a second machine of Nassau of the same hardware/operating system combination. There is no additional fee for maintaining a Cold Backup.
2. "Warm Backup" is a backup copy of the Software, which is loaded on a machine, which is accessed for the processing of data and/or applications only in the event of a failure of the primary machine. In the event of a failure of the primary machine, the secondary machine is accessed and used to run the Software. There is no additional fee for maintaining a Warm Backup.

3. "Hot Backup" is a copy of the Software, which is loaded on a machine and operated simultaneously with the primary machine. No processing of data or applications takes place on the backup machine. In the event of a failure of the primary machine, all processing is switched to the backup machine in real time. The fee for a Hot Backup is 25% of the contract price of the primary license and/or technical support.

F. Confidentiality Restrictions: The Software is a trade secret, copyrighted and proprietary product of Oracle. Nassau and its employees will keep the Software strictly confidential, and Nassau will not disclose or otherwise distribute or reproduce any Software to anyone other than as authorized under the terms of Agreement. Nassau will not remove or destroy any proprietary markings or notice of Oracle's or its licensors' proprietary rights. Oracle or its licensors retain all ownership and intellectual property rights to the Software.

G. Restricted Use by Nassau: Except as expressly authorized by the terms of this Agreement, Nassau shall not:

1. Copy the Software;
2. Cause or permit reverse engineering (unless required by law for interoperability), disassembly or decompilation of the Software (the foregoing prohibition includes but is not limited to review of data structures or similar materials produced by the Software);
3. Make the Software or Materials resulting from Services available in any manner to any third party for use in the third party's business operations (unless such access is expressly permitted for the specific software license or Materials from the services acquired);
4. Export the Software in violation of any U.S. Department of Commerce export administration regulations;
5. Release benchmarking results: unless required by law or compelled by court order or subpoena, Nassau shall not disclose to third parties not authorized by it to implement or maintain its systems, results of any Software benchmark test without Oracle's prior written consent. The foregoing restriction shall not apply to benchmark results of non-Oracle software which accessed the Software or to benchmark results of an overall system, provided such results: (a) are released only as the benchmark results of such non-Oracle software or of the total system and (b) do not make any reference to Oracle Software. Nassau shall notify Oracle of requests for the release of benchmarking results under the New York State Freedom of Information Law (FOIL) or applications for court orders or subpoenas and give Oracle an opportunity to oppose disclosure.

H. Open Source Software: Open source software is developed independently of Oracle and may be governed by a separate license ("open source software"). If the open source software is governed by a separate license, Oracle shall provide a copy of that license in the applicable Documentation and Nassau's license rights and obligations with respect to that open source software shall be defined by those separate license terms and subject to the conditions, if any, therein. Nothing in this Agreement shall restrict, limit, or otherwise affect any rights or obligations Nassau may have, or conditions to which Nassau may be subject, under such separate open source license terms.

III. SOFTWARE DELIVERY

Oracle has made available to Nassau for electronic download at the electronic delivery web site located at the following Internet URL: <http://edelivery.oracle.com>. Through the Internet URL, Nassau can access and electronically download the Software and related Documentation. Provided that Nassau has continuously maintained technical support for the Software, Nassau may continue to download the software and related Documentation. Please be advised that not all programs are available on all hardware / operating system combinations. For current program availability please check the electronic delivery web site. Nassau acknowledges that Oracle's delivery obligation under this Agreement is met by the provision of the electronic delivery web site URL. Provided Nassau continuously maintains Technical Support, CD Packs for the Software provided under the Ordering Document may be ordered through the Oracle Store independent of this Agreement. If Nassau loses or damages the media containing a Program licensed here under, upon Nassau's written notice Oracle will provide a replacement copy thereof, for a media and shipping charge. The following shipping terms shall apply: FCA Shipping Point, Prepaid, and Add. These terms shall also apply to any options exercised by Nassau. Unless otherwise agreed to by Nassau and Oracle, Nassau shall be responsible for installation of the Software.

Nassau acknowledges that, unless otherwise provided for in this Agreement, it accepts sole responsibility for (i) its system configuration, design and requirements, (ii) the selection of the Programs to achieve its intended results, and (iii) modifications, changes or alterations to the Programs.

IV. SOFTWARE ACCEPTANCE

A. Unless otherwise provided by mutual agreement of Nassau and Oracle, Nassau shall have sixty (60) days from the date of delivery to accept all Software. Where Oracle is responsible for installation, acceptance shall be from completion of installation. Failure to provide notice of acceptance or rejection to Oracle by the end of the period provided for under this clause constitutes acceptance by Nassau as of the expiration of that period. Nassau may, in writing, waive the Acceptance Period, or any part thereof, at any time.

If Nassau rejects the Software, it shall (a) cease using the applicable Software, and (b) certify to Oracle that it has destroyed or has returned to Oracle the Software, Documentation and all copies. This requirement applies to copies in all forms, partial and complete, in all types of media and computer memory, and whether or not modified or merged into other materials.

Oracle may offer Nassau a free trial of the Software pursuant to (B) immediately below. If Nassau accepts such free trial license for the Software, the length of the trial shall count toward the sixty (60) day acceptance period and such trial license will grant to Nassau the right to examine the Software for at least sixty (60) days (unless the parties thereto agree otherwise). Upon the expiration of such period,

Nassau must either issue a Purchase Order to Oracle for purchase of the Software or portions thereof in accordance with this Agreement, or forthwith discontinue all use and return the Software to Oracle. Nassau shall be deemed to have tested the Software to its satisfaction and accepted the Software upon its issuance of the Purchase Order.

If any agreed trial license period is less than sixty (60) days, then in addition to the trial license period, Nassau shall have the number of days to accept the Software that is the difference between sixty (60) days and the length of the agreed trial license, provided Nassau notifies Oracle in writing of its intention to use such acceptance period at the time Nassau issues its Purchase Order. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this provision does not apply to purchases which merely increase the number of licenses for software previously acquired by Nassau ("incremental licenses"). Such incremental license purchases are accepted upon delivery.

- B. Trial Software. Nassau may order trial Software, or Oracle may include additional trial Software with the order which Nassau may use for trial, non-production purposes only. Nassau may not use the trial Software to provide or attend third party training on the content and/or functionality of the Software. Nassau has sixty (60) days from delivery to evaluate such trial Software. If it decides to use any of this trial Software after the sixty (60) day trial period, Nassau must obtain a license for such trial Software from Oracle. If it decides not to obtain a license for the trial Software after the sixty (60) day trial period, Nassau will cease using and will delete any such trial Software from its computer systems. Software licensed for trial purposes is provided "as is" and Oracle does not provide technical support or offer any warranties for these programs.

V. SERVICES

- A. Nassau may acquire Technical Support (maintenance), Advanced Customer Services, and Training, under this Agreement. The rates for the purchase of Advanced Customer Services and Training are set forth in Exhibits 3 and 4, respectively. The terms for the purchase of Technical Support are set forth in the Article immediately below and in the Technical Support policies attached as Exhibit 1.
- B. Upon payment for Services, Nassau will have a perpetual, non-exclusive, non-assignable, royalty free license to use for its internal business operations, anything developed by Oracle and delivered to Nassau. Nassau may allow its agents and contractors to use the deliverables for such purpose and Nassau is responsible for their compliance with this Agreement and the Ordering Document. Oracle retains ownership and all intellectual property rights to anything developed by it and delivered by it under the applicable Ordering Document resulting from the Services, except as stated in (C) immediately below.
- C. Advanced Customer Services ("ACS"). The only consulting services offered by Oracle under this Agreement are Advanced Customer Services ("ACS"). Oracle states that no development or customization work can be provided pursuant to the performance of the ACS.

To the extent that Oracle may produce incidental deliverables in the performance of ACS and following payment of all fees for the applicable ACS order: (a) the allocation of ownership and license rights to such incidental deliverables shall be the Joint Property (as defined below) of both Oracle and Nassau; and (b) Oracle grants to Nassau a non-exclusive, non-assignable, royalty free, perpetual, internal-use license to use Oracle Works (as defined below) that are embodied in the Joint Property.

1. "Incidental Deliverables" shall mean those deliverables developed by Oracle solely for Nassau in the performance of the applicable Ordering Document, except for any Oracle Works (as defined below).
2. "Oracle Works" shall mean: (a) anything provided by or on behalf of Oracle from a repository; (b) any software code generated by computer aided software engineering (CASE) tools; (c) any tools, interfaces, and utilities developed by or on behalf of Oracle; and (d) any derivative works of (a), (b), or (c) above. Nothing in this section shall be construed to grant, amend, or modify any license for any Software or Documentation owned or distributed by Oracle.
3. "Joint Property" shall mean the Incidental Deliverables which are those deliverables developed using ACS and shall be owned jointly by Oracle and Nassau; Joint Property does not include any Oracle Works (as defined above). Oracle and Nassau agree that each party jointly shall own the copyright interest in the Joint Property and that each party may freely use, share, license or sub-license the Joint Property without requiring the approval of the other party, and shall have no duty of accounting to the other party for use of the Joint Property.

Oracle retains all right, title and interest, including all copyrights, in any Oracle Works and Software. Any property or material furnished by Nassau to Oracle hereunder is and will remain the property of Nassau.

- D. At Nassau's request, Oracle shall provide Nassau with the resumes of all Oracle's employees, consultants, and subcontractors who shall perform Services at Nassau's site under this Agreement. Nassau shall have the right to conduct interviews, unless otherwise agreed to by the parties, of all such employees, consultants, or subcontractors provided such interview occurs before the commencement of Services by the relevant employees, consultants or subcontractors. Nassau shall have the right to reject assignment of any Oracle employee, consultant, or subcontractor to a particular Service by providing Oracle a reasonable and non-discriminatory basis for such rejection. This paragraph shall not apply to the provision of Technical Support Services.
- E. The Services provided under this Agreement may be related to Nassau's license to use Programs which it acquires under a separate order. The Agreement referenced in that order shall govern Nassau's use of such Programs. Any Services acquired from Oracle are bid separately from such Program licenses, and Nassau may acquire either Services or such Program licenses without acquiring the other.

VI. TECHNICAL SUPPORT & MAINTENANCE

- A. Technical Support consists of annual technical support services ordered by Nassau for the Software. Payment shall be due quarterly in arrears or as otherwise agreed to by the parties. If ordered, annual Technical Support (including first year and all subsequent years) is provided under Oracle's Technical Support Policies that are attached to this Agreement at the time the Services are ordered. The Technical Support Policies shall be updated annually by amendment to this Agreement. Nassau should review the Technical Support Policies prior to ordering the applicable services.

Technical support is effective upon the effective date of the Ordering Document unless otherwise stated therein. The effective date of an order is when the Ordering Document is fully signed and Oracle receives the Purchase Order; provided however, if the order is subject to an acceptance period, the effective date will be upon acceptance.

The Technical Support service level, which may also be referred to as Software Update License & Support, (or any successor technical support offering to Software Update License & Support, "SULS") acquired with Nassau's order may be renewed annually and, if Nassau renews SULS for the same number of licenses for the same Software, Nassau will be entitled to receive the caps on fee increases which are set forth in Exhibit 1.

If Nassau decides to purchase Technical Support for any Software within a license set, Nassau is required to purchase Technical Support at the same level for all Software within that license set. Nassau may desupport a subset of Software in a license set only if there is also agreement to terminate that subset of licenses. The Technical Support fees for the remaining licenses will be priced in accordance with the Technical Support Policies in effect at the time of termination. The applicable discount to be used in the event of support re-pricing is set forth in Exhibit 2. Oracle's license set definition is available in the Technical Support Policies. If Nassau decides not to purchase Technical Support, Nassau may not update any unsupported Software with new versions of the Software.

Technical Support term(s) and any renewal(s) thereof are independent of the expiration of this Agreement and will not automatically renew. Nassau may discontinue Technical Support at the end of any current Technical Support term. In the event that Nassau discontinues Technical Support of Software, it may, at any time thereafter, reinstate Technical Support for the Software without any additional penalties or other charges, by paying Oracle the amount which would have been due under the order for the period of time that such Technical Support had lapsed.

- B. Oracle's Technical Support offering, entitled "Lifetime Support", is comprised of the following:
- 1. Premier Support: Premier Support provides updates, fixes and security alerts; tax, legal, and regulatory updates; upgrade scripts; technical support; major product and technology releases, access to Oracle's Customer Service Website, and certification with new third-party products/versions.

2. Extended Support: Oracle may grant Nassau the right to acquire an additional three years of Extended Support. Extended Support provides updates, fixes and security alerts; tax, legal, and regulatory updates; upgrade scripts; technical support; access to its Customer Service Website; and major product and technology releases. Extended Support does not include certification with new third-party products/versions.
3. Sustaining Support: As an alternative to Extended Support, Oracle grants Nassau the right to acquire Sustaining Support for as long as it licenses the Software. Sustaining Support provides access to Oracle's Customer Service Support Website, pre-existing fixes, and major product and technology releases. Sustaining Support does not include Updates, fixes, and security alerts; Tax, legal, and regulatory updates; Certification with new third-party products/versions; and Certification with other Oracle products.

Additional information about Oracle's Lifetime Support offering may be found in the Technical Support Policies, attached as Exhibit 1.

C. Successor Products and Re-Named Programs.

1. Successor Products. If Oracle makes successor products available for Oracle's product lines ("New Software") that includes substantially similar functionality and features as a Program for which Nassau has purchased a Program License ("Old Software"), Oracle will provide Nassau with a migration path from the Old Software to the New Software and the right to use the New Software under this Agreement at no additional charge, provided that (i) Nassau is current on Technical Support for the Old Software; (ii) this right shall only apply to New Software that is available in production release status on the operating system identified by Nassau at the time of the request; and (iii) Oracle is currently making available, such migration path from the Old Software to the New Software to all of its other supported customers without additional charge.

If Oracle does not provide to all of its supported customers a migration path from the Old Software to the New Software free of additional charge, then Oracle will provide Nassau with the right to use only the functionality and features contained in the New Software that is substantially similar to the functionality and features contained in the Old Software. Nassau shall not have the right to use nor shall it use any additional functionality or features in such New Software. All use of New Software shall otherwise be subject to this Agreement.

2. Re-Named Programs. If any Program licensed under this Agreement ("Original Program") is re-named or divided into two or more separate Programs ("Re-Named Program") and the functionality of the Re-Named Program is and remains the same as the functionality of the Original Program, and Oracle makes such Re-Named Program generally available at no additional license fees to all of its customers who have maintained Technical Support for the Original Program, then Oracle shall provide the Re-Named Program to Nassau for no additional license fees, provided that the Re-Named Program is available in production release and that Nassau is current on Technical Support for the Original Program pursuant to Oracle's Technical Support Policies (or reinstated Technical Support for such Program pursuant to Oracle's then current Technical Support Policies).

In the event that Oracle offers successor or renamed programs, as referenced above, Oracle will notify Nassau of the affected Software to the same extent and in the same manner that it provides notification to its other supported customers of the affected Software. The parties acknowledge that Oracle offers Lifetime Support for many of its Programs; if Lifetime Support is offered for a Program, such Program is not deemed to be discontinued under the meaning of this section.

VII. SOURCE CODE

Oracle shall retain in escrow a copy of the source code necessary to support the Software (not including any Software for which source code is delivered with such Software). The escrowed material shall be maintained under an agreement which provides that if Oracle ceases to be in the business of supporting the Software, the escrow agent shall furnish Nassau with a copy of the escrowed material that has become unsupported. Nassau shall pay the escrow agent a nominal fee sufficient to cover the cost of reproduction and distribution of source materials, including reasonable administrative expenses thereto. Any escrowed material furnished under this provision shall be considered licensed subject to the terms of this Agreement and shall be used solely to maintain the Software. If Oracle replaces Iron Mountain Intellectual Property Management with a substitute escrow agent, Nassau will receive notice of the name and address of the substitute agent.

VIII. COMPENSATION / PAYMENTS / INVOICES

- A. Upon acceptance of Software or as otherwise provided by Agreement, Oracle may invoice for payment. The required payment date shall be thirty (30) calendar days, excluding legal holidays, from the receipt and approval by the County Comptroller of a proper invoice and County Claim Voucher, in accordance with paragraph B.
- B. All payment Invoices shall include, at a minimum, the following terms:
 - 1. Delivery on official form of Oracle;
 - 2. Name, Address and Remittance Address of Oracle if different from that contained in the introductory paragraph of this Agreement;
 - 3. Agreement Number;
 - 4. An executed County Claim Voucher detailing of the Programs or Services for which Oracle requests payment;
 - 5. Total amount to be invoiced.
- C. Oracle shall submit all payment Invoices to the designated payment office for this Agreement, which shall be, unless Oracle receives written notification to the contrary, the address listed in the first paragraph of this Agreement.
- D. The fees due under an Ordering Document signed by Nassau and Oracle shall be non-cancelable and the sums paid nonrefundable, except as expressly provided therein or in this Agreement.
- E. Nassau's signature on an Ordering Document referencing this Agreement and Nassau's issuance of a purchase order are its representations to Oracle that the purchase has been fully authorized and that all funds for the purchase have been fully appropriated.

- F. Nassau agrees that it has not relied on the future availability of any Programs or Updates in entering into the payment obligations arising under this Agreement; however, (a) if Nassau orders SULS for programs, the preceding sentence does not relieve Oracle of its obligation to provide Updates under this Agreement or the relevant Ordering Document, if-and-when available, in accordance with Oracle's then current Technical Support Policies, and (b) the preceding sentence does not change the rights granted to Nassau for any program licensed under this Agreement or the relevant Ordering Document, per the terms of this Agreement and/or the Ordering Document.
- G. Submission of an invoice and payment thereof shall not preclude Nassau from reimbursement or demanding a price adjustment where the billing was inaccurate. Oracle shall provide, upon request of Nassau, the information reasonably necessary to verify the accuracy of the billings. Such information shall be provided in the format reasonably requested by Nassau and in a media commercially available from Oracle.
- H. If Nassau is exempt from sales tax, Oracle will not invoice it for applicable sales tax provided a copy of a valid sales tax certificate of exemption is provided to Oracle on or before the effective date of this Agreement. Also, Nassau will reimburse Oracle for reasonable expenses related to providing the Services. Fees for Services listed in an Ordering Document are exclusive of taxes and expenses.

IX. WARRANTY

- A. Title and Ownership Warranty. Oracle warrants that it possesses (i) full ownership, clear title free of all liens, or (ii) the right to transfer or deliver perpetual or term license rights to the Software. Oracle shall be solely liable for its costs of acquisition of such ownership rights and/or clear title. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary in this Agreement, Article X(A), Intellectual Property Infringement Indemnification, of this Agreement states Nassau's exclusive remedy and Oracle's entire liability for any breach of this particular warranty.
- B. Software Warranty. Software offered shall be a current production release. Oracle warrants that the Software will perform in all material respects as described in the Documentation for eighteen (18) months from the date of acceptance. Nassau must notify Oracle of any Program warranty deficiency within eighteen (18) months after acceptance.

For Nassau's initial purchase of Software under this Agreement only, Oracle also warrants that the Software will perform in all material respects in accordance with Oracle's response to the functional and technical requirements attached as Exhibit 5 for eighteen (18) months from the date of acceptance. Nassau must notify Oracle of any Software warranty deficiency under this paragraph within eighteen (18) months year after acceptance of the initial purchase of the Software.

- C. Virus Warranty. Oracle represents and warrants that prior to delivery Oracle shall use commercially reasonable methods to test and protect the Software against viruses and other harmful elements designed to disrupt the orderly operation of, or impair the integrity of data files resident on, any data processing system. Oracle represents and warrants that it will not deliver Software that contains any known virus. Oracle will also maintain a master copy of the appropriate versions of the Software, free of viruses. If Nassau believes a virus may be present in the delivered Software, then upon its request, Oracle will provide a master copy to Nassau for comparison with and correction of its copy of the Software.
- D. Date/Time Warranty. Oracle represents that during the term of this Agreement, including any extension or renewal hereof, the Software shall, when used in accordance with the Program Documentation, be able to accurately process (including, but not limited to, calculating, comparing, and sequencing) date/time data transitions, including leap year and daylight savings time calculations.
- E. Services Warranty. Oracle warrants that the Services will be provided in a professional manner in accordance with industry standards. Nassau must notify Oracle of any Services warranty deficiencies within ninety (90) days from performance of the Service that gave rise to the warranty claim.
- F. Survival of Warranties. All warranties contained in this Agreement, which have not expired by their terms, shall survive the termination of this Agreement.
- G. NO IMPLIED WARRANTIES.
TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, THESE WARRANTIES ARE EXCLUSIVE AND THERE ARE NO OTHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS, INCLUDING WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.
- H. Oracle does not warrant or guarantee that the Software will be error free or operate without interruption or that Oracle will correct all Software errors. Oracle is not obliged to develop error corrections or updates for Nassau's benefit but, in the event such corrections or updates are made generally commercially available by Oracle at no additional charge, Oracle shall provide them to Nassau at no additional charge. Nassau acknowledges that the Software has not been prepared to meet its individual requirements; it is Nassau's responsibility to ensure that the facilities and functions described in its specification meet its requirements, and Nassau is solely responsible for results obtained from its use of the Software.
- I. EXCLUSIVE REMEDIES. FOR ANY BREACH OF THE WARRANTIES IN B, D AND E ABOVE, NASSAU'S EXCLUSIVE WARRANTY REMEDY, AND ORACLE'S ENTIRE WARRANTY LIABILITY, SHALL BE: (A) THE CORRECTION OF SOFTWARE ERRORS THAT CAUSE BREACH OF THE WARRANTY, OR IF ORACLE CANNOT SUBSTANTIALLY CORRECT SUCH BREACH IN A COMMERCIALY REASONABLE TIME AND MANNER, NASSAU MAY END ITS SOFTWARE LICENSE AND RECOVER THE FEES PAID TO ORACLE FOR THE SOFTWARE LICENSE; OR (B) THE REPERFORMANCE OF THE DEFICIENT SERVICES, OR IF ORACLE CANNOT SUBSTANTIALLY CORRECT A BREACH

IN A COMMERCIALY REASONABLE TIME AND MANNER, NASSAU MAY END THE RELEVANT SERVICES AND RECOVER THE FEES PAID TO ORACLE FOR THE DEFICIENT SERVICES.

X. INDEMNIFICATION AND LIABILITY

- A. Intellectual Property Infringement Indemnification. Oracle will also indemnify and hold Nassau harmless from and against any and all damages, expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), claims, judgments, liabilities and costs that may be finally assessed against Nassau in any action for infringement of a United States Letter Patent, or of any copyright, trademark, trade secret or other third party proprietary right based upon Materials provided to Nassau by Oracle and except to the extent such claims arise from Nassau's negligence or willful misconduct, provided that Nassau shall give Oracle: (i) prompt written notice of any action, claim or threat of infringement suit, or other suit, no later than 30 days after it receives notice of the claim (or sooner if required by law) (ii) sole control to settle or defend such action, claim or suit at Oracle's sole expense, and (iii) assistance in the defense of any such action at the expense of Oracle. Nassau reserves the right to join such action, at its sole expense, when it determines there is an issue involving a significant public interest.

If usage shall be enjoined for any reason or if Oracle believes that it may be enjoined, Oracle shall have the right, at its own expense and sole discretion: (i) to procure for Nassau the right to continue Usage (ii) to modify the material so that usage becomes non-infringing, while preserving its utility or functionality, or if these alternatives are not commercially reasonable, Oracle may terminate the license for, and require return of, the Material and refund any fees Nassau may have paid for it. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau if it alters the Material or uses it outside the scope of use identified in the Documentation or if Nassau uses a version of the Materials which has been superseded, to the extent the infringement claim could have been avoided by using an unaltered current version of the Material which was provided to Nassau and Nassau either has actual knowledge or is notified by Oracle to use such version due to a potential or existing infringement claim; any such notice will be in writing or, for any software licensed under this Agreement, may be posted at Oracle's customer support web site or included with a software update. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau to the extent that an infringement claim is based upon any information, design, specification, instruction, software, data, or material not furnished by Oracle. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau to the extent that an infringement claim is based upon the combination of any Material with any products or services not provided by Oracle except where such combinations are expressly specified by Oracle in the Documentation. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau for infringement caused by its actions against any third party if the Program(s) as delivered to Nassau and used in accordance with the terms of this Agreement would not otherwise infringe any third party intellectual property rights.

In the event that an action at law or in equity is commenced against Nassau arising out of a claim that Nassau's use of the Material under the Agreement infringes any patent, copyright or proprietary right, and Oracle is of the opinion that the allegations in such action in whole or in part are not covered by the indemnification and defense provisions set forth in the Agreement, Oracle shall promptly notify Nassau in writing and shall specify to what extent Oracle believes it is obligated to defend and indemnify under the terms and conditions of the Agreement. Oracle shall in such event attempt to secure a continuance to permit Nassau to appear and defend its interests in cooperation with Oracle, as is appropriate, including any jurisdictional defenses Nassau may have. This Article X(A) constitutes Nassau's sole and exclusive remedy for any infringement claims or damages.

B. Personal Injury / Property Damage Indemnification. Oracle shall be fully liable for any act or omission of Oracle, its employees, Subcontractors and agents, and shall fully indemnify and hold harmless Nassau from suits, actions, damages and costs of every name and description relating to personal injury and damage to real or tangible personal property caused by fault or negligence of Oracle, its employees, Subcontractors or agents arising from Oracle's performance of this Agreement, without limitation; provided, however, that Oracle shall not be obligated to indemnify Nassau for that portion of any claim, loss or damage arising hereunder due to the negligent act or failure to act of Nassau or the acts of third parties, other than those provided by Oracle to perform under the Agreement. In connection with the foregoing, Nassau shall give Oracle: (i) prompt written notice of any action, claim or threat of suit, (ii) the opportunity to take over, settle or defend such action, claim or suit at Oracle's sole expense, and (iii) assistance in the defense of any such action at the expense of Oracle. This paragraph does not apply to any claims arising from damage to "intangible personal property," which includes documentation, software, data or data files that are in electronic format.

C. Limitation on Liability. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE SET FORTH IN THE INDEMNIFICATION PARAGRAPHS ABOVE, THE LIMIT OF LIABILITY SHALL BE AS FOLLOWS:

- 1. ORACLE'S LIABILITY FOR ANY DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF, OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT, WHETHER IN CONTRACT, TORT OR OTHERWISE, SHALL IN NO CASE EXCEED DIRECT DAMAGES IN: (I) AN AMOUNT EQUAL TO TWO (2) TIMES THE CHARGES SPECIFIED IN THE PURCHASE ORDER FOR THE SOFTWARE AND SERVICES, OR PARTS THEREOF FORMING THE BASIS OF NASSAU'S CLAIM, (SAID AMOUNT NOT TO EXCEED A TOTAL OF TWELVE (12) MONTHS CHARGES PAYABLE UNDER THE APPLICABLE PURCHASE ORDER) OR (II) ONE MILLION DOLLARS ($1,000,000), WHICHEVER IS GREATER. NOTWITHSTANDING THE LIMITATION IN THE FIRST SENTENCE OF THIS PARAGRAPH (1), ORACLE'S LIABILITY TO NASSAU FOR DAMAGES RESULTING FROM THE WRONGFUL DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL DATA BY ORACLE IN ITS PERFORMANCE OF TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES IN BREACH OF ORACLE'S OBLIGATIONS UNDER ARTICLE XI(D) (CONFIDENTIALITY AND NON-DISCLOSURE) SHALL NOT EXCEED THE GREATER OF: (A) $1,000,000 OR (B) TWO TIMES THE FEES PAID BY NASSAU UNDER THIS AGREEMENT FOR TECHNICAL SUPPORT WITHIN THE TWO (2) YEARS IMMEDIATELY PRECEDING THE ACTION THAT GAVE RISE TO THE BREACH.

2. NOTWITHSTANDING THE ABOVE, NEITHER ORACLE OR NASSAU SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY CONSEQUENTIAL, INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, PUNITIVE OR SPECIAL DAMAGES OF ANY KIND, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, DAMAGES RESULTING FROM LOSS OF USE OR LOSS OF PROFIT BY NASSAU, ORACLE, OR BY OTHERS.

XI. CONFIDENTIALITY AND NON-DISCLOSURE

A. As used in this Section, "Disclosing Party" means Nassau when disclosing its Confidential Information (defined below) to Oracle, or Oracle when disclosing its Confidential Information to Nassau, and "Receiving Party" means Nassau when receiving disclosure of Confidential Information from Oracle, or Oracle when receiving disclosure of Confidential Information from Nassau. "Confidential Information" means all confidential information disclosed by a party (the "Disclosing Party") to the other party (the "Receiving Party") after the effective date of this Agreement including, without limitation, information relating to the Disclosing Party's operations, processes, plans or intentions, know-how, design rights, trade secrets or business affairs. Confidential Information shall be clearly marked as "confidential," "proprietary," "restricted" or some similar designation. Except as provided in this Agreement and specifically in Article XI(B) hereunder, the Receiving Party further agrees that any Confidential Information obtained by the Receiving Party from the Disclosing Party, its agents, subcontractors, officers, or employees in the course of performing its obligations, including without limitation, security procedures, business operations information, or commercial proprietary information in the possession of the Disclosing Party hereunder, will not be divulged to any third parties. Nassau acknowledges that the Source Code to the Software and the Documentation are Confidential Information of Oracle.

B. The Receiving Party:

- 1. may not use any Confidential Information for any purpose other than in accordance with, and in the performance of, its obligations under this Agreement;
- 2. may not disclose any Confidential Information to any person except with the prior written consent of the Disclosing Party or in accordance with Section C; and
- 3. shall make every reasonable effort to prevent the use or disclosure, other than as expressly permitted herein, of Confidential Information.

C. The Receiving Party may disclose information, which would otherwise be Confidential Information if and to the extent that:

- 1. it is required by law (such as the New York State Freedom of Information Law);
- 2. the information has come into the public domain, otherwise than through (a) a breach of this Clause by the Receiving Party, (b) a third party's breach of any duty of confidentiality owed to the Disclosing Party of which the Receiving Party was aware, or (c) a violation of law;

3. it was in the Receiving Party's lawful possession prior to the disclosure and had not been obtained by the Receiving Party either directly or indirectly from the Disclosing Party;
4. it is required by existing contractual obligations of which the Disclosing Party is aware;
5. it is independently developed by the Receiving Party without reliance on the Confidential Information;
6. It is required by any securities exchange or regulatory or governmental body to which it is subject or by judicial process;
7. It is otherwise obtained under the Freedom of Information Law or other applicable New York State laws or regulations; or
8. the disclosure is to its professional advisers, auditors or banker; or to any of its directors, other officers, employees and subcontractors (a "Recipient") to the extent that disclosure is reasonably necessary for the purposes of this Agreement.

D. In addition to the foregoing, Nassau represents that it has certain obligations with regard to the use and protection of Personal Data. "Personal Data" means non-public, personally identifiable information of Nassau's employees or citizenry. Oracle will not store, maintain or process any Personal Data on Nassau's behalf connection with the provision of programs, related technical support and other services under the Agreement. Any access by Oracle to Personal Data will be incidental to the software and related services provided by Oracle to Nassau. Nassau agrees that it will endeavor not to unnecessarily provide any Personal Data to Oracle under the Agreement. To the extent that Oracle has any incidental access to Personal Data in providing its Software and services to Nassau, Oracle agrees that (1) it shall not disclose or use Personal Data except to the extent reasonably required to carry out its obligations under the Agreement; and (2) it shall maintain appropriate information security measures to protect such Personal Data from unauthorized disclosure or use. The obligations set forth in this paragraph shall survive termination of this Agreement.

XII. BREACH

- A. Breach, Generally. If either party breaches a material term of this Agreement and fails to correct the breach within 30 days of written specification of the breach, then the breaching party is in default and the non-breaching party may terminate this Agreement, subject to the Dispute Resolution process set forth in the Article immediately below.
- B. Failure to Make Payment. In the event Nassau fails to make payment to Oracle for Software or Services delivered and accepted, and invoiced as set forth herein, within thirty (30) days of such delivery and acceptance, Oracle may, upon 10 days advance written notice to Nassau's purchasing official, suspend additional shipments of Software or provision of Services to Nassau until such time as reasonable arrangements have been made and assurances given by such entity for current and future payments. If the breach is for the failure to pay for Software and the breach continues unabated, upon written notice of termination, Oracle may terminate

Nassau's license for the unpaid-for Software. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Oracle shall, at least 10 days prior to declaring a breach of contract by Nassau, by certified or registered mail, notify the purchasing official of Nassau of the specific facts, circumstances and grounds upon which a breach will be declared. It is understood, however, that if Oracle's basis for declaring a breach is insufficient, Oracle's declaration of breach and failure to service Nassau shall constitute a breach of its Agreement and Nassau may thereafter seek any remedy available at law or equity.

C. Remedies for Breach. It is understood and agreed that all rights and remedies afforded below shall be in addition to all remedies or actions otherwise authorized or permitted by law, except where expressly limited in this Agreement:

1. Cover/Substitute Performance. In the event of Oracle's material, uncured breach, Nassau may, with or without formally bidding: (i) purchase from other sources; or (ii) if Nassau is unsuccessful after making reasonable attempts, under the circumstances then existing, to timely obtain acceptable service or acquire replacement software of equal or comparable quality, Nassau may acquire acceptable replacement software of lesser or greater quality. Such purchases may, in the discretion of Nassau, be deducted from the Agreement quantity and payments due Oracle.
2. Withhold Payment. In any case where a reasonable question of material non-performance by Oracle arises, payment may be withheld in whole or in part at the discretion of Nassau.
3. Bankruptcy. In the event that Oracle files a petition under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code during the term of this Agreement, Nassau may, at its discretion, make application to exercise its right to set-off against monies due the Debtor or, under the Doctrine of Recoupment, credit Nassau the amounts owed by Oracle arising out of the same transactions.
4. Reimbursement of Costs Incurred. Oracle agrees to reimburse Nassau promptly for any and all additional costs incurred for acquiring acceptable services, and/or replacement software. Should the cost of cover be less than the price charged under this Agreement, Oracle shall have no claim to the difference.
5. Deduction/Credit. Sums due as a result of these remedies may be deducted or offset by Nassau from payments due, or to become due, Oracle on the same or another transaction. If no deduction or only a partial deduction is made in such fashion Oracle shall pay to Nassau the amount of such claim or portion of the claim still outstanding, on demand.

XIII. DISPUTE RESOLUTION

- A. In the event there is a dispute or controversy under this Agreement, the parties agree to exercise their best efforts to resolve the dispute as soon as possible. The parties shall, without delay, continue to perform their respective obligations under this Agreement, which are not affected by the dispute.
- B. In the event Nassau is dissatisfied with Oracle's Software or Services provided under this Agreement, Nassau shall notify Oracle in writing. In the event Oracle has any disputes with Nassau, Oracle shall so notify Nassau in writing. If either party notifies the other of such dispute or controversy, the other party shall then make good faith efforts to solve the problem or settle the dispute amicably, including meeting with the party's representatives to attempt diligently to reach a satisfactory result.

- C. If negotiation between such persons fails to resolve any such dispute to the satisfaction of the parties within 14 business days or as otherwise agreed to by the parties, of such notice, then the matter shall be submitted to Nassau's senior county executive and Oracle's senior officer of the rank of Vice President or higher as its representative. Such representatives shall meet in person and shall attempt in good faith to resolve the dispute within the next 14 business days or as otherwise agreed to by the parties. This meeting must be held before either party may seek any other method of dispute resolution, including judicial or governmental resolutions. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Article shall not be construed to prevent either party from seeking and obtaining temporary equitable remedies, including injunctive relief.
- D. Oracle shall extend the dispute resolution period for so long as Nassau continues to make reasonable efforts to cure the breach, except with respect to disputes about the breach of payment of fees or infringement of its or its licensors' intellectual property rights.
- E. This Article XIII does not apply to any breach by Nassau of Oracle's or its licensor's intellectual property rights.

XIV. TERMINATION

The following termination provisions are subject to the Dispute Resolution provision, to terms of the Technical Support Policies, and other provisions of this Agreement. Termination under this Article does not relieve Nassau of its obligation to pay for Programs or Services delivered by Oracle under this Agreement.

- A. For Cause: For a material breach that remains uncured for more than thirty (30) days or other specified period after written notice to Oracle, the Agreement or Purchase Order may be terminated by Nassau at Oracle's expense where Oracle becomes unable or incapable of performing, or meeting any requirements or qualifications set forth in the Agreement, or for non-performance, or upon a determination that Oracle is non-responsible. Such termination shall be upon written notice to Oracle. In such event, Nassau may complete the contractual requirements in any manner it may deem advisable and pursue available legal or equitable remedies for breach. If the Agreement is terminated pursuant to this subdivision, Nassau shall remain liable for all accrued but unpaid fees and charges incurred through the date of the termination.
- B. For Convenience: By written notice, this Agreement may be terminated at any time by Nassau for convenience upon sixty (60) days written notice or other specified period without penalty or other early termination charges due. Such termination of the Agreement shall not affect any Purchase Order that has been issued under the Agreement prior to the date of such termination. If the Agreement is terminated pursuant to this subdivision, Nassau shall remain liable for all accrued but unpaid charges incurred through the date of the termination. Oracle shall use due diligence and provide any outstanding deliverables.

XV. FORCE MAJEURE

A force majeure occurrence is an event or effect that cannot be reasonably anticipated or controlled. Force majeure includes, but is not limited to, acts of God, acts of war, acts of public enemies, strikes, fires, explosions, actions of the elements, floods, or other similar causes beyond the control of Nassau or Oracle in the performance of the Agreement which non-performance, by exercise of reasonable diligence, cannot be prevented. Oracle shall provide Nassau with written notice of any force majeure occurrence as soon as the delay is known.

Neither Nassau nor Oracle shall be liable to the other for any delay in or failure of performance under the Agreement due to a force majeure occurrence. Any such delay in or failure of performance shall not constitute default or give rise to any liability for damages. The existence of such causes of such delay or failure shall extend the period for performance to such extent as determined by Oracle or Nassau to be necessary to enable complete performance by Oracle if reasonable diligence is exercised after the cause of delay or failure has been removed.

If such event continues for more than 90 days, either party may cancel unperformed Services upon written notice. This section does not excuse either party's obligation to take reasonable steps to follow its normal disaster recovery procedures or Nassau's obligation to pay for Software delivered or Services provided.

XVI. AUDIT OF SOFTWARE USAGE

Upon 45 days written notice, Oracle may audit Nassau's use of the Software. Oracle agrees not to audit Nassau's use more frequently than once annually. Nassau agrees to cooperate with Oracle's audit and provide reasonable assistance and access to information during its normal business hours. Nassau shall be entitled to designate a representative who shall be entitled to participate in such audit. Nassau agrees that Oracle shall not be responsible for any of Nassau's reasonable costs incurred in cooperating with the audit.

Oracle shall provide Nassau with a report of any such audit, and Nassau shall have the right to provide a written response to the report to Oracle. All such audit reports and responses to such audit reports shall be considered confidential and subject to the non-disclosure obligations in this Agreement. In the event such audit discloses that Nassau exceeds the scope of the permissible use of the licenses for the Software, Nassau agrees to immediately cease its impermissible use of such Software. To continue its use of such licenses, Nassau agrees to pay within thirty (30) days of the receipt of written notification and provision of an invoice.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Nassau in good faith provides Oracle with written notice of an alleged error in the amount of underpaid fees reported in the audit and agrees to pay any amounts not in dispute, Nassau may invoke the Dispute Resolution Process provided in Article XIII of this Agreement. If Nassau pays the undisputed amounts and provides the aforementioned notice of error, Nassau is not obligated to cease its alleged impermissible use of the Software during the Dispute Resolution process. During the Dispute Resolution process, Oracle agrees not to terminate the Software or any associated Technical Support services, nor commence formal proceedings for the judicial resolution of such dispute, except for the seeking of equitable relief, until an amicable resolution of the dispute through continued negotiation of the matter at issue does not appear likely.

XVII. POLICIES AND SECURITY

In performing this Agreement, Oracle warrants, covenants and represents that it will comply fully with Nassau's rules, procedures and protocols ("Procedures"), including but not limited to physical, facility, documentary, information security and cyber security, provided that such Procedures do not violate any state, local or federal law. Nassau shall make available the relevant Procedures and Oracle shall be responsible for distributing to its representatives and assessing and ensuring compliance. If any part of the Procedures should violate Oracle's Code of Ethics and Business Conduct or Oracle is otherwise unable to comply, Oracle shall notify Nassau in writing. Nassau shall be responsible for acquiring the necessary approvals for the waiver from the entity that issued the Procedure. Oracle and Nassau agree that the Procedures do not modify or amend the other terms and conditions of the Agreement.

XVIII. MISCELLANEOUS

- A. Cooperation Between Contractors. Oracle shall be responsible for fully cooperating with any third party, including but not limited to other contractors or subcontractors of Nassau, as necessary to ensure delivery of Software or coordination of performance of Services.
- B. Independent Contractors. It is understood and agreed that the legal status of Oracle, its agents, officers and employees under this Agreement is that of an independent contractor, and in no manner shall they be deemed employees of Nassau, and therefore are not entitled to any of the benefits associated with such employment. Oracle agrees, during the term of this Agreement, to maintain at Oracle's expense those benefits to which its employees would otherwise be entitled by law, including health benefits, and all necessary insurance for its employees, including worker's compensation, disability and unemployment insurance, and to provide Nassau with certification of such insurance upon request. Oracle remains responsible for all applicable federal, state and local taxes, and all FICA contributions.
- C. No Hard Stop / Passive License Monitoring. Unless Nassau is otherwise specifically advised to the contrary in writing at the time of order and prior to purchase, Oracle hereby warrants and represents that either: (1) the Software and all Updates do not and will not contain any computer code that would disable the Software or Updates or impair in any way its operation based on the elapsing of a period of time, exceeding an authorized number of copies, advancement to a particular date or other numeral, or other similar self-destruct mechanisms (sometimes referred to as "time bombs," "time locks," or "drop dead" devices) or that would permit Oracle to access the Software to cause such disablement or impairment (sometimes referred to as a "trap door" device); or (2) if the Software or Updates does contain any such computer code, such computer code shall not be enabled. Oracle agrees that in the event of a breach or alleged breach of this provision, Nassau may seek a temporary restraining order, injunction, or other form of equitable relief against the continuance of such breach, in addition to any and all remedies to which Nassau shall be entitled.

- D. Proof of License. The fully signed Ordering Document, Nassau's corresponding Purchase Order and payment of Oracle's invoice shall serve as Nassau's proof of License.
- E. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is deemed invalid or unenforceable, such determination shall have no effect on the balance of the Agreement, which shall be enforced and interpreted as if such provision was never included in the Agreement.
- F. Entire Agreement and Modification of Agreement Terms. This Agreement and the referenced appendices constitute the entire agreement between the parties thereto and no statement, promise, condition, understanding, inducement or representation, oral or written, expressed or implied, which is not contained herein shall be binding or valid, and the Agreement shall not be changed, modified or altered in any manner except by an instrument in writing executed by both parties hereto. No preprinted terms or conditions on a Purchase Order issued by Nassau, which seek to vary the terms of this Agreement or impose new duties or obligations on Oracle, shall have any force or effect.
- G. Assignments and Mergers, Acquisitions, Divestitures. Upon notice to Oracle, the Agreement may be assigned without the consent of Oracle to another Nassau subdivision pursuant to a governmental reorganization or assignment of functions under which the functions are transferred to a successor entity that assumes Nassau's responsibilities for the Agreement. If Nassau grants a security interest in the Programs and/or any Services deliverables, the secured party has no right to use or transfer the Programs and/or any Services deliverables, and if Nassau decides to finance an acquisition of the programs and/or any services, it will follow Oracle's policies regarding financing which are at <http://oracle.com/contracts>. Except in the event of a merger, consolidation, acquisition, internal restructuring, or sale of all or substantially all of the assets of Oracle, Oracle may not assign this Agreement without Nassau's prior written consent. Oracle's obligation to perform under this Agreement shall not be affected or impaired by any reorganization, consolidation or merger to which Oracle is, or may become, a party.
- H. Press Releases / Publicity. Oracle shall obtain the prior written approval of Nassau relative to the Agreement for press or other media releases.
- I. UCITA. The Uniform Computer Information Transactions Act does not apply to this Agreement or orders placed under it.
- J. Legal Compliance. Oracle represents it will pay at its sole expenses for all applicable permits, licenses, tariffs, tolls and fees and that it shall secure all notices and comply with all laws, ordinances, rules and regulations of any governmental entity applicable to the performance of obligations under the Agreement or seek waiver therefrom. Prior to award and during the Agreement term and any renewals thereof, Oracle must establish to the satisfaction of Nassau that it meets or exceeds all requirements of the Agreement and any applicable laws, including but not limited to, permits, insurance coverage, licensing, and proof of coverage for workers' compensation, and shall provide such proof as required by Nassau. Failure to comply or failure to provide proof may constitute grounds for Nassau to cancel or suspend the Agreement, in whole or in part or to take any other action deemed necessary by Nassau.

- K. Captions. The captions contained in this Agreement are intended for convenience and reference purposes only and shall in no way be deemed to define or limit any provision thereof.
- L. Governing Law. This procurement, the resulting contract and any purchase orders issued hereunder shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York except where the Federal supremacy clause requires otherwise, and actions or proceedings arising from the contract shall be heard in a court of competent jurisdiction in the State of New York.
- M. Order of Precedence. The documents comprising this Agreement shall have the following order of precedence: (1) Appendix A; (2) Ordering Document(s); (3) this Agreement; and (4) all other exhibits.

XIX. NASSAU SPECIFIC LAWS, ORDINANCES, REQUIREMENTS

A. Insurance.

1. Types and Amounts. Oracle shall obtain and maintain throughout the term of this Agreement, at its own expense: (i) one or more policies for commercial general liability insurance, which policy(ies) shall name "Nassau County" as an additional insured and have a minimum single combined limit of liability of not less than two million dollars ($2,000,000) per occurrence and four million dollars ($4,000,000) aggregate coverage, (ii) compensation insurance for the benefit of Oracle's employees ("Workers' Compensation Insurance"), which insurance is in compliance with the New York State Workers' Compensation Law, and (iii) such additional insurance, including, without limitation, builder's all risk, if applicable, automobile liability insurance and umbrella liability insurance, as Nassau may from time to time specify.
2. Acceptability; Deductibles; Subcontractors. All insurance obtained and maintained by Oracle pursuant to this Agreement shall be (i) written by one or more commercial insurance carriers licensed or authorized to do business in New York State and acceptable to Nassau; and (ii) in form and substance acceptable to Nassau. Oracle shall be solely responsible for the payment of all deductibles to which such policies are subject. Oracle shall require any subcontractor hired in connection with this Agreement to carry insurance with the same limits and provisions required to be carried by Oracle under this Agreement.
3. Delivery; Coverage Change; No Inconsistent Action. Prior to the execution of this Agreement, copies of current certificates of insurance evidencing the insurance coverage required by this Agreement shall be delivered to the Nassau County Attorney's Office. Not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date of any expiration or renewal of, or actual, proposed or threatened reduction or cancellation of coverage under, any insurance required hereunder, Oracle shall provide written notice to the Nassau County Attorney's Office of the same and deliver to Nassau County Attorney's Office renewal or replacement certificates of insurance. Oracle shall cause all insurance to remain in full force and effect throughout the term of this Agreement and shall not take any action, or omit to take any action, which would suspend or invalidate any of the required coverages. The failure of Oracle to maintain Workers' Compensation Insurance shall render this contract void and of no effect. The failure of Oracle to maintain the other required coverages shall be deemed a material breach of this Agreement upon which Nassau reserves the right to consider this Agreement terminated as of the date of such failure.

- B. No Arrears or Default. Oracle is not in arrears to Nassau upon any debt or contract and it is not in default as surety, contractor, or otherwise upon any obligation to Nassau, including any obligation to pay taxes to, or perform services for or on behalf of, Nassau.
- C. Nassau County Living Wage Law. Pursuant to LL 12006, as amended, and to the extent that a waiver has not been obtained in accordance with such law or any rules of the County Executive, with respect to Services provided to Nassau which are performed within the United States, Oracle agrees as follows:
1. Oracle shall comply with the applicable requirements of the Living Wage Law, as amended;
 2. Failure to comply with the Living Wage Law, as amended, may constitute a material breach of this Agreement, the occurrence of which shall be determined solely by the County. Oracle has the right to cure such breach within thirty days of receipt of notice of breach from Nassau. In the event that such breach is not timely cured, Nassau may terminate this Agreement as well as exercise any other rights available to Nassau under applicable law.
 3. It shall be a continuing obligation of Oracle to inform Nassau of any material changes in the content of its certification of compliance, attached as Exhibit 6, and shall provide to Nassau any information necessary to maintain the certification's accuracy.
- C. Administrative Service Charge. Oracle agrees to pay Nassau an administrative service charge of five hundred and thirty-three dollars ($533.00) for the processing of this Agreement pursuant to Ordinance Number 741979, as amended by Ordinance Number 1282006.
- D. Executory Clause. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement:
1. Approval and Execution. Nassau shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to Oracle unless:
 - (i) all Nassau approvals have been obtained, including, if required, approval by the Nassau County Legislature, and

- (ii) this Agreement has been executed by the Nassau.
2. Availability of Funds: Nassau shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to Oracle beyond funds appropriated or otherwise lawfully available for this Agreement, and, if any portion of the funds for this Agreement are from the State and/or federal governments, then beyond funds available to Nassau from the State and/or federal governments. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (a) Nassau agrees to pay for all Software ordered and Services performed by Oracle prior to Oracle's receipt of Nassau's notice of the unavailability of funding or appropriations and (b) Nassau's issuance of a Purchase Order to Oracle is its representation to Oracle that funds for that purchase have been fully appropriated and are presently available.

XX. NOTICES

If Nassau has a dispute with Oracle or if Nassau wishes to provide a notice under the Indemnification section of this Agreement, or if Nassau becomes subject to insolvency or other similar legal proceedings, it will promptly send written notice to: Oracle USA, Inc., 500 Oracle Parkway, Redwood City, California, USA, Attention: General Counsel, Legal Department.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement.

B. General Terms

1. Commencement Date

All program licenses and the period of performance for all services are effective upon shipment of tangible media or upon the effective date of this ordering document if shipment of tangible media is not required.

2. Fees, Invoicing, and Payment Obligation

a. All fees due under this ordering document shall be non-cancelable and the sums paid nonrefundable, except as provided in the agreement.

b. In entering into payment obligations under this ordering document, you agree and acknowledge that you have not relied on the future availability of any program or updates. However, (a) if you order technical support for programs licensed under this ordering document, the preceding sentence does not relieve Oracle of its obligation to provide such technical support under this ordering document, if and when available, in accordance with Oracle's then current technical support policies, and (b) the preceding sentence does not change the rights granted to you for any program licensed under this ordering document, per the terms of this ordering document and the agreement.

c. In accordance with the agreement: (i) license fees are invoiced as of the commencement date; and (ii) service fees are invoiced after the performance of the service; specifically, technical support fees are invoiced quarterly in arrears from the commencement date.

d. In addition to the fees listed in section A, Oracle will invoice you for any applicable shipping charges or applicable taxes.

3. Delivery and Installation

a. You shall be responsible for installation of the software.

b. Oracle has made available to you for electronic download at the electronic delivery web site located at the following Internet URL: <http://edelivery.oracle.com> the programs listed in section A. Through the Internet URL, you can access and electronically download to your location the software and related documentation for each program listed in section A. Provided that you have continuously maintained technical support for the programs listed in section A, you may continue to download the software and related program documentation for the programs listed in section A. Please be advised that not all programs are available on all hardware/operating system combinations. For current program availability please check the electronic delivery web site. You acknowledge that Oracle's delivery obligation under this ordering document is met by the provision of the electronic delivery web site URL.

4. Source Code

Oracle may deliver source code as part of its standard delivery for particular programs; all source code delivered by Oracle is subject to the terms of the agreement, ordering document and program documentation.

5. Segmentation

The program licenses provided in this ordering document are offered separately from any other proposal for consulting services you may receive or have received from Oracle and do not require you to purchase Oracle consulting services.

6. Order of Precedence

In the event of any inconsistencies between the agreement and this ordering document, this ordering document shall take precedence.

7. Customer Reference

In consideration of the discounts granted to you under this ordering document, Oracle may refer to you as a customer in sales presentations, marketing vehicles and activities. In addition you agree to become part of Oracle's reference program by working with a representative from Oracle Marketing to develop a customer profile for use on Oracle.com and for other promotional activities at Oracle's discretion. The profile will include a quote from an executive of your organization and your organization's logo.

8. Territory

The program licenses and services described in section A are for use in the U.S.

9. Limited Use Programs

The programs listed in section A-4 are limited use programs and may be used only with the programs listed in section A.1, section A.2 and section A.3.

10. Technical Support Cap

Software Update License & Support (or any successor technical support offering to Software Update License & Support, "SULS") acquired with your order may be renewed annually and, if you renew SULS for the same number of licenses for the same programs, for the first, second, third and fourth renewal years, the fee for SULS will not increase over the prior year's fee. If you renew SULS for the same number of licenses for the same programs for the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth or ninth renewal year, the fee for SULS will not increase by more than three percent (3%) over the prior year's fees.

C. Future Purchases

1. Expansion

a. If you exceed your licensed quantity you must order the programs (and first year Software Update License & Support for the programs) at the appropriate license and support fees specified on the attached Expansion Exhibit. The number of additional program licenses to be ordered shall be equal to the actual dollar amount of Enterprise $M of Operating Budget listed in section A.1 and/or the actual number of Enterprise Employees listed in section A.2 as of the order date less the total number of licensed quantity (under this ordering document or other ordering documents) rounded up to the next increment on the attached Expansion Exhibit.

b. The license definitions and program specific terms contained in section D of this ordering document will apply to program licenses ordered pursuant to this section.

c. Oracle has no delivery obligation for program licenses ordered pursuant to this section.

D. Enterprise Application Specific Terms

1. Enterprise $M Operating Budget

$M Operating Budget is defined as one million US Dollars of your gross budget reflected in an audited statement from your external accounting firm.

2. Applicable to programs with the license type of Enterprise $M Operating Budget

The value of these program licenses is determined by the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget. For these program licenses, the licensed quantity purchased must, at a minimum, be equal to the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget as of the effective date of your order. If at any time the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget exceeds the licensed quantity, you are required to order additional licenses (and technical support for such additional licenses) such that the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget is equal to or less than the licensed quantity. You are not entitled to any refund, credit or other consideration of any kind if there is a reduction in the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget. In addition, each year 90 days before the anniversary date (defined as the day and month of the ordering document effective date), you are required to report to Oracle the number of Enterprise $M Operating Budget as of such date.

3. Enterprise Employee

Enterprise Employee is defined as all of your full-time, part-time, temporary employees and all of your agents, contractors and consultants. The quantity of the licenses required is determined by the number of Enterprise Employees and not the actual number of users. In addition, if you elect to outsource any business function(s) to another company, all of the company's full-time, part-time, temporary employees and agents, contractors and consultants that are providing the outsourcing services for you must be counted for the purposes of determining the number of Enterprise Employees.

4. Applicable to programs with the license type of Enterprise Employee

The value of these program licenses is determined by the number of Enterprise Employees. For these program licenses, the licensed quantity purchased must, at a minimum, be equal to the number of Enterprise Employees as of the effective date of your order. If at any time the number of Enterprise Employees exceeds the licensed quantity, you are required to order additional licenses (and technical support for such additional licenses) such that the number of Enterprise Employees is equal to or less than the licensed quantity. You are not entitled to any refund, credit or other consideration of any kind if there is a reduction in the number of Enterprise Employees. In addition, each year 90 days before the anniversary date (defined as the day and month of the ordering document effective date), you are required to report to Oracle the number of Enterprise Employees as of such date.

5. Archival Back-Up and Disaster Recovery

The last sentence of Article II, Section E.3 of the agreement shall not apply to the programs listed in sections A.1, A.2 and A.3 of this ordering document.

F. Program Specific Terms for the Peoplesoft Product Lines

1. License Grant

Oracle grants to you a non-exclusive, nontransferable license for your UPK Developer(s) to: (i) use those User Productivity Kit ("UPK") products listed in Section A (collectively referred to as "materials") only as necessary to create and provide training solely for UPK to use the underlying programs for your benefit; (ii) make an unlimited number of copies of the materials only as necessary to create and provide training solely to UPK to use the underlying programs for your benefit; and (iii) develop modifications and customizations to the UPK programs licensed per UPK Module, if applicable, all subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the agreement, provided all copyright notices are reproduced as provided on the original. You are prohibited from reselling or distributing the materials to any other party or using the materials other than as explicitly permitted in this ordering document or in the agreement. Oracle represents that the materials and any content created by you using the program materials contain valuable proprietary information. Oracle (or its third-party program providers) retains title to all portions of the materials and any copies thereof. You shall use materials modifications created by you solely for your internal use in accordance with the terms of the agreement. You may provide access to and use of the materials only to those third parties that are licensed as UPK Users and that: (a) provide services to you concerning your use of the materials; (b) have a need to use and access the materials; and (c) have agreed to substantially similar non-disclosure obligations imposed by you as those contained in the agreement. NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING IN THE AGREEMENT TO THE CONTRARY, PROGRAMS LICENSED PER UPK MODULE ARE PROVIDED "AS IS" AND ARE PROVIDED WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND.

1. UPK Materials

For UPK content materials licensed under this ordering document, you represent and warrant that you have a valid license for the underlying program(s). All content materials are published in English language only.

2. UPK Module

UPK Module is defined as the functional software component described in the product documentation.

3. Included Programs - Crystal Reports for PeopleSoft Enterprise

This program is a third party program and it is also a supportable program. "Unlimited users" for purposes of this program means all users who are authorized by you to use such program. You may use this third party program solely in conjunction with PeopleSoft Enterprise programs licensed by you.

4. Included Programs - Crystal Enterprise/BusinessObjects Enterprise for PeopleSoft Enterprise

You acknowledge that this program requires a web application server. This third party program is a supportable program. A "concurrent access license" is a license for one person to access all features and functions of this program. A concurrent access license user is accessing the program from the time the concurrent access license user logs onto the program until the concurrent access license user exits or closes the program. You may use this third party program solely in conjunction with PeopleSoft Enterprise programs licensed by you.

5. Included Programs - WebSphere

Notwithstanding anything in the agreement to the contrary, Oracle shall not be obligated to indemnify you for any claims based on: (i) any third party products identified in the "README" AND "LICENSE.TXT" files included with WebSphere; (ii) open source code delivered with the WebSphere product; (iii) any trade secret embodied within WebSphere; and (iv) the combination, operation or use of WebSphere with any non-International Business Machine Corporation product, data, or apparatus. In addition to the terms set forth in the agreement and this ordering document, use of this program shall be subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the "README" and "LICENSE.TXT" files included with the WebSphere program, as those terms may change from time to time. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary: (a) source code is not included for this program and (b) this third party program is a supportable program.

By signing below, the parties agree that the agreement and this ordering document constitute the entire agreement between the parties with regard to the subject matter herein and as such, no other preprinted, non-negotiated or other terms and conditions, on the customer's purchase order or elsewhere, shall apply. The offer is valid through 30-NOV-2008 and shall become binding upon execution by you and acceptance by Oracle.

STANDARD CLAUSES FOR NYS CONTRACTS

The parties to the attached contract, license, lease, amendment or other agreement of any kind (hereinafter, "the contract" or "this contract") agree to be bound by the following clauses which are hereby made a part of the contract (the word "Contractor" herein refers to any party other than the State, whether a contractor, licenser, licensee, lessor, lessee or any other party):

1. EXECUTORY CLAUSE. In accordance with Section 41 of the State Finance Law, the State shall have no liability under this contract to the Contractor or to anyone else beyond funds appropriated and available for this contract.

2. NON-ASSIGNMENT CLAUSE. In accordance with Section 138 of the State Finance Law, this contract may not be assigned by the Contractor or its right, title or interest therein assigned, transferred, conveyed, sublet or otherwise disposed of without the previous consent, in writing, of the State and any attempts to assign the contract without the State's written consent are null and void. The Contractor may, however, assign its right to receive payment without the State's prior written consent unless this contract concerns Certificates of Participation pursuant to Article 5-A of the State Finance Law.

3. COMPTROLLER'S APPROVAL. In accordance with Section 112 of the State Finance Law (or, if this contract is with the State University or City University of New York, Section 355 or Section 6218 of the Education Law), if this contract exceeds $50,000 (or the minimum thresholds agreed to by the Office of the State Comptroller for certain S.U.N.Y. and C.U.N.Y. contracts), or if this is an amendment for any amount to a contract which, as so amended, exceeds said statutory amount, or if, by this contract, the State agrees to give something other than money when the value or reasonably estimated value of such consideration exceeds $10,000, it shall not be valid, effective or binding upon the State until it has been approved by the State Comptroller and filed in his office. Comptroller's approval of contracts let by the Office of General Services is required when such contracts exceed $85,000 (State Finance Law Section 163.6.a).

4. WORKERS' COMPENSATION BENEFITS. In accordance with Section 142 of the State Finance Law, this contract shall be void and of no force and effect unless the Contractor shall provide and maintain coverage during the life of this contract for the benefit of such employees as are required to be covered by the provisions of the Workers' Compensation Law.

5. NON-DISCRIMINATION REQUIREMENTS. To the extent required by Article 15 of the Executive Law (also known as the Human Rights Law) and all other State and Federal statutory and constitutional non-discrimination provisions, the Contractor will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, genetic predisposition or carrier status, or marital status. Furthermore, in accordance with Section 220-e of the Labor Law, if this is a contract for the construction, alteration or repair of any public building or public work or for the manufacture, sale or distribution of materials, equipment or supplies, and to the extent that this contract shall be performed within the State of New York, Contractor agrees that neither it nor its subcontractors shall, by reason of race, creed, color, disability, sex, or national origin: (a) discriminate in hiring against any New York State citizen who is qualified and available to perform the work; or (b) discriminate against or intimidate any employee hired for the performance of work under this contract. If this is a building service contract as defined in Section 230 of the Labor Law, then, in accordance with Section 239 thereof, Contractor agrees that neither it nor its subcontractors shall by reason of race, creed, color, national origin, age, sex or disability: (a) discriminate in hiring against any New York State citizen who is qualified and available to perform the work; or (b) discriminate against or intimidate any employee hired for the performance of work under this contract. Contractor is subject to fines of $50.00 per person per day for any violation of Section 220-e or Section 239 as well as possible termination of this contract and forfeiture of all moneys due hereunder for a second or subsequent violation.

6. WAGE AND HOURS PROVISIONS. If this is a public work contract covered by Article 8 of the Labor Law or a building service contract covered by Article 9 thereof, neither Contractor's employees nor the employees of its subcontractors may be required or permitted to work more than the number of hours or days stated in said statutes, except as otherwise provided in the Labor Law and as set forth in prevailing wage and supplement schedules issued by the State Labor Department. Furthermore, Contractor and its subcontractors must pay at least the prevailing wage rate and pay or provide the prevailing supplements, including the premium rates for overtime pay, as determined by the State Labor Department in accordance with the Labor Law.

7. NON-COLLUSIVE BIDDING CERTIFICATION. In accordance with Section 139-d of the State Finance Law, if this contract was awarded based upon the submission of bids, Contractor affirms, under penalty of perjury, that its bid was arrived at independently and without collusion aimed at restricting competition. Contractor further affirms that, at the time Contractor submitted its bid, an authorized and responsible person executed and delivered to the State a non-collusive bidding certification on Contractor's behalf.

8. INTERNATIONAL BOYCOTT PROHIBITION. In accordance with Section 220-f of the Labor Law and Section 139-h of the State Finance Law, if this contract exceeds $5,000, the Contractor agrees, as a material condition of the contract, that neither the Contractor nor any substantially owned or affiliated person, firm, partnership or corporation has participated, is participating, or shall participate in an international boycott in violation of the federal Export Administration Act of 1979 (50 USC App. Sections 2401 et seq.) or regulations thereunder. If such Contractor, or any of the aforesaid affiliates of Contractor, is convicted or is otherwise found to have violated said laws or regulations upon the final determination of the United States Commerce Department or any other appropriate agency of the United States subsequent to the contract's execution, such contract, amendment or modification thereto shall be rendered forfeit and void. The Contractor shall so notify the State Comptroller within five (5) business days of such conviction, determination or disposition of appeal (2NYCRR 105.4).

9. SET-OFF RIGHTS. The State shall have all of its common law, equitable and statutory rights of set-off. These rights shall include, but not be limited to, the State's option to withhold for the purposes of set-off any moneys due to the Contractor under this contract up to any amounts due and owing to the State with regard to this contract, any other contract with any State department or agency, including any contract for a term commencing prior to the term of this contract, plus any amounts due and owing to the State for any other reason including, without limitation, tax delinquencies, fee delinquencies or monetary penalties relative thereto. The State shall exercise its set-off rights in accordance with normal State practices including, in cases of set-off pursuant to an audit, the finalization of such audit by the State agency, its representatives, or the State Comptroller.

10. RECORDS. The Contractor shall establish and maintain complete and accurate books, records, documents, accounts and other evidence directly pertinent to performance under this contract (hereinafter, collectively, "the Records"). The Records must be kept for the balance of the calendar year in which they were made and for six (6) additional years thereafter. The State Comptroller, the Attorney General and any other person or entity authorized to conduct an examination, as well as the agency or agencies involved in this contract, shall have access to the Records during normal business hours at an office of the Contractor within the State of New York or, if no such office is available, at a mutually agreeable and reasonable venue within the State, for the term specified above for the purposes of inspection, auditing and copying. The State shall take reasonable steps to protect from public disclosure any of the Records which are exempt from disclosure under Section 87 of the Public Officers Law (the "Statute") provided that: (i) the Contractor shall timely inform an appropriate State official, in writing, that said records should not be disclosed; and (ii) said records shall be sufficiently identified; and (iii) designation of said records as exempt under the Statute is reasonable. Nothing contained herein shall diminish, or in any way adversely affect, the State's right to discovery in any pending or future litigation.

11. IDENTIFYING INFORMATION AND PRIVACY NOTIFICATION. (a) FEDERAL EMPLOYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER and/or FEDERAL SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER. All invoices or New York State standard vouchers submitted for payment for the sale of goods or services or the lease of real or personal property to a New York State agency must include the payee's identification number, i.e., the seller's or lessor's identification number. The number is either the payee's Federal employer identification number or Federal social security number, or both such numbers when the payee has both such numbers. Failure to include this number or numbers may delay payment. Where the payee does not have such number or numbers, the payee, on its invoice or New York State standard voucher, must give the reason or reasons why the payee does not have such number or numbers.

(b) PRIVACY NOTIFICATION. (1) The authority to request the above personal information from a seller of goods or services or a lessor of real or personal property, and the authority to maintain such information, is found in Section 5 of the State Tax Law. Disclosure of this information by the seller or lessor to the State is mandatory. The principal purpose for which the information is collected is to enable the State to identify individuals, businesses and others who have been delinquent in filing tax returns or may have understated their tax liabilities and to generally identify persons affected by the taxes administered by the Commissioner of Taxation and Finance. The information will be used for tax administration purposes and for any other purpose authorized by law.

(2) The personal information is requested by the purchasing unit of the agency contracting to purchase the goods or services or lease the real or personal property covered by this contract or lease. The information is maintained in New York State's Central Accounting System by the Director of Accounting Operations, Office of the State Comptroller, 110 State Street, Albany, New York 12236.

12. EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES FOR MINORITIES AND WOMEN. In accordance with Section 312 of the Executive Law, if this contract is: (i) a written agreement or purchase order instrument, providing for a total expenditure in excess of $25,000.00, whereby a contracting agency is committed to expend or does expend funds in return for labor, services, supplies, equipment, materials or any combination of the foregoing, to be performed for, or rendered or furnished to the contracting agency; or (ii) a written agreement in excess of $100,000.00 whereby a contracting agency is committed to expend or does expend funds for the acquisition, construction, demolition, replacement, major repair or renovation of real property and improvements thereon; or (iii) a written agreement in excess of $100,000.00 whereby the owner of a State assisted housing project is committed to expend or does expend funds for the acquisition, construction, demolition, replacement, major repair or renovation of real property and improvements thereon for such project, then:

(a) The Contractor will not discriminate against employees or applicants for employment because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status, and will undertake or continue existing programs of affirmative action to ensure that minority group members and women are afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination. Affirmative action shall mean recruitment, employment, job assignment, promotion, upgradings, demotion, transfer, layoff, or termination and rates of pay or other forms of compensation;

(b) at the request of the contracting agency, the Contractor shall request each employment agency, labor union, or authorized representative of workers with which it has a collective bargaining or other agreement or understanding, to furnish a written statement that such employment agency, labor union or representative will not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status and that such union or representative will affirmatively cooperate in the implementation of the contractor's obligations herein; and

(c) the Contractor shall state, in all solicitations or advertisements for employees, that, in the performance of the State contract, all qualified applicants will be afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status.

Contractor will include the provisions of "a", "b", and "c" above, in every subcontract over $25,000.00 for the construction, demolition, replacement, major repair, renovation, planning or design of real property and improvements thereon (the "Work") except where the Work is for the beneficial use of the Contractor. Section 312 does not apply to: (i) work, goods or services unrelated to this contract; or (ii) employment outside New York State; or (iii) banking services, insurance policies or the sale of securities. The State shall consider compliance by a contractor or subcontractor with the requirements of any federal law concerning equal employment opportunity which effectuates the purpose of this section. The contracting agency shall determine whether the imposition of the requirements of the provisions hereof duplicate or conflict with any such federal law and if such duplication or conflict exists, the contracting agency shall waive the applicability of Section 312 to the extent of such duplication or conflict. Contractor will comply with all duly promulgated and lawful rules and regulations of the Governor's Office of Minority and Women's Business Development pertaining hereto.

13. CONFLICTING TERMS. In the event of a conflict between the terms of the contract (including any and all attachments thereto and amendments thereof) and the terms of this Appendix A, the terms of this Appendix A shall control.

14. GOVERNING LAW. This contract shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York except where the Federal supremacy clause requires otherwise.

15. LATE PAYMENT. Timeliness of payment and any interest to be paid to Contractor for late payment shall be governed by Article 11-A of the State Finance Law to the extent required by law.

16. NO ARBITRATION. Disputes involving this contract, including the breach or alleged breach thereof, may not be submitted to binding arbitration (except where statutorily authorized), but must, instead, be heard in a court of competent jurisdiction of the State of New York.

17. SERVICE OF PROCESS. In addition to the methods of service allowed by the State Civil Practice Law & Rules ("CPLR"), Contractor hereby consents to service of process upon it by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested. Service hereunder shall be complete upon Contractor's actual receipt of process or upon the State's receipt of the return thereof by the United States Postal Service as refused or undeliverable. Contractor must promptly notify the State, in writing, of each and every change of address to which service of process can be made. Service by the State to the last known address shall be sufficient. Contractor will have thirty (30) calendar days after service hereunder is complete in which to respond.

18. PROHIBITION ON PURCHASE OF TROPICAL HARDWOODS. The Contractor certifies and warrants that all wood products to be used under this contract award will be in accordance with, but not limited to, the specifications and provisions of State Finance Law §165. (Use of Tropical Hardwoods) which prohibits purchase and use of tropical hardwoods, unless specifically exempted, by the State or any governmental agency or political subdivision or public benefit corporation. Qualification for an exemption under this law will be the responsibility of the contractor to establish to meet with the approval of the State.

In addition, when any portion of this contract involving the use of woods, whether supply or installation, is to be performed by any subcontractor, the prime Contractor will indicate and certify in the submitted bid proposal that the subcontractor has been informed and is in compliance with specifications and provisions regarding use of tropical hardwoods as detailed in §165 State Finance Law. Any such use must meet with the approval of the State; otherwise, the bid may not be considered responsive. Under bidder certifications, proof of qualification for exemption will be the responsibility of the Contractor to meet with the approval of the State.

19. MACBRIDE FAIR EMPLOYMENT PRINCIPLES. In accordance with the MacBride Fair Employment Principles (Chapter 807 of the Laws of 1992), the Contractor hereby stipulates that the Contractor either (a) has no business operations in Northern Ireland, or (b) shall take lawful steps in good faith to conduct any business operations in Northern Ireland in accordance with the MacBride Fair Employment Principles (as described in Section 165 of the New York State Finance Law), and shall permit independent monitoring of compliance with such principles.

20. OMNIBUS PROCUREMENT ACT OF 1992. It is the policy of New York State to maximize opportunities for the participation of New York State business enterprises, including minority and women-owned business enterprises as bidders, subcontractors and suppliers on its procurement contracts.

Information on the availability of New York State subcontractors and suppliers is available from:

NYS Department of Economic Development
Division for Small Business
30 South Pearl St - 7th Floor
Albany, New York 12245
Telephone: 518-292-5220
Fax: 518-292-5884

The Omnibus Procurement Act of 1992 requires that by signing this bid proposal or contract, as applicable, Contractors certify that whenever the total bid amount is greater than $1 million:

(a) The Contractor has made reasonable efforts to encourage the participation of New York State Business Enterprises as suppliers and subcontractors, including certified minority and women-owned business enterprises, on this project, and has retained the documentation of these efforts to be provided upon request to the State;

(b) The Contractor has complied with the Federal Equal Opportunity Act of 1972 (P.L. 92-261), as amended;

(c) The Contractor agrees to make reasonable efforts to provide notification to New York State residents of employment opportunities on this project through listing any such positions with the Job Service Division of the New York State Department of Labor, or providing such notification in such manner as is consistent with existing collective bargaining contracts or agreements. The Contractor agrees to document these efforts and to provide said documentation to the State upon request; and

(d) The Contractor acknowledges notice that the State may seek to obtain offset credits from foreign countries as a result of this contract and agrees to cooperate with the State in these efforts.

21. RECIPROCITY AND SANCTIONS PROVISIONS. Bidders are hereby notified that if their principal place of business is located in a country, nation, province, state or political subdivision that penalizes New York State vendors, and if the goods or services they offer will be substantially produced or performed outside New York State, the Omnibus Procurement Act 1994 and 2000 amendments (Chapter 684 and Chapter 383, respectively) require that they be denied contracts which they would otherwise obtain. NOTE: As of May 15, 2002, the list of discriminatory jurisdictions subject to this provision includes the states of South Carolina, Alaska, West Virginia, Wyoming, Louisiana and Hawaii. Contact NYS Department of Economic Development for a current list of jurisdictions subject to this provision.

22. PURCHASES OF APPAREL. In accordance with State Finance Law 162 (4-a), the State shall not purchase any apparel from any vendor unable or unwilling to certify that: (i) such apparel was manufactured in compliance with all applicable labor and occupational safety laws, including, but not limited to, child labor laws, wage and hours laws and workplace safety laws, and (ii) vendor will supply, with its bid (or, if not a bid situation, prior to or at the time of signing a contract with the State), if known, the names and addresses of each subcontractor and a list of all manufacturing plants to be utilized by the bidder.

ORACLE TECHNICAL SUPPORT POLICIES

Technical Support Policies

Effective Date: 27-October-2008

Unless otherwise stated, these Technical Support Policies apply to technical support for all Oracle product lines. These Technical Support Policies may be referred to in former PeopleSoft agreements as the "Software Support Services Terms and Conditions", in former Siebel agreements as the "Maintenance Services Policy", in former Hyperion agreements as the "Standard Maintenance Program", in former Agile agreements as the "product support policy" and in former BEA agreements as the "Support Services" policies.

"You" and "your" refers to the individual or entity that has ordered technical support from Oracle or an authorized distributor.

To receive technical support as provided by Oracle Support Services ("OSS") and described in the Oracle Technical Support Levels section below, all programs must be properly licensed.

Technical support is provided for issues (including problems created by you) that are demonstrable in the currently supported release(s) of an Oracle licensed program, running unaltered, and on an appropriate hardware, database and operating system configuration, as specified in your order or program documentation.

Product release and supported platforms information for all Oracle programs, other than Cimmety AutoVue and Vuelink programs ("Cimmety programs"), Crystal Ball programs, and AdminServer programs, is available through Oracle's web-based customer support systems as described in the Web-Based Customer Support Systems section below. Product release and supported platforms information for Cimmety programs is available in the AutoVue Administration Guide that is included with the Cimmety program documentation.

Product release and supported platforms information for the following programs will be provided to you in writing:

Crystal Ball
AdminServer
Skywire (programs not included on the Skywire Online Support Portal)

Oracle will provide technical support in accordance with Oracle's privacy policy available at <http://www.oracle.com/html/privacy.html>.

These Technical Support Policies are subject to change at Oracle's discretion, however the services provided will not be materially reduced during the support period (defined below).

To view changes that have been made, please refer to the attached Statement of Changes (PDF).

Technical Support Fees

Technical support fees are due and payable annually in advance of a support period, unless otherwise stated in the relevant ordering document or financing or payment contract with Oracle or an Oracle affiliate. Your commitment to pay is required to process your technical support order with Oracle (e.g., purchase order, actual payment, or other approved method of payment). An invoice will be issued only upon receipt of your commitment to pay, and will be sent to a single billing address as designated by you. Failure to submit payment will result in the termination of support.

Support Period

Technical support is effective upon the effective date of your ordering document unless stated otherwise in your ordering document. If your order was placed through the Oracle Store, the effective date is the date your order was accepted by Oracle. Unless otherwise stated in the ordering document, Oracle technical support terms, including pricing, reflect a 12 month support period (the "support period"). All technical support services ordered for a support period and the related fees are non-cancelable and non-refundable. Oracle is not obligated to provide technical support beyond the end of the support period unless your technical support contract is renewed on or before the service expiration date.

License Set

A license set consists of (i) all of your licenses of a program, including any options* (e.g., Database Enterprise Edition and Enterprise Edition Options; Purchasing and Purchasing Options), Enterprise Manager* (e.g., Database Enterprise Edition and Diagnostics Pack), or self-service module* (e.g., Human Resources and Self-Service Human Resources) licensed for such programs, or (ii) all of your licenses of a program that share the same source code. Development and demonstration licenses available through the Oracle Partner Network or the Oracle Technology Network are not included in the definition of a license set. For Crystal Ball programs, a license set is defined as the same licenses of a program contained on a single order.

*As specified on Oracle's price list.

Programs that share the same source code are:

- Database Enterprise Edition, Database Standard Edition, Database Standard Edition One, and Personal Edition, and
- Internet Application Server Enterprise Edition, Internet Application Server Standard Edition, Internet Application Server Standard Edition One, and Internet Application Server Java Edition.

Matching Service Levels

When acquiring technical support, all licenses in any given license set must be supported under the same technical support service level (e.g., Software Update License & Support or unsupported). You may not support a subset of licenses within a license set; the license set must be reduced by terminating any unsupported licenses. You will be required to document license terminations via a termination letter.

Reinstatement of Oracle Technical Support

In the event that technical support lapses or was not originally purchased, upon the commencement of technical support a reinstatement fee will be assessed. The reinstatement fee is equal to 150% of the last-paid support fee, or 150% of the last-published list technical support price for the licensed program less the applicable standard discount as published on the Oracle Store ("standard discount") in effect at the time of reinstatement if support was not originally purchased for the relevant programs, prorated from the date technical support is being ordered back to the date technical support lapsed (or the license order date if technical support was never purchased). Applicable renewal adjustments are applied. Once the reinstatement fee has been assessed, technical support for the year following the reinstatement period may be purchased for an additional technical support fee as calculated based on how long the licensed program has been unsupported ("go-forward support fee"). If the lapsed support period is less than 6 months, the go-forward support fee is calculated based on the last-published list technical support price less the applicable standard discount in effect at the time of reinstatement. If the lapsed support period is 6 months or greater, the go-forward support fee is calculated based on the last-paid support fee. If support is not reinstated for the entire license set or if support for a subset of licenses from an ordering document is reinstated, then the "License Set", "Matching Service Levels", and "Pricing following Reduction of Licenses or Support Level" policies will apply. Applicable renewal adjustments are applied to the reinstatement fee and go-forward support fee.

Pricing following Reduction of Licenses or Support Level

Pricing for support is based upon the level of support and the volume of licenses for which support is ordered. In the event that a subset of licenses on a single order is terminated or if the level of support is reduced, support for the remaining licenses on that license order will be priced at Oracle's list price for support in effect at the time of termination or reduction minus the applicable standard discount. Such support price will not exceed the previous support fees paid for both the remaining licenses and the licenses being terminated or unsupported, and will not be reduced below the previous support fees paid for the licenses continuing to be supported. If the license order from which licenses are being terminated established a price hold for additional licenses, support for all of the licenses ordered pursuant to the price hold will be priced at Oracle's list price for support in effect at the time of reduction minus the applicable standard discount.

Custom Application Bundles

Technical support may not be discontinued for a single program module within a custom application bundle.

Unsupported Programs

Customers with unsupported programs do not receive updates, maintenance releases, patches, telephone assistance, or any other technical support services for the unsupported programs. CD packs or programs purchased or downloaded for trial use, use with other supported programs, or purchased or downloaded as replacement media may not be used to update any unsupported programs.

Technical Contacts

Your technical contacts are the sole liaisons between you and OSS for technical support of programs. It is the recommended standard that your technical contacts are trained representatives of your company. Such training shall include initial basic product training and, as needed, supplemental training appropriate for specific role or implementation phase, specialized product usage, and/or migration. Your technical contacts should be knowledgeable about the Oracle programs and your Oracle environment in order to help resolve system issues and to assist Oracle in analyzing and resolving service requests. When submitting a service request, your technical contact should have a baseline understanding of the problem you are encountering and an ability to reproduce the problem in order to assist Oracle in diagnosing and triaging the problem. To avoid interruptions in support services, you must notify OSS whenever technical contact responsibilities are transferred to another individual.

With the order of Software Update License & Support, you may designate one (1) primary and four (4) backup individuals ("technical contact") per license set, to serve as liaisons with OSS. With each USD$250,000 in net support fees per license set, you have the option to designate an additional two (2) primary and four (4) backup technical contacts. Your primary technical contact shall be responsible for (i) overseeing your service request activity, and (ii) developing and deploying troubleshooting processes within your organization. The backup technical contacts shall be responsible for resolving user issues. You may be charged a fee to designate additional technical contacts.

Oracle may review service requests logged by your technical contacts, and may recommend specific training to help avoid service requests that would be prevented by such training.

Program Updates

"Update" means a subsequent release of the program which Oracle generally makes available for program licenses to its supported customers at no additional license fee, other than shipping charges if applicable, provided you have ordered a technical support offering that includes software updates for such licenses for the relevant time period. Updates do not include any release, option or future program that Oracle licenses separately. Updates are provided when available, and Oracle is under no obligation to develop any future programs or functionality. Any updates made available will be delivered to you, or made available to you for download. If delivered, you will receive one update copy for each supported operating system for which your program licenses were ordered. You shall be responsible for copying, downloading and installing the updates.

Oracle Configuration Manager

Oracle provides Oracle Configuration Manager (OCM) with some of its programs. The OCM is a tool that assists in the collection and transmission of your configuration data to Oracle to enable us to respond more efficiently to your service requests. The OCM tool will connect to Oracle over the internet. You may not receive a separate notice upon connection. You may turn the OCM tool off, however we strongly discourage this as it impedes our ability to provide services to you. More information on the tool is available at <http://www.oracle.com/technology/documentation/ocm.html>. By using this tool, you consent to the transmission of your configuration information to Oracle.

OCM will not access, collect or store any personally identifiable information (except for technical support contact information) or business data files residing in your software environment. Configuration data provided to Oracle by software tools will be stored in password-protected repositories. It will be used to assist in resolving service requests and to provide recommendations regarding configuration of your environment and deployment of programs. In addition, because the configuration information will be updated, it may be used by Oracle to assist you in managing your Oracle product portfolio, for license and services compliance and to help Oracle improve upon product and service offerings for you.

Payment Plan, Financing and Leasing Agreements

Technical support fees due under payment plans, financing or leasing agreements between you and Oracle or an Oracle affiliate ("payment plan") are due and payable in accordance with the terms and conditions of such payment plan, but the technical support shall be ordered pursuant to the terms of the applicable ordering document.

Lifetime Support

Lifetime Support consists of the following service levels:

- "Premier Support" which refers to the first 5 years of basic technical support services (also referred to as, and will be documented on your ordering document as, "Software Update License & Support")
- Extended Support (if offered)
- Sustaining Support

A description of the services available under Premier Support, Extended Support and Sustaining Support is included in the Oracle Technical Support Levels section below.

When offered, Premier Support will be available for five years from the date a release of the Oracle program becomes generally available, except as noted below.

Based on availability, support may be extended for an additional three years with Extended Support for specific releases.

Alternatively, support may be extended with Sustaining Support which will be available for as long as you maintain technical support for your Oracle licenses.

Refer to the attached document titled "Lifetime Support Policy: Coverage for Server Technologies" (PDF) for specific server technology programs that are, or will be, covered by the Lifetime Support policy.

Refer to the attached document titled "Lifetime Support Policy: Coverage for Applications" (PDF) for specific application programs that are, or will be, covered by the Lifetime Support policy.
Refer to the attached document titled "Lifetime Support Policy: Coverage for Retail Applications" (PDF) for specific Retail application programs that are, or will be, covered by the Lifetime Support policy.

Notes:

1. Active Reasoning, ContextMedia, Crystal Ball, Notiva, Sigma Dynamics, AdminServer, and Skywire and other programs and releases that have already had desupport dates posted on OracleMetaLink are excluded from the Lifetime Support policy.
2. For PeopleSoft Enterprise programs that have been retired under the previous 4-year support policy, Sustaining Support will be available for as long as you maintain technical support for these programs.
3. Tax updates and regulatory changes* will be made available for up to six (6) years from the release date of the licensed software for PeopleSoft Enterprise, JD Edwards EnterpriseOne and JD Edwards World programs. Upgrade scripts, new software patches, and fixes to the latest release will be made available for five (5) years from the release date of the licensed software for PeopleSoft Enterprise, JD Edwards EnterpriseOne and JD Edwards World programs.

*Tax updates and regulatory changes refers to those updates that address tax and/or regulatory changes which are generally made available to similarly situated licensees of PeopleSoft software, on a when and if available basis only.

4. Oracle's PeopleTools program, which was purchased in conjunction with an application program release, will be supported for as long as such application program release is supported. PeopleTools fixes are delivered in minor releases and patches; patches are provided on the current minor release only. Patches and platform certifications for a PeopleTools minor release are created when that release becomes generally available and will be supported for twelve (12) months after the next minor release becomes generally available.

To receive technical support, you may be required to apply a minor release upgrade of PeopleTools to remain current with versions of third party technologies and products as supported by the provider of the third party product.

5. For certain Oracle Retail application program releases* prior to release 11, limited Premier Support will be available for seven years from when that release became generally available. For Oracle Retail applications for which Premier Support is not available, Sustaining Support will be available for as long as you maintain technical support for these programs.

*formerly Retek, ProfitLogic, and 360 Commerce

6. For Oracle's Cimmetry programs, Oracle generally will make Premier Support available for 2 years following general availability of a release, after which Sustaining Support will be available for as long as you maintain technical support for your Oracle licenses. Premier

Support for Cimmetry programs will be documented on your ordering document as Software Update License & Support or Cimmetry Maintenance.

7. For supported customers whose Oracle application programs are only certified on Oracle9i Database Release 9.2 and the release for such application programs is currently supported under Premier Support or Extended Support, the Extended Support fee for Oracle9i Database Release 9.2 has been waived for the period August 1, 2008 to July 31, 2010. During this period, you will receive access to generally available fixes and critical patch updates ("CPUs") for such supported application programs running on the Oracle9i Database Release 9.2, at no additional cost other than your fees for Software Update License & Support (or any successor technical support offering to Software Update License & Support). A list of applications that are certified on Oracle9i Database Release 9.2 is available at <http://www.oracle.com/support/collateral/tsp-certified-applications.pdf>.
8. For the first year of Sustaining Support for Oracle E-Business Suite Release 11i, Oracle will provide fixes for Severity 1 production bugs. No legislative updates will be provided with the exception of U.S. Tax Form 1099 updates for the 2008 tax year. The period for the first year of Sustaining Support for Oracle E-Business Suite Release 11i is July 1, 2008 - June 30, 2009.
9. Extended Support for the Hyperion Pre-System 9 programs will be offered for the period October 1, 2008 to September 30, 2009. The Extended Support fee for this period has been waived for those program licenses for which customers have paid the System 9 Enablement Fee and for which technical support is continuously maintained.

Right to Desupport

It may become necessary as a part of Oracle's product lifecycle to desupport certain program releases and, therefore, Oracle reserves the right to desupport certain program releases. Program releases that are designated as subject to Premier Support under Oracle's Lifetime Support policy are excluded. If Cimmetry, Crystal Ball, Skywire, or AdminServer programs are desupported, you will be notified of such desupport directly by OSS. For all other Oracle programs, desupport information, including desupport dates, information about availability of Extended Support and Sustaining Support, and information about migration paths for certain features, is posted on OracleMetaLink, Customer Connection, eSupport Portal and BID Portal. Desupport information is subject to change. For Cimmetry, Crystal Ball, Skywire, and AdminServer programs, updated desupport information will be provided to you in writing. For all other Oracle programs, Oracle will provide updated desupport information on OracleMetaLink, Customer Connection, eSupport Portal and BID Portal as necessary.

First and Second Line Support

It is the recommended standard that you establish and maintain the organization and processes to provide "First Line Support" for the supported programs directly to your users. First Line Support shall include but not be limited to (i) a direct response to users with respect to inquiries concerning the performance, functionality or operation of the supported programs, (ii) a direct response to users with respect to problems or issues with the supported programs, (iii) a diagnosis of problems or issues of the supported programs, and (iv) a resolution of problems or issues of the supported programs.

If after reasonable commercial efforts you are unable to diagnose or resolve problems or issues of the supported programs, you shall contact Oracle for "Second Line Support". You shall use commercially reasonable efforts to provide Oracle with the necessary access (e.g., access to repository files, log files, or database extracts) required to provide Second Line Support. Oracle does not ensure its performance of the technical support described herein if such access is not provided by you when requested by Oracle.

Second Line Support shall include but not be limited to (i) a diagnosis of problems or issues of the supported programs and (ii) reasonable commercial efforts to resolve reported and verifiable errors in supported programs so that such supported programs perform in all material respects the functions described in the associated documentation.

Oracle may review service requests logged by your technical contacts, and may recommend specific organization and process changes to assist you with the above recommended standard practices.

Third Party Vendor-Specific Support Terms

You must remain on a supported environment – including applications and platforms – to receive technical support. If a vendor retires support for its product, you may be required to upgrade to a current certified application, hardware platform, framework, database and/or operating system configuration to continue receiving technical support services from Oracle.

PeopleSoft and JD Edwards Release Information

Release information for PeopleSoft Enterprise and JD Edwards EnterpriseOne programs is available in the attached table titled, "Release Types for PeopleSoft Enterprise and JD Edwards EnterpriseOne Applications" (PDF).

Hyperion-Specific and Agile-Specific Support Terms

For orders placed pursuant to a Hyperion master agreement or to an Agile master agreement, the following terms apply with respect to the technical support services you have ordered.

Warranties, Disclaimers, and Exclusive Remedies

Oracle warrants that technical support services will be provided in a professional manner consistent with industry standards. You must notify Oracle of any technical support services warranty deficiencies within 90 days from performance of the defective technical support services.

FOR ANY BREACH OF THE ABOVE WARRANTIES, YOUR EXCLUSIVE REMEDY, AND ORACLE'S ENTIRE LIABILITY, SHALL BE THE REPERFORMANCE OF THE DEFICIENT TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES, OR IF ORACLE CANNOT SUBSTANTIALLY CORRECT A BREACH IN A COMMERCIALY REASONABLE MANNER, YOU MAY END THE RELEVANT TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES AND RECOVER THE FEES PAID TO ORACLE FOR THE DEFICIENT TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES.

TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, THESE WARRANTIES ARE EXCLUSIVE AND THERE ARE NO OTHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS, INCLUDING WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.

Limitation of Liability

NEITHER PARTY SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, SPECIAL, PUNITIVE, OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, OR ANY LOSS OF PROFITS, REVENUE, DATA, OR DATA USE. ORACLE'S MAXIMUM LIABILITY FOR ANY DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO YOUR ORDER, WHETHER IN CONTRACT OR TORT, OR OTHERWISE, SHALL BE LIMITED TO THE AMOUNT OF THE FEES YOU PAID ORACLE UNDER YOUR ORDER, AND IF SUCH DAMAGES RESULT FROM YOUR USE OF TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES, SUCH LIABILITY SHALL BE LIMITED TO THE FEES

YOU PAID ORACLE FOR THE DEFICIENT TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES GIVING RISE TO THE LIABILITY.

For orders placed pursuant to a Hyperion master agreement, the following terms also apply with respect to the technical support services you have ordered.

Nondisclosure

By virtue of your order, the parties may have access to information that is confidential to one another ("confidential information"). We each agree to disclose only information that is required for the performance of obligations under your order. Confidential information shall be limited to the terms and pricing under your order and all information clearly identified as confidential at the time of disclosure.

A party's confidential information shall not include information that: (a) is or becomes a part of the public domain through no act or omission of the other party; (b) was in the other party's lawful possession prior to the disclosure and had not been obtained by the other party either directly or indirectly from the disclosing party; (c) is lawfully disclosed to the other party by a third party without restriction on the disclosure; or (d) is independently developed by the other party.

We each agree to hold each other's confidential information in confidence for a period of three years from the date of disclosure. Also, we each agree to disclose confidential information only to those employees or agents who are required to protect it against unauthorized disclosure. Nothing shall prevent either party from disclosing the terms or pricing under your order in any legal proceeding arising from or in connection with your order or disclosing the confidential information to a federal or state governmental entity as required by law.

Software Update License & Support

Program releases in the Premier Support phase of Oracle's product support lifecycle will receive Software Update License & Support. Software Update License & Support is the standard level for all Oracle support services and consists of:

- Program updates, fixes, security alerts, and critical patch updates
- Tax, legal, and regulatory updates
- Upgrade scripts
- Certification with most new third-party products/versions
- Major product and technology releases, which includes general maintenance releases, selected functionality releases, and documentation updates
- Assistance with service requests 24 hours per day, 7 days a week

Enterprise Linux Support Services

Effective October 25, 2006, Oracle will offer Enterprise Linux support services to customers, regardless of whether or not they are using Oracle programs. For information about the available services, please refer to the Enterprise Linux and Oracle VM Support Policies available at <http://www.oracle.com/support/collateral/enterprise-linux-support-policies.pdf>.

Oracle VM Support Services

Effective November 14, 2007, Oracle will offer Oracle VM support services to customers, regardless of whether or not they are using Oracle programs. For information about the available services, please refer to the Enterprise Linux and Oracle VM Support Policies available at <http://www.oracle.com/support/collateral/enterprise-linux-support-policies.pdf>.

Priority Service

Priority Service is available for program releases eligible to receive Premier, Extended, or Sustaining Support. Priority Service consists of:

- Prioritization of Service Requests: Service requests will be prioritized above service requests of the same severity level submitted by Premier Support customers
- Service Request Response Guidelines: Reasonable efforts will be made to respond to service requests per the following guidelines:
 - 90% of Severity 1 service requests submitted by you will be responded to within 1 hour (available 24x7)
 - 90% of Severity 2 service requests submitted by you will be responded to within 2.5 local business hours
 - 90% of Severity 3 service requests submitted by you will be responded to within the next local business day
 - 90% of Severity 4 service requests submitted by you will be responded to within the next local business day
- Time-based internal escalations for Severity 1 and Severity 2 service requests
- Designated Oracle service manager who is responsible for assisting in the management of service requests, and providing service reviews
- Priority response from Oracle's Product Development team for product bugs initiated for the resolution of service requests
- 24x7 access to a customer-specific web portal
- Quarterly service reviews
- Pre-recorded orientation session
- Priority access to Oracle-sponsored events, as made available to Priority Service customers
- Access to monthly web conference sessions featuring Oracle executives and/or Oracle product technology experts
- Quarterly live chats with senior Oracle product technology experts and/or management, available exclusively to Priority Service customers

In order to acquire Priority Service for a license set, you must acquire Software Update License & Support for that license set. If you have maintained Software Update License & Support and want to purchase Priority Service for a license set, the licenses do not need to be migrated to current license metrics to do so.

Priority Service is not subject to the Reinstatement policies stated above. Priority Service is not available for all programs. Please contact your Support Sales Representative for service availability.

Incident Server Support Package

Incident Server Support provides web-based technical support on a per server basis in packages of 10 service requests, and is available for as long as Premier Support is available for your Oracle licenses. The Incident Server Support Packages do not include updates and may not be used, purchased, or sold in conjunction with any other support offering. If you want to obtain Software Update License & Support, it will be subject to Oracle's reinstatement policies in effect at the time of reinstatement. Incident Server Support is available for the following limited product sets, across all platforms:

- Oracle Database Server Support Package: Oracle Database Enterprise Edition, Oracle Database Standard Edition, Oracle Database Standard Edition One, Partitioning, Real Application Clusters
- Oracle Application Server Support Package: Internet Application Server Enterprise Edition, Internet Application Server Standard Edition, Internet Application Server Java Edition

Incident Server Support Packages are valid for one year from the date of purchase. Any unused service request(s) expire at the end of such term. Access to OracleMetaLink expires at the same time the final service request is resolved. Your service request total will not be decreased by the number of service requests initiated for the resolution of a product bug. Incident Server Support includes:

- Access to OracleMetaLink (24x7 web-based technical support system), including the ability to log service requests online
- Access to downloadable software patches and patchsets

JDeveloper Support

JDeveloper Support is made available for Oracle JDeveloper that has been downloaded from the Oracle Technology Network after June 28, 2005. JDeveloper Support consists of:

- Assistance with service requests 24 hours per day, 7 days a week
- Access to OracleMetaLink (24 x 7 web-based technical support system), including the ability to log service requests online
- Non-technical customer service during normal business hours (e.g., assistance with support identification numbers, assistance with logging into OracleMetaLink)

Service Request Packages

Service Request Packages are made available to members of the Oracle Partner Network. Service Request Packages provide web-based technical support in packages of 10 or 25 service requests, do not include updates, and are not available for all programs. Please contact your OPN Interaction Center (<http://partner.oracle.com/>) for program availability.

Service Request Packages are valid for one year from the date of purchase. Any unused service request(s) will expire at the earlier of (i) the end of such year, or (ii) the end of your OPN membership term if such membership is not renewed. Access to log service requests will be restricted at the same time the final service request is resolved.

Extended Support

Extended Support may be available for certain Oracle program releases after Premier Support expires. When Extended Support is offered, it is generally available for three years following the expiration of Premier Support and only for the terminal patchset release of a program.

Program releases eligible for Extended Support will receive Software Update License & Support limited to the following:

- Program updates, fixes, security alerts, and critical patch updates
- Tax, legal and regulatory updates
- Upgrade scripts
- Major product and technology releases, which includes general maintenance releases, selected functionality releases, and documentation updates
- Assistance with service requests 24 hours per day, 7 days per week
- Access to OracleMetaLink, Customer Connection, e-Support, Customer Portal, or Customer Center Portal (24 x 7 web-based customer support systems), including the ability to log service requests online
- Non-technical customer service during normal business hours

Extended Support does not include:

- Certification with new third party products/versions

Sustaining Support

Sustaining Support will be available after Premier Support expires. Program releases eligible for Sustaining Support will receive Software Update License & Support limited to the following:

- Program updates, fixes, security alerts, and critical patch updates created during the Premier Support period, and created during the Extended Support period for those customers who purchased Extended Support.
- Tax, legal, and regulatory updates created during the Premier Support period
- Upgrade scripts created during the Premier Support period
- Major product and technology releases, which includes general maintenance releases, selected functionality releases, and documentation updates
- Assistance with service requests, on a commercially reasonable basis, 24 hours per day, 7 days a week
- Access to OracleMetaLink, Customer Connection, e-Support, Customer Portal, or Customer Center Portal (24 x 7 web-based customer support systems), including the ability to log service requests online
- Non-technical customer service during normal business hours

Sustaining Support does not include:

- New program updates, fixes, security alerts, and critical patch updates
- New tax, legal and regulatory updates
- New upgrade scripts
- Certification with new third party products/versions
- 24 hour commitment and response guidelines for Severity 1 service requests as defined in the Severity Level section below

Because program releases supported by Sustaining Support are no longer fully supported, information and skills regarding those releases may be limited. The availability of hardware systems to run such program releases may also be limited.

North American Payroll Tax Updates

North American Payroll Tax Updates is available for programs eligible to receive Sustaining Support. Customers who acquire North American Payroll Tax Updates will receive a tax year of tax updates for Oracle payroll applications.

In order to acquire North American Payroll Tax Updates, your licensed programs must be currently supported with Software Update License & Support. If you have maintained Software Update License & Support and want to acquire North American Payroll Tax Updates, the licenses do not need to be migrated to current license metrics to do so.

North American Payroll Tax Updates will be delivered through Customer Connection (for PeopleSoft Enterprise, JD Edwards EnterpriseOne and JD Edwards World programs), or through OracleMetaLink (for all other Oracle programs).

When offered, North American Payroll Tax Updates may be acquired for up to two (2) years from the availability of Sustaining Support for the applicable Oracle program release. North American Payroll Tax Updates is not subject to the Reinstatement policies stated above. North American Payroll Tax Updates is not available in all countries or for all programs. Please contact your Support Sales Representative for service availability.

A list of technical support offerings that were previously offered by Oracle, or a company acquired by Oracle, is available at <http://www.oracle.com/support/collateral/tsp-previous-offerings.pdf>. The information contained within this list consists of a description of the service offering, date when new sales of the services was eliminated, and renewal options.

The following policy for Web-Based Customer Support Systems applies to all Oracle product lines except PeopleSoft Enterprise, JD Edwards EnterpriseOne, JD Edwards World, Cimmetry, Crystal Ball, BEA, AdminServer, and Skywire programs:

OracleMetaLink is one of Oracle's five customer support web sites. Access to OracleMetaLink is governed by the Terms of Use posted on the OracleMetaLink web site, which are subject to change. A copy of these terms is available upon request. Access to OracleMetaLink is limited to your designated technical contacts. Access to OracleMetaLink is included with Software Update License & Support, Priority Service, Incident Server Support, JDeveloper Support, Extended Support, and Sustaining Support. For customers with a current Software Updates service contract, limited access to OracleMetaLink is included for patches and bug fix information.

The following policy for Web-Based Customer Support Systems applies to PeopleSoft Enterprise, JD Edwards EnterpriseOne, and JD Edwards World programs only:

Customer Connection is Oracle's second customer support web site. Access to Customer Connection is governed by the Terms of Use (PDF) posted on the Customer Connection web site at <http://www.peoplesoft.com/corp/en/login.jsp>, which are subject to change. A copy of these terms is available upon request. Access to Customer Connection is included with Software Update License & Support, Extended Support, Sustaining Support, and PeopleSoft World Support Service and is limited to your designated technical contacts.

The following policy for eSupport Portal applies to 'Classic' BEA programs only:

eSupport Portal is Oracle's third customer support web site. Access to eSupport is governed by the Terms of Use posted on the eSupport Portal web site at <http://support.bea.com>, and are subject to change. A copy of these terms is available upon request. Access to eSupport Portal is limited to your designated technical contacts. Access to eSupport Portal is included with Software Update License & Support, Extended Support, and Sustaining Support.

The following policy for BID Portal applies to 'BID' BEA programs only:

BID Portal is Oracle's fourth customer support web site. Access to BID Portal is governed by the Terms of Use posted on the BID Portal web site at <http://one.bea.com/support>, and are subject to change. A copy of these terms is available upon request. Access to BID Portal is limited to your designated technical contacts. Access to BID Portal is included with Software Update License & Support, Extended Support, and Sustaining Support.

The following policy for Skywire Online Support Portal applies to Insbridge, Ingage, and INSight programs and Documaker, Docuflex and PPS (EMEA and Asia Pacific excluded) programs only:

Skywire Online Support Portal is Oracle's fifth customer support web site. Access to Skywire Online Support Portal is governed by the Terms of Use posted on the Skywire Online Support Portal web site at <http://skywiresoftware.com/Support/Support.aspx>, and are subject to change. A copy of these terms is available upon request. Access to Skywire Online Support Portal is limited to your designated technical contacts. Access to Skywire Online Support Portal is included with Software Update License & Support.

Oracle is deeply committed to the security of its technical support services. In providing standard technical support services, Oracle will adhere to the Global Customer Support Security Practices, which are available here. The Global Customer Support Security Practices are subject to change at Oracle's discretion; however, Oracle will not materially reduce the level of security specified in the Security Practices during the period for which fees for technical support have been paid.

Oracle may make available software tools (such as tools to assist in the collection and transmission of configuration data) and web-based tools (such as tools that enable Oracle, with your consent, to access your computer system) to aid in the resolution of service requests. Such tools may be used only in connection with supported program licenses, and use of the tools will be subject to any additional license and other terms provided with the tools.

Service requests for supported Cimmetry programs may be submitted by you either online using the web form available at <http://www.cimmetry.com/techsup.nsf/WebTechsupForm?OpenForm> or by telephone by dialing 1.514.735.9941. Service requests for supported Crystal Ball programs may be submitted by you either online using the template at <http://www.crystalball.com/helpdesk.html> or by telephone by dialing 1.800.373.5885 (toll free in the U.S.) or 1.303.334.7599 (International). Service requests for all other supported Oracle programs may be submitted by you online through Oracle's web-based customer support systems, by email, or by telephone. The service request severity level is selected by you and Oracle and should be based on the following severity definitions:

Severity 1

Your production use of the supported programs is stopped or so severely impacted that you cannot reasonably continue work. You experience a complete loss of service. The operation is mission critical to the business and the situation is an emergency. A Severity 1 service request has one or more of the following characteristics:

- Data corrupted
- A critical documented function is not available
- System hangs indefinitely, causing unacceptable or indefinite delays for resources or response

- System crashes, and crashes repeatedly after restart attempts

For all supported Oracle programs other than Cimmetry, Crystal Ball, Moniforce webSensor Enterprise and webProbe, reasonable efforts will be made to respond to Severity 1 service requests within one (1) hour.

For Crystal Ball programs, the Severity 1 service request definition does not apply and thus no response guidelines are available for Crystal Ball programs.

For Moniforce webSensor Enterprise and webProbe programs, reasonable efforts will be made to respond to Severity 1 service requests within one (1) business day during local business hours, excluding holidays; local business hours are Monday through Friday 8:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. Central European Time.

24 Hour Commitment to Severity 1 Service Requests for all supported Oracle programs other than Cimmetry, Crystal Ball, Moniforce webSensor Enterprise and webProbe, AdminServer, and Skywire programs: OSS will work 24x7 until the issue is resolved or as long as useful progress can be made. You must provide OSS with a contact during this 24x7 period, either on site or by pager, to assist with data gathering, testing, and applying fixes. You are requested to propose this severity classification with great care, so that valid Severity 1 situations obtain the necessary resource allocation from Oracle.

Severity 2

You experience a severe loss of service. Important features are unavailable with no acceptable workaround; however, operations can continue in a restricted fashion.

Severity 3

You experience a minor loss of service. The impact is an inconvenience, which may require a workaround to restore functionality

Severity 4

You request information, an enhancement, or documentation clarification regarding your software but there is no impact on the operation of the software. You experience no loss of service. The result does not impede the operation of a system.

Phone numbers and contact information can be found on Oracle's support web site at <http://www.oracle.com/support/contact.html>.

FUNCTIONALITY AND REQUIREMENTS MATRIX

Exhibit 5

FUNCTIONALITY AND REQUIREMENTS MATRIX
WHICH INCLUDES
RESPONSE CODE INTERPETATIONS, PRODUCT NAME CROSS-REFERENCE
AND ORACLE FUNCTIONALITY AND REQUIREMENTS MATRIX CLARIFICATIONS

Notes:

1. Oracle's Proposal included program not ordered in the initial purchase of Software under this Agreement; therefore are not part of this Agreement; such products include:

Real Estate Management – Real Estate Management, Enterprise Manager Grid Control – Oracle Database Enterprise Edition, SOA Suite – SOA Suite for Non Oracle Middleware, Oracle Imaging and Process Management (Stellent/Content Management) – Imaging and Process Management, PeopleSoft Directory Interface – Directory Interface, Oracle Identity Management – Identity Manager, BPEL – SAO Suite

2. The following Software is being ordered in the initial purchase but does not appear on the Functionality and Requirements Matrix (Exhibit 5) Oracle Business Intelligence Management Pack and Business Intelligence Server Administration.

Exhibit 5 Functionality and Requirements Matrix-Response Code Interpretations

Set forth below is the Fit-Gap Response code from the RFP and Oracle's interpretation that was used to complete the functional matrices:

Fit-Gap Response	Additional Comment provided by Oracle
F = Fully Provided "Out-of-the-Box"	Oracle interprets these requirements to be satisfied if the functionality is provided out of the box or through the completing of a task associated with a routine configurable area. These routine configurable areas include, but are not limited to, user-defined fields, delivered or configurable workflows, alerts or notifications, table driven setups and standard reports with no changes. These routine configurable areas would be addressed as part of any implementation and the responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with all these routine configurable areas are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.
R = Provided with Reporting Tool	Oracle interprets these requirements to be satisfied by the reports generated using Reporting Tools. (See the Product Name Crosswalk tab for a list of the modules that comprise Reporting Tools.) The responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with the generation of reports are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.
CO = Configuration (no changes to underlying source code)	Oracle interprets these requirements to be satisfied if the functionality is provided through an extension to the application, the development of a new page to the application or logic added to the application through the use of PeopleTools. The responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with configuration are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.

TP = Third Party Software Required	Oracle's response in the "Module(s) Required to Fulfill Requirements" or "Fit-Gap Notes / Closure Recommendations (or any updated thereto) may have made mention to third party products; however, this should not be construed as a recommendation of any particular third party product provider/third party product and should the County elect to purchase any such third party products, the County must contract directly with the third party product provider for the third party product.
IM = Modification/Customization (change to source code)	The responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with modifications/customizations are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.
W = Workflow Required	Oracle interprets these requirements to be satisfied if the functionality is provided either through the creation of a new workflow or a significant modification to a standard workflow that is contained in the proposed product(s). The responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with the creation of new workflows or the modification of existing workflows are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.
I = Interface Required	The responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with interfaces are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.
CF = Custom Fields Required	Oracle interprets these requirements to be satisfied by the creation of a new field being added to the product using PeopleTools. The responsibilities of performing the tasks associated with the creation of a new field are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.

U = Unable to Meet Requirement

For any requirement marked as U, Oracle does not meet the requirement. Furthermore, Oracle has not provided any indication if or when a future version would meet these requirements. Oracle's response in the "Module(s) Required to Fulfill Requirements" or "Fit-Gap Notes / Closure Recommendations" (or any updated thereto) may have made mention to Oracle's modules or third party products and provide a comment to help the County understand why Oracle is unable to meet the requirement.

APPENDIX L – CERTIFICATE OF COMPLIANCE

Appendix L

Certificate of Compliance

In compliance with Local Law 1-2006, as amended (the "Law"), the Contractor hereby certifies the following:

The responses and representations provided on this document only apply to Oracle USA, Inc. and its employees located within the United States who will provide services in accordance with a resulting contract.

1. The chief executive officer of the Contractor's parent company is:

Larry Ellison (Name)

500 Oracle Parkway, Redwood Shores, CA 94065 (Address)

1-800-ORACLE1 (Telephone Number)

2. The Contractor agrees to either (1) comply with the requirements of the Nassau County Living Wage Law or (2) as applicable, obtain a waiver of the requirements of the Law pursuant to section 9 of the Law. In the event that the contractor does not comply with the requirements of the Law or obtain a waiver of the requirements of the Law, and such contractor establishes to the satisfaction of the Department that at the time of execution of this agreement, it had a reasonable certainty that it would receive such waiver based on the Law and Rules pertaining to waivers, the County will agree to terminate the contract without imposing costs or seeking damages against the Contractor

Oracle clarifies its response by stating that its Technical Support services (on-call, as needed software support and maintenance) and Advanced Product Support services are incidental to the delivery of its software program licenses. Oracle further states that it is a large company offering support for its software products 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Support is provided from Oracle's support centers located around the world. Oracle's support centers operate according to the normal business hours and laws and regulations of their individual locations.

3. In the past five years, Contractor X has _____ has not been found by a court or a government agency to have violated federal, state, or local laws regulating payment of wages or benefits, labor relations, or occupational safety and health. If a violation has been assessed against the Contractor, describe below:

Oracle was cited for one violation by OSHA, issued on January 5, 2007. The citation was reclassified as a level "other" of seriousness. Oracle paid the fine and the abatement of all items has been accomplished within the required amount of time.

4. In the past five years, an administrative proceeding, investigation, or government body-initiated judicial action X has _____ has not been commenced against or relating to the Contractor in connection with federal, state, or local laws regulating payment of wages or benefits, labor relations, or occupational safety and health. If such a proceeding, action, or investigation has been commenced, describe below:

In the past five years, Oracle has been the subject of various routine administrative charges filed by current or former employees alleging potential violation of applicable federal and state laws. There are currently no such federal or state charges pending in the State of New York.

In September of 2004, the U.S. Department of Labor concluded an audit of the Oracle 401(k) Savings Plan. No action was taken by the DOL as a result of this audit; the DOL identified certain areas for remediation under ERISA, as well as the adequacy of the remedial steps taken.

- Contractor agrees to permit access by work sites within Nassau County and relevant payroll records by authorized County representatives for the purpose of monitoring compliance with the Living Wage Law and investigating employee complaints of non-compliance.

I hereby certify that I have read the foregoing statement and, to the best of my knowledge and belief, it is true, correct and complete. Any statement or representation made herein shall be accurate and true as of the date stated below.

MY COMMISSION EXPIRES

DECEMBER 31, 2008

AMENDMENT #1
TO THE
SOFTWARE LICENSE AND SERVICES AGREEMENT
BETWEEN NASSAU COUNTY, NEW YORK AND ORACLE AMERICA, INC.

THIS AMENDMENT, dated as of October 22, 2014 (together with the schedules, appendices, attachments and exhibits, if any, this "Amendment"), is entered into by and between (i) Nassau County, a municipal corporation having its principal office at 1550 Franklin Avenue, Mineola, New York 11501 (the "County"), acting on behalf of the County Department of Information Technology, having its principal office at 240 Old Country Road, Mineola, New York 11501 (the "Department"), and (ii) Oracle America, Inc. (as successor in interest to Oracle USA, Inc.), a Delaware corporation, having its principal office at 500 Oracle Parkway, Redwood Shores, California 94065 (the "Contractor").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, pursuant to County contract number CFIT09000001 between the County and the Contractor, executed on behalf of the County on May 29, 2009 (the "Original Agreement"), the Contractor performs maintenance and support services for the County in connection with the Enterprise Resource Planning ("ERP") software, which services are more fully described in the Original Agreement (the "Services" or "Technical Support Services"); and

WHEREAS, the term of the Original Agreement was from May 29, 2009, until May 28, 2012 (the "Original Term"); and

WHEREAS, the annual cost of maintenance pursuant to the Original Agreement was $358,458.35;

WHEREAS, the County and the Contractor desire to amend the Original Agreement to extend the Original Term to May 31, 2019, and to amend the Payment terms and add a Maximum Amount; and

WHEREAS, the Services contemplated by this Amendment are personal services within the context and purview of Section 2206 of the County Government Law of Nassau County.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the promises and mutual covenants contained in this Amendment, the parties agree as follows:

1. Term Extension of the Original Agreement. The termination date of the Original Agreement shall be extended to May 31, 2019, for the purpose of annual renewal of Technical Support for the ERP software purchased under the Original Agreement, unless sooner terminated as provided for in the Original Agreement.
2. Payment.

(a) Amount of Consideration for Technical Support Services. The maximum amount to be paid to the Contractor as full consideration for the Contractor's Services under this Agreement shall not exceed One Million, Seven Hundred and Twenty-Six Thousand, Two Hundred and Ninety-One Dollars and Seventy-Five Cents ($1,726,291.75) ("Maximum Amount") payable in accordance with the schedule below. If the County elects to renew the Services, such Services will become effective on June 1st of each year. The annual cost of Services will be capped at 0% for a period of five years and will be paid in accordance with the fee schedule listed below:

Renewal Year	Period of Maintenance	Maintenance Cost	Total Cost of Maintenance
5th	June 1, 2014 - May 31, 2015	$345,258.35	$ 345,258.35

If the County elects to renew maintenance:

Renewal Year	Period of Maintenance	Maintenance Cost	Total Cost of Maintenance
6th	June 1, 2015 - May 31, 2016	$345,258.35	$ 690,516.70
7th	June 1, 2016 - May 31, 2017	$345,258.35	$1,035,775.05
8th	June 1, 2017 - May 31, 2018	$345,258.35	$1,381,033.40
9th	June 1, 2018 - May 31, 2019	$345,258.35	$1,726,291.75

(b) Encumbrance. The Contractor understands that only Three Hundred and Forty-Five Thousand, Two Hundred and Fifty Eight and Dollars and Thirty-Five Cents ($345,258.35) is encumbered at this time under this Agreement for Services. The Contractor is cautioned not to perform services that would cause billings to exceed this amount unless additional funds are encumbered pursuant to the Agreement. The County shall not be liable for payment of any amounts which have not been encumbered and approved for this agreement by the County Comptroller.

(c) Payments will be made in accordance with the terms set forth in the Original Agreement. Technical Support will be invoiced quarterly in arrears.

3. Technical Support Policies. The second and third sentences of the first paragraph of Article VI.A of the Original Agreement are deleted and replaced with the following:

Technical Support Policies will not change for each annual period of service, but shall be updated to current policies on an annual basis upon renewal of the Technical Support services for the ERP software purchased under the Original Agreement ; however, Oracle policy changes will not result in a material reduction in the level of services provided for supported programs during the period for which fees for technical support have been paid.

4. Governing Law. Article XVIII. L is deleted and replaced with the following:

This procurement, the resulting contract and any purchase orders issued herewith shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York except where the Federal supremacy clause requires otherwise, and actions or proceedings shall be heard in a court of competent jurisdiction in Nassau County. Actions or proceedings arising under the Federal supremacy clause shall be heard in United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York.

5. Full Force and Effect. All the terms and conditions of the Original Agreement not expressly amended by this Amendment shall remain in full force and effect and govern the relationship of the parties for the term of the Amended Agreement.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING THIS FORM

Any acknowledgment completed in California must contain verbiage exactly as appears above in the notary section or a separate acknowledgment form must be properly completed and attached to that document. The only exception is if a document is to be recorded outside of California. In such instances, any alternative acknowledgment verbiage as may be printed on such a document so long as the verbiage does not require the notary to do something that is illegal for a notary in California (i.e. certifying the authorized capacity of the signer). Please check the document carefully for proper notarial wording and attach this form if required.

- State and County information must be the State and County where the document signer(s) personally appeared before the notary public for acknowledgment.
- Date of notarization must be the date that the signer(s) personally appeared which must also be the same date the acknowledgment is completed.
- The notary public must print his or her name as it appears within his or her commission followed by a comma and then your title (notary public).
- Print the name(s) of document signer(s) who personally appear at the time of notarization.
- Indicate the correct singular or plural forms by crossing off incorrect forms (i.e. he/she/they- is/are) or circling the correct forms. Failure to correctly indicate this information may lead to rejection of document recording.
- The notary seal impression must be clear and photographically reproducible. Impression must not cover text or lines. If seal impression smudges, re-seal if a sufficient area permits, otherwise complete a different acknowledgment form.
- Signature of the notary public must match the signature on file with the office of the county clerk.
 - ❖ Additional information is not required but could help to ensure this acknowledgment is not misused or attached to a different document.
 - ❖ Indicate title or type of attached document, number of pages and date
 - ❖ Indicate the capacity claimed by the signer. If the claimed capacity is a corporate officer, indicate the title (i.e. CEO, CFO, Secretary)
- Securely attach this document to the signed document

SOFTWARE LICENSE AND SERVICES AGREEMENT BETWEEN
AND
ORACLE USA, INC.

THIS SOFTWARE LICENSE AND SERVICES AGREEMENT (hereinafter "Agreement") is entered into between Nassau County, New York (hereinafter, "Nassau") whose address is 160 Old County Road, Mineola, New York, 11501, and Oracle USA, Inc. (hereinafter "Oracle"), a Colorado corporation whose main office and principal place of business is 500 Oracle Parkway, Redwood Shores, California 94065 and is effective as of the date set forth with the final signature below (the effective date). Orders may be placed under this Agreement for up to three (3) years after its effective date or as otherwise extended by amendment.

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Nassau has determined that its current and future administrative systems needs require that its current aging and diverse systems be replaced; and

WHEREAS, Nassau has determined that the upgrade and replacement of its administrative systems requires the acquisition of a new commercial off-the-shelf integrated information system using Enterprise Resource Planning (hereinafter "ERP") software, and the retention of related services for such software; and

WHEREAS, Nassau issued a Request for Proposal seeking such software and services and thereafter supplemented this with a Request for Clarification, (collectively, the "RFP"); and

WHEREAS, Oracle submitted a proposal, Clarifications, and Best and Final Offers in response to the RFP (hereinafter "Proposal"); and

WHEREAS, based upon the competitive solicitation and evaluation of proposals for the provision of the ERP Software and for the performance of the Services (as hereinafter defined), Nassau has determined that Oracle possesses the qualifications necessary to provide such Software and Services; and that the Proposal offers the best value to Nassau from among the competing proposals received by Nassau, and that Nassau awards this Agreement to Oracle on the basis of the merits of the Proposal; and

WHEREAS, Nassau desires to retain Oracle to provide the Software and Services as set forth hereinafter, and Oracle agrees to provide such Software and perform such Services;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the terms and the mutual covenants and obligations of the parties set forth in this Agreement, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties do hereby agree as follows:

I. DEFINITIONS

Advanced Customer Services: On-site services, set forth in Exhibit 3, that Nassau may purchase from Oracle under this Agreement.

Agreement: The writing(s) which contain the agreement of Nassau and Oracle setting forth the total legal obligation between the parties as determined by applicable rules of law.

Ancillary Programs: Third party materials specified in the Documentation, which may only be used for the purposes of installing or operating the programs with which the Ancillary Programs are delivered.

Documentation or Program Documentation: Program user manual(s) and Program Installation manual(s) for the Software.

Emergency: An urgent and unexpected requirement where health and public safety or the conservation of public resources is at risk.

Enterprise License: A license grant that permits a defined entity (the "Enterprise") to use the acquired the Software across its Enterprise, where the numerical limits of the license is calculated by reference to its employee count or its operating budget or other agreed upon metric. The specific terms of the Enterprise License are set forth in the Ordering Document.

Error Corrections: Machine executable software code furnished by Oracle which corrects the Software so as to conform to the applicable Documentation of Oracle.

Incremental Licenses: An increase in the number of licenses for Software previously acquired by Nassau. Such Incremental License purchases are accepted upon delivery.

License Effective Date: The date Software is delivered to Nassau. Where a License involves Software which was previously licensed by Nassau, the License Effective Date for the additional licenses shall be deemed to be the date on which the Purchase Order is executed.

Material: Any information, design, specification, instruction, Software, data, or material furnished by Oracle and used by Nassau.

Ordering Document: The Oracle form, signed by both parties, that sets forth the Software and/or Services to be purchased, Software metrics, prices, discounts, and specific terms relevant to the purchase.

New Software Releases (Software Revisions): Any commercially released revisions to the licensed version of the Software as may be generally offered and available to Nassau, if current on technical support. New releases involve a substantial revision of functionality from a previously released version of the Software. Updates are provided when available, and Oracle is under no obligation to develop any future Software or functionality.

Proprietary: Created and / or owned by Oracle, which may be protected by confidentiality, secrecy, patent, copyright or trademark against commercial competition.

Purchase Order: Nassau's fiscal form or format that is used when making a purchase (e.g., formal written Purchase Order, electronic Purchase Order, or other authorized instrument).

Services: Technical support (also referred to as "Maintenance"), training, or Advanced Customer Services that Nassau purchases under this Agreement.

Site: The location (street address) where the Software will be used or Services delivered.

Software or Programs: Software acquired under the terms and conditions set forth in the Agreement. "Software" or "Programs" includes error corrections, upgrades, enhancements, new releases, and updates delivered to Oracle's current subscribers under Technical Support or Maintenance.

Source Code: The programming statements or instructions written and expressed in any language understandable by a human being skilled in the art which are translated by a language compiler to produce executable machine Object Code.

Supported Program License: Programs for which Oracle offers Technical Support.

Technical Support or Maintenance: Technical support services for the Software that are offered by Oracle under this Agreement.

Training: The services provided by Oracle University, as set forth in Exhibit 4.

II. SOFTWARE

Oracle shall provide the Programs in accordance with the following terms and conditions.

- A. License Scope: Following delivery of the Software, Nassau is granted a non-exclusive, non-assignable, royalty free, perpetual, limited right to use the Software ordered for its governmental and business operations subject to the terms of this Agreement, including the license definitions and rules and Documentation. For Software that is specifically designed to allow a third party to interact with Nassau in furtherance of Nassau's governmental or business operations, such use is allowed under this Agreement. Nassau may make a sufficient number of copies of the Software for its licensed use and one copy of each software media.
- B. Documentation: Documentation is delivered with the Software or Nassau may access the Documentation online at <http://oracle.com/contracts>. Oracle hereby grants to Nassau a perpetual license right to make, reproduce and distribute, either electronically or otherwise, copies of Documentation in accordance with the terms of the license, and the Documentation fully describes the proper procedure for using the Software.

C. Permitted License Transfers: Upon prior written notice to Oracle, the following license transfers are permitted under this Agreement, at no cost to Nassau, unless the license type specifically prohibits such a transfer:

1. Nassau may transfer Software internally within its own entity;
2. If Nassau is subject to a governmental reorganization or otherwise mandated by its governing body to convey any of its specific functions to another governmental entity, the Software used to support the conveyed functions may be transferred to the entity acquiring the transferred functions. The transferor must discontinue its use of the transferred Software.
3. If Nassau merges with another governmental entity, the Software acquired may be used by the merged entity.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to relieve Nassau or the transferee entity of the obligation to use the Software in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement and all applicable Ordering Documents placed hereunder, including, without limitation, limiting usage of the Software to the quantity and license type for which such software is licensed.

D. Restricted Use By Outsourcers / Facilities Management, Service Bureaus / or Other Third Parties: Outsourcers, facilities management, consultants and agents (collectively, "Agents") retained by Nassau shall have the limited right to use the Software to maintain Nassau's internal business operations subject to the terms of this Agreement, including data processing, for the time period that they are engaged in such activities, provided that Nassau is responsible for the compliance of its Agents with the terms and conditions of this Agreement and their use of the Software.

E. Archival Back-Up and Disaster Recovery Nassau shall be entitled to use and copy the Software and related Documentation for archival backup and disaster recovery and shall have the rights under "Cold", "Warm" or "Hot" Backup, as defined below, to initiate disaster recovery on such backup systems testing up to four times annually, up to two day per testing, at no charge other as set forth below:

1. "Cold Backup" is a backup copy of the Software, which is retained on Oracle's software media only. In the event of failure of a primary machine, Nassau may download the Software from Oracle's website or it may use the software media to load Oracle's Software on a second machine of Nassau of the same hardware/operating system combination. There is no additional fee for maintaining a Cold Backup.
2. "Warm Backup" is a backup copy of the Software, which is loaded on a machine, which is accessed for the processing of data and/or applications only in the event of a failure of the primary machine. In the event of a failure of the primary machine, the secondary machine is accessed and used to run the Software. There is no additional fee for maintaining a Warm Backup.

3. "Hot Backup" is a copy of the Software, which is loaded on a machine and operated simultaneously with the primary machine. No processing of data or applications takes place on the backup machine. In the event of a failure of the primary machine, all processing is switched to the backup machine in real time. The fee for a Hot Backup is 25% of the contract price of the primary license and/or technical support.

F. Confidentiality Restrictions: The Software is a trade secret, copyrighted and proprietary product of Oracle. Nassau and its employees will keep the Software strictly confidential, and Nassau will not disclose or otherwise distribute or reproduce any Software to anyone other than as authorized under the terms of Agreement. Nassau will not remove or destroy any proprietary markings or notice of Oracle's or its licensors' proprietary rights. Oracle or its licensors retain all ownership and intellectual property rights to the Software.

G. Restricted Use by Nassau: Except as expressly authorized by the terms of this Agreement, Nassau shall not:

1. Copy the Software;
2. Cause or permit reverse engineering (unless required by law for interoperability), disassembly or decompilation of the Software (the foregoing prohibition includes but is not limited to review of data structures or similar materials produced by the Software);
3. Make the Software or Materials resulting from Services available in any manner to any third party for use in the third party's business operations (unless such access is expressly permitted for the specific software license or Materials from the services acquired);
4. Export the Software in violation of any U.S. Department of Commerce export administration regulations;
5. Release benchmarking results: unless required by law or compelled by court order or subpoena, Nassau shall not disclose to third parties not authorized by it to implement or maintain its systems, results of any Software benchmark test without Oracle's prior written consent. The foregoing restriction shall not apply to benchmark results of non-Oracle software which accessed the Software or to benchmark results of an overall system, provided such results: (a) are released only as the benchmark results of such non-Oracle software or of the total system and (b) do not make any reference to Oracle Software. Nassau shall notify Oracle of requests for the release of benchmarking results under the New York State Freedom of Information Law (FOIL) or applications for court orders or subpoenas and give Oracle an opportunity to oppose disclosure.

H. Open Source Software: Open source software is developed independently of Oracle and may be governed by a separate license ("open source software"). If the open source software is governed by a separate license, Oracle shall provide a copy of that license in the applicable Documentation and Nassau's license rights and obligations with respect to that open source software shall be defined by those separate license terms and subject to the conditions, if any, therein. Nothing in this Agreement shall restrict, limit, or otherwise affect any rights or obligations Nassau may have, or conditions to which Nassau may be subject, under such separate open source license terms.

III. SOFTWARE DELIVERY

Oracle has made available to Nassau for electronic download at the electronic delivery web site located at the following Internet URL: <http://edelivery.oracle.com>. Through the Internet URL, Nassau can access and electronically download the Software and related Documentation. Provided that Nassau has continuously maintained technical support for the Software, Nassau may continue to download the software and related Documentation. Please be advised that not all programs are available on all hardware / operating system combinations. For current program availability please check the electronic delivery web site. Nassau acknowledges that Oracle's delivery obligation under this Agreement is met by the provision of the electronic delivery web site URL. Provided Nassau continuously maintains Technical Support, CD Packs for the Software provided under the Ordering Document may be ordered through the Oracle Store independent of this Agreement. If Nassau loses or damages the media containing a Program licensed here under, upon Nassau's written notice Oracle will provide a replacement copy thereof, for a media and shipping charge. The following shipping terms shall apply: FCA Shipping Point, Prepaid, and Add. These terms shall also apply to any options exercised by Nassau. Unless otherwise agreed to by Nassau and Oracle, Nassau shall be responsible for installation of the Software.

Nassau acknowledges that, unless otherwise provided for in this Agreement, it accepts sole responsibility for (i) its system configuration, design and requirements, (ii) the selection of the Programs to achieve its intended results, and (iii) modifications, changes or alterations to the Programs.

IV. SOFTWARE ACCEPTANCE

A. Unless otherwise provided by mutual agreement of Nassau and Oracle, Nassau shall have sixty (60) days from the date of delivery to accept all Software. Where Oracle is responsible for installation, acceptance shall be from completion of installation. Failure to provide notice of acceptance or rejection to Oracle by the end of the period provided for under this clause constitutes acceptance by Nassau as of the expiration of that period. Nassau may, in writing, waive the Acceptance Period, or any part thereof, at any time.

If Nassau rejects the Software, it shall (a) cease using the applicable Software, and (b) certify to Oracle that it has destroyed or has returned to Oracle the Software, Documentation and all copies. This requirement applies to copies in all forms, partial and complete, in all types of media and computer memory, and whether or not modified or merged into other materials.

Oracle may offer Nassau a free trial of the Software pursuant to (B) immediately below. If Nassau accepts such free trial license for the Software, the length of the trial shall count toward the sixty (60) day acceptance period and such trial license will grant to Nassau the right to examine the Software for at least sixty (60) days (unless the parties thereto agree otherwise). Upon the expiration of such period,

Nassau must either issue a Purchase Order to Oracle for purchase of the Software or portions thereof in accordance with this Agreement, or forthwith discontinue all use and return the Software to Oracle. Nassau shall be deemed to have tested the Software to its satisfaction and accepted the Software upon its issuance of the Purchase Order.

If any agreed trial license period is less than sixty (60) days, then in addition to the trial license period, Nassau shall have the number of days to accept the Software that is the difference between sixty (60) days and the length of the agreed trial license, provided Nassau notifies Oracle in writing of its intention to use such acceptance period at the time Nassau issues its Purchase Order. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this provision does not apply to purchases which merely increase the number of licenses for software previously acquired by Nassau ("incremental licenses"). Such incremental license purchases are accepted upon delivery.

- B. Trial Software. Nassau may order trial Software, or Oracle may include additional trial Software with the order which Nassau may use for trial, non-production purposes only. Nassau may not use the trial Software to provide or attend third party training on the content and/or functionality of the Software. Nassau has sixty (60) days from delivery to evaluate such trial Software. If it decides to use any of this trial Software after the sixty (60) day trial period, Nassau must obtain a license for such trial Software from Oracle. If it decides not to obtain a license for the trial Software after the sixty (60) day trial period, Nassau will cease using and will delete any such trial Software from its computer systems. Software licensed for trial purposes is provided "as is" and Oracle does not provide technical support or offer any warranties for these programs.

V. SERVICES

- A. Nassau may acquire Technical Support (maintenance), Advanced Customer Services, and Training, under this Agreement. The rates for the purchase of Advanced Customer Services and Training are set forth in Exhibits 3 and 4, respectively. The terms for the purchase of Technical Support are set forth in the Article immediately below and in the Technical Support policies attached as Exhibit 1.
- B. Upon payment for Services, Nassau will have a perpetual, non-exclusive, non-assignable, royalty free license to use for its internal business operations, anything developed by Oracle and delivered to Nassau. Nassau may allow its agents and contractors to use the deliverables for such purpose and Nassau is responsible for their compliance with this Agreement and the Ordering Document. Oracle retains ownership and all intellectual property rights to anything developed by it and delivered by it under the applicable Ordering Document resulting from the Services, except as stated in (C) immediately below.
- C. Advanced Customer Services ("ACS"). The only consulting services offered by Oracle under this Agreement are Advanced Customer Services ("ACS"). Oracle states that no development or customization work can be provided pursuant to the performance of the ACS.

To the extent that Oracle may produce incidental deliverables in the performance of ACS and following payment of all fees for the applicable ACS order: (a) the allocation of ownership and license rights to such incidental deliverables shall be the Joint Property (as defined below) of both Oracle and Nassau; and (b) Oracle grants to Nassau a non-exclusive, non-assignable, royalty free, perpetual, internal-use license to use Oracle Works (as defined below) that are embodied in the Joint Property.

1. "Incidental Deliverables" shall mean those deliverables developed by Oracle solely for Nassau in the performance of the applicable Ordering Document, except for any Oracle Works (as defined below).
2. "Oracle Works" shall mean: (a) anything provided by or on behalf of Oracle from a repository; (b) any software code generated by computer aided software engineering (CASE) tools; (c) any tools, interfaces, and utilities developed by or on behalf of Oracle; and (d) any derivative works of (a), (b), or (c) above. Nothing in this section shall be construed to grant, amend, or modify any license for any Software or Documentation owned or distributed by Oracle.
3. "Joint Property" shall mean the Incidental Deliverables which are those deliverables developed using ACS and shall be owned jointly by Oracle and Nassau; Joint Property does not include any Oracle Works (as defined above). Oracle and Nassau agree that each party jointly shall own the copyright interest in the Joint Property and that each party may freely use, share, license or sub-license the Joint Property without requiring the approval of the other party, and shall have no duty of accounting to the other party for use of the Joint Property.

Oracle retains all right, title and interest, including all copyrights, in any Oracle Works and Software. Any property or material furnished by Nassau to Oracle hereunder is and will remain the property of Nassau.

- D. At Nassau's request, Oracle shall provide Nassau with the resumes of all Oracle's employees, consultants, and subcontractors who shall perform Services at Nassau's site under this Agreement. Nassau shall have the right to conduct interviews, unless otherwise agreed to by the parties, of all such employees, consultants, or subcontractors provided such interview occurs before the commencement of Services by the relevant employees, consultants or subcontractors. Nassau shall have the right to reject assignment of any Oracle employee, consultant, or subcontractor to a particular Service by providing Oracle a reasonable and non-discriminatory basis for such rejection. This paragraph shall not apply to the provision of Technical Support Services.
- E. The Services provided under this Agreement may be related to Nassau's license to use Programs which it acquires under a separate order. The Agreement referenced in that order shall govern Nassau's use of such Programs. Any Services acquired from Oracle are bid separately from such Program licenses, and Nassau may acquire either Services or such Program licenses without acquiring the other.

VI. TECHNICAL SUPPORT & MAINTENANCE

- A. Technical Support consists of annual technical support services ordered by Nassau for the Software. Payment shall be due quarterly in arrears or as otherwise agreed to by the parties. If ordered, annual Technical Support (including first year and all subsequent years) is provided under Oracle's Technical Support Policies that are attached to this Agreement at the time the Services are ordered. The Technical Support Policies shall be updated annually by amendment to this Agreement. Nassau should review the Technical Support Policies prior to ordering the applicable services.

Technical support is effective upon the effective date of the Ordering Document unless otherwise stated therein. The effective date of an order is when the Ordering Document is fully signed and Oracle receives the Purchase Order; provided however, if the order is subject to an acceptance period, the effective date will be upon acceptance.

The Technical Support service level, which may also be referred to as Software Update License & Support, (or any successor technical support offering to Software Update License & Support, "SULS") acquired with Nassau's order may be renewed annually and, if Nassau renews SULS for the same number of licenses for the same Software, Nassau will be entitled to receive the caps on fee increases which are set forth in Exhibit 1.

If Nassau decides to purchase Technical Support for any Software within a license set, Nassau is required to purchase Technical Support at the same level for all Software within that license set. Nassau may desupport a subset of Software in a license set only if there is also agreement to terminate that subset of licenses. The Technical Support fees for the remaining licenses will be priced in accordance with the Technical Support Policies in effect at the time of termination. The applicable discount to be used in the event of support re-pricing is set forth in Exhibit 2. Oracle's license set definition is available in the Technical Support Policies. If Nassau decides not to purchase Technical Support, Nassau may not update any unsupported Software with new versions of the Software.

Technical Support term(s) and any renewal(s) thereof are independent of the expiration of this Agreement and will not automatically renew. Nassau may discontinue Technical Support at the end of any current Technical Support term. In the event that Nassau discontinues Technical Support of Software, it may, at any time thereafter, reinstate Technical Support for the Software without any additional penalties or other charges, by paying Oracle the amount which would have been due under the order for the period of time that such Technical Support had lapsed.

- B. Oracle's Technical Support offering, entitled "Lifetime Support", is comprised of the following:
- 1. Premier Support: Premier Support provides updates, fixes and security alerts; tax, legal, and regulatory updates; upgrade scripts; technical support; major product and technology releases, access to Oracle's Customer Service Website, and certification with new third-party products/versions.

2. Extended Support: Oracle may grant Nassau the right to acquire an additional three years of Extended Support. Extended Support provides updates, fixes and security alerts; tax, legal, and regulatory updates; upgrade scripts; technical support; access to its Customer Service Website; and major product and technology releases. Extended Support does not include certification with new third-party products/versions.
3. Sustaining Support: As an alternative to Extended Support, Oracle grants Nassau the right to acquire Sustaining Support for as long as it licenses the Software. Sustaining Support provides access to Oracle's Customer Service Support Website, pre-existing fixes, and major product and technology releases. Sustaining Support does not include Updates, fixes, and security alerts; Tax, legal, and regulatory updates; Certification with new third-party products/versions; and Certification with other Oracle products.

Additional information about Oracle's Lifetime Support offering may be found in the Technical Support Policies, attached as Exhibit 1.

C. Successor Products and Re-Named Programs.

1. Successor Products. If Oracle makes successor products available for Oracle's product lines ("New Software") that includes substantially similar functionality and features as a Program for which Nassau has purchased a Program License ("Old Software"), Oracle will provide Nassau with a migration path from the Old Software to the New Software and the right to use the New Software under this Agreement at no additional charge, provided that (i) Nassau is current on Technical Support for the Old Software; (ii) this right shall only apply to New Software that is available in production release status on the operating system identified by Nassau at the time of the request; and (iii) Oracle is currently making available, such migration path from the Old Software to the New Software to all of its other supported customers without additional charge.

If Oracle does not provide to all of its supported customers a migration path from the Old Software to the New Software free of additional charge, then Oracle will provide Nassau with the right to use only the functionality and features contained in the New Software that is substantially similar to the functionality and features contained in the Old Software. Nassau shall not have the right to use nor shall it use any additional functionality or features in such New Software. All use of New Software shall otherwise be subject to this Agreement.

2. Re-Named Programs. If any Program licensed under this Agreement ("Original Program") is re-named or divided into two or more separate Programs ("Re-Named Program") and the functionality of the Re-Named Program is and remains the same as the functionality of the Original Program, and Oracle makes such Re-Named Program generally available at no additional license fees to all of its customers who have maintained Technical Support for the Original Program, then Oracle shall provide the Re-Named Program to Nassau for no additional license fees, provided that the Re-Named Program is available in production release and that Nassau is current on Technical Support for the Original Program pursuant to Oracle's Technical Support Policies (or reinstated Technical Support for such Program pursuant to Oracle's then current Technical Support Policies).

In the event that Oracle offers successor or renamed programs, as referenced above, Oracle will notify Nassau of the affected Software to the same extent and in the same manner that it provides notification to its other supported customers of the affected Software. The parties acknowledge that Oracle offers Lifetime Support for many of its Programs; if Lifetime Support is offered for a Program, such Program is not deemed to be discontinued under the meaning of this section.

VII. SOURCE CODE

Oracle shall retain in escrow a copy of the source code necessary to support the Software (not including any Software for which source code is delivered with such Software). The escrowed material shall be maintained under an agreement which provides that if Oracle ceases to be in the business of supporting the Software, the escrow agent shall furnish Nassau with a copy of the escrowed material that has become unsupported. Nassau shall pay the escrow agent a nominal fee sufficient to cover the cost of reproduction and distribution of source materials, including reasonable administrative expenses thereto. Any escrowed material furnished under this provision shall be considered licensed subject to the terms of this Agreement and shall be used solely to maintain the Software. If Oracle replaces Iron Mountain Intellectual Property Management with a substitute escrow agent, Nassau will receive notice of the name and address of the substitute agent.

VIII. COMPENSATION / PAYMENTS / INVOICES

- A. Upon acceptance of Software or as otherwise provided by Agreement, Oracle may invoice for payment. The required payment date shall be thirty (30) calendar days, excluding legal holidays, from the receipt and approval by the County Comptroller of a proper invoice and County Claim Voucher, in accordance with paragraph B.
- B. All payment Invoices shall include, at a minimum, the following terms:
1. Delivery on official form of Oracle;
 2. Name, Address and Remittance Address of Oracle if different from that contained in the introductory paragraph of this Agreement;
 3. Agreement Number;
 4. An executed County Claim Voucher detailing of the Programs or Services for which Oracle requests payment;
 5. Total amount to be invoiced.
- C. Oracle shall submit all payment Invoices to the designated payment office for this Agreement, which shall be, unless Oracle receives written notification to the contrary, the address listed in the first paragraph of this Agreement.
- D. The fees due under an Ordering Document signed by Nassau and Oracle shall be non-cancelable and the sums paid nonrefundable, except as expressly provided therein or in this Agreement.
- E. Nassau's signature on an Ordering Document referencing this Agreement and Nassau's issuance of a purchase order are its representations to Oracle that the purchase has been fully authorized and that all funds for the purchase have been fully appropriated.

- F. Nassau agrees that it has not relied on the future availability of any Programs or Updates in entering into the payment obligations arising under this Agreement; however, (a) if Nassau orders SULS for programs, the preceding sentence does not relieve Oracle of its obligation to provide Updates under this Agreement or the relevant Ordering Document, if-and-when available, in accordance with Oracle's then current Technical Support Policies, and (b) the preceding sentence does not change the rights granted to Nassau for any program licensed under this Agreement or the relevant Ordering Document, per the terms of this Agreement and/or the Ordering Document.
- G. Submission of an invoice and payment thereof shall not preclude Nassau from reimbursement or demanding a price adjustment where the billing was inaccurate. Oracle shall provide, upon request of Nassau, the information reasonably necessary to verify the accuracy of the billings. Such information shall be provided in the format reasonably requested by Nassau and in a media commercially available from Oracle.
- H. If Nassau is exempt from sales tax, Oracle will not invoice it for applicable sales tax provided a copy of a valid sales tax certificate of exemption is provided to Oracle on or before the effective date of this Agreement. Also, Nassau will reimburse Oracle for reasonable expenses related to providing the Services. Fees for Services listed in an Ordering Document are exclusive of taxes and expenses.

IX. WARRANTY

- A. Title and Ownership Warranty. Oracle warrants that it possesses (i) full ownership, clear title free of all liens, or (ii) the right to transfer or deliver perpetual or term license rights to the Software. Oracle shall be solely liable for its costs of acquisition of such ownership rights and/or clear title. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary in this Agreement, Article X(A), Intellectual Property Infringement Indemnification, of this Agreement states Nassau's exclusive remedy and Oracle's entire liability for any breach of this particular warranty.
- B. Software Warranty. Software offered shall be a current production release. Oracle warrants that the Software will perform in all material respects as described in the Documentation for eighteen (18) months from the date of acceptance. Nassau must notify Oracle of any Program warranty deficiency within eighteen (18) months after acceptance.

For Nassau's initial purchase of Software under this Agreement only, Oracle also warrants that the Software will perform in all material respects in accordance with Oracle's response to the functional and technical requirements attached as Exhibit 5 for eighteen (18) months from the date of acceptance. Nassau must notify Oracle of any Software warranty deficiency under this paragraph within eighteen (18) months year after acceptance of the initial purchase of the Software.

- C. Virus Warranty. Oracle represents and warrants that prior to delivery Oracle shall use commercially reasonable methods to test and protect the Software against viruses and other harmful elements designed to disrupt the orderly operation of, or impair the integrity of data files resident on, any data processing system. Oracle represents and warrants that it will not deliver Software that contains any known virus. Oracle will also maintain a master copy of the appropriate versions of the Software, free of viruses. If Nassau believes a virus may be present in the delivered Software, then upon its request, Oracle will provide a master copy to Nassau for comparison with and correction of its copy of the Software.
- D. Date/Time Warranty. Oracle represents that during the term of this Agreement, including any extension or renewal hereof, the Software shall, when used in accordance with the Program Documentation, be able to accurately process (including, but not limited to, calculating, comparing, and sequencing) date/time data transitions, including leap year and daylight savings time calculations.
- E. Services Warranty. Oracle warrants that the Services will be provided in a professional manner in accordance with industry standards. Nassau must notify Oracle of any Services warranty deficiencies within ninety (90) days from performance of the Service that gave rise to the warranty claim.
- F. Survival of Warranties. All warranties contained in this Agreement, which have not expired by their terms, shall survive the termination of this Agreement.
- G. NO IMPLIED WARRANTIES.
TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, THESE WARRANTIES ARE EXCLUSIVE AND THERE ARE NO OTHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS, INCLUDING WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.
- H. Oracle does not warrant or guarantee that the Software will be error free or operate without interruption or that Oracle will correct all Software errors. Oracle is not obliged to develop error corrections or updates for Nassau's benefit but, in the event such corrections or updates are made generally commercially available by Oracle at no additional charge, Oracle shall provide them to Nassau at no additional charge. Nassau acknowledges that the Software has not been prepared to meet its individual requirements; it is Nassau's responsibility to ensure that the facilities and functions described in its specification meet its requirements, and Nassau is solely responsible for results obtained from its use of the Software.
- I. EXCLUSIVE REMEDIES. FOR ANY BREACH OF THE WARRANTIES IN B, D AND E ABOVE, NASSAU'S EXCLUSIVE WARRANTY REMEDY, AND ORACLE'S ENTIRE WARRANTY LIABILITY, SHALL BE: (A) THE CORRECTION OF SOFTWARE ERRORS THAT CAUSE BREACH OF THE WARRANTY, OR IF ORACLE CANNOT SUBSTANTIALLY CORRECT SUCH BREACH IN A COMMERCIALY REASONABLE TIME AND MANNER, NASSAU MAY END ITS SOFTWARE LICENSE AND RECOVER THE FEES PAID TO ORACLE FOR THE SOFTWARE LICENSE; OR (B) THE REPERFORMANCE OF THE DEFICIENT SERVICES, OR IF ORACLE CANNOT SUBSTANTIALLY CORRECT A BREACH

IN A COMMERCIALY REASONABLE TIME AND MANNER, NASSAU MAY END THE RELEVANT SERVICES AND RECOVER THE FEES PAID TO ORACLE FOR THE DEFICIENT SERVICES.

X. INDEMNIFICATION AND LIABILITY

- A. Intellectual Property Infringement Indemnification. Oracle will also indemnify and hold Nassau harmless from and against any and all damages, expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), claims, judgments, liabilities and costs that may be finally assessed against Nassau in any action for infringement of a United States Letter Patent, or of any copyright, trademark, trade secret or other third party proprietary right based upon Materials provided to Nassau by Oracle and except to the extent such claims arise from Nassau's negligence or willful misconduct, provided that Nassau shall give Oracle: (i) prompt written notice of any action, claim or threat of infringement suit, or other suit, no later than 30 days after it receives notice of the claim (or sooner if required by law) (ii) sole control to settle or defend such action, claim or suit at Oracle's sole expense, and (iii) assistance in the defense of any such action at the expense of Oracle. Nassau reserves the right to join such action, at its sole expense, when it determines there is an issue involving a significant public interest.

If usage shall be enjoined for any reason or if Oracle believes that it may be enjoined, Oracle shall have the right, at its own expense and sole discretion: (i) to procure for Nassau the right to continue Usage (ii) to modify the material so that usage becomes non-infringing, while preserving its utility or functionality, or if these alternatives are not commercially reasonable, Oracle may terminate the license for, and require return of, the Material and refund any fees Nassau may have paid for it. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau if it alters the Material or uses it outside the scope of use identified in the Documentation or if Nassau uses a version of the Materials which has been superseded, to the extent the infringement claim could have been avoided by using an unaltered current version of the Material which was provided to Nassau and Nassau either has actual knowledge or is notified by Oracle to use such version due to a potential or existing infringement claim; any such notice will be in writing or, for any software licensed under this Agreement, may be posted at Oracle's customer support web site or included with a software update. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau to the extent that an infringement claim is based upon any information, design, specification, instruction, software, data, or material not furnished by Oracle. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau to the extent that an infringement claim is based upon the combination of any Material with any products or services not provided by Oracle except where such combinations are expressly specified by Oracle in the Documentation. Oracle will not indemnify Nassau for infringement caused by its actions against any third party if the Program(s) as delivered to Nassau and used in accordance with the terms of this Agreement would not otherwise infringe any third party intellectual property rights.

In the event that an action at law or in equity is commenced against Nassau arising out of a claim that Nassau's use of the Material under the Agreement infringes any patent, copyright or proprietary right, and Oracle is of the opinion that the allegations in such action in whole or in part are not covered by the indemnification and defense provisions set forth in the Agreement, Oracle shall promptly notify Nassau in writing and shall specify to what extent Oracle believes it is obligated to defend and indemnify under the terms and conditions of the Agreement. Oracle shall in such event attempt to secure a continuance to permit Nassau to appear and defend its interests in cooperation with Oracle, as is appropriate, including any jurisdictional defenses Nassau may have. This Article X(A) constitutes Nassau's sole and exclusive remedy for any infringement claims or damages.

B. Personal Injury / Property Damage Indemnification. Oracle shall be fully liable for any act or omission of Oracle, its employees, Subcontractors and agents, and shall fully indemnify and hold harmless Nassau from suits, actions, damages and costs of every name and description relating to personal injury and damage to real or tangible personal property caused by fault or negligence of Oracle, its employees, Subcontractors or agents arising from Oracle's performance of this Agreement, without limitation; provided, however, that Oracle shall not be obligated to indemnify Nassau for that portion of any claim, loss or damage arising hereunder due to the negligent act or failure to act of Nassau or the acts of third parties, other than those provided by Oracle to perform under the Agreement. In connection with the foregoing, Nassau shall give Oracle: (i) prompt written notice of any action, claim or threat of suit, (ii) the opportunity to take over, settle or defend such action, claim or suit at Oracle's sole expense, and (iii) assistance in the defense of any such action at the expense of Oracle. This paragraph does not apply to any claims arising from damage to "intangible personal property," which includes documentation, software, data or data files that are in electronic format.

C. Limitation on Liability. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE SET FORTH IN THE INDEMNIFICATION PARAGRAPHS ABOVE, THE LIMIT OF LIABILITY SHALL BE AS FOLLOWS:

- 1. ORACLE'S LIABILITY FOR ANY DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF, OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT, WHETHER IN CONTRACT, TORT OR OTHERWISE, SHALL IN NO CASE EXCEED DIRECT DAMAGES IN: (I) AN AMOUNT EQUAL TO TWO (2) TIMES THE CHARGES SPECIFIED IN THE PURCHASE ORDER FOR THE SOFTWARE AND SERVICES, OR PARTS THEREOF FORMING THE BASIS OF NASSAU'S CLAIM, (SAID AMOUNT NOT TO EXCEED A TOTAL OF TWELVE (12) MONTHS CHARGES PAYABLE UNDER THE APPLICABLE PURCHASE ORDER) OR (II) ONE MILLION DOLLARS ($1,000,000), WHICHEVER IS GREATER. NOTWITHSTANDING THE LIMITATION IN THE FIRST SENTENCE OF THIS PARAGRAPH (1), ORACLE'S LIABILITY TO NASSAU FOR DAMAGES RESULTING FROM THE WRONGFUL DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL DATA BY ORACLE IN ITS PERFORMANCE OF TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES IN BREACH OF ORACLE'S OBLIGATIONS UNDER ARTICLE XI(D) (CONFIDENTIALITY AND NON-DISCLOSURE) SHALL NOT EXCEED THE GREATER OF: (A) $1,000,000 OR (B) TWO TIMES THE FEES PAID BY NASSAU UNDER THIS AGREEMENT FOR TECHNICAL SUPPORT WITHIN THE TWO (2) YEARS IMMEDIATELY PRECEDING THE ACTION THAT GAVE RISE TO THE BREACH.

2. NOTWITHSTANDING THE ABOVE, NEITHER ORACLE OR NASSAU SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY CONSEQUENTIAL, INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, PUNITIVE OR SPECIAL DAMAGES OF ANY KIND, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, DAMAGES RESULTING FROM LOSS OF USE OR LOSS OF PROFIT BY NASSAU, ORACLE, OR BY OTHERS.

XI. CONFIDENTIALITY AND NON-DISCLOSURE

A. As used in this Section, "Disclosing Party" means Nassau when disclosing its Confidential Information (defined below) to Oracle, or Oracle when disclosing its Confidential Information to Nassau, and "Receiving Party" means Nassau when receiving disclosure of Confidential Information from Oracle, or Oracle when receiving disclosure of Confidential Information from Nassau. "Confidential Information" means all confidential information disclosed by a party (the "Disclosing Party") to the other party (the "Receiving Party") after the effective date of this Agreement including, without limitation, information relating to the Disclosing Party's operations, processes, plans or intentions, know-how, design rights, trade secrets or business affairs. Confidential Information shall be clearly marked as "confidential," "proprietary," "restricted" or some similar designation. Except as provided in this Agreement and specifically in Article XI(B) hereunder, the Receiving Party further agrees that any Confidential Information obtained by the Receiving Party from the Disclosing Party, its agents, subcontractors, officers, or employees in the course of performing its obligations, including without limitation, security procedures, business operations information, or commercial proprietary information in the possession of the Disclosing Party hereunder, will not be divulged to any third parties. Nassau acknowledges that the Source Code to the Software and the Documentation are Confidential Information of Oracle.

B. The Receiving Party:

- 1. may not use any Confidential Information for any purpose other than in accordance with, and in the performance of, its obligations under this Agreement;
- 2. may not disclose any Confidential Information to any person except with the prior written consent of the Disclosing Party or in accordance with Section C; and
- 3. shall make every reasonable effort to prevent the use or disclosure, other than as expressly permitted herein, of Confidential Information.

C. The Receiving Party may disclose information, which would otherwise be Confidential Information if and to the extent that:

- 1. it is required by law (such as the New York State Freedom of Information Law);
- 2. the information has come into the public domain, otherwise than through (a) a breach of this Clause by the Receiving Party, (b) a third party's breach of any duty of confidentiality owed to the Disclosing Party of which the Receiving Party was aware, or (c) a violation of law;

3. it was in the Receiving Party's lawful possession prior to the disclosure and had not been obtained by the Receiving Party either directly or indirectly from the Disclosing Party;
4. it is required by existing contractual obligations of which the Disclosing Party is aware;
5. it is independently developed by the Receiving Party without reliance on the Confidential Information;
6. It is required by any securities exchange or regulatory or governmental body to which it is subject or by judicial process;
7. It is otherwise obtained under the Freedom of Information Law or other applicable New York State laws or regulations; or
8. the disclosure is to its professional advisers, auditors or banker; or to any of its directors, other officers, employees and subcontractors (a "Recipient") to the extent that disclosure is reasonably necessary for the purposes of this Agreement.

D. In addition to the foregoing, Nassau represents that it has certain obligations with regard to the use and protection of Personal Data. "Personal Data" means non-public, personally identifiable information of Nassau's employees or citizenry. Oracle will not store, maintain or process any Personal Data on Nassau's behalf connection with the provision of programs, related technical support and other services under the Agreement. Any access by Oracle to Personal Data will be incidental to the software and related services provided by Oracle to Nassau. Nassau agrees that it will endeavor not to unnecessarily provide any Personal Data to Oracle under the Agreement. To the extent that Oracle has any incidental access to Personal Data in providing its Software and services to Nassau, Oracle agrees that (1) it shall not disclose or use Personal Data except to the extent reasonably required to carry out its obligations under the Agreement; and (2) it shall maintain appropriate information security measures to protect such Personal Data from unauthorized disclosure or use. The obligations set forth in this paragraph shall survive termination of this Agreement.

XII. BREACH

- A. Breach, Generally. If either party breaches a material term of this Agreement and fails to correct the breach within 30 days of written specification of the breach, then the breaching party is in default and the non-breaching party may terminate this Agreement, subject to the Dispute Resolution process set forth in the Article immediately below.
- B. Failure to Make Payment. In the event Nassau fails to make payment to Oracle for Software or Services delivered and accepted, and invoiced as set forth herein, within thirty (30) days of such delivery and acceptance, Oracle may, upon 10 days advance written notice to Nassau's purchasing official, suspend additional shipments of Software or provision of Services to Nassau until such time as reasonable arrangements have been made and assurances given by such entity for current and future payments. If the breach is for the failure to pay for Software and the breach continues unabated, upon written notice of termination, Oracle may terminate

Nassau's license for the unpaid-for Software. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Oracle shall, at least 10 days prior to declaring a breach of contract by Nassau, by certified or registered mail, notify the purchasing official of Nassau of the specific facts, circumstances and grounds upon which a breach will be declared. It is understood, however, that if Oracle's basis for declaring a breach is insufficient, Oracle's declaration of breach and failure to service Nassau shall constitute a breach of its Agreement and Nassau may thereafter seek any remedy available at law or equity.

C. Remedies for Breach. It is understood and agreed that all rights and remedies afforded below shall be in addition to all remedies or actions otherwise authorized or permitted by law, except where expressly limited in this Agreement:

1. Cover/Substitute Performance. In the event of Oracle's material, uncured breach, Nassau may, with or without formally bidding: (i) purchase from other sources; or (ii) if Nassau is unsuccessful after making reasonable attempts, under the circumstances then existing, to timely obtain acceptable service or acquire replacement software of equal or comparable quality, Nassau may acquire acceptable replacement software of lesser or greater quality. Such purchases may, in the discretion of Nassau, be deducted from the Agreement quantity and payments due Oracle.
2. Withhold Payment. In any case where a reasonable question of material non-performance by Oracle arises, payment may be withheld in whole or in part at the discretion of Nassau.
3. Bankruptcy. In the event that Oracle files a petition under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code during the term of this Agreement, Nassau may, at its discretion, make application to exercise its right to set-off against monies due the Debtor or, under the Doctrine of Recoupment, credit Nassau the amounts owed by Oracle arising out of the same transactions.
4. Reimbursement of Costs Incurred. Oracle agrees to reimburse Nassau promptly for any and all additional costs incurred for acquiring acceptable services, and/or replacement software. Should the cost of cover be less than the price charged under this Agreement, Oracle shall have no claim to the difference.
5. Deduction/Credit. Sums due as a result of these remedies may be deducted or offset by Nassau from payments due, or to become due, Oracle on the same or another transaction. If no deduction or only a partial deduction is made in such fashion Oracle shall pay to Nassau the amount of such claim or portion of the claim still outstanding, on demand.

XIII. DISPUTE RESOLUTION

- A. In the event there is a dispute or controversy under this Agreement, the parties agree to exercise their best efforts to resolve the dispute as soon as possible. The parties shall, without delay, continue to perform their respective obligations under this Agreement, which are not affected by the dispute.
- B. In the event Nassau is dissatisfied with Oracle's Software or Services provided under this Agreement, Nassau shall notify Oracle in writing. In the event Oracle has any disputes with Nassau, Oracle shall so notify Nassau in writing. If either party notifies the other of such dispute or controversy, the other party shall then make good faith efforts to solve the problem or settle the dispute amicably, including meeting with the party's representatives to attempt diligently to reach a satisfactory result.

- C. If negotiation between such persons fails to resolve any such dispute to the satisfaction of the parties within 14 business days or as otherwise agreed to by the parties, of such notice, then the matter shall be submitted to Nassau's senior county executive and Oracle's senior officer of the rank of Vice President or higher as its representative. Such representatives shall meet in person and shall attempt in good faith to resolve the dispute within the next 14 business days or as otherwise agreed to by the parties. This meeting must be held before either party may seek any other method of dispute resolution, including judicial or governmental resolutions. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Article shall not be construed to prevent either party from seeking and obtaining temporary equitable remedies, including injunctive relief.
- D. Oracle shall extend the dispute resolution period for so long as Nassau continues to make reasonable efforts to cure the breach, except with respect to disputes about the breach of payment of fees or infringement of its or its licensors' intellectual property rights.
- E. This Article XIII does not apply to any breach by Nassau of Oracle's or its licensor's intellectual property rights.

XIV. TERMINATION

The following termination provisions are subject to the Dispute Resolution provision, to terms of the Technical Support Policies, and other provisions of this Agreement. Termination under this Article does not relieve Nassau of its obligation to pay for Programs or Services delivered by Oracle under this Agreement.

- A. For Cause: For a material breach that remains uncured for more than thirty (30) days or other specified period after written notice to Oracle, the Agreement or Purchase Order may be terminated by Nassau at Oracle's expense where Oracle becomes unable or incapable of performing, or meeting any requirements or qualifications set forth in the Agreement, or for non-performance, or upon a determination that Oracle is non-responsible. Such termination shall be upon written notice to Oracle. In such event, Nassau may complete the contractual requirements in any manner it may deem advisable and pursue available legal or equitable remedies for breach. If the Agreement is terminated pursuant to this subdivision, Nassau shall remain liable for all accrued but unpaid fees and charges incurred through the date of the termination.
- B. For Convenience: By written notice, this Agreement may be terminated at any time by Nassau for convenience upon sixty (60) days written notice or other specified period without penalty or other early termination charges due. Such termination of the Agreement shall not affect any Purchase Order that has been issued under the Agreement prior to the date of such termination. If the Agreement is terminated pursuant to this subdivision, Nassau shall remain liable for all accrued but unpaid charges incurred through the date of the termination. Oracle shall use due diligence and provide any outstanding deliverables.

XV. FORCE MAJEURE

A force majeure occurrence is an event or effect that cannot be reasonably anticipated or controlled. Force majeure includes, but is not limited to, acts of God, acts of war, acts of public enemies, strikes, fires, explosions, actions of the elements, floods, or other similar causes beyond the control of Nassau or Oracle in the performance of the Agreement which non-performance, by exercise of reasonable diligence, cannot be prevented. Oracle shall provide Nassau with written notice of any force majeure occurrence as soon as the delay is known.

Neither Nassau nor Oracle shall be liable to the other for any delay in or failure of performance under the Agreement due to a force majeure occurrence. Any such delay in or failure of performance shall not constitute default or give rise to any liability for damages. The existence of such causes of such delay or failure shall extend the period for performance to such extent as determined by Oracle or Nassau to be necessary to enable complete performance by Oracle if reasonable diligence is exercised after the cause of delay or failure has been removed.

If such event continues for more than 90 days, either party may cancel unperformed Services upon written notice. This section does not excuse either party's obligation to take reasonable steps to follow its normal disaster recovery procedures or Nassau's obligation to pay for Software delivered or Services provided.

XVI. AUDIT OF SOFTWARE USAGE

Upon 45 days written notice, Oracle may audit Nassau's use of the Software. Oracle agrees not to audit Nassau's use more frequently than once annually. Nassau agrees to cooperate with Oracle's audit and provide reasonable assistance and access to information during its normal business hours. Nassau shall be entitled to designate a representative who shall be entitled to participate in such audit. Nassau agrees that Oracle shall not be responsible for any of Nassau's reasonable costs incurred in cooperating with the audit.

Oracle shall provide Nassau with a report of any such audit, and Nassau shall have the right to provide a written response to the report to Oracle. All such audit reports and responses to such audit reports shall be considered confidential and subject to the non-disclosure obligations in this Agreement. In the event such audit discloses that Nassau exceeds the scope of the permissible use of the licenses for the Software, Nassau agrees to immediately cease its impermissible use of such Software. To continue its use of such licenses, Nassau agrees to pay within thirty (30) days of the receipt of written notification and provision of an invoice.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Nassau in good faith provides Oracle with written notice of an alleged error in the amount of underpaid fees reported in the audit and agrees to pay any amounts not in dispute, Nassau may invoke the Dispute Resolution Process provided in Article XIII of this Agreement. If Nassau pays the undisputed amounts and provides the aforementioned notice of error, Nassau is not obligated to cease its alleged impermissible use of the Software during the Dispute Resolution process. During the Dispute Resolution process, Oracle agrees not to terminate the Software or any associated Technical Support services, nor commence formal proceedings for the judicial resolution of such dispute, except for the seeking of equitable relief, until an amicable resolution of the dispute through continued negotiation of the matter at issue does not appear likely.

XVII. POLICIES AND SECURITY

In performing this Agreement, Oracle warrants, covenants and represents that it will comply fully with Nassau's rules, procedures and protocols ("Procedures"), including but not limited to physical, facility, documentary, information security and cyber security, provided that such Procedures do not violate any state, local or federal law. Nassau shall make available the relevant Procedures and Oracle shall be responsible for distributing to its representatives and assessing and ensuring compliance. If any part of the Procedures should violate Oracle's Code of Ethics and Business Conduct or Oracle is otherwise unable to comply, Oracle shall notify Nassau in writing. Nassau shall be responsible for acquiring the necessary approvals for the waiver from the entity that issued the Procedure. Oracle and Nassau agree that the Procedures do not modify or amend the other terms and conditions of the Agreement.

XVIII. MISCELLANEOUS

- A. Cooperation Between Contractors. Oracle shall be responsible for fully cooperating with any third party, including but not limited to other contractors or subcontractors of Nassau, as necessary to ensure delivery of Software or coordination of performance of Services.
- B. Independent Contractors. It is understood and agreed that the legal status of Oracle, its agents, officers and employees under this Agreement is that of an independent contractor, and in no manner shall they be deemed employees of Nassau, and therefore are not entitled to any of the benefits associated with such employment. Oracle agrees, during the term of this Agreement, to maintain at Oracle's expense those benefits to which its employees would otherwise be entitled by law, including health benefits, and all necessary insurance for its employees, including worker's compensation, disability and unemployment insurance, and to provide Nassau with certification of such insurance upon request. Oracle remains responsible for all applicable federal, state and local taxes, and all FICA contributions.
- C. No Hard Stop / Passive License Monitoring. Unless Nassau is otherwise specifically advised to the contrary in writing at the time of order and prior to purchase, Oracle hereby warrants and represents that either: (1) the Software and all Updates do not and will not contain any computer code that would disable the Software or Updates or impair in any way its operation based on the elapsing of a period of time, exceeding an authorized number of copies, advancement to a particular date or other numeral, or other similar self-destruct mechanisms (sometimes referred to as "time bombs," "time locks," or "drop dead" devices) or that would permit Oracle to access the Software to cause such disablement or impairment (sometimes referred to as a "trap door" device); or (2) if the Software or Updates does contain any such computer code, such computer code shall not be enabled. Oracle agrees that in the event of a breach or alleged breach of this provision, Nassau may seek a temporary restraining order, injunction, or other form of equitable relief against the continuance of such breach, in addition to any and all remedies to which Nassau shall be entitled.

- D. Proof of License. The fully signed Ordering Document, Nassau's corresponding Purchase Order and payment of Oracle's invoice shall serve as Nassau's proof of License.
- E. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is deemed invalid or unenforceable, such determination shall have no effect on the balance of the Agreement, which shall be enforced and interpreted as if such provision was never included in the Agreement.
- F. Entire Agreement and Modification of Agreement Terms. This Agreement and the referenced appendices constitute the entire agreement between the parties thereto and no statement, promise, condition, understanding, inducement or representation, oral or written, expressed or implied, which is not contained herein shall be binding or valid, and the Agreement shall not be changed, modified or altered in any manner except by an instrument in writing executed by both parties hereto. No preprinted terms or conditions on a Purchase Order issued by Nassau, which seek to vary the terms of this Agreement or impose new duties or obligations on Oracle, shall have any force or effect.
- G. Assignments and Mergers, Acquisitions, Divestitures. Upon notice to Oracle, the Agreement may be assigned without the consent of Oracle to another Nassau subdivision pursuant to a governmental reorganization or assignment of functions under which the functions are transferred to a successor entity that assumes Nassau's responsibilities for the Agreement. If Nassau grants a security interest in the Programs and/or any Services deliverables, the secured party has no right to use or transfer the Programs and/or any Services deliverables, and if Nassau decides to finance an acquisition of the programs and/or any services, it will follow Oracle's policies regarding financing which are at <http://oracle.com/contracts>. Except in the event of a merger, consolidation, acquisition, internal restructuring, or sale of all or substantially all of the assets of Oracle, Oracle may not assign this Agreement without Nassau's prior written consent. Oracle's obligation to perform under this Agreement shall not be affected or impaired by any reorganization, consolidation or merger to which Oracle is, or may become, a party.
- H. Press Releases / Publicity. Oracle shall obtain the prior written approval of Nassau relative to the Agreement for press or other media releases.
- I. UCITA. The Uniform Computer Information Transactions Act does not apply to this Agreement or orders placed under it.
- J. Legal Compliance. Oracle represents it will pay at its sole expenses for all applicable permits, licenses, tariffs, tolls and fees and that it shall secure all notices and comply with all laws, ordinances, rules and regulations of any governmental entity applicable to the performance of obligations under the Agreement or seek waiver therefrom. Prior to award and during the Agreement term and any renewals thereof, Oracle must establish to the satisfaction of Nassau that it meets or exceeds all requirements of the Agreement and any applicable laws, including but not limited to, permits, insurance coverage, licensing, and proof of coverage for workers' compensation, and shall provide such proof as required by Nassau. Failure to comply or failure to provide proof may constitute grounds for Nassau to cancel or suspend the Agreement, in whole or in part or to take any other action deemed necessary by Nassau.

- K. Captions. The captions contained in this Agreement are intended for convenience and reference purposes only and shall in no way be deemed to define or limit any provision thereof.
- L. Governing Law. This procurement, the resulting contract and any purchase orders issued hereunder shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York except where the Federal supremacy clause requires otherwise, and actions or proceedings arising from the contract shall be heard in a court of competent jurisdiction in the State of New York.
- M. Order of Precedence. The documents comprising this Agreement shall have the following order of precedence: (1) Appendix A; (2) Ordering Document(s); (3) this Agreement; and (4) all other exhibits.

XIX. NASSAU SPECIFIC LAWS, ORDINANCES, REQUIREMENTS

A. Insurance.

1. Types and Amounts. Oracle shall obtain and maintain throughout the term of this Agreement, at its own expense: (i) one or more policies for commercial general liability insurance, which policy(ies) shall name "Nassau County" as an additional insured and have a minimum single combined limit of liability of not less than two million dollars ($2,000,000) per occurrence and four million dollars ($4,000,000) aggregate coverage, (ii) compensation insurance for the benefit of Oracle's employees ("Workers' Compensation Insurance"), which insurance is in compliance with the New York State Workers' Compensation Law, and (iii) such additional insurance, including, without limitation, builder's all risk, if applicable, automobile liability insurance and umbrella liability insurance, as Nassau may from time to time specify.
2. Acceptability; Deductibles; Subcontractors. All insurance obtained and maintained by Oracle pursuant to this Agreement shall be (i) written by one or more commercial insurance carriers licensed or authorized to do business in New York State and acceptable to Nassau; and (ii) in form and substance acceptable to Nassau. Oracle shall be solely responsible for the payment of all deductibles to which such policies are subject. Oracle shall require any subcontractor hired in connection with this Agreement to carry insurance with the same limits and provisions required to be carried by Oracle under this Agreement.
3. Delivery; Coverage Change; No Inconsistent Action. Prior to the execution of this Agreement, copies of current certificates of insurance evidencing the Insurance coverage required by this Agreement shall be delivered to the Nassau County Attorney's Office. Not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date of any expiration or renewal of, or actual, proposed or threatened reduction or cancellation of coverage under, any insurance required hereunder, Oracle shall provide written notice to the Nassau County Attorney's Office of the same and deliver to Nassau County Attorney's Office renewal or replacement certificates of insurance. Oracle shall cause all insurance to remain in full force and effect throughout the term of this Agreement and shall not take any action, or omit to take any action, which would suspend or invalidate any of the required coverages. The failure of Oracle to maintain Workers' Compensation Insurance shall render this contract void and of no effect. The failure of Oracle to maintain the other required coverages shall be deemed a material breach of this Agreement upon which Nassau reserves the right to consider this Agreement terminated as of the date of such failure.

- B. No Arrears or Default. Oracle is not in arrears to Nassau upon any debt or contract and it is not in default as surety, contractor, or otherwise upon any obligation to Nassau, including any obligation to pay taxes to, or perform services for or on behalf of, Nassau.
- C. Nassau County Living Wage Law. Pursuant to LL 12006, as amended, and to the extent that a waiver has not been obtained in accordance with such law or any rules of the County Executive, with respect to Services provided to Nassau which are performed within the United States, Oracle agrees as follows:
1. Oracle shall comply with the applicable requirements of the Living Wage Law, as amended;
 2. Failure to comply with the Living Wage Law, as amended, may constitute a material breach of this Agreement, the occurrence of which shall be determined solely by the County. Oracle has the right to cure such breach within thirty days of receipt of notice of breach from Nassau. In the event that such breach is not timely cured, Nassau may terminate this Agreement as well as exercise any other rights available to Nassau under applicable law.
 3. It shall be a continuing obligation of Oracle to inform Nassau of any material changes in the content of its certification of compliance, attached as Exhibit 6, and shall provide to Nassau any information necessary to maintain the certification's accuracy.
- C. Administrative Service Charge. Oracle agrees to pay Nassau an administrative service charge of five hundred and thirty-three dollars ($533.00) for the processing of this Agreement pursuant to Ordinance Number 741979, as amended by Ordinance Number 1282006.
- D. Executory Clause. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement:
1. Approval and Execution. Nassau shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to Oracle unless:
 - (i) all Nassau approvals have been obtained, including, if required, approval by the Nassau County Legislature, and

- (ii) this Agreement has been executed by the Nassau.
2. Availability of Funds: Nassau shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to Oracle beyond funds appropriated or otherwise lawfully available for this Agreement, and, if any portion of the funds for this Agreement are from the State and/or federal governments, then beyond funds available to Nassau from the State and/or federal governments. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (a) Nassau agrees to pay for all Software ordered and Services performed by Oracle prior to Oracle's receipt of Nassau's notice of the unavailability of funding or appropriations and (b) Nassau's issuance of a Purchase Order to Oracle is its representation to Oracle that funds for that purchase have been fully appropriated and are presently available.

XX. NOTICES

If Nassau has a dispute with Oracle or if Nassau wishes to provide a notice under the Indemnification section of this Agreement, or if Nassau becomes subject to insolvency or other similar legal proceedings, it will promptly send written notice to: Oracle USA, Inc., 500 Oracle Parkway, Redwood City, California, USA, Attention: General Counsel, Legal Department.

B. General Terms

1. Commencement Date

All program licenses and the period of performance for all services are effective upon shipment of tangible media or upon the effective date of this ordering document if shipment of tangible media is not required.

2. Fees, Invoicing, and Payment Obligation

a. All fees due under this ordering document shall be non-cancelable and the sums paid nonrefundable, except as provided in the agreement.

b. In entering into payment obligations under this ordering document, you agree and acknowledge that you have not relied on the future availability of any program or updates. However, (a) if you order technical support for programs licensed under this ordering document, the preceding sentence does not relieve Oracle of its obligation to provide such technical support under this ordering document, if and when available, in accordance with Oracle's then current technical support policies, and (b) the preceding sentence does not change the rights granted to you for any program licensed under this ordering document, per the terms of this ordering document and the agreement.

c. In accordance with the agreement: (i) license fees are invoiced as of the commencement date; and (ii) service fees are invoiced after the performance of the service; specifically, technical support fees are invoiced quarterly in arrears from the commencement date.

d. In addition to the fees listed in section A, Oracle will invoice you for any applicable shipping charges or applicable taxes.

3. Delivery and Installation

a. You shall be responsible for installation of the software.

b. Oracle has made available to you for electronic download at the electronic delivery web site located at the following Internet URL: <http://edelivery.oracle.com> the programs listed in section A. Through the Internet URL, you can access and electronically download to your location the software and related documentation for each program listed in section A. Provided that you have continuously maintained technical support for the programs listed in section A, you may continue to download the software and related program documentation for the programs listed in section A. Please be advised that not all programs are available on all hardware/operating system combinations. For current program availability please check the electronic delivery web site. You acknowledge that Oracle's delivery obligation under this ordering document is met by the provision of the electronic delivery web site URL.

4. Source Code

Oracle may deliver source code as part of its standard delivery for particular programs; all source code delivered by Oracle is subject to the terms of the agreement, ordering document and program documentation.

5. Segmentation

The program licenses provided in this ordering document are offered separately from any other proposal for consulting services you may receive or have received from Oracle and do not require you to purchase Oracle consulting services.

6. Order of Precedence

In the event of any inconsistencies between the agreement and this ordering document, this ordering document shall take precedence.

7. Customer Reference

In consideration of the discounts granted to you under this ordering document, Oracle may refer to you as a customer in sales presentations, marketing vehicles and activities. In addition you agree to become part of Oracle's reference program by working with a representative from Oracle Marketing to develop a customer profile for use on Oracle.com and for other promotional activities at Oracle's discretion. The profile will include a quote from an executive of your organization and your organization's logo.

8. Territory

The program licenses and services described in section A are for use in the U.S.

9. Limited Use Programs

The programs listed in section A-4 are limited use programs and may be used only with the programs listed in section A.1, section A.2 and section A.3.

10. Technical Support Cap

Software Update License & Support (or any successor technical support offering to Software Update License & Support, "SULS") acquired with your order may be renewed annually and, if you renew SULS for the same number of licenses for the same programs, for the first, second, third and fourth renewal years, the fee for SULS will not increase over the prior year's fee. If you renew SULS for the same number of licenses for the same programs for the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth or ninth renewal year, the fee for SULS will not increase by more than three percent (3%) over the prior year's fees.

C. Future Purchases

1. Expansion

a. If you exceed your licensed quantity you must order the programs (and first year Software Update License & Support for the programs) at the appropriate license and support fees specified on the attached Expansion Exhibit. The number of additional program licenses to be ordered shall be equal to the actual dollar amount of Enterprise $M of Operating Budget listed in section A.1 and/or the actual number of Enterprise Employees listed in section A.2 as of the order date less the total number of licensed quantity (under this ordering document or other ordering documents) rounded up to the next increment on the attached Expansion Exhibit.

b. The license definitions and program specific terms contained in section D of this ordering document will apply to program licenses ordered pursuant to this section.

c. Oracle has no delivery obligation for program licenses ordered pursuant to this section.

D. Enterprise Application Specific Terms

1. Enterprise $M Operating Budget

$M Operating Budget is defined as one million US Dollars of your gross budget reflected in an audited statement from your external accounting firm.

2. Applicable to programs with the license type of Enterprise $M Operating Budget

The value of these program licenses is determined by the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget. For these program licenses, the licensed quantity purchased must, at a minimum, be equal to the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget as of the effective date of your order. If at any time the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget exceeds the licensed quantity, you are required to order additional licenses (and technical support for such additional licenses) such that the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget is equal to or less than the licensed quantity. You are not entitled to any refund, credit or other consideration of any kind if there is a reduction in the amount of Enterprise $M Operating Budget. In addition, each year 90 days before the anniversary date (defined as the day and month of the ordering document effective date), you are required to report to Oracle the number of Enterprise $M Operating Budget as of such date.

3. Enterprise Employee

Enterprise Employee is defined as all of your full-time, part-time, temporary employees and all of your agents, contractors and consultants. The quantity of the licenses required is determined by the number of Enterprise Employees and not the actual number of users. In addition, if you elect to outsource any business function(s) to another company, all of the company's full-time, part-time, temporary employees and agents, contractors and consultants that are providing the outsourcing services for you must be counted for the purposes of determining the number of Enterprise Employees.

4. Applicable to programs with the license type of Enterprise Employee

The value of these program licenses is determined by the number of Enterprise Employees. For these program licenses, the licensed quantity purchased must, at a minimum, be equal to the number of Enterprise Employees as of the effective date of your order. If at any time the number of Enterprise Employees exceeds the licensed quantity, you are required to order additional licenses (and technical support for such additional licenses) such that the number of Enterprise Employees is equal to or less than the licensed quantity. You are not entitled to any refund, credit or other consideration of any kind if there is a reduction in the number of Enterprise Employees. In addition, each year 90 days before the anniversary date (defined as the day and month of the ordering document effective date), you are required to report to Oracle the number of Enterprise Employees as of such date.

5. Archival Back-Up and Disaster Recovery

The last sentence of Article II, Section E.3 of the agreement shall not apply to the programs listed in sections A.1, A.2 and A.3 of this ordering document.

F. Program Specific Terms for the Peoplesoft Product Lines

1. License Grant

Oracle grants to you a non-exclusive, nontransferable license for your UPK Developer(s) to: (i) use those User Productivity Kit ("UPK") products listed in Section A (collectively referred to as "materials") only as necessary to create and provide training solely for UPK to use the underlying programs for your benefit; (ii) make an unlimited number of copies of the materials only as necessary to create and provide training solely to UPK to use the underlying programs for your benefit; and (iii) develop modifications and customizations to the UPK programs licensed per UPK Module, if applicable, all subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the agreement, provided all copyright notices are reproduced as provided on the original. You are prohibited from reselling or distributing the materials to any other party or using the materials other than as explicitly permitted in this ordering document or in the agreement. Oracle represents that the materials and any content created by you using the program materials contain valuable proprietary information. Oracle (or its third-party program providers) retains title to all portions of the materials and any copies thereof. You shall use materials modifications created by you solely for your internal use in accordance with the terms of the agreement. You may provide access to and use of the materials only to those third parties that are licensed as UPK Users and that: (a) provide services to you concerning your use of the materials; (b) have a need to use and access the materials; and (c) have agreed to substantially similar non-disclosure obligations imposed by you as those contained in the agreement. NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING IN THE AGREEMENT TO THE CONTRARY, PROGRAMS LICENSED PER UPK MODULE ARE PROVIDED "AS IS" AND ARE PROVIDED WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND.

1. UPK Materials

For UPK content materials licensed under this ordering document, you represent and warrant that you have a valid license for the underlying program(s). All content materials are published in English language only.

2. UPK Module

UPK Module is defined as the functional software component described in the product documentation.

3. Included Programs - Crystal Reports for PeopleSoft Enterprise

This program is a third party program and it is also a supportable program. "Unlimited users" for purposes of this program means all users who are authorized by you to use such program. You may use this third party program solely in conjunction with PeopleSoft Enterprise programs licensed by you.

4. Included Programs - Crystal Enterprise/BusinessObjects Enterprise for PeopleSoft Enterprise

You acknowledge that this program requires a web application server. This third party program is a supportable program. A "concurrent access license" is a license for one person to access all features and functions of this program. A concurrent access license user is accessing the program from the time the concurrent access license user logs onto the program until the concurrent access license user exits or closes the program. You may use this third party program solely in conjunction with PeopleSoft Enterprise programs licensed by you.

5. Included Programs - WebSphere

Notwithstanding anything in the agreement to the contrary, Oracle shall not be obligated to indemnify you for any claims based on: (i) any third party products identified in the "README" AND "LICENSE.TXT" files included with WebSphere; (ii) open source code delivered with the WebSphere product; (iii) any trade secret embodied within WebSphere; and (iv) the combination, operation or use of WebSphere with any non-International Business Machine Corporation product, data, or apparatus. In addition to the terms set forth in the agreement and this ordering document, use of this program shall be subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the "README" and "LICENSE.TXT" files included with the WebSphere program, as those terms may change from time to time. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary: (a) source code is not included for this program and (b) this third party program is a supportable program.

By signing below, the parties agree that the agreement and this ordering document constitute the entire agreement between the parties with regard to the subject matter herein and as such, no other preprinted, non-negotiated or other terms and conditions, on the customer's purchase order or elsewhere, shall apply. The offer is valid through 30-NOV-2008 and shall become binding upon execution by you and acceptance by Oracle.

STANDARD CLAUSES FOR NYS CONTRACTS

The parties to the attached contract, license, lease, amendment or other agreement of any kind (hereinafter, "the contract" or "this contract") agree to be bound by the following clauses which are hereby made a part of the contract (the word "Contractor" herein refers to any party other than the State, whether a contractor, licenser, licensee, lessor, lessee or any other party):

1. EXECUTORY CLAUSE. In accordance with Section 41 of the State Finance Law, the State shall have no liability under this contract to the Contractor or to anyone else beyond funds appropriated and available for this contract.

2. NON-ASSIGNMENT CLAUSE. In accordance with Section 138 of the State Finance Law, this contract may not be assigned by the Contractor or its right, title or interest therein assigned, transferred, conveyed, sublet or otherwise disposed of without the previous consent, in writing, of the State and any attempts to assign the contract without the State's written consent are null and void. The Contractor may, however, assign its right to receive payment without the State's prior written consent unless this contract concerns Certificates of Participation pursuant to Article 5-A of the State Finance Law.

3. COMPTROLLER'S APPROVAL. In accordance with Section 112 of the State Finance Law (or, if this contract is with the State University or City University of New York, Section 355 or Section 6218 of the Education Law), if this contract exceeds $50,000 (or the minimum thresholds agreed to by the Office of the State Comptroller for certain S.U.N.Y. and C.U.N.Y. contracts), or if this is an amendment for any amount to a contract which, as so amended, exceeds said statutory amount, or if, by this contract, the State agrees to give something other than money when the value or reasonably estimated value of such consideration exceeds $10,000, it shall not be valid, effective or binding upon the State until it has been approved by the State Comptroller and filed in his office. Comptroller's approval of contracts let by the Office of General Services is required when such contracts exceed $85,000 (State Finance Law Section 163.6.a).

4. WORKERS' COMPENSATION BENEFITS. In accordance with Section 142 of the State Finance Law, this contract shall be void and of no force and effect unless the Contractor shall provide and maintain coverage during the life of this contract for the benefit of such employees as are required to be covered by the provisions of the Workers' Compensation Law.

5. NON-DISCRIMINATION REQUIREMENTS. To the extent required by Article 15 of the Executive Law (also known as the Human Rights Law) and all other State and Federal statutory and constitutional non-discrimination provisions, the Contractor will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, genetic predisposition or carrier status, or marital status. Furthermore, in accordance with Section 220-e of the Labor Law, if this is a contract for the construction, alteration or repair of any public building or public work or for the manufacture, sale or distribution of materials, equipment or supplies, and to the extent that this contract shall be performed within the State of New York, Contractor agrees that neither it nor its subcontractors shall, by reason of race, creed, color, disability, sex, or national origin: (a) discriminate in hiring against any New York State citizen who is qualified and available to perform the work; or (b) discriminate against or intimidate any employee hired for the performance of work under this contract. If this is a building service contract as defined in Section 230 of the Labor Law, then, in accordance with Section 239 thereof, Contractor agrees that neither it nor its subcontractors shall by reason of race, creed, color, national origin, age, sex or disability: (a) discriminate in hiring against any New York State citizen who is qualified and available to perform the work; or (b) discriminate against or intimidate any employee hired for the performance of work under this contract. Contractor is subject to fines of $50.00 per person per day for any violation of Section 220-e or Section 239 as well as possible termination of this contract and forfeiture of all moneys due hereunder for a second or subsequent violation.

6. WAGE AND HOURS PROVISIONS. If this is a public work contract covered by Article 8 of the Labor Law or a building service contract covered by Article 9 thereof, neither Contractor's employees nor the employees of its subcontractors may be required or permitted to work more than the number of hours or days stated in said statutes, except as otherwise provided in the Labor Law and as set forth in prevailing wage and supplement schedules issued by the State Labor Department. Furthermore, Contractor and its subcontractors must pay at least the prevailing wage rate and pay or provide the prevailing supplements, including the premium rates for overtime pay, as determined by the State Labor Department in accordance with the Labor Law.

7. NON-COLLUSIVE BIDDING CERTIFICATION. In accordance with Section 139-d of the State Finance Law, if this contract was awarded based upon the submission of bids, Contractor affirms, under penalty of perjury, that its bid was arrived at independently and without collusion aimed at restricting competition. Contractor further affirms that, at the time Contractor submitted its bid, an authorized and responsible person executed and delivered to the State a non-collusive bidding certification on Contractor's behalf.

8. INTERNATIONAL BOYCOTT PROHIBITION. In accordance with Section 220-f of the Labor Law and Section 139-h of the State Finance Law, if this contract exceeds $5,000, the Contractor agrees, as a material condition of the contract, that neither the Contractor nor any substantially owned or affiliated person, firm, partnership or corporation has participated, is participating, or shall participate in an international boycott in violation of the federal Export Administration Act of 1979 (50 USC App. Sections 2401 et seq.) or regulations thereunder. If such Contractor, or any of the aforesaid affiliates of Contractor, is convicted or is otherwise found to have violated said laws or regulations upon the final determination of the United States Commerce Department or any other appropriate agency of the United States subsequent to the contract's execution, such contract, amendment or modification thereto shall be rendered forfeit and void. The Contractor shall so notify the State Comptroller within five (5) business days of such conviction, determination or disposition of appeal (2NYCRR 105.4).

9. SET-OFF RIGHTS. The State shall have all of its common law, equitable and statutory rights of set-off. These rights shall include, but not be limited to, the State's option to withhold for the purposes of set-off any moneys due to the Contractor under this contract up to any amounts due and owing to the State with regard to this contract, any other contract with any State department or agency, including any contract for a term commencing prior to the term of this contract, plus any amounts due and owing to the State for any other reason including, without limitation, tax delinquencies, fee delinquencies or monetary penalties relative thereto. The State shall exercise its set-off rights in accordance with normal State practices including, in cases of set-off pursuant to an audit, the finalization of such audit by the State agency, its representatives, or the State Comptroller.

10. RECORDS. The Contractor shall establish and maintain complete and accurate books, records, documents, accounts and other evidence directly pertinent to performance under this contract (hereinafter, collectively, "the Records"). The Records must be kept for the balance of the calendar year in which they were made and for six (6) additional years thereafter. The State Comptroller, the Attorney General and any other person or entity authorized to conduct an examination, as well as the agency or agencies involved in this contract, shall have access to the Records during normal business hours at an office of the Contractor within the State of New York or, if no such office is available, at a mutually agreeable and reasonable venue within the State, for the term specified above for the purposes of inspection, auditing and copying. The State shall take reasonable steps to protect from public disclosure any of the Records which are exempt from disclosure under Section 87 of the Public Officers Law (the "Statute") provided that: (i) the Contractor shall timely inform an appropriate State official, in writing, that said records should not be disclosed; and (ii) said records shall be sufficiently identified; and (iii) designation of said records as exempt under the Statute is reasonable. Nothing contained herein shall diminish, or in any way adversely affect, the State's right to discovery in any pending or future litigation.

11. IDENTIFYING INFORMATION AND PRIVACY NOTIFICATION. (a) FEDERAL EMPLOYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER and/or FEDERAL SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER. All invoices or New York State standard vouchers submitted for payment for the sale of goods or services or the lease of real or personal property to a New York State agency must include the payee's identification number, i.e., the seller's or lessor's identification number. The number is either the payee's Federal employer identification number or Federal social security number, or both such numbers when the payee has both such numbers. Failure to include this number or numbers may delay payment. Where the payee does not have such number or numbers, the payee, on its invoice or New York State standard voucher, must give the reason or reasons why the payee does not have such number or numbers.

(b) PRIVACY NOTIFICATION. (1) The authority to request the above personal information from a seller of goods or services or a lessor of real or personal property, and the authority to maintain such information, is found in Section 5 of the State Tax Law. Disclosure of this information by the seller or lessor to the State is mandatory. The principal purpose for which the information is collected is to enable the State to identify individuals, businesses and others who have been delinquent in filing tax returns or may have understated their tax liabilities and to generally identify persons affected by the taxes administered by the Commissioner of Taxation and Finance. The information will be used for tax administration purposes and for any other purpose authorized by law.

(2) The personal information is requested by the purchasing unit of the agency contracting to purchase the goods or services or lease the real or personal property covered by this contract or lease. The information is maintained in New York State's Central Accounting System by the Director of Accounting Operations, Office of the State Comptroller, 110 State Street, Albany, New York 12236.

12. EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES FOR MINORITIES AND WOMEN. In accordance with Section 312 of the Executive Law, if this contract is: (i) a written agreement or purchase order instrument, providing for a total expenditure in excess of $25,000.00, whereby a contracting agency is committed to expend or does expend funds in return for labor, services, supplies, equipment, materials or any combination of the foregoing, to be performed for, or rendered or furnished to the contracting agency; or (ii) a written agreement in excess of $100,000.00 whereby a contracting agency is committed to expend or does expend funds for the acquisition, construction, demolition, replacement, major repair or renovation of real property and improvements thereon; or (iii) a written agreement in excess of $100,000.00 whereby the owner of a State assisted housing project is committed to expend or does expend funds for the acquisition, construction, demolition, replacement, major repair or renovation of real property and improvements thereon for such project, then:

(a) The Contractor will not discriminate against employees or applicants for employment because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status, and will undertake or continue existing programs of affirmative action to ensure that minority group members and women are afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination. Affirmative action shall mean recruitment, employment, job assignment, promotion, upgradings, demotion, transfer, layoff, or termination and rates of pay or other forms of compensation;

(b) at the request of the contracting agency, the Contractor shall request each employment agency, labor union, or authorized representative of workers with which it has a collective bargaining or other agreement or understanding, to furnish a written statement that such employment agency, labor union or representative will not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status and that such union or representative will affirmatively cooperate in the implementation of the contractor's obligations herein; and

(c) the Contractor shall state, in all solicitations or advertisements for employees, that, in the performance of the State contract, all qualified applicants will be afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status.

Contractor will include the provisions of "a", "b", and "c" above, in every subcontract over $25,000.00 for the construction, demolition, replacement, major repair, renovation, planning or design of real property and improvements thereon (the "Work") except where the Work is for the beneficial use of the Contractor. Section 312 does not apply to: (i) work, goods or services unrelated to this contract; or (ii) employment outside New York State; or (iii) banking services, insurance policies or the sale of securities. The State shall consider compliance by a contractor or subcontractor with the requirements of any federal law concerning equal employment opportunity which effectuates the purpose of this section. The contracting agency shall determine whether the imposition of the requirements of the provisions hereof duplicate or conflict with any such federal law and if such duplication or conflict exists, the contracting agency shall waive the applicability of Section 312 to the extent of such duplication or conflict. Contractor will comply with all duly promulgated and lawful rules and regulations of the Governor's Office of Minority and Women's Business Development pertaining hereto.

13. CONFLICTING TERMS. In the event of a conflict between the terms of the contract (including any and all attachments thereto and amendments thereof) and the terms of this Appendix A, the terms of this Appendix A shall control.

14. GOVERNING LAW. This contract shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York except where the Federal supremacy clause requires otherwise.

15. LATE PAYMENT. Timeliness of payment and any interest to be paid to Contractor for late payment shall be governed by Article 11-A of the State Finance Law to the extent required by law.

16. NO ARBITRATION. Disputes involving this contract, including the breach or alleged breach thereof, may not be submitted to binding arbitration (except where statutorily authorized), but must, instead, be heard in a court of competent jurisdiction of the State of New York.

17. SERVICE OF PROCESS. In addition to the methods of service allowed by the State Civil Practice Law & Rules ("CPLR"), Contractor hereby consents to service of process upon it by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested. Service hereunder shall be complete upon Contractor's actual receipt of process or upon the State's receipt of the return thereof by the United States Postal Service as refused or undeliverable. Contractor must promptly notify the State, in writing, of each and every change of address to which service of process can be made. Service by the State to the last known address shall be sufficient. Contractor will have thirty (30) calendar days after service hereunder is complete in which to respond.

18. PROHIBITION ON PURCHASE OF TROPICAL

HARDWOODS. The Contractor certifies and warrants that all wood products to be used under this contract award will be in accordance with, but not limited to, the specifications and provisions of State Finance Law §165. (Use of Tropical Hardwoods) which prohibits purchase and use of tropical hardwoods, unless specifically exempted, by the State or any governmental agency or political subdivision or public benefit corporation. Qualification for an exemption under this law will be the responsibility of the contractor to establish to meet with the approval of the State.

In addition, when any portion of this contract involving the use of woods, whether supply or installation, is to be performed by any subcontractor, the prime Contractor will indicate and certify in the submitted bid proposal that the subcontractor has been informed and is in compliance with specifications and provisions regarding use of tropical hardwoods as detailed in §165 State Finance Law. Any such use must meet with the approval of the State; otherwise, the bid may not be considered responsive. Under bidder certifications, proof of qualification for exemption will be the responsibility of the Contractor to meet with the approval of the State.

19. MACBRIDE FAIR EMPLOYMENT PRINCIPLES.

In accordance with the MacBride Fair Employment Principles (Chapter 807 of the Laws of 1992), the Contractor hereby stipulates that the Contractor either (a) has no business operations in Northern Ireland, or (b) shall take lawful steps in good faith to conduct any business operations in Northern Ireland in accordance with the MacBride Fair Employment Principles (as described in Section 165 of the New York State Finance Law), and shall permit independent monitoring of compliance with such principles.

20. OMNIBUS PROCUREMENT ACT OF 1992. It is the policy of New York State to maximize opportunities for the participation of New York State business enterprises, including minority and women-owned business enterprises as bidders, subcontractors and suppliers on its procurement contracts.

Information on the availability of New York State subcontractors and suppliers is available from:

NYS Department of Economic Development
Division for Small Business
30 South Pearl St - 7th Floor
Albany, New York 12245
Telephone: 518-292-5220
Fax: 518-292-5884
<http://www.empire.state.ny.us>

A directory of certified minority and women-owned business enterprises is available from:

NYS Department of Economic Development
Division of Minority and Women's Business Development
30 South Pearl St - 2nd Floor
Albany, New York 12245
Telephone: 518-292-5250
Fax: 518-292-5803
<http://www.empire.state.ny.us>

The Omnibus Procurement Act of 1992 requires that by signing this bid proposal or contract, as applicable, Contractors certify that whenever the total bid amount is greater than $1 million:

(a) The Contractor has made reasonable efforts to encourage the participation of New York State Business Enterprises as suppliers and subcontractors, including certified minority and women-owned business enterprises, on this project, and has retained the documentation of these efforts to be provided upon request to the State;

(b) The Contractor has complied with the Federal Equal Opportunity Act of 1972 (P.L. 92-261), as amended;

(c) The Contractor agrees to make reasonable efforts to provide notification to New York State residents of employment opportunities on this project through listing any such positions with the Job Service Division of the New York State Department of Labor, or providing such notification in such manner as is consistent with existing collective bargaining contracts or agreements. The Contractor agrees to document these efforts and to provide said documentation to the State upon request; and

(d) The Contractor acknowledges notice that the State may seek to obtain offset credits from foreign countries as a result of this contract and agrees to cooperate with the State in these efforts.

21. RECIPROCITY AND SANCTIONS PROVISIONS. Bidders are hereby notified that if their principal place of business is located in a country, nation, province, state or political subdivision that penalizes New York State vendors, and if the goods or services they offer will be substantially produced or performed outside New York State, the Omnibus Procurement Act 1994 and 2000 amendments (Chapter 684 and Chapter 383, respectively) require that they be denied contracts which they would otherwise obtain. NOTE: As of May 15, 2002, the list of discriminatory jurisdictions subject to this provision includes the states of South Carolina, Alaska, West Virginia, Wyoming, Louisiana and Hawaii. Contact NYS Department of Economic Development for a current list of jurisdictions subject to this provision.

22. PURCHASES OF APPAREL. In accordance with State Finance Law 162 (4-a), the State shall not purchase any apparel from any vendor unable or unwilling to certify that: (i) such apparel was manufactured in compliance with all applicable labor and occupational safety laws, including, but not limited to, child labor laws, wage and hours laws and workplace safety laws, and (ii) vendor will supply, with its bid (or, if not a bid situation, prior to or at the time of signing a contract with the State), if known, the names and addresses of each subcontractor and a list of all manufacturing plants to be utilized by the bidder.

ORACLE TECHNICAL SUPPORT POLICIES

Technical Support Policies

Effective Date: 27-October-2008

Unless otherwise stated, these Technical Support Policies apply to technical support for all Oracle product lines. These Technical Support Policies may be referred to in former PeopleSoft agreements as the "Software Support Services Terms and Conditions", in former Siebel agreements as the "Maintenance Services Policy", in former Hyperion agreements as the "Standard Maintenance Program", in former Agile agreements as the "product support policy" and in former BEA agreements as the "Support Services" policies.

"You" and "your" refers to the individual or entity that has ordered technical support from Oracle or an authorized distributor.

To receive technical support as provided by Oracle Support Services ("OSS") and described in the Oracle Technical Support Levels section below, all programs must be properly licensed.

Technical support is provided for issues (including problems created by you) that are demonstrable in the currently supported release(s) of an Oracle licensed program, running unaltered, and on an appropriate hardware, database and operating system configuration, as specified in your order or program documentation.

Product release and supported platforms information for all Oracle programs, other than Cimmety AutoVue and Vuelink programs ("Cimmety programs"), Crystal Ball programs, and AdminServer programs, is available through Oracle's web-based customer support systems as described in the Web-Based Customer Support Systems section below. Product release and supported platforms information for Cimmety programs is available in the AutoVue Administration Guide that is included with the Cimmety program documentation.

Product release and supported platforms information for the following programs will be provided to you in writing:

Crystal Ball
AdminServer
Skywire (programs not included on the Skywire Online Support Portal)

Oracle will provide technical support in accordance with Oracle's privacy policy available at <http://www.oracle.com/html/privacy.html>.

These Technical Support Policies are subject to change at Oracle's discretion, however the services provided will not be materially reduced during the support period (defined below).

To view changes that have been made, please refer to the attached Statement of Changes (PDF).

Technical Support Fees

Technical support fees are due and payable annually in advance of a support period, unless otherwise stated in the relevant ordering document or financing or payment contract with Oracle or an Oracle affiliate. Your commitment to pay is required to process your technical support order with Oracle (e.g., purchase order, actual payment, or other approved method of payment). An invoice will be issued only upon receipt of your commitment to pay, and will be sent to a single billing address as designated by you. Failure to submit payment will result in the termination of support.

Support Period

Technical support is effective upon the effective date of your ordering document unless stated otherwise in your ordering document. If your order was placed through the Oracle Store, the effective date is the date your order was accepted by Oracle. Unless otherwise stated in the ordering document, Oracle technical support terms, including pricing, reflect a 12 month support period (the "support period"). All technical support services ordered for a support period and the related fees are non-cancelable and non-refundable. Oracle is not obligated to provide technical support beyond the end of the support period unless your technical support contract is renewed on or before the service expiration date.

License Set

A license set consists of (i) all of your licenses of a program, including any options* (e.g., Database Enterprise Edition and Enterprise Edition Options; Purchasing and Purchasing Options), Enterprise Manager* (e.g., Database Enterprise Edition and Diagnostics Pack), or self-service module* (e.g., Human Resources and Self-Service Human Resources) licensed for such programs, or (ii) all of your licenses of a program that share the same source code. Development and demonstration licenses available through the Oracle Partner Network or the Oracle Technology Network are not included in the definition of a license set. For Crystal Ball programs, a license set is defined as the same licenses of a program contained on a single order.

*As specified on Oracle's price list.

Programs that share the same source code are:

- Database Enterprise Edition, Database Standard Edition, Database Standard Edition One, and Personal Edition, and
- Internet Application Server Enterprise Edition, Internet Application Server Standard Edition, Internet Application Server Standard Edition One, and Internet Application Server Java Edition.

Matching Service Levels

When acquiring technical support, all licenses in any given license set must be supported under the same technical support service level (e.g., Software Update License & Support or unsupported). You may not support a subset of licenses within a license set; the license set must be reduced by terminating any unsupported licenses. You will be required to document license terminations via a termination letter.

Reinstatement of Oracle Technical Support

In the event that technical support lapses or was not originally purchased, upon the commencement of technical support a reinstatement fee will be assessed. The reinstatement fee is equal to 150% of the last-paid support fee, or 150% of the last-published list technical support price for the licensed program less the applicable standard discount as published on the Oracle Store ("standard discount") in effect at the time of reinstatement if support was not originally purchased for the relevant programs, prorated from the date technical support is being ordered back to the date technical support lapsed (or the license order date if technical support was never purchased). Applicable renewal adjustments are applied. Once the reinstatement fee has been assessed, technical support for the year following the reinstatement period may be purchased for an additional technical support fee as calculated based on how long the licensed program has been unsupported ("go-forward support fee"). If the lapsed support period is less than 6 months, the go-forward support fee is calculated based on the last-published list technical support price less the applicable standard discount in effect at the time of reinstatement. If the lapsed support period is 6 months or greater, the go-forward support fee is calculated based on the last-paid support fee. If support is not reinstated for the entire license set or if support for a subset of licenses from an ordering document is reinstated, then the "License Set", "Matching Service Levels", and "Pricing following Reduction of Licenses or Support Level" policies will apply. Applicable renewal adjustments are applied to the reinstatement fee and go-forward support fee.

Pricing following Reduction of Licenses or Support Level

Pricing for support is based upon the level of support and the volume of licenses for which support is ordered. In the event that a subset of licenses on a single order is terminated or if the level of support is reduced, support for the remaining licenses on that license order will be priced at Oracle's list price for support in effect at the time of termination or reduction minus the applicable standard discount. Such support price will not exceed the previous support fees paid for both the remaining licenses and the licenses being terminated or unsupported, and will not be reduced below the previous support fees paid for the licenses continuing to be supported. If the license order from which licenses are being terminated established a price hold for additional licenses, support for all of the licenses ordered pursuant to the price hold will be priced at Oracle's list price for support in effect at the time of reduction minus the applicable standard discount.

Custom Application Bundles

Technical support may not be discontinued for a single program module within a custom application bundle.

Unsupported Programs

Customers with unsupported programs do not receive updates, maintenance releases, patches, telephone assistance, or any other technical support services for the unsupported programs. CD packs or programs purchased or downloaded for trial use, use with other supported programs, or purchased or downloaded as replacement media may not be used to update any unsupported programs.

Technical Contacts

Your technical contacts are the sole liaisons between you and OSS for technical support of programs. It is the recommended standard that your technical contacts are trained representatives of your company. Such training shall include initial basic product training and, as needed, supplemental training appropriate for specific role or implementation phase, specialized product usage, and/or migration. Your technical contacts should be knowledgeable about the Oracle programs and your Oracle environment in order to help resolve system issues and to assist Oracle in analyzing and resolving service requests. When submitting a service request, your technical contact should have a baseline understanding of the problem you are encountering and an ability to reproduce the problem in order to assist Oracle in diagnosing and triaging the problem. To avoid interruptions in support services, you must notify OSS whenever technical contact responsibilities are transferred to another individual.

With the order of Software Update License & Support, you may designate one (1) primary and four (4) backup individuals ("technical contact") per license set, to serve as liaisons with OSS. With each USD$250,000 in net support fees per license set, you have the option to designate an additional two (2) primary and four (4) backup technical contacts. Your primary technical contact shall be responsible for (i) overseeing your service request activity, and (ii) developing and deploying troubleshooting processes within your organization. The backup technical contacts shall be responsible for resolving user issues. You may be charged a fee to designate additional technical contacts.

Oracle may review service requests logged by your technical contacts, and may recommend specific training to help avoid service requests that would be prevented by such training.

Program Updates

"Update" means a subsequent release of the program which Oracle generally makes available for program licenses to its supported customers at no additional license fee, other than shipping charges if applicable, provided you have ordered a technical support offering that includes software updates for such licenses for the relevant time period. Updates do not include any release, option or future program that Oracle licenses separately. Updates are provided when available, and Oracle is under no obligation to develop any future programs or functionality. Any updates made available will be delivered to you, or made available to you for download. If delivered, you will receive one update copy for each supported operating system for which your program licenses were ordered. You shall be responsible for copying, downloading and installing the updates.

Oracle Configuration Manager

Oracle provides Oracle Configuration Manager (OCM) with some of its programs. The OCM is a tool that assists in the collection and transmission of your configuration data to Oracle to enable us to respond more efficiently to your service requests. The OCM tool will connect to Oracle over the internet. You may not receive a separate notice upon connection. You may turn the OCM tool off, however we strongly discourage this as it impedes our ability to provide services to you. More information on the tool is available at <http://www.oracle.com/technology/documentation/ocm.html>. By using this tool, you consent to the transmission of your configuration information to Oracle.

OCM will not access, collect or store any personally identifiable information (except for technical support contact information) or business data files residing in your software environment. Configuration data provided to Oracle by software tools will be stored in password-protected repositories. It will be used to assist in resolving service requests and to provide recommendations regarding configuration of your environment and deployment of programs. In addition, because the configuration information will be updated, it may be used by Oracle to assist you in managing your Oracle product portfolio, for license and services compliance and to help Oracle improve upon product and service offerings for you.

Payment Plan, Financing and Leasing Agreements

Technical support fees due under payment plans, financing or leasing agreements between you and Oracle or an Oracle affiliate ("payment plan") are due and payable in accordance with the terms and conditions of such payment plan, but the technical support shall be ordered pursuant to the terms of the applicable ordering document.

Lifetime Support

Lifetime Support consists of the following service levels:

- "Premier Support" which refers to the first 5 years of basic technical support services (also referred to as, and will be documented on your ordering document as, "Software Update License & Support")
- Extended Support (if offered)
- Sustaining Support

A description of the services available under Premier Support, Extended Support and Sustaining Support is included in the Oracle Technical Support Levels section below.

When offered, Premier Support will be available for five years from the date a release of the Oracle program becomes generally available, except as noted below.

Based on availability, support may be extended for an additional three years with Extended Support for specific releases.

Alternatively, support may be extended with Sustaining Support which will be available for as long as you maintain technical support for your Oracle licenses.

Refer to the attached document titled "Lifetime Support Policy: Coverage for Server Technologies" (PDF) for specific server technology programs that are, or will be, covered by the Lifetime Support policy.

Refer to the attached document titled "Lifetime Support Policy: Coverage for Applications" (PDF) for specific application programs that are, or will be, covered by the Lifetime Support policy.
Refer to the attached document titled "Lifetime Support Policy: Coverage for Retail Applications" (PDF) for specific Retail application programs that are, or will be, covered by the Lifetime Support policy.

Notes:

1. Active Reasoning, ContextMedia, Crystal Ball, Notiva, Sigma Dynamics, AdminServer, and Skywire and other programs and releases that have already had desupport dates posted on OracleMetaLink are excluded from the Lifetime Support policy.
2. For PeopleSoft Enterprise programs that have been retired under the previous 4-year support policy, Sustaining Support will be available for as long as you maintain technical support for these programs.
3. Tax updates and regulatory changes* will be made available for up to six (6) years from the release date of the licensed software for PeopleSoft Enterprise, JD Edwards EnterpriseOne and JD Edwards World programs. Upgrade scripts, new software patches, and fixes to the latest release will be made available for five (5) years from the release date of the licensed software for PeopleSoft Enterprise, JD Edwards EnterpriseOne and JD Edwards World programs.

*Tax updates and regulatory changes refers to those updates that address tax and/or regulatory changes which are generally made available to similarly situated licensees of PeopleSoft software, on a when and if available basis only.

4. Oracle's PeopleTools program, which was purchased in conjunction with an application program release, will be supported for as long as such application program release is supported. PeopleTools fixes are delivered in minor releases and patches; patches are provided on the current minor release only. Patches and platform certifications for a PeopleTools minor release are created when that release becomes generally available and will be supported for twelve (12) months after the next minor release becomes generally available.

To receive technical support, you may be required to apply a minor release upgrade of PeopleTools to remain current with versions of third party technologies and products as supported by the provider of the third party product.

5. For certain Oracle Retail application program releases* prior to release 11, limited Premier Support will be available for seven years from when that release became generally available. For Oracle Retail applications for which Premier Support is not available, Sustaining Support will be available for as long as you maintain technical support for these programs.

*formerly Retek, ProfitLogic, and 360 Commerce

6. For Oracle's Cimmetry programs, Oracle generally will make Premier Support available for 2 years following general availability of a release, after which Sustaining Support will be available for as long as you maintain technical support for your Oracle licenses. Premier

Support for Cimmetry programs will be documented on your ordering document as Software Update License & Support or Cimmetry Maintenance.

7. For supported customers whose Oracle application programs are only certified on Oracle9i Database Release 9.2 and the release for such application programs is currently supported under Premier Support or Extended Support, the Extended Support fee for Oracle9i Database Release 9.2 has been waived for the period August 1, 2008 to July 31, 2010. During this period, you will receive access to generally available fixes and critical patch updates ("CPUs") for such supported application programs running on the Oracle9i Database Release 9.2, at no additional cost other than your fees for Software Update License & Support (or any successor technical support offering to Software Update License & Support). A list of applications that are certified on Oracle9i Database Release 9.2 is available at <http://www.oracle.com/support/collateral/tsp-certified-applications.pdf>.
8. For the first year of Sustaining Support for Oracle E-Business Suite Release 11i, Oracle will provide fixes for Severity 1 production bugs. No legislative updates will be provided with the exception of U.S. Tax Form 1099 updates for the 2008 tax year. The period for the first year of Sustaining Support for Oracle E-Business Suite Release 11i is July 1, 2008 - June 30, 2009.
9. Extended Support for the Hyperion Pre-System 9 programs will be offered for the period October 1, 2008 to September 30, 2009. The Extended Support fee for this period has been waived for those program licenses for which customers have paid the System 9 Enablement Fee and for which technical support is continuously maintained.

Right to Desupport

It may become necessary as a part of Oracle's product lifecycle to desupport certain program releases and, therefore, Oracle reserves the right to desupport certain program releases. Program releases that are designated as subject to Premier Support under Oracle's Lifetime Support policy are excluded. If Cimmetry, Crystal Ball, Skywire, or AdminServer programs are desupported, you will be notified of such desupport directly by OSS. For all other Oracle programs, desupport information, including desupport dates, information about availability of Extended Support and Sustaining Support, and information about migration paths for certain features, is posted on OracleMetaLink, Customer Connection, eSupport Portal and BID Portal. Desupport information is subject to change. For Cimmetry, Crystal Ball, Skywire, and AdminServer programs, updated desupport information will be provided to you in writing. For all other Oracle programs, Oracle will provide updated desupport information on OracleMetaLink, Customer Connection, eSupport Portal and BID Portal as necessary.

First and Second Line Support

It is the recommended standard that you establish and maintain the organization and processes to provide "First Line Support" for the supported programs directly to your users. First Line Support shall include but not be limited to (i) a direct response to users with respect to inquiries concerning the performance, functionality or operation of the supported programs, (ii) a direct response to users with respect to problems or issues with the supported programs, (iii) a diagnosis of problems or issues of the supported programs, and (iv) a resolution of problems or issues of the supported programs.

If after reasonable commercial efforts you are unable to diagnose or resolve problems or issues of the supported programs, you shall contact Oracle for "Second Line Support". You shall use commercially reasonable efforts to provide Oracle with the necessary access (e.g., access to repository files, log files, or database extracts) required to provide Second Line Support. Oracle does not ensure its performance of the technical support described herein if such access is not provided by you when requested by Oracle.

Second Line Support shall include but not be limited to (i) a diagnosis of problems or issues of the supported programs and (ii) reasonable commercial efforts to resolve reported and verifiable errors in supported programs so that such supported programs perform in all material respects the functions described in the associated documentation.

Oracle may review service requests logged by your technical contacts, and may recommend specific organization and process changes to assist you with the above recommended standard practices.

Third Party Vendor-Specific Support Terms

You must remain on a supported environment – including applications and platforms – to receive technical support. If a vendor retires support for its product, you may be required to upgrade to a current certified application, hardware platform, framework, database and/or operating system configuration to continue receiving technical support services from Oracle.

PeopleSoft and JD Edwards Release Information

Release information for PeopleSoft Enterprise and JD Edwards EnterpriseOne programs is available in the attached table titled, "Release Types for PeopleSoft Enterprise and JD Edwards EnterpriseOne Applications" (PDF).

Hyperion-Specific and Agile-Specific Support Terms

For orders placed pursuant to a Hyperion master agreement or to an Agile master agreement, the following terms apply with respect to the technical support services you have ordered.

Warranties, Disclaimers, and Exclusive Remedies

Oracle warrants that technical support services will be provided in a professional manner consistent with industry standards. You must notify Oracle of any technical support services warranty deficiencies within 90 days from performance of the defective technical support services.

FOR ANY BREACH OF THE ABOVE WARRANTIES, YOUR EXCLUSIVE REMEDY, AND ORACLE'S ENTIRE LIABILITY, SHALL BE THE REPERFORMANCE OF THE DEFICIENT TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES, OR IF ORACLE CANNOT SUBSTANTIALLY CORRECT A BREACH IN A COMMERCIALY REASONABLE MANNER, YOU MAY END THE RELEVANT TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES AND RECOVER THE FEES PAID TO ORACLE FOR THE DEFICIENT TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES.

TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, THESE WARRANTIES ARE EXCLUSIVE AND THERE ARE NO OTHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS, INCLUDING WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.

Limitation of Liability

NEITHER PARTY SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, SPECIAL, PUNITIVE, OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, OR ANY LOSS OF PROFITS, REVENUE, DATA, OR DATA USE. ORACLE'S MAXIMUM LIABILITY FOR ANY DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO YOUR ORDER, WHETHER IN CONTRACT OR TORT, OR OTHERWISE, SHALL BE LIMITED TO THE AMOUNT OF THE FEES YOU PAID ORACLE UNDER YOUR ORDER, AND IF SUCH DAMAGES RESULT FROM YOUR USE OF TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES, SUCH LIABILITY SHALL BE LIMITED TO THE FEES

YOU PAID ORACLE FOR THE DEFICIENT TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES GIVING RISE TO THE LIABILITY.

For orders placed pursuant to a Hyperion master agreement, the following terms also apply with respect to the technical support services you have ordered.

Nondisclosure

By virtue of your order, the parties may have access to information that is confidential to one another ("confidential information"). We each agree to disclose only information that is required for the performance of obligations under your order. Confidential information shall be limited to the terms and pricing under your order and all information clearly identified as confidential at the time of disclosure.

A party's confidential information shall not include information that: (a) is or becomes a part of the public domain through no act or omission of the other party; (b) was in the other party's lawful possession prior to the disclosure and had not been obtained by the other party either directly or indirectly from the disclosing party; (c) is lawfully disclosed to the other party by a third party without restriction on the disclosure; or (d) is independently developed by the other party.

We each agree to hold each other's confidential information in confidence for a period of three years from the date of disclosure. Also, we each agree to disclose confidential information only to those employees or agents who are required to protect it against unauthorized disclosure. Nothing shall prevent either party from disclosing the terms or pricing under your order in any legal proceeding arising from or in connection with your order or disclosing the confidential information to a federal or state governmental entity as required by law.

Software Update License & Support

Program releases in the Premier Support phase of Oracle's product support lifecycle will receive Software Update License & Support. Software Update License & Support is the standard level for all Oracle support services and consists of:

- Program updates, fixes, security alerts, and critical patch updates
- Tax, legal, and regulatory updates
- Upgrade scripts
- Certification with most new third-party products/versions

Enterprise Linux Support Services

Effective October 25, 2006, Oracle will offer Enterprise Linux support services to customers, regardless of whether or not they are using Oracle programs. For information about the available services, please refer to the Enterprise Linux and Oracle VM Support Policies available at <http://www.oracle.com/support/collateral/enterprise-linux-support-policies.pdf>.

Oracle VM Support Services

Effective November 14, 2007, Oracle will offer Oracle VM support services to customers, regardless of whether or not they are using Oracle programs. For information about the available services, please refer to the Enterprise Linux and Oracle VM Support Policies available at <http://www.oracle.com/support/collateral/enterprise-linux-support-policies.pdf>.

Priority Service

Priority Service is available for program releases eligible to receive Premier, Extended, or Sustaining Support. Priority Service consists of:

- Prioritization of Service Requests: Service requests will be prioritized above service requests of the same severity level submitted by Premier Support customers
- Service Request Response Guidelines: Reasonable efforts will be made to respond to service requests per the following guidelines:
 - 90% of Severity 1 service requests submitted by you will be responded to within 1 hour (available 24x7)
 - 90% of Severity 2 service requests submitted by you will be responded to within 2.5 local business hours
 - 90% of Severity 3 service requests submitted by you will be responded to within the next local business day
 - 90% of Severity 4 service requests submitted by you will be responded to within the next local business day
- Time-based internal escalations for Severity 1 and Severity 2 service requests
- Designated Oracle service manager who is responsible for assisting in the management of service requests, and providing service reviews
- Priority response from Oracle's Product Development team for product bugs initiated for the resolution of service requests
- 24x7 access to a customer-specific web portal
- Quarterly service reviews
- Pre-recorded orientation session
- Priority access to Oracle-sponsored events, as made available to Priority Service customers
- Access to monthly web conference sessions featuring Oracle executives and/or Oracle product technology experts
- Quarterly live chats with senior Oracle product technology experts and/or management, available exclusively to Priority Service customers

In order to acquire Priority Service for a license set, you must acquire Software Update License & Support for that license set. If you have maintained Software Update License & Support and want to purchase Priority Service for a license set, the licenses do not need to be migrated to current license metrics to do so.

Priority Service is not subject to the Reinstatement policies stated above. Priority Service is not available for all programs. Please contact your Support Sales Representative for service availability.

Incident Server Support Package

Incident Server Support provides web-based technical support on a per server basis in packages of 10 service requests, and is available for as long as Premier Support is available for your Oracle licenses. The Incident Server Support Packages do not include updates and may not be used, purchased, or sold in conjunction with any other support offering. If you want to obtain Software Update License & Support, it will be subject to Oracle's reinstatement policies in effect at the time of reinstatement. Incident Server Support is available for the following limited product sets, across all platforms:

- Oracle Database Server Support Package: Oracle Database Enterprise Edition, Oracle Database Standard Edition, Oracle Database Standard Edition One, Partitioning, Real Application Clusters
- Oracle Application Server Support Package: Internet Application Server Enterprise Edition, Internet Application Server Standard Edition, Internet Application Server Java Edition

Incident Server Support Packages are valid for one year from the date of purchase. Any unused service request(s) expire at the end of such term. Access to OracleMetaLink expires at the same time the final service request is resolved. Your service request total will not be decreased by the number of service requests initiated for the resolution of a product bug. Incident Server Support includes:

- Access to OracleMetaLink (24x7 web-based technical support system), including the ability to log service requests online
- Access to downloadable software patches and patchsets

JDeveloper Support

JDeveloper Support is made available for Oracle JDeveloper that has been downloaded from the Oracle Technology Network after June 28, 2005. JDeveloper Support consists of:

- Assistance with service requests 24 hours per day, 7 days a week
- Access to OracleMetaLink (24 x 7 web-based technical support system), including the ability to log service requests online
- Non-technical customer service during normal business hours (e.g., assistance with support identification numbers, assistance with logging into OracleMetaLink)

Service Request Packages

Service Request Packages are made available to members of the Oracle Partner Network. Service Request Packages provide web-based technical support in packages of 10 or 25 service requests, do not include updates, and are not available for all programs. Please contact your OPN Interaction Center (<http://partner.oracle.com/>) for program availability.

Service Request Packages are valid for one year from the date of purchase. Any unused service request(s) will expire at the earlier of (i) the end of such year, or (ii) the end of your OPN membership term if such membership is not renewed. Access to log service requests will be restricted at the same time the final service request is resolved.

Extended Support

Extended Support may be available for certain Oracle program releases after Premier Support expires. When Extended Support is offered, it is generally available for three years following the expiration of Premier Support and only for the terminal patchset release of a program.

Program releases eligible for Extended Support will receive Software Update License & Support limited to the following:

- Program updates, fixes, security alerts, and critical patch updates
- Tax, legal and regulatory updates
- Upgrade scripts
- Major product and technology releases, which includes general maintenance releases, selected functionality releases, and documentation updates
- Assistance with service requests 24 hours per day, 7 days per week
- Access to OracleMetaLink, Customer Connection, e-Support, Customer Portal, or Customer Center Portal (24 x 7 web-based customer support systems), including the ability to log service requests online
- Non-technical customer service during normal business hours

Extended Support does not include:

- Certification with new third party products/versions

Sustaining Support

Sustaining Support will be available after Premier Support expires. Program releases eligible for Sustaining Support will receive Software Update License & Support limited to the following:

- Program updates, fixes, security alerts, and critical patch updates created during the Premier Support period, and created during the Extended Support period for those customers who purchased Extended Support.
- Tax, legal, and regulatory updates created during the Premier Support period
- Upgrade scripts created during the Premier Support period
- Major product and technology releases, which includes general maintenance releases, selected functionality releases, and documentation updates
- Assistance with service requests, on a commercially reasonable basis, 24 hours per day, 7 days a week
- Access to OracleMetaLink, Customer Connection, e-Support, Customer Portal, or Customer Center Portal (24 x 7 web-based customer support systems), including the ability to log service requests online
- Non-technical customer service during normal business hours

Sustaining Support does not include:

- New program updates, fixes, security alerts, and critical patch updates
- New tax, legal and regulatory updates
- New upgrade scripts
- Certification with new third party products/versions
- 24 hour commitment and response guidelines for Severity 1 service requests as defined in the Severity Level section below

Because program releases supported by Sustaining Support are no longer fully supported, information and skills regarding those releases may be limited. The availability of hardware systems to run such program releases may also be limited.

North American Payroll Tax Updates

North American Payroll Tax Updates is available for programs eligible to receive Sustaining Support. Customers who acquire North American Payroll Tax Updates will receive a tax year of tax updates for Oracle payroll applications.

In order to acquire North American Payroll Tax Updates, your licensed programs must be currently supported with Software Update License & Support. If you have maintained Software Update License & Support and want to acquire North American Payroll Tax Updates, the licenses do not need to be migrated to current license metrics to do so.

North American Payroll Tax Updates will be delivered through Customer Connection (for PeopleSoft Enterprise, JD Edwards EnterpriseOne and JD Edwards World programs), or through OracleMetaLink (for all other Oracle programs).

When offered, North American Payroll Tax Updates may be acquired for up to two (2) years from the availability of Sustaining Support for the applicable Oracle program release. North American Payroll Tax Updates is not subject to the Reinstatement policies stated above. North American Payroll Tax Updates is not available in all countries or for all programs. Please contact your Support Sales Representative for service availability.

A list of technical support offerings that were previously offered by Oracle, or a company acquired by Oracle, is available at <http://www.oracle.com/support/collateral/tsp-previous-offerings.pdf>. The information contained within this list consists of a description of the service offering, date when new sales of the services was eliminated, and renewal options.

The following policy for Web-Based Customer Support Systems applies to all Oracle product lines except PeopleSoft Enterprise, JD Edwards EnterpriseOne, JD Edwards World, Cimmetry, Crystal Ball, BEA, AdminServer, and Skywire programs:

OracleMetaLink is one of Oracle's five customer support web sites. Access to OracleMetaLink is governed by the Terms of Use posted on the OracleMetaLink web site, which are subject to change. A copy of these terms is available upon request. Access to OracleMetaLink is limited to your designated technical contacts. Access to OracleMetaLink is included with Software Update License & Support, Priority Service, Incident Server Support, JDeveloper Support, Extended Support, and Sustaining Support. For customers with a current Software Updates service contract, limited access to OracleMetaLink is included for patches and bug fix information.

The following policy for Web-Based Customer Support Systems applies to PeopleSoft Enterprise, JD Edwards EnterpriseOne, and JD Edwards World programs only:

Customer Connection is Oracle's second customer support web site. Access to Customer Connection is governed by the Terms of Use (PDF) posted on the Customer Connection web site at <http://www.peoplesoft.com/corp/en/login.jsp>, which are subject to change. A copy of these terms is available upon request. Access to Customer Connection is included with Software Update License & Support, Extended Support, Sustaining Support, and PeopleSoft World Support Service and is limited to your designated technical contacts.

The following policy for eSupport Portal applies to 'Classic' BEA programs only:

eSupport Portal is Oracle's third customer support web site. Access to eSupport is governed by the Terms of Use posted on the eSupport Portal web site at <http://support.bea.com>, and are subject to change. A copy of these terms is available upon request. Access to eSupport Portal is limited to your designated technical contacts. Access to eSupport Portal is included with Software Update License & Support, Extended Support, and Sustaining Support.

The following policy for BID Portal applies to 'BID' BEA programs only:

BID Portal is Oracle's fourth customer support web site. Access to BID Portal is governed by the Terms of Use posted on the BID Portal web site at <http://one.bea.com/support>, and are subject to change. A copy of these terms is available upon request. Access to BID Portal is limited to your designated technical contacts. Access to BID Portal is included with Software Update License & Support, Extended Support, and Sustaining Support.

The following policy for Skywire Online Support Portal applies to Insbridge, Ingage, and INSight programs and Documaker, Docuflex and PPS (EMEA and Asia Pacific excluded) programs only:

Skywire Online Support Portal is Oracle's fifth customer support web site. Access to Skywire Online Support Portal is governed by the Terms of Use posted on the Skywire Online Support Portal web site at <http://skywiresoftware.com/Support/Support.aspx>, and are subject to change. A copy of these terms is available upon request. Access to Skywire Online Support Portal is limited to your designated technical contacts. Access to Skywire Online Support Portal is included with Software Update License & Support.

Oracle is deeply committed to the security of its technical support services. In providing standard technical support services, Oracle will adhere to the Global Customer Support Security Practices, which are available here. The Global Customer Support Security Practices are subject to change at Oracle's discretion; however, Oracle will not materially reduce the level of security specified in the Security Practices during the period for which fees for technical support have been paid.

Oracle may make available software tools (such as tools to assist in the collection and transmission of configuration data) and web-based tools (such as tools that enable Oracle, with your consent, to access your computer system) to aid in the resolution of service requests. Such tools may be used only in connection with supported program licenses, and use of the tools will be subject to any additional license and other terms provided with the tools.

Service requests for supported Cimmetry programs may be submitted by you either online using the web form available at <http://www.cimmetry.com/techsup.nsf/WebTechsupForm?OpenForm> or by telephone by dialing 1.514.735.9941. Service requests for supported Crystal Ball programs may be submitted by you either online using the template at <http://www.crystalball.com/helpdesk.html> or by telephone by dialing 1.800.373.5885 (toll free in the U.S.) or 1.303.334.7599 (International). Service requests for all other supported Oracle programs may be submitted by you online through Oracle's web-based customer support systems, by email, or by telephone. The service request severity level is selected by you and Oracle and should be based on the following severity definitions:

Severity 1

Your production use of the supported programs is stopped or so severely impacted that you cannot reasonably continue work. You experience a complete loss of service. The operation is mission critical to the business and the situation is an emergency. A Severity 1 service request has one or more of the following characteristics:

- Data corrupted
- A critical documented function is not available
- System hangs indefinitely, causing unacceptable or indefinite delays for resources or response

- System crashes, and crashes repeatedly after restart attempts

For all supported Oracle programs other than Cimmetry, Crystal Ball, Moniforce webSensor Enterprise and webProbe, reasonable efforts will be made to respond to Severity 1 service requests within one (1) hour.

For Crystal Ball programs, the Severity 1 service request definition does not apply and thus no response guidelines are available for Crystal Ball programs.

For Moniforce webSensor Enterprise and webProbe programs, reasonable efforts will be made to respond to Severity 1 service requests within one (1) business day during local business hours, excluding holidays; local business hours are Monday through Friday 8:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. Central European Time.

24 Hour Commitment to Severity 1 Service Requests for all supported Oracle programs other than Cimmetry, Crystal Ball, Moniforce webSensor Enterprise and webProbe, AdminServer, and Skywire programs: OSS will work 24x7 until the issue is resolved or as long as useful progress can be made. You must provide OSS with a contact during this 24x7 period, either on site or by pager, to assist with data gathering, testing, and applying fixes. You are requested to propose this severity classification with great care, so that valid Severity 1 situations obtain the necessary resource allocation from Oracle.

Severity 2

You experience a severe loss of service. Important features are unavailable with no acceptable workaround; however, operations can continue in a restricted fashion.

Severity 3

You experience a minor loss of service. The impact is an inconvenience, which may require a workaround to restore functionality

Severity 4

You request information, an enhancement, or documentation clarification regarding your software but there is no impact on the operation of the software. You experience no loss of service. The result does not impede the operation of a system.

Phone numbers and contact information can be found on Oracle's support web site at <http://www.oracle.com/support/contact.html>.

FUNCTIONALITY AND REQUIREMENTS MATRIX

Exhibit 5

FUNCTIONALITY AND REQUIREMENTS MATRIX
WHICH INCLUDES
PRODUCT NAME CROSS-REFERENCE
AND
ORACLE FUNCTIONALITY AND REQUIREMENTS MATRIX CLARIFICATIONS

Notes:

1. Oracle's Proposal included program not ordered in the initial purchase of Software under this Agreement; therefore are not part of this Agreement; such products include:

Real Estate Management – Real Estate Management, Enterprise Manager Grid Control – Oracle Database Enterprise Edition, SOA Suite – SOA Suite for Non Oracle Middleware, Oracle Imaging and Process Management (Stellent/Content Management) – Imaging and Process Management, PeopleSoft Directory Interface – Directory Interface, Oracle Identity Management – Identity Manager, BPEL – SAO Suite

2. The following Software is being ordered in the initial purchase but does not appear on the Functionality and Requirements Matrix (Exhibit 5) Oracle Business Intelligence Management Pack and Business Intelligence Server Administration.

Exhibit 5 Functionality and Requirements Matrix-Response Code Interpretations

Set forth below is the Fit-Gap Response code from the RFP and Oracle's interpretation that was used to complete the functional matrices:

Fit-Gap Response	Additional Comment provided by Oracle
F = Fully Provided "Out-of-the-Box"	Oracle interprets these requirements to be satisfied if the functionality is provided out of the box or through the completing of a task associated with a routine configurable area. These routine configurable areas include, but are not limited to, user-defined fields, delivered or configurable workflows, alerts or notifications, table driven setups and standard reports with no changes. These routine configurable areas would be addressed as part of any implementation and the responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with all these routine configurable areas are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.
R = Provided with Reporting Tool	Oracle interprets these requirements to be satisfied by the reports generated using Reporting Tools. (See the Product Name Crosswalk tab for a list of the modules that comprise Reporting Tools.) The responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with the generation of reports are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.
CO = Configuration (no changes to underlying source code)	Oracle interprets these requirements to be satisfied if the functionality is provided through an extension to the application, the development of a new page to the application or logic added to the application through the use of PeopleTools. The responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with configuration are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.

TP = Third Party Software Required	Oracle's response in the "Module(s) Required to Fulfill Requirements" or "Fit-Gap Notes / Closure Recommendations (or any updated thereto) may have made mention to third party products; however, this should not be construed as a recommendation of any particular third party product provider/third party product and should the County elect to purchase any such third party products, the County must contract directly with the third party product provider for the third party product.
IM = Modification/Customization (change to source code)	The responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with modifications/customizations are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.
W = Workflow Required	Oracle interprets these requirements to be satisfied if the functionality is provided either through the creation of a new workflow or a significant modification to a standard workflow that is contained in the proposed product(s). The responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with the creation of new workflows or the modification of existing workflows are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.
I = Interface Required	The responsibilities of performing all the tasks associated with interfaces are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.
CF = Custom Fields Required	Oracle interprets these requirements to be satisfied by the creation of a new field being added to the product using PeopleTools. The responsibilities of performing the tasks associated with the creation of a new field are the responsibility of the County or its Implementor.

U = Unable to Meet Requirement

For any requirement marked as U, Oracle does not meet the requirement. Furthermore, Oracle has not provided any indication if or when a future version would meet these requirements. Oracle's response in the "Module(s) Required to Fulfill Requirements" or "Fit-Gap Notes / Closure Recommendations" (or any updated thereto) may have made mention to Oracle's modules or third party products and provide a comment to help the County understand why Oracle is unable to meet the requirement.

APPENDIX L – CERTIFICATE OF COMPLIANCE

Appendix L

Certificate of Compliance

In compliance with Local Law 1-2006, as amended (the "Law"), the Contractor hereby certifies the following:

The responses and representations provided on this document only apply to Oracle USA, Inc. and its employees located within the United States who will provide services in accordance with a resulting contract.

1. The chief executive officer of the Contractor's parent company is:

Larry Ellison (Name)

500 Oracle Parkway, Redwood Shores, CA 94065 (Address)

1-800-ORACLE1 (Telephone Number)

2. The Contractor agrees to either (1) comply with the requirements of the Nassau County Living Wage Law or (2) as applicable, obtain a waiver of the requirements of the Law pursuant to section 9 of the Law. In the event that the contractor does not comply with the requirements of the Law or obtain a waiver of the requirements of the Law, and such contractor establishes to the satisfaction of the Department that at the time of execution of this agreement, it had a reasonable certainty that it would receive such waiver based on the Law and Rules pertaining to waivers, the County will agree to terminate the contract without imposing costs or seeking damages against the Contractor

Oracle clarifies its response by stating that its Technical Support services (on-call, as needed software support and maintenance) and Advanced Product Support services are incidental to the delivery of its software program licenses. Oracle further states that it is a large company offering support for its software products 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Support is provided from Oracle's support centers located around the world. Oracle's support centers operate according to the normal business hours and laws and regulations of their individual locations.

3. In the past five years, Contractor X has _____ has not been found by a court or a government agency to have violated federal, state, or local laws regulating payment of wages or benefits, labor relations, or occupational safety and health. If a violation has been assessed against the Contractor, describe below:

Oracle was cited for one violation by OSHA, issued on January 5, 2007. The citation was reclassified as a level "other" of seriousness. Oracle paid the fine and the abatement of all items has been accomplished within the required amount of time.

4. In the past five years, an administrative proceeding, investigation, or government body-initiated judicial action X has _____ has not been commenced against or relating to the Contractor in connection with federal, state, or local laws regulating payment of wages or benefits, labor relations, or occupational safety and health. If such a proceeding, action, or investigation has been commenced, describe below:

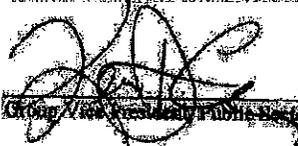

In the past five years, Oracle has been the subject of various routine administrative charges filed by current or former employees alleging potential violation of applicable federal and state laws. There are currently no such federal or state charges pending in the State of New York.

In September of 2004, the U.S. Department of Labor concluded an audit of the Oracle 401(k) Savings Plan. No action was taken by the DOL as a result of this audit; the DOL identified certain areas for remediation under ERISA, as well as the adequacy of the remedial steps taken.

- Contractor agrees to permit access by work sites within Nassau County and relevant payroll records by authorized County representatives for the purpose of monitoring compliance with the Living Wage Law and investigating employee complaints of non-compliance.

I hereby certify that I have read the foregoing statement and, to the best of my knowledge and belief, it is true, correct and complete. Any statement or representation made herein shall be accurate and true as of the date stated below.

Contract Summary

Purpose: This is a new contract with special counsel Sokoloff Stern LLP ("Counsel") to represent Police Officer Robert Psomas and Police Officer John Giovaniello in the case known as Gurlyene Felix, as Administrator for the Estate of Matthew FELIX and Gurlyene Felix Individually v. Nassau County, et al., Index No. 12-cv-676.
Method of Procurement: In April 2018, the County Attorney's Office conducted a formal Request for Qualifications ("RFQ") to identify eligible, experienced legal counsel for a broad array of legal areas, and a panel of firms ("Panel") qualified to provide legal services for the County has been established. The firm Sokoloff Stern LLP ("Counsel") has been added to the Panel. In this streamlined solicitation, a total of eight candidates qualified in the area of Section 1983 and municipal defense were solicited from the RFQ panel. Of the eight solicited, only one firm responded, Sokoloff Stern LLP. After reviewing Counsel's proposal, the evaluation committee was satisfied that Counsel possessed extensive experience providing counsel to municipalities, the requisite staff to ensure the case would be handled properly, and an overall budget comparable to proposals the County typically receives.
Procurement History: See above.

Description of General Provisions: Counsel shall represent the County and/or such other party the County may be required to defend in the case: Gurlyene Felix, as Administrator for the Estate of Matthew Felix and Gurlyene Felix Individually v. Nassau County, et al., Index No. 12-cv-676, a Civil Rights Section 1983 case which includes claims of wrongful death.
Impact on Funding / Price Analysis: The Maximum amount allowed on this contract is $167,255.00, with an initial encumbrance of $75,000.00
Change in Contract from Prior Procurement: N/A - this is a new contract.
Recommendation: Approve as Submitted

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE TO EXECUTE A PERSONAL SERVICES AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COUNTY OF NASSAU, ACTING ON BEHALF OF THE OFFICE OF THE NASSAU COUNTY ATTORNEY, AND SOKOLOFF STERN LLP

WHEREAS, the County has negotiated a personal services agreement with Sokoloff Stern LLP to provide legal services, a copy of which is on file with the Clerk of the Legislature; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the Rules Committee of the Nassau County Legislature authorizes the County Executive to execute the said agreement with Sokoloff Stern LLP.

SPECIAL COUNSEL AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT, (together with the schedules, appendices, attachments and exhibits, if any, this "Agreement"), dated as of the date (the "Effective Date") that this Agreement is executed by Nassau County, is entered into by and between (i) Nassau County, a municipal corporation having its principal office at 1550 Franklin Avenue, Mineola, New York 11501 (the "County"), acting for and on behalf of the Office of the Nassau County Attorney, having its principal office at One West Street, Mineola, New York 11501 (the "Department"), and (ii) Sokoloff Stern LLP, with an office located at 179 Westbury Avenue, Carle Place, New York 11514 ("Counsel" or "Contractor").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, pursuant to Nassau County Charter Section 1101 and Nassau County Administrative Code Section 22-2.8, the County Attorney has determined the need for the employment of special counsel; and

WHEREAS, the County desires to hire Counsel to perform the services described in this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, Counsel is eminently qualified and ready to provide the necessary services; and

WHEREAS, Counsel desires to perform the services described in this Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the promises and mutual covenants contained in this Agreement, the parties agree as follows:

1. Term. This Agreement shall commence on December 7, 2021, and shall terminate upon the completion of services, as hereinafter described, unless sooner terminated in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.
2. Services. The services to be provided by Counsel under this Agreement shall consist of representing Police Officer Robert Psomas and Sergeant John Giovaniello in the case known as Gurlyene Felix, as Administrator for the Estate of Matthew Felix and Gurlyene Felix Individually v. County of Nassau, et al., Index No. 12-cv-676, a Civil Rights Section 1983 case, which includes claims of wrongful death, (the "Services"). Services under this Agreement shall include, but not be limited to, motion practice; pre-trial discovery; trial; appeals; and such other Services as may be required to fully represent the Police Officer Psomas and Sergeant Giovaniello. When providing such Services, Counsel must comply with Nassau County's Litigation Management Guidelines, as may be amended (the "Guidelines"), provided under separate cover and incorporated by reference herein. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, such Services shall conclude no earlier than entry of a verdict or a settlement or of a court-order terminating the litigation.
3. Payment. (a) Amount of Consideration. (1) The amount to be paid to Counsel as full consideration for Counsel's Services under this Agreement, including disbursements, shall not exceed the sum of One Hundred Sixty-Seven Thousand Two Hundred Fifty-Five Dollars ($167,255.00) ("Maximum Amount"). Compensation for professional services shall be paid at an hourly rate according to the following fee schedule:

- (i) Partner: $225.00
- (ii) Of Counsel: $225.00
- (iii) Associate: $195.00
- (iv) Paralegal: $85.00

(2) Any appearances before the County Legislature, or any committee thereof for the purpose of the approval of this Agreement or any amendment thereto, are to be construed as part of the fee negotiation and approval process and Counsel agrees that no fee will be charged for any such appearances.

(3) Partial Encumbrance. Counsel acknowledges that the County will partially encumber funds to be applied toward the Maximum Amount throughout the term of this Agreement. Counsel further acknowledges that the initial encumbrance shall be Seventy-Five Thousand Dollars ($75,000.00). Thereafter, the Department shall notify Counsel of the availability of monies, which written notice shall include the amount encumbered. Such notification shall serve as notice to proceed.

(b) Vouchers; Voucher Review, Approval and Audit. Payment shall be made to Counsel in arrears and shall be contingent upon (i) Counsel submitting a claim voucher (the "Voucher") in a form satisfactory to the County, that (a) is accompanied by a contemporaneous record of hours billed stating the person(s) performing the Services and indicating with reasonable specificity, the Services provided and the payment requested in consideration for such Services, or contains a detailed, itemized list of allowable expenses; (b) certifies that the Services rendered and the payment requested are in accordance with this Agreement, and (c) is accompanied by documentation satisfactory to the County supporting the amount claimed, and upon (ii) review, approval and audit of the Voucher by the Department and/or the County Comptroller or his or her duly designated representative (the "Comptroller").

(c) Timing of Payment Claims. Counsel shall submit its claim no later than three (3) months following the County's receipt of the services that are the subject of the claim, and no more frequently than once a month.

(d) Expenses and Disbursement. Counsel shall be compensated within the Maximum Amount for all reasonable expenses and disbursements actually incurred, including but not limited to out-of-pocket disbursements for investigators, trial preparation services, court reporting services, interpreters, and other legitimate expenses in accordance with the Guidelines. Counsel shall obtain prior written approval from the County Attorney or his designee for all non-routine expenses and disbursements as specified in the Guidelines.

(e) No Duplication of Payments. Payments under this Agreement shall not duplicate payments for any work performed or to be performed under other agreements between Counsel and any funding source including the County.

(f) Payments in Connection with Termination or Notice of Termination. Unless a provision of this Agreement expressly states otherwise, payments to Counsel following the termination of this Agreement shall not exceed payments made as consideration for services that were (i) performed prior to termination, (ii) authorized by this Agreement to be performed, and (iii) not performed after Counsel received notice that the County did not desire to receive such services.

4. Independent Contractor. Counsel is an independent contractor of the County. Counsel shall not, nor shall any officer, director, employee, servant, agent or independent contractor of Counsel (a "Counsel Agent"), be (i) deemed a County employee, (ii) commit the County to any obligation, or (iii) hold itself, himself, or herself out as a County employee or Person with the authority to commit the County to any obligation. As used in this Agreement the word "Person" means any individual person, entity (including partnerships, corporations and limited liability companies), and government or political subdivision thereof (including agencies, bureaus, offices and departments thereof).

5. No Arrears or Default. Counsel is not in arrears to the County upon any debt or contract and it is not in default as surety, contractor, or otherwise upon any obligation to the County, including any obligation to pay taxes to, or perform services for or on behalf of, the County.

6. Compliance with Law. (a) Generally. Counsel shall comply with any and all applicable Federal, State and local Laws, including, but not limited to those relating to conflicts of interest, human rights, a living wage, disclosure of information and vendor registration in connection with its performance under this Agreement. In furtherance of the foregoing, Counsel is bound by and shall comply with the terms of Appendix EE attached hereto and with the County's registration protocol. As used in this Agreement the word "Law" includes any and all statutes, local laws, ordinances, rules, regulations, applicable orders, and/or decrees, as the same may be amended from time to time, enacted, or adopted.

(b) Nassau County Living Wage Law. Pursuant to LL 1-2006, as amended, and to the extent that a waiver has not been obtained in accordance with such law or any rules of the County Executive, Counsel agrees as follows:

- (i) Counsel shall comply with the applicable requirements of the Living Wage Law, as amended;
- (ii) Failure to comply with the Living Wage Law, as amended, may constitute a material breach of this Agreement, the occurrence of which shall be determined solely by the County. Counsel has the right to cure such breach within thirty days of receipt of notice of breach from the County. In the event that such breach is not timely cured, the County may terminate this Agreement as well as exercise any other rights available to the County under applicable law.
- (iii) It shall be a continuing obligation of Counsel to inform the County of any material changes in the content of its certification of compliance, attached to this Agreement as Appendix L, and shall provide to the County any information necessary to maintain the certification's accuracy.

(c) Records Access. The parties acknowledge and agree that all records, information, and data ("Information") acquired in connection with performance or administration of this Agreement remains the sole property of the County and shall be used and disclosed solely for the purpose of performance and administration of the contract or as required by law. Counsel acknowledges that Counsel Information in the County's possession may be subject to disclosure under Article 6 of the New York State Public Officer's Law ("Freedom of Information Law" or "FOIL"). In the event that such a request for disclosure is made, the County shall make reasonable efforts to notify Counsel of such request prior to disclosure of the Information so that the Counsel may take such action as it deems appropriate.

(d) Prohibition of Gifts. In accordance with County Executive Order 2-2018, Counsel shall not offer, give, or agree to give anything of value to any County employee, agent, consultant, construction manager, or other person or firm representing the County (a "County Representative"), including members of a County Representative's immediate family, in connection with the performance by such County Representative of duties involving transactions with Counsel on behalf of the County, whether such duties are related to this Agreement or any other County contract or matter. As used herein, "anything of value" shall include, but not be limited to, meals, holiday gifts, holiday baskets, gift cards, tickets to golf outings, tickets to sporting events, currency of any kind, or any other gifts, gratuities, favorable opportunities or preferences. For purposes of this subsection, an immediate family member shall include a spouse, child, parent, or sibling. Counsel shall include the provisions of this subsection in each subcontract entered into under this Agreement.

(e) Disclosure of Conflicts of Interest. In accordance with County Executive Order 2-2018, Counsel has disclosed as part of its response to the County's Business History Form, or other disclosure form(s), any and all instances where Counsel employs any spouse, child, or parent of a County employee of the agency or department that contracted or procured the goods and/or services described under this Agreement. Counsel shall have a continuing obligation, as circumstances arise, to update this disclosure throughout the term of this Agreement.

(f) Vendor Code of Ethics. By executing this Agreement, the Contractor hereby certifies and covenants that:

- (i) The Contractor has been provided a copy of the Nassau County Vendor Code of Ethics issued on June 5, 2019, as may be amended from time to time (the "Vendor Code of Ethics"), and will comply with all of its provisions;
- (ii) All of the Contractor's Participating Employees, as such term is defined in the Vendor Code of Ethics (the "Participating Employees"), have been provided a copy of the Vendor Code of Ethics prior to their participation in the underlying procurement;
- (iii) All Participating Employees have completed the acknowledgment required by the Vendor Code of Ethics;
- (iv) The Contractor will retain all of the signed Participating Employee acknowledgements for the period it is required to retain other records pertinent to performance under this Agreement;
- (v) The Contractor will continue to distribute the Vendor Code of Ethics, obtain signed Participating Employee acknowledgments as new Participating Employees are added or changed during the term of this Agreement, and retain such signed acknowledgments for the period the Contractor is required to retain other records pertinent to performance under this Agreement; and
- (vi) The Contractor has obtained the certifications required by the Vendor Code of Ethics from any subcontractors or other lower tier participants who have participated in procurements for work performed under this Agreement.

7. Ownership of Records. All County Information provided to Counsel by the County shall remain the property of the County. All reports, documents or information created by Counsel on behalf of the County shall be deemed the property of the County. Upon the County's request, completion of Services, or termination of this Agreement, all such County Information, reports, documents or information shall be returned to the County.

8. Service Standards. Regardless of whether required by Law: (a) Counsel shall, and shall cause Counsel Agents to, conduct his or her activities in connection with this Agreement so as not to endanger or harm any Person or property.

(b) Counsel shall deliver Services under this Agreement in a professional manner consistent with the best practices of the legal profession. Counsel shall take all actions necessary or appropriate to meet the obligation described in the immediately preceding sentence, including obtaining and maintaining, and causing all Counsel Agents to obtain and maintain, all approvals, licenses, and certifications ("Approvals") necessary or appropriate in connection with this Agreement.

9. No Conflict Representation. During the term of this Agreement, Counsel shall not represent any party whose interest is or may be adverse to or in conflict with, or whose interest may appear to be adverse to or in conflict with the County, nor shall it commence any action or proceeding, or act as Counsel in any action or proceeding that is adverse to the County or any County officer or employee, without the County's prior written consent.

10. Indemnification; Defense; Cooperation. (a) Counsel shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the County, the Department and its officers, employees, and agents (the "Indemnified Parties") from and against any and all liabilities arising out of or in connection with performance under this Agreement by Counsel or a Counsel Agent, provided, however, that the Counsel shall not be responsible for that portion, if any, of a Loss that is caused by the negligence of the County.

(b) Counsel shall, upon the County's demand and at the County's direction, promptly and diligently defend, at Counsel's own risk and expense, any and all suits, actions, or proceedings which may be brought or instituted against one or more Indemnified Parties for which Counsel is responsible under this Section, and, further to Counsel's indemnification obligations, Counsel shall pay and satisfy any judgment, decree, loss or settlement in connection therewith.

(c) Counsel shall, and shall cause Counsel Agents to, cooperate with the County and the Department in connection with the investigation, defense or prosecution of any action, suit or proceeding in connection with this Agreement, including the acts or omissions of Counsel and/or a Counsel Agent in connection with this Agreement.

(d) The provisions of this Section shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

11. Insurance. (a) Types and Amounts. Counsel shall obtain and maintain throughout the term of this Agreement, at its own expense: (i) one or more policies for commercial general liability insurance, which policy(ies) shall name "Nassau County" as an additional insured and have a minimum single combined limit of liability of not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00) per occurrence and Two Million Dollars ($2,000,000.00) aggregate coverage, (ii) if contracting in whole or part to provide professional services, one or more policies for professional liability insurance, which policy(ies) shall have a minimum single combined limit of liability of not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00) per claim (iii) compensation insurance for the benefit of the Counsel's employees ("Workers' Compensation Insurance"), which insurance is in compliance with the New York State Workers' Compensation Law, and (iv) such additional insurance as the County may from time to time specify.

(b) Acceptability; Deductibles; Subcontractors. All insurance obtained and maintained by Counsel pursuant to this Agreement shall be (i) written by one or more commercial insurance carriers licensed to do business in New York State and acceptable to the County, and which is (ii) in form and substance acceptable to the County. Counsel shall be solely responsible for the payment of all deductibles to which such policies are subject. Counsel shall require any subcontractor hired in connection with this Agreement to carry insurance with the same limits and provisions required to be carried by Counsel under this Agreement.

(c) Delivery; Coverage Change; No Inconsistent Action. Prior to the execution of this Agreement, copies of current certificates of insurance evidencing the insurance coverage required by this Agreement shall be delivered to the Department. Not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date of any expiration or renewal of, or actual, proposed or threatened reduction or cancellation of coverage under, any insurance required hereunder, Counsel shall provide written notice to the Department of the same and deliver to the Department renewal or replacement certificates of insurance. Counsel shall cause all insurance to remain in full force and effect throughout the term of this Agreement and shall not take or omit to take any action that would suspend or invalidate any of the required coverages. The failure of Counsel to maintain Workers' Compensation Insurance shall render this contract void and of no effect. The failure of Counsel to maintain the other required coverages shall be deemed a material breach of this Agreement upon which the County reserves the right to consider this Agreement terminated as of the date of such failure.

12. Assignment; Amendment; Waiver; Subcontracting. This Agreement and the rights and obligations hereunder may not be in whole or part (i) assigned, transferred or disposed of, (ii) amended, (iii) waived, or (iv) subcontracted, without the prior written consent of the County Executive or his or her duly designated deputy (the "County Executive"), and any purported assignment, other disposal or modification without such prior written consent shall be null and void. The failure of a party to assert any of its rights under this Agreement, including the right to demand strict performance, shall not constitute a waiver of such rights.

13. Termination. (a) Generally. This Agreement may be terminated (i) for any reason by the County upon thirty (30) days' written notice to Counsel, (ii) for "Cause" by the County immediately upon the receipt by Counsel of written notice of termination, (iii) upon mutual written Agreement of the County and the Counsel, and (iv) in accordance with any other provisions of this Agreement expressly addressing termination.

As used in this Agreement the word "Cause" includes: (i) a breach of this Agreement; (ii) the failure to obtain and maintain in full force and effect all Approvals required for the services described in this Agreement to be legally and professionally rendered; and (iii) the termination or impending termination of federal or state funding for the services to be provided under this Agreement.

(b) By Counsel. This Agreement may be terminated by Counsel if performance becomes impracticable through no fault of the Counsel, where the impracticability relates to Counsel's ability to perform its obligations and not to a judgment as to convenience or the desirability of continued performance. Termination under this subsection shall be effected by Counsel delivering to the commissioner or other head of the Department (the "Commissioner"), at least sixty (60) days prior to the termination date (or a shorter period if sixty days' notice is impossible), a notice stating (i) that Counsel is terminating this Agreement in accordance with this subsection, (ii) the date as of which this Agreement will terminate, and (iii) the facts giving rise to the Counsel's right to terminate under this subsection. A copy of the notice given to the Commissioner shall be given to the Deputy County Executive who oversees the administration of the Department (the "Applicable DCE") on the same day that notice is given to the Commissioner.

(c) Counsel Assistance upon Termination. In connection with the termination or impending termination of this Agreement the Counsel shall, regardless of the reason for termination, take all actions reasonably requested by the County (including those set forth in other provisions of this Agreement) to assist the County in transitioning Counsel's responsibilities under this Agreement. The provisions of this subsection shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

14. Accounting Procedures; Records. The Contractor shall maintain and retain, for a period of six (6) years following the later of termination of or final payment under this Agreement, complete and accurate records, documents, accounts and other evidence, whether maintained electronically or manually ("Records"), pertinent to performance under this Agreement. Records shall be maintained in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles and, if the Contractor is a non-profit entity, must comply with the accounting guidelines set forth in the applicable provisions of the Code of Federal Regulations, 2 C.F.R. Part 200, as may be amended. Such Records shall at all times be available for audit and inspection by the Comptroller, the Department, any other governmental authority with jurisdiction over the provision of services hereunder and/or the payment therefore, and any of their duly designated representatives. The provisions of this Section shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

15. Limitations on Actions and Special Proceedings against the County. No action or special proceeding shall lie or be prosecuted or maintained against the County upon any claims arising out of or in connection with this Agreement unless:

(a) Notice. At least thirty (30) days prior to seeking relief, Counsel shall have presented the demand or claim(s) upon which such action or special proceeding is based in writing to the Applicable DCE for adjustment and the County shall have neglected or refused to make an adjustment or payment on the demand or claim for thirty (30) days after presentment. Counsel shall send or deliver copies of the documents presented to the Applicable DCE under this Section to each of (i) the Department and the (ii) the County Attorney (at the address specified above for the County) on the same day that documents are sent or delivered to the Applicable DCE. The complaint or necessary moving papers of Counsel shall allege that the above-described actions and inactions preceded Counsel's action or special proceeding against the County.

(b) Time Limitation. Such action or special proceeding is commenced within the earlier of (i) one (1) year of the first to occur of (A) final payment under or the termination of this Agreement, and (B) the accrual of the cause of action, and (ii) the time specified in any other provision of this Agreement.

16. Work Performance Liability. The Counsel is and shall remain primarily liable for the successful completion of all work in accordance this Agreement irrespective of whether the Counsel is using a Counsel Agent to perform some or all of the work contemplated by this Agreement, and irrespective of whether the use of such Counsel Agent has been approved by the County.

17. Consent to Jurisdiction and Venue; Governing Law. Unless otherwise specified in this Agreement or required by Law, exclusive original jurisdiction for all claims or actions with respect to this Agreement shall be in the Supreme Court in Nassau County in New York State and the parties expressly waive any objections to the same on any grounds, including venue and forum non conveniens. This Agreement is intended as a contract under, and shall be governed and construed in accordance with, the Laws of New York State, without regard to the conflict of laws provisions thereof.

18. Notices. Any notice, request, demand or other communication required to be given or made in connection with this Agreement shall be (a) in writing, (b) delivered or sent (i) by hand delivery, evidenced by a signed, dated receipt, (ii) postage prepaid via certified mail, return receipt requested, or (iii) overnight delivery via a nationally recognized courier service, (c) deemed given or made on the date the delivery receipt was signed by a County employee, three (3) business days after it is mailed or one (1) business day after it is released to a courier service, as applicable, and (d)(i) if to the Department, to the attention of the Commissioner at the address specified above for the Department, (ii) if to an Applicable DCE, to the attention of the Applicable DCE (whose name Counsel shall obtain from the Department) at the address specified above for the County, (iii) if to the Comptroller, to the attention of the Comptroller at 240 Old Country Road, Mineola, NY 11501, and (iv) if to Counsel, to the attention of the person who executed this Agreement on behalf of Counsel at the address specified above for Counsel, or in each case to such other persons or addresses as shall be designated by written notice.

19. All Legal Provisions Deemed Included; Severability; Supremacy. (a) Every provision required by Law to be inserted into or referenced by this Agreement is intended to be a part of this Agreement. If any such provision is not inserted or referenced or is not inserted or referenced in correct form then (i) such provision shall be deemed inserted into or referenced by this Agreement for purposes of interpretation and (ii) upon the application of either party this Agreement shall be formally amended to comply strictly with the Law, without prejudice to the rights of either party.

(b) In the event that any provision of this Agreement shall be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

(c) Unless the application of this subsection will cause a provision required by Law to be excluded from this Agreement, in the event of an actual conflict between the terms and conditions set forth above the signature page to this Agreement and those contained in any schedule, exhibit, appendix, or attachment to this Agreement, the terms and conditions set forth above the signature page shall control. To the extent possible, all the terms of this Agreement should be read together as not conflicting.

(d) Each party has cooperated in the negotiation and preparation of this Agreement. Therefore, in the event that construction of this Agreement occurs, it shall not be construed against either party as drafter.

20. Section and Other Headings. The section and other headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement.

21. Administrative Service Charge. Counsel agrees to pay the County an administrative service charge of Five Hundred Thirty-three Dollars ($533.00) for the processing of this Agreement pursuant to Ordinance Number 74-1979, as amended by Ordinance Numbers 201-2001, 128-2006, and 153-2018. The administrative service charge shall be due and payable to the County by Counsel upon signing this Agreement.

22. Executory Clause. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement:

(a) Approval and Execution. The County shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to any Person unless (i) all requisite County and other governmental approvals have been obtained, including, if required, approval by the County Legislature and (ii) this Agreement has been executed by the County Executive (as defined in this Agreement).

(b) Availability of Funds. The County shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to any Person beyond funds appropriated or otherwise lawfully available for this Agreement, and, if any portion of the funds for this Agreement are from the state and/or federal governments, then beyond funds available to the County from the state and/or federal governments.

(c) NIFA Approval. County contracts with a Maximum Amount equal to or greater than Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00) require the approval of the Nassau County Interim Finance Authority ("NIFA") during the control period declared by NIFA on January 26, 2011, with limited exceptions. NIFA also requires that when the aggregate of contracts issued to a particular vendor for the provision of similar services is equal to or greater than $50,000 in any 12-month period they be subject to NIFA approval even if each individual contract is less than $50,000. NIFA has advised the County that NIFA's approval is subject, among other things, to the following limitation: payment to Counsel under this Agreement for Services, including related expenses and disbursements, rendered prior to the later of (i) the date of NIFA approval or (ii) full execution of the Agreement (such date, the "Approval Date") shall not exceed the sum of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00). Counsel therefore acknowledges that charges incurred over Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00) prior to the Approval Date shall not be approved by NIFA, and shall not be paid by the County, unless NIFA makes an exception to its policy. Accordingly, to mitigate against exposure, Counsel shall provide the following notice to the Department:

- (A) If Counsel anticipates incurring costs in excess of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00) prior to the Approval Date, Counsel shall provide written notice to the Department at least Forty-five (45) days prior to the date on which Counsel anticipates reaching the Fifty Thousand Dollar ($50,000.00) cap.
- (B) If Counsel has reached or anticipates reaching the Fifty Thousand Dollar ($50,000.00) cap prior to the Approval Date, and in less than Forty-five (45) days, Counsel shall provide the Department with immediate written notice.

Upon receipt of such notice, the Department will review and advise Counsel of the Department's intended course of action, which, in appropriate cases as determined by the Department, may include seeking a waiver from NIFA.

23. Entire Agreement. This Agreement represents the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with regard to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements (whether written or oral) of the parties relating to the subject matter of this Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Counsel and the County have executed this Agreement as of the Effective Date.

Appendix EE

Equal Employment Opportunities for Minorities and Women

The provisions of this Appendix EE are hereby made a part of the document to which it is attached.

The Contractor shall comply with all federal, State and local statutory and constitutional anti-discrimination provisions. In addition, Local Law No. 14-2002, entitled "Participation by Minority Group Members and Women in Nassau County Contracts," governs all County Contracts as defined herein and solicitations for bids or proposals for County Contracts. In accordance with Local Law 14-2002:

(a) The Contractor shall not discriminate against employees or applicants for employment because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status in recruitment, employment, job assignments, promotions, upgradings, demotions, transfers, layoffs, terminations, and rates of pay or other forms of compensation. The Contractor will undertake or continue existing programs related to recruitment, employment, job assignments, promotions, upgradings, transfers, and rates of pay or other forms of compensation to ensure that minority group members and women are afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination.

(b) At the request of the County contracting agency, the Contractor shall request each employment agency, labor union, or authorized representative of workers with which it has a collective bargaining or other agreement or understanding, to furnish a written statement that such employment agency, union, or representative will not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, or marital status and that such employment agency, labor union, or representative will affirmatively cooperate in the implementation of the Contractor's obligations herein.

- (c) The Contractor shall state, in all solicitations or advertisements for employees, that, in the performance of the County Contract, all qualified applicants will be afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status.
- (d) The Contractor shall make best efforts to solicit active participation by certified minority or women-owned business enterprises ("Certified M/WBEs") as defined in Section 101 of Local Law No. 14-2002, for the purpose of granting of Subcontracts.
- (e) The Contractor shall, in its advertisements and solicitations for Subcontractors, indicate its interest in receiving bids from Certified M/WBEs and the requirement that Subcontractors must be equal opportunity employers.
- (f) Contractors must notify and receive approval from the respective Department Head prior to issuing any Subcontracts and, at the time of requesting such authorization, must submit a signed Best Efforts Checklist.

- (g) Contractors for projects under the supervision of the County's Department of Public Works shall also submit a utilization plan listing all proposed Subcontractors so that, to the greatest extent feasible, all Subcontractors will be approved prior to commencement of work. Any additions or changes to the list of subcontractors under the utilization plan shall be approved by the Commissioner of the Department of Public Works when made. A copy of the utilization plan any additions or changes thereto shall be submitted by the Contractor to the Office of Minority Affairs simultaneously with the submission to the Department of Public Works.
- (h) At any time after Subcontractor approval has been requested and prior to being granted, the contracting agency may require the Contractor to submit Documentation Demonstrating Best Efforts to Obtain Certified Minority or Women-owned Business Enterprises. In addition, the contracting agency may require the Contractor to submit such documentation at any time after Subcontractor approval when the contracting agency has reasonable cause to believe that the existing Best Efforts Checklist may be inaccurate. Within ten working days (10) of any such request by the contracting agency, the Contractor must submit Documentation.
- (i) In the case where a request is made by the contracting agency or a Deputy County Executive acting on behalf of the contracting agency, the Contractor must, within two (2) working days of such request, submit evidence to demonstrate that it employed Best Efforts to obtain Certified M/WBE participation through proper documentation.
- (j) Award of a County Contract alone shall not be deemed or interpreted as approval of all Contractor's Subcontracts and Contractor's fulfillment of Best Efforts to obtain participation by Certified M/WBEs.
- (k) A Contractor shall maintain Documentation Demonstrating Best Efforts to Obtain Certified Minority or Women-owned Business Enterprises for a period of six (6) years. Failure to maintain such records shall be deemed failure to make Best Efforts to comply with this Appendix EE, evidence of false certification as M/WBE compliant or considered breach of the County Contract.
- (l) The Contractor shall be bound by the provisions of Section 109 of Local Law No. 14-2002 providing for enforcement of violations as follows:
 - a. Upon receipt by the Executive Director of a complaint from a contracting agency that a County Contractor has failed to comply with the provisions of Local Law No. 14-2002, this Appendix EE or any other contractual provisions included in furtherance of Local Law No. 14-2002, the Executive Director will try to resolve the matter.
 - b. If efforts to resolve such matter to the satisfaction of all parties are unsuccessful, the Executive Director shall refer the matter, within thirty days (30) of receipt of the complaint, to the American Arbitration Association for proceeding thereon.

- c. Upon conclusion of the arbitration proceedings, the arbitrator shall submit to the Executive Director his recommendations regarding the imposition of sanctions, fines or penalties. The Executive Director shall either (i) adopt the recommendation of the arbitrator (ii) determine that no sanctions, fines or penalties should be imposed or (iii) modify the recommendation of the arbitrator, provided that such modification shall not expand upon any sanction recommended or impose any new sanction, or increase the amount of any recommended fine or penalty. The Executive Director, within ten days (10) of receipt of the arbitrators award and recommendations, shall file a determination of such matter and shall cause a copy of such determination to be served upon the respondent by personal service or by certified mail return receipt requested. The award of the arbitrator, and the fines and penalties imposed by the Executive Director, shall be final determinations and may only be vacated or modified as provided in the civil practice law and rules ("CPLR").

- (m) The contractor shall provide contracting agency with information regarding all subcontracts awarded under any County Contract, including the amount of compensation paid to each Subcontractor and shall complete all forms provided by the Executive Director or the Department Head relating to subcontractor utilization and efforts to obtain M/WBE participation.

Failure to comply with provisions (a) through (m) above, as ultimately determined by the Executive Director, shall be a material breach of the contract constituting grounds for immediate termination. Once a final determination of failure to comply has been reached by the Executive Director, the determination of whether to terminate a contract shall rest with the Deputy County Executive with oversight responsibility for the contracting agency.

Provisions (a), (b) and (c) shall not be binding upon Contractors or Subcontractors in the performance of work or the provision of services or any other activity that are unrelated, separate, or distinct from the County Contract as expressed by its terms.

The requirements of the provisions (a), (b) and (c) shall not apply to any employment or application for employment outside of this County or solicitations or advertisements therefor or any existing programs of affirmative action regarding employment outside of this County and the effect of contract provisions required by these provisions (a), (b) and (c) shall be so limited.

The Contractor shall include provisions (a), (b) and (c) in every Subcontract in such a manner that these provisions shall be binding upon each Subcontractor as to work in connection with the County Contract.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "Best Efforts Checklist" shall mean a list signed by the Contractor, listing the procedures it has undertaken to procure Subcontractors in accordance with this Appendix EE.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "County Contract" shall mean (i) a written agreement or purchase order instrument, providing for a total expenditure in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), whereby a County contracting agency is committed to expend or does expend funds in return for labor, services, supplies, equipment, materials or any combination of the foregoing, to be performed for, or rendered or furnished to the County; or (ii) a written agreement in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), whereby a County contracting agency is committed to expend or does expend funds for the acquisition, construction, demolition, replacement, major repair or renovation of real property and improvements thereon. However, the term "County Contract" does not include agreements or orders for the following services: banking services, insurance policies or contracts, or contracts with a County contracting agency for the sale of bonds, notes or other securities.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "County Contractor" means an individual, business enterprise, including sole proprietorship, partnership, corporation, not-for-profit corporation, or any other person or entity other than the County, whether a contractor, licensor, licensee or any other party, that is (i) a party to a County Contract, (ii) a bidder in connection with the award of a County Contract, or (iii) a proposed party to a County Contract, but shall not include any Subcontractor.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "County Contractor" shall mean a person or firm who will manage and be responsible for an entire contracted project.

As used in this Appendix EE "Documentation Demonstrating Best Efforts to Obtain Certified Minority or Women-owned Business Enterprises" shall include, but is not limited to the following:

- a. Proof of having advertised for bids, where appropriate, in minority publications, trade newspapers/notices and magazines, trade and union publications, and publications of general circulation in Nassau County and surrounding areas or having verbally solicited M/WBEs whom the County Contractor reasonably believed might have the qualifications to do the work. A copy of the advertisement, if used, shall be included to demonstrate that it contained language indicating that the County Contractor welcomed bids and quotes from M/WBE Subcontractors. In addition, proof of the date(s) any such advertisements appeared must be included in the Best Effort Documentation. If verbal solicitation is used, a County Contractor's affidavit with a notary's signature and stamp shall be required as part of the documentation.
- b. Proof of having provided reasonable time for M/WBE Subcontractors to respond to bid opportunities according to industry norms and standards. A chart outlining the schedule/time frame used to obtain bids from M/WBEs is suggested to be included with the Best Effort Documentation
- c. Proof or affidavit of follow-up of telephone calls with potential M/WBE subcontractors encouraging their participation. Telephone logs indicating such action can be included with the Best Effort Documentation
- d. Proof or affidavit that M/WBE Subcontractors were allowed to review bid specifications, blue prints and all other bid/RFP related items at no charge to the M/WBEs, other than reasonable documentation costs incurred by the County

Contractor that are passed onto the M/WBE.

- e. Proof or affidavit that sufficient time prior to making award was allowed for M/WBEs to participate effectively, to the extent practicable given the timeframe of the County Contract.
- f. Proof or affidavit that negotiations were held in good faith with interested M/WBEs, and that M/WBEs were not rejected as unqualified or unacceptable without sound business reasons based on (1) a thorough investigation of M/WBE qualifications and capabilities reviewed against industry custom and standards and (2) cost of performance. The basis for rejecting any M/WBE deemed unqualified by the County Contractor shall be included in the Best Effort Documentation
- g. If an M/WBE is rejected based on cost, the County Contractor must submit a list of all sub-bidders for each item of work solicited and their bid prices for the work.
- h. The conditions of performance expected of Subcontractors by the County Contractor must also be included with the Best Effort Documentation
- i. County Contractors may include any other type of documentation they feel necessary to further demonstrate their Best Efforts regarding their bid documents.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "Executive Director" shall mean the Executive Director of the Nassau County Office of Minority Affairs; provided, however, that Executive Director shall include a designee of the Executive Director except in the case of final determinations issued pursuant to Section (a) through (l) of these rules.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "Subcontract" shall mean an agreement consisting of part or parts of the contracted work of the County Contractor.

As used in this Appendix EE, the term "Subcontractor" shall mean a person or firm who performs part or parts of the contracted work of a prime contractor providing services, including construction services, to the County pursuant to a county contract. Subcontractor shall include a person or firm that provides labor, professional or other services, materials or supplies to a prime contractor that are necessary for the prime contractor to fulfill its obligations to provide services to the County pursuant to a county contract. Subcontractor shall not include a supplier of materials to a contractor who has contracted to provide goods but no services to the County, nor a supplier of incidental materials to a contractor, such as office supplies, tools and other items of nominal cost that are utilized in the performance of a service contract.

Provisions requiring contractors to retain or submit documentation of best efforts to utilize certified subcontractors and requiring Department head approval prior to subcontracting shall not apply to inter-governmental agreements. In addition, the tracking of expenditures of County dollars by not-for-profit corporations, other municipalities, States, or the federal government is not required.

CONTRACTOR NAME: Sokoloff Stern LLP

CONTRACTOR ADDRESS: 179 Westbury Avenue, Carle Place, New York 11514

FEDERAL TAX ID #: [REDACTED]

Instructions: Please check the appropriate box (“”) after one of the following roman numerals and provide all the requested information.

I. The contract was awarded to the lowest, responsible bidder after advertisement for sealed bids. The contract was awarded after a request for sealed bids was published in _____ [newspaper] on _____ [date]. The sealed bids were publicly opened on _____ [date]. _____ [#] of sealed bids were received and opened.

II. The contractor was selected pursuant to a Request for Proposals.
The Contract was entered into after a written request for proposals was issued on _____ [date]. Potential proposers were made aware of the availability of the RFP by advertisement in _____ [newspaper], posting on industry websites, via email to interested parties and by publication on the County procurement website. Proposals were due on _____ [date]. _____ [state #] proposals were received and evaluated. The evaluation committee consisted of: _____
_____ (list # of persons on committee and their respective departments). The proposals were scored and ranked. As a result of the scoring and ranking, the highest-ranking proposer was selected.

III. This is a renewal, extension or amendment of an existing contract.

The contract was originally executed by Nassau County on _____ [date]. This is a renewal or extension pursuant to the contract, or an amendment within the scope of the contract or RFP (copies of the relevant pages are attached). The original contract was entered into after _____ [describe procurement method, i.e., RFP, three proposals evaluated, etc.] Attach a copy of the most recent evaluation of the contractor's performance for any contract to be renewed or extended. If the contractor has not received a satisfactory evaluation, the department must explain why the contractor should nevertheless be permitted to continue to contract with the county.

IV. Pursuant to Executive Order No. 1 of 1993, as amended, at least three proposals were solicited and received. The attached memorandum from the department head describes the proposals received, along with the cost of each proposal.

A. The contract has been awarded to the proposer offering the lowest cost proposal; OR:

X B. In April 2018, the County Attorney's Office conducted a formal Request for Qualifications ("RFQ") to identify eligible, experienced legal counsel for a broad array of legal areas, and a panel of firms ("Panel") qualified to provide legal services for the County has been established. The firm Sokoloff Stern LLP ("Counsel") has been added to the Panel. In this streamlined solicitation, a total of eight candidates qualified in the area of Section 1983 and municipal defense were solicited from the RFQ panel. Of the eight solicited, only one firm responded, Sokoloff Stern LLP. After reviewing Counsel's proposal, the evaluation committee was satisfied that Counsel possessed extensive experience providing counsel to municipalities, the requisite staff to ensure the case would be handled properly, and an overall budget comparable to proposals the County typically receives.

V. Pursuant to Executive Order No. 1 of 1993 as amended, the attached memorandum from the department head explains why the department did not obtain at least three proposals.

A. There are only one or two providers of the services sought or less than three providers submitted proposals. The memorandum describes how the contractor was determined to be the sole source provider of the personal service needed or explains why only two proposals could be obtained. If two proposals were obtained, the memorandum explains that the contract was awarded to the lowest cost proposer, or why the selected proposer offered the higher quality proposal, the proposer's unique and special experience, skill, or expertise, or its availability to perform in the most immediate and timely manner.

B. The memorandum explains that the contractor's selection was dictated by the terms of a federal or New York State grant, by legislation or by a court order. (Copies of the relevant documents are attached).

C. Pursuant to General Municipal Law Section 104, the department is purchasing the services required through a New York State Office of General Services contract no. _____, and the attached memorandum explains how the purchase is within the scope of the terms of that contract.

- D. Pursuant to General Municipal Law Section 119-o, the department is purchasing the services required through an inter-municipal agreement.

VI. This is a human services contract with a not-for-profit agency for which a competitive process has not been initiated. Attached is a memorandum that explains the reasons for entering into this contract without conducting a competitive process, and details when the department intends to initiate a competitive process for the future award of these services. For any such contract, where the vendor has previously provided services to the county, attach a copy of the most recent evaluation of the vendor's performance. If the contractor has not received a satisfactory evaluation, the department must explain why the contractor should nevertheless be permitted to contract with the county.

VII. This is a public works contract for the provision of architectural, engineering or surveying services. The attached memorandum provides details of the department's compliance with Board of Supervisors' Resolution No. 928 of 1993, including its receipt and evaluation of annual Statements of Qualifications & Performance Data, and its negotiations with the most highly qualified firms.

Instructions with respect to Sections VIII, IX and X: All Departments must check the box for VIII. Then, check the box for either IX or X, as applicable.

VIII. Participation of Minority Group Members and Women in Nassau County Contracts. The selected contractor has agreed that it has an obligation to utilize best efforts to hire MWBE sub-contractors. Proof of the contractual utilization of best efforts as outlined in Exhibit "EE" may be requested at any time, from time to time, by the Comptroller's Office prior to the approval of claim vouchers.

IX. Department MWBE responsibilities. To ensure compliance with MWBE requirements as outlined in Exhibit "EE", Department will require vendor to submit list of sub-contractor requirements prior to submission of the first claim voucher, for services under this contract being submitted to the Comptroller.

X. Vendor will not require any sub-contractors.

In addition, if this is a contract with an individual or with an entity that has only one or two employees: a review of the criteria set forth by the Internal Revenue Service, Revenue Ruling No. 87-41, 1987-1 C.B. 296, attached as Appendix A to the Comptroller's Memorandum, dated February 13, 2004, concerning independent contractors and employees indicates that the contractor would not be considered an employee for federal tax purposes.

Additional Instructions for Form DB-120.1

By signing this form, the insurance carrier identified in Box 3 on this form is certifying that it is insuring the business referenced in Box "1a" for disability and/or Paid Family Leave benefits under the New York State Disability and Paid Family Leave Benefits Law. The insurance carrier or its licensed agent will send this Certificate of Insurance Coverage (Certificate) to the entity listed as the certificate holder in Box 2.

The insurance carrier must notify the above certificate holder and the Workers' Compensation Board within 10 days IF a policy is cancelled due to nonpayment of premiums or within 30 days IF there are reasons other than nonpayment of premiums that cancel the policy or eliminate the insured from coverage indicated on this Certificate. (These notices may be sent by regular mail.) Otherwise, this Certificate is valid for one year after this form is approved by the insurance carrier or its licensed agent, or until the policy expiration date listed in Box 3c, whichever is earlier.

This Certificate is issued as a matter of information only and confers no rights upon the certificate holder. This certificate does not amend, extend or alter the coverage afforded by the policy listed, nor does it confer any rights or responsibilities beyond those contained in the referenced policy.

This Certificate may be used as evidence of a NYS disability and/or Paid Family Leave benefits contract of insurance only while the underlying policy is in effect.

Please Note: Upon the cancellation of the disability and/or Paid Family Leave benefits policy indicated on this form, if the business continues to be named on a permit, license or contract issued by a certificate holder, the business must provide that certificate holder with a new Certificate of Insurance Coverage for NYS disability and/or Paid Family Leave Benefits or other authorized proof that the business is complying with the mandatory coverage requirements of the NYS Disability and Paid Family Leave Benefits Law.

DISABILITY AND PAID FAMILY LEAVE BENEFITS LAW

§220. Subd. 8

(a) The head of a state or municipal department, board, commission or office authorized or required by law to issue any permit for or in connection with any work involving the employment of employees in employment as defined in this article, and notwithstanding any general or special statute requiring or authorizing the issue of such permits, shall not issue such permit unless proof duly subscribed by an insurance carrier is produced in a form satisfactory to the chair, that the payment of disability benefits and after January first, two thousand and twenty-one, the payment of family leave benefits for all employees has been secured as provided by this article. Nothing herein, however, shall be construed as creating any liability on the part of such state or municipal department, board, commission or office to pay any disability benefits to any such employee if so employed.

(b) The head of a state or municipal department, board, commission or office authorized or required by law to enter into any contract for or in connection with any work involving the employment of employees in employment as defined in this article and notwithstanding any general or special statute requiring or authorizing any such contract, shall not enter into any such contract unless proof duly subscribed by an insurance carrier is produced in a form satisfactory to the chair, that the payment of disability benefits and after January first, two thousand eighteen, the payment of family leave benefits for all employees has been secured as provided by this article.

FROM: Daniel Gregware
Deputy County Attorney

DATE: April 25, 2022

SUBJECT: Delay Memo – Sokoloff Stern LLP

The purpose of this memo is to explain the delay with processing a new contract between the County and Sokoloff Stern LLP (“Counsel”), the special counsel firm selected to represent Police Officer Robert Psomas and Police Officer John Giovaniello in the case known as Gurlyene Felix, as Administrator for the Estate of Matthew Felix and Gurlyene Felix Individually v. County of Nassau, et al., Index No. 12-cv-676, a Civil Rights Section 1983 case, which includes claims of wrongful death (the “Services”).

The contract services commenced on December 7, 2021. The drafting of this contract was assigned on January 18, 2022, and the contract was sent to Counsel on January 19, 2022. The disclosure forms were completed and insurance certificates were uploaded by Counsel on April 5, 2022. My office then began packaging and uploading the contract package for the requisite County approvals.

I trust this memorandum satisfies your inquiry, however, please do not hesitate to contact this office should you have any additional questions.

RULES RESOLUTION NO. – 2022

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE TO EXECUTE AN AMENDMENT TO A PERSONAL SERVICES AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COUNTY OF NASSAU, ACTING ON BEHALF OF THE COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PARKS, RECREATION & MUSEUMS, AND ED MOORE ADVERTISING AGENCY, INC.

WHEREAS, the County has negotiated an amendment to a personal services agreement with Ed Moore Advertising Agency, Inc. to provide advertising and assist in the development and implementation of a promotional and event marketing plan for the Department of Parks, Recreation & Museums, a copy of which is on file with the Clerk of the Legislature; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the Rules Committee of the Nassau County Legislature authorizes the County Executive to execute the said amendment to an agreement with Ed Moore Advertising Agency, Inc.

AMENDMENT NO. 1

AMENDMENT (together with any appendices or exhibits attached hereto, this "Amendment") dated as of the date (the "Effective Date") that this Amendment is executed by Nassau County, between (i) Nassau County, a municipal corporation having its principal office at 1550 Franklin Avenue, Mineola, New York 11501 (the "County"), acting for and on behalf of the County Department of Parks, Recreation & Museums, having its principal office at Administration Building, Eisenhower Park, East Meadow, New York 11554 (the "Department"), and (ii) Ed Moore Advertising Agency, Inc., having its principal office at 10 Village Drive West, Dix Hills, New York 11746 (the "Contractor").

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, pursuant to County contract number CQPK19000023 between the County and Contractor, executed on behalf of the County on March 13, 2020 (the "Original Agreement"), the Contractor provides advertising and assists in the development and implementation of a promotional and event marketing plan for the Department, which services are more fully described in the Original Agreement (the services contemplated by the Original Agreement, the "Services"); and

WHEREAS, the term of the Original Agreement is from March 1, 2020 until February 28, 2023, unless sooner terminated in accordance with the terms of the Original Agreement; provided that the County may renew the Original Agreement under the same terms and conditions for one (1) additional two (2) year period (the "Original Term"); and

WHEREAS, the maximum amount that the County agreed to pay the Contractor for Services under the Original Agreement, as full compensation for the Services, was One Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($150,000.00) per year for a cumulative maximum total of Four Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($450,000.00) (not including the two (2) year renewal period) (the "Maximum Amount"); and

WHEREAS, the County has received Coronavirus Local Fiscal Recovery Funds ("CLFRF") that was received and established pursuant to Subtitle M of Title IX of the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 ("ARPA");

WHEREAS, aid to tourism, travel, and hospitality industries is an enumerated eligible use of CLFRF monies under ARPA; and

WHEREAS, the County desires to utilize a portion of the CLFRF monies it has received to add funding to the Original Agreement to aid the tourism, travel, and hospitality industries in the County by advertising and marketing the leisure and hospitality sector including, but not limited to, parks, beaches, museums, concert and entertainment venues events, travel accommodations, and other tourist destinations in the County; and

WHEREAS, the County further desires to exercise the two (2) year renewal option available under the Original Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the promises and mutual covenants contained in this Amendment, the parties agree as follows:

1. Renewal of Term. The Original Agreement shall be renewed and thereby extended by two (2) years, so that the termination date of the Original Agreement, as amended by this Amendment (the "Amended Agreement"), shall be February 28, 2025, subject to earlier termination as provided for under the Amended Agreement.

2. Payment. (a) Maximum Amount. The Maximum Amount in the Original Agreement shall be increased by One Million Eight Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,800,000.00) (the "Amendment Maximum Amount"), so that the maximum amount that the County shall pay to the Contractor as full consideration for all Services provided under the Amended Agreement shall be Two Million Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($2,250,000.00) (the "Amended Maximum Amount"). The Amendment Maximum Amount shall be payable in accordance with the terms of the Original Agreement and is allocated and further subject to the following terms:

- (i) One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,500,000.00) of the Amendment Maximum Amount consists of CLFRF funds (the "CLFRF Funds"). Use of CLFRF Funds is subject to Contractor's compliance with the attached Exhibit A and Section 3 below. All CLFRF Funds must be obligated by December 31, 2024.
- (ii) Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000.00) of the Amendment Maximum Amount consists of non-CLFRF monies, or in other words, monies from non-CLFRF sources of funding. The Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000.00) of non-CLFRF monies authorized under this Amendment together with the Maximum Amount authorized under the Original Agreement total Seven Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000.00) of non-CLFRF monies now authorized under this Amended Agreement (cumulatively, "Non-CLFRF Funds"). Upon approval of this Amendment, Non-CLFRF Funds are no longer subject to a per year dollar cap and may be used as deemed appropriate by the Department at any time during the term of the Amended Agreement.

(b) CLFRF Funds. The Contractor acknowledges that the County will be using CLFRF Funds and Non-CLFRF Funds to pay the Contractor for Services to be performed under the Amended Agreement. As such, the Contractor must ensure it receives direction from the Department as to whether its Services are being paid with CLFRF Funds or Non-CLFRF Funds to ensure compliance with all CLFRF and related ARPA requirements.

(c) Partial Encumbrance. The Contractor acknowledges that the County will partially encumber funds to be applied toward the Amendment Maximum Amount throughout the term of the Amended Agreement. The Contractor further acknowledges that the encumbrance that will be approved upon execution of this Amendment is Six Hundred Thousand Dollars ($600,000.00) of CLFRF Funds. Thereafter, the Department will notify the Contractor of the availability of additional monies, which notice will include the amount encumbered and indicate whether they are CLFRF Funds or Non-CLFRF Funds. Such notification shall serve as notice to proceed.

3. Compliance with Law. (a) Generally. In addition to the Compliance with Law provisions contained in the Original Agreement, with respect to CLFRF Funds, the Contractor shall comply with all applicable federal laws governing CLFRF monies and ARPA, including, but not limited to, such requirements contained in Exhibit A, the United States Department of the Treasury's Final Rule with respect to use of ARPA and CLFRF monies, and other compliance and reporting guidance detailing permissible uses and other requirements with respect to CLFRF monies ("CLFRF Guidance"). Further, without limiting the generality of the forgoing, with respect to CLFRF Funds, the Contractor shall comply with the following requirements:

- (i) The Contractor is subject to a single audit or program specific audit pursuant to 2 C.F.R. 200.501(a) when the Contractor spends $750,000 or more in federal awards during their fiscal year to the extent such CLFRF Funds payable under this Amendment is considered a federal award;
- (ii) The CLFRF Funds are subject to 2 C.F.R. 200.303 regarding internal controls;
- (iii) The CLFRF Funds are subject to 2 C.F.R. 200.330 through 200.332 regarding monitoring and management;
- (iv) The CLFRF Funds are subject to 2 C.F.R. Part 200 Subpart F regarding audit requirements;
- (v) The CLFRF Funds are subject to applicable provisions of 2 C.F.R. 200 Subpart E Cost Principles.
- (vi) Subcontracts, if any, shall contain a provision making them subject to all of the provisions stipulated in the Amended Agreement, including, but not limited to, 2 C.F.R. 200.303, 2 C.F.R. 200.330-332, 2 C.F.R. 200.501(a), and 2 C.F.R. Part 200 Subpart F and Exhibit A;
- (vii) Hatch Act. Contractor shall comply with the provisions of the Hatch Act of 1939 (Chapter 15 of Title V of the U.S.C.) (the "Hatch Act") limiting the political activities of public employees, as it relates to the programs funded. Employees of a Contractor may also be subject to the Hatch Act if the statutes through which the Contractor derives their federal funding, including without limitation any applicable ARPA rules, contains a provision stating that employees of the recipient organizations are deemed to be public employees for purposes of the Hatch Act;
- (viii) Nondiscrimination. The Contractor shall comply with all federal, state, and local statutory, regulatory and constitutional non-discrimination provisions. Further details regarding applicable CLFRF federal non-discrimination provisions can be found in the attached Exhibit A and local non-discrimination provisions in the Appendix EE attached to the Original Agreement;
- (ix) Conflict of Interest. By executing this Amendment, the Contractor warrants that it is in compliance with applicable federal, state and local conflict of interest regulations and requirements, including but not limited to full compliance with the provisions of the Nassau County Vendor Code of Ethics. The Contractor shall maintain written standards of conduct covering conflicts of interest and governing the actions of its employees engaged in the selection, award and administration of contracts. No employee, officer, or agent may participate in the selection, award, or administration of a contract supported by a Federal award if he or she has a real or apparent conflict of interest. Such a conflict of interest would arise when the employee, officer, or agent, any member of his or her immediate family, his or her partner, or an organization which employs or is about to employ any of the parties indicated herein, has a financial or other interest in or a tangible personal benefit from a firm considered for a contract; and

- (x) With respect to any conflict between any such federal law and the terms of this Amended Agreement and/or the provisions of any non-federal law, except as otherwise required under federal law, the more stringent requirement shall control.
- (xi) CLFRF Funds may only be used for eligible activities as described under the CLFRF Guidance and the provisions of this Amended Agreement. The County reserves the right to pursue any remedies against the Contractor for Contractor's failure to comply with CLFRF Guidance or the terms contained in this Amended Agreement, included, but not limited to, the return of any CLFRF Funds paid to the Contractor under this Amended Agreement.

4. Full Force and Effect. All the terms and conditions of the Original Agreement not expressly amended by this Amendment shall remain in full force and effect and govern the relationship of the parties for the term of the Amended Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have executed this Amendment as of the Effective Date.

SUPPLEMENT OF FEDERALLY REQUIRED CONTRACT PROVISIONS PURSUANT TO THE AMERICAN RESCUE PLAN ACT

Contractor shall comply with these supplementary conditions (the "Supplementary Conditions") and, with respect to a contract for which any portion of the funding is derived from CLFRF monies made available by the County to the Contractor, shall: (1) attach these Supplementary Conditions to any such contract entered into between Contractor and a subcontractor or agreement entered into between Contractor and a lower-tiered grantee/contractor; (2) require that all Contractor subcontractors attach these Supplementary Conditions to their subcontracts; and (3) require all Contractor subcontractors to require their sub-subcontractors to attach these Supplementary Conditions in all lower-tiered sub-subcontracts. When these Supplementary Conditions are attached to any such contract, references herein to "County" shall be deemed to refer to the party seeking products and/or services, and references to "Contractor" shall be deemed to refer to the party providing products and/or services, and references to the "Agreement" or "agreement" or "Contract" or "contract" shall be deemed to refer to the agreement between such contracting parties.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Agreement, except as expressly provided under the terms of these Supplementary Conditions, the terms of these Supplementary Conditions shall be deemed to control in the event of a conflict with other provisions contained in the Agreement. The Contractor shall not perform any act, fail to perform any act, or refuse to comply with any County requests that would cause the County to be in violation of these Supplementary Conditions.

SUPPLEMENTARY CONDITIONS

The following terms and conditions apply to the Agreement and any other agreement for which any portion of the funding is derived from American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (“ARPA”) funds.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

1. PROVISIONS REQUIRED BY LAW DEEMED INSERTED. Each and every provision of law and clause required by law to be inserted in the Agreement and/or these Supplementary Conditions, including, but not limited to all federal laws, regulations, executive orders, policies, procedures, and directives applicable to the receipt of funding from the Coronavirus State and Local Fiscal Recovery Fund (“CLFRF”), shall be deemed to be inserted herein and the Agreement and Supplementary Conditions shall be read and enforced as though it were included herein, and if through mistake or otherwise any such provision is not inserted, or is not correctly inserted, then upon the application of either party the Agreement and/or Supplementary Conditions shall forthwith be supplemented to make such insertion or correction.
2. STATUTORY AND REGULATORY COMPLIANCE. Contractor shall comply with all laws and regulations applicable to the ARPA funds, including but not limited to the applicable Office of Management and Budget Circulars, which may impact the administration of ARPA funds and/or set forth certain cost principles, including the allowability of certain expenses.
3. BREACH OF CONTRACT TERMS. The County reserves its right to all administrative, contractual, or legal remedies, including but not limited to suspension or termination of the Agreement, in instances where the Contractor or any of its subcontractors violate or breach any Agreement term. If the Contractor or any of its subcontractors violate or breach any Agreement term, they shall be subject to such sanctions and penalties as may be appropriate. The duties and obligations imposed by these Supplementary Conditions and the Agreement and the rights and remedies available thereunder shall be in addition to and not a limitation of any duties, obligations, rights and remedies otherwise imposed or available by law.
4. ADMINISTRATIVE, COST, AUDIT AND PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS. The Contractor must comply with the most recent version (unless a specific version is noted) of the Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit requirements, and to the extent necessary cooperate and maintain information and documentation to allow County to comply with the applicable regulations governing use of the CLFRF funds, including, but not limited to, 2 CFR Part 200 – Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards. Failure to do so may result in disallowance of costs upon audit. The Contractor, and, if applicable, subcontractors, shall only use CLFRF funds for eligible CLFRF activities as described under subsection (c)(1) of Section 603 of Title VI of the Social Security Act, as added by Section 9901 of CLFRF, Section 35(b) of the ARPA Interim Final Rule (and final rule when effective), and all other applicable laws and regulations governing the use of CLFRF funds.

5. RECORDS AND REPORTING REQUIREMENTS. The Contractor shall establish and maintain complete records, including accurate books, records, documents, accounts, financial records, supporting documents, statistical records, and all other evidence and records pertinent to performance of work done for the County under the Agreement (the "Records") consistent with generally accepted bookkeeping practices. The Contractor shall retain the Records in accordance with Section 16 below. The County and any person or entity authorized to conduct an examination shall have access to the Records during normal business hours at an office of the Contractor within the County of Nassau or, if no such office is available, at a mutually agreeable and reasonable venue within the County of Nassau, for the term specified above for the purposes of inspection, auditing and copying. The County shall take reasonable steps to protect from public disclosure any of the Records which are exempt from disclosure under Section 87 of the Public Officers Law (the "Statute") provided that: (i) the Contractor shall timely inform the County in writing, that said records should not be disclosed; and (ii) said records shall be sufficiently identified; and (iii) designation of said records as exempt under the Statute is reasonable. Nothing contained herein shall diminish, or in any way adversely affect, the County's right to discovery in any pending or future litigation. The Contractor shall complete and submit all reports, in such form and according to such schedule, as may be required by the County. The Contractor shall cooperate with all County efforts to comply with CLFRF related requirements and regulations pertaining to recordkeeping and reporting.

6. RIGHTS TO INVENTIONS MADE UNDER A CONTRACT OR AGREEMENT. Contracts or agreements for the performance of experimental, developmental, or research work shall provide for the rights of the Federal Government and the County in any resulting invention in accordance with 37 C.F.R. Part 401, "Rights to Inventions Made by Nonprofit Organizations and Small Business Firms Under Government Grants, Contracts and Cooperative Agreements," and any implementing regulations issued by the U.S. Treasury.

7. DEBARMENT AND SUSPENSION. The Agreement is a covered transaction for purposes of 2 C.F.R. Part 180 and 2 C.F.R. Part 3000. As such the Contractor is required to verify that the Contractor and none of its principals (defined at 2 C.F.R. § 180.995), or its affiliates (defined at 2 C.F.R. § 180.905) are excluded (defined at 2 C.F.R. § 180.940) or disqualified (defined at 2 C.F.R. § 180.935). The Contractor must comply with 2 C.F.R. Part 180, subpart C and 2 C.F.R. Part 3000, subpart C and must include a requirement to comply with these regulations in any lower tier covered transaction (e.g., subcontract) it enters into. This certification is a material representation of fact relied upon by the County. If it is later determined that the Contractor did not comply with 2 C.F.R. Part 180, subpart C and 2 C.F.R. Part 3000, subpart C, in addition to remedies available to the County, the Federal Government may pursue available remedies, including but not limited to suspension and/or debarment. The Contractor agrees to comply with the requirements of 2 C.F.R. Part 180, subpart C and 2 C.F.R. Part 3000, subpart C throughout the period of the Agreement. The Contractor must be registered with SAM.gov in accordance with applicable regulations. The Contractor further agrees to include a provision requiring such compliance in its lower tier covered transactions.

8. CONFLICTS OF INTEREST. The Contractor shall notify the County as soon as possible if the Agreement or any aspect related to the anticipated work under this Agreement raises an actual or potential conflict of interest (as described in 2 C.F.R. Part 200). The Contractor shall explain the actual or potential conflict in writing in sufficient detail so that the County is able to assess such actual or potential conflict. The Contractor shall provide the County any additional information necessary for the County to fully assess and address such actual or potential conflict of interest. The Contractor shall accept any reasonable conflict mitigation strategy employed by the County, including but not limited to the use of an independent subcontractor(s) to perform the portion of work that gives rise to the actual or potential conflict. If requested by the County, Contractor shall sign a certification affirming that it has no conflict of interest arising from performance of work on a specific task.

9. SUBCONTRACTING. The Contractor represents to the County that all work shall be performed by personnel experienced in the appropriate and applicable profession and areas of expertise, taking into account the nature of the work to be performed under the Agreement. The Contractor will include these Supplementary Conditions in every subcontract issued by it so that such provisions will be binding upon each of its subcontractors as well as the requirement to flow down such terms to all lower-tiered subcontractors.

10. ASSIGNABILITY. The Contractor shall not assign any interest in the Agreement, and shall not transfer any interest in the same (whether by assignment or novation) without prior written approval of the County.

11. INDEMNIFICATION. The Contractor shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the County and their agents and employees from and against any and all claims, actions, suits, charges, and judgments arising from or related to the negligence or willful misconduct of the Contractor in the performance of the services called for in the Agreement.

12. TERMINATION. If the Agreement does not include termination provisions elsewhere, the following termination provisions apply:

A. TERMINATION FOR CAUSE (Applicable to contracts exceeding $10,000). If, through any cause, the Contractor shall fail to fulfill in a timely and proper manner his obligations under the Agreement, or if the Contractor shall violate any of the covenants, agreements, or stipulations of the Agreement, the County shall thereupon have the right to terminate the Agreement by giving written notice to the Contractor of such termination and specifying the effective date thereof, at least five (5) days before the effective date of such termination. In such event, all finished or unfinished documents, data, studies, surveys, drawings, maps, models, photographs, and reports prepared by the Contractor under the Agreement shall, at the option of the County, become the County's property and the Contractor shall be entitled to receive just and equitable compensation for any work satisfactorily completed hereunder. Notwithstanding the above, the Contractor shall not be relieved of liability to the County for damages sustained by the County by virtue of any breach of the Agreement by the Contractor, and the County may withhold any payments to the Contractor for the purpose of set-off until such time as the exact amount of damages due the County from the Contractor is determined.

B. TERMINATION FOR CONVENIENCE (Applicable to contracts exceeding $10,000). The County may terminate the Agreement at any time by giving at least ten (10) days' notice in writing to the Contractor. If the Agreement is terminated by the County as provided herein, the Contractor will be paid for the time provided and expenses incurred up to the termination date.

13. LOBBYING (Applicable to Agreements exceeding $100,000). The Contractor certifies, to the best of its knowledge and belief, that:

A. No federal appropriated funds have been paid or will be paid, by or on behalf of the Contractor, to any person for influencing or attempting to influence an officer or employee of an agency, a Member of Congress, an officer or employee of Congress, or an employee of a Member of Congress in connection with the awarding of any federal contract, the making of any federal grant, the making of any federal loan, the entering into of any cooperative agreement, and the extension, continuation, renewal, amendment, or modification of any federal contract, grant, loan, or cooperative agreement.

B. If any funds other than federal appropriated funds have been paid or will be paid to any person for influencing or attempting to influence an officer or employee of any agency, a Member of Congress, an officer or employee of Congress, or an employee of a Member of Congress in connection with this federal contract, grant, loan, or cooperative agreement, the Contractor shall complete and submit Standard Form-LLL, "Disclosure Form to Report Lobbying," in accordance with its instructions.

C. The Contractor shall require that the language of this certification be included in the award documents for all subawards at all tiers (including subcontracts, subgrants, and contracts under grants, loans, and cooperative agreements) and that all Grantees shall certify and disclose accordingly.

This certification is a material representation of fact upon which reliance was placed when this transaction was made or entered into. Submission of this certification is a prerequisite for making or entering into this transaction imposed by the Byrd Anti-Lobbying Amendment (31 U.S.C. § 1352). Any person who fails to file the required certification shall be subject to a civil penalty of not less than $10,000 and not more than $100,000 for each such failure.

14. BONDING REQUIREMENTS (Applicable to construction and facility improvement contracts exceeding $100,000). The Contractor shall comply with New York State bonding requirements, unless they have not been approved by the U.S. Treasury Department or other applicable federal agency, in which case the Contractor shall comply with the following minimum bonding requirements:

A. A bid guarantee from each bidder equivalent to five percent of the bid price. The "bid guarantee" shall consist of a firm commitment such as a bid bond, certified check, or other negotiable instrument accompanying a bid as assurance that the bidder will, upon acceptance of its bid, execute such contractual documents as may be required within the time specified.

B. A performance bond on the part of the Contractor for 100 percent of the Agreement price. A "performance bond" is one executed in connection with a contract to secure fulfillment of all the Contractor's obligations under such contract.

C. A payment bond on the part of the Contractor for 100 percent of the Agreement price. A "payment bond" is one executed in connection with a contract to assure payment as required by law of all persons supplying labor and material in the execution of the work provided for in the contract.

15. AUDIT / ACCESS TO RECORDS. The County, U.S. Treasury Department, the Comptroller General of the United States, the Office of the Nassau County Comptroller, pertinent federal agencies, and other designated entities, or any of their duly authorized representatives, shall have, at any time and from time to time during normal business hours, access to any work product, books, documents, papers, and records of the Contractor which are directly pertinent to the Agreement, for the purpose of inspection, audits, examinations, and making excerpts, copies and transcriptions. Such audits may include review of the Contractor's accounting, financial, and reporting practices to determine compliance with the Agreement and reporting requirements; maintenance of accurate and reliable original accounting records in accordance with governmental accounting standards as well as generally accepted accounting principles; and specific compliance with allowable cost and expenditure documentation standards prescribed by applicable federal, State, and County guidelines. The Contractor agrees to provide the above referenced entities or their authorized representatives access to construction or other work sites pertaining to the work being completed under the Agreement. The foregoing is not intended to limit the County's right to audit and/or access Contractor records that may be provided under the Agreement.

16. MAINTENANCE/RETENTION OF RECORDS. Contractor shall retain all financial records, supporting documents, statistical records, and all other records pertinent to the Agreement (collectively, the "Records") (i) for three (3) years from the time of closeout of ARPA funds to the County that are applicable to the Agreement or for the period provided in other applicable laws and program requirements, such as 2 C.F.R. Part 200, (ii) for six (6) years after the closeout of the Agreement, (iii) for the minimum retention period that may provided under the Agreement, or (iv) as long as required by state law, whichever may be longer.

17. COPYRIGHT. Any creative or literary work developed or commissioned by the Contractor with ARPA funding provided by the County under the Agreement shall become the property of the County, entitling the County to assert a copyright therein, unless the parties have expressly agreed otherwise in a written instrument signed by them or if the ARPA funding provisions provide otherwise.

A. If the County shares its right to copyright such work with the Contractor, the County and the U.S. Treasury Department reserves a royalty-free, nonexclusive, and irrevocable license to reproduce, publish or otherwise use, and to authorize others to use: (a) the copyright in any work developed using ARPA funding provided by the County under the Agreement; and (b) any rights of copyright to which the Contractor, sub-Contractor, or a contractor purchases ownership with ARPA funding support provided by the County under the Agreement.

B. The Contractor shall submit one copy of all reports and publications resulting from the Agreement to the County within thirty (30) calendar days of completion. Any document generated pursuant to the ARPA funding must contain the following language:

“This project was supported by ARPA funding administered by the County of Nassau, New York and the U.S. Department of the Treasury. Points of view in this document are those of the author and do not necessarily represent the official position or policies of the County of Nassau, New York or the U.S. Department of the Treasury.”

18. COUNTY SEAL, LOGO, AND FLAGS. The Contractor shall not use the County seal(s), logos, crests, or reproductions of flags or likenesses of County agency officials without specific County pre-approval.

19. NO OBLIGATION BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT. The Federal Government is not a party to the Agreement or these Supplementary Conditions and is not subject to any obligations or liabilities to the County, Contractor, or any other party pertaining to any matter resulting from the Agreement.

20. PROGRAM FRAUD AND FALSE OR FRAUDULENT STATEMENTS OR RELATED ACTS. The Contractor acknowledges that 31 U.S.C. Chap. 38 (Administrative Remedies for False Claims and Statements) applies to the Contractor’s actions pertaining to the Agreement.

21. PROHIBITION ON CERTAIN TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND VIDEO SURVEILLANCE SERVICES OR EQUIPMENT.

A. The Contractor and/or applicable subcontractor is prohibited from obligating or expending loan or grant funds to:

1. procure or obtain;
2. extend or renew a contract to procure or obtain; or
3. enter into a contract (or extend or renew a contract) to procure or obtain equipment, services, or systems that uses covered telecommunications equipment or services as a substantial or essential component of any system, or as critical technology as part of any system. As described in Public Law 115–232, section 889, covered telecommunications equipment is telecommunications equipment produced by Huawei Technologies Company or ZTE Corporation (or any subsidiary or affiliate of such entities).

I. For the purpose of public safety, security of government facilities, physical security surveillance of critical infrastructure, and other national security purposes, video surveillance and telecommunications equipment produced by Hytera Communications Corporation, Hangzhou Hikvision Digital Technology Company, or Dahua Technology Company (or any subsidiary or affiliate of such entities).

II. Telecommunications or video surveillance services provided by such entities or using such equipment.

III. Telecommunications or video surveillance equipment or services produced or provided by an entity that the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Director of the National Intelligence or the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, reasonably believes to be an entity owned or controlled by, or otherwise connected to, the government of a covered foreign country.

B. In implementing the prohibition under Public Law 115–232, section 889, subsection (f), paragraph (1), heads of executive agencies administering loan, grant, or subsidy programs shall prioritize available funding and technical support to assist affected businesses, institutions and organizations as is reasonably necessary for those affected entities to transition from covered communications equipment and services, to procure replacement equipment and services, and to ensure that communications service to users and customers is sustained.

C. The Contractor and/or applicable subcontractor’s attention is directed to Public Law 115–232, section 889 for additional information.

D. The Contractor and/or applicable subcontractor’s attention is directed to 2 CFR § 200.471.

22. DOMESTIC PREFERENCES FOR PROCUREMENTS.

A. As appropriate and to the extent consistent with law, the Contractor and applicable subcontractors should, to the greatest extent practicable under a Federal award, provide a preference for the purchase, acquisition, or use of goods, products, or materials produced in the United States (including but not limited to iron, aluminum, steel, cement, and other manufactured products). The requirements of this section must be included in all subawards including all contracts and purchase orders for work or products under this award.

B. For purposes of this section:

1. “Produced in the United States” means, for iron and steel products, that all manufacturing processes, from the initial melting stage through the application of coatings, occurred in the United States.

2. “Manufactured products” means items and construction materials composed in whole or in part of nonferrous metals such as aluminum; plastics and polymer-based products such as polyvinyl chloride pipe; aggregates such as concrete; glass, including optical fiber; and lumber.

CIVIL RIGHTS AND DIVERSITY PROVISIONS

23. SMALL AND MINORITY FIRMS, WOMEN’S BUSINESS ENTERPRISES, AND LABOR SURPLUS AREA FIRMS. The Contractor will comply with the small and minority firms, women’s business enterprise, and labor surplus area requirements as set forth at 2 C.F.R. Part 200. The Contractor will use its best efforts to afford small businesses, minority business enterprises, and women’s business enterprises the maximum practicable opportunity to participate in the performance of the Agreement. As used in these Supplementary Conditions, the terms "small business" means a business that meets the criteria set forth in Section 3(a) of the Small Business Act, as amended (15 U.S.C. § 632), and "minority and women's business enterprise" means a business at least fifty-one (51) percent owned and controlled by minority group members or women. For the purpose of this definition, "minority group members" are Afro-Americans, Spanish-speaking, Spanish surnamed, or Spanish-heritage Americans, Asian-Americans, and American Indians. The County may rely on written representations by businesses regarding their status as minority and female business enterprises in lieu of an independent investigation.

The Contractor will take necessary affirmative steps to assure that minority firms, women's business enterprises, and labor surplus area firms are used in subcontracting when possible. Steps include:

- A. Placing qualified small and minority businesses and women's business enterprises on solicitation lists;
- B. Assuring that small and minority businesses, and women's business enterprises are solicited whenever they are potential sources;
- C. Dividing total requirements, when economically feasible, into smaller tasks or quantities to permit maximum participation by small and minority business, and women's business enterprises;
- D. Establishing delivery schedules, where the requirement permits, which encourage participation by small and minority business, and women's business enterprises; and
- E. Using the services and assistance of the Small Business Administration, and the Minority Business Development Agency of the Department of Commerce.

24. TITLES VI AND VIII OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS ACT OF 1964 AND EXECUTIVE ORDER 11063. The Contractor shall comply with the provisions of Titles VI and VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and with Executive Order 11063. No person shall, on the grounds of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance. No person shall, on the grounds of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin, be discriminated against in the sale, rental, or financing of dwellings. To the extent that any such sale, lease or other transfer of land shall occur, Contractor, in undertaking its obligation to carry out the program assisted hereunder, will not itself so discriminate.

25. SECTION 504 OF THE REHABILITATION ACT OF 1973 AND THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT OF 1990. The Contractor shall comply with section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. § 794), as amended, and any applicable regulations, and with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. § 126), as amended, and any applicable regulations. The Contractor agrees that no qualified individual with handicaps shall, solely on the basis of handicap, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or otherwise be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity that receives federal financial assistance.

26. AGE DISCRIMINATION ACT OF 1975. The Contractor shall comply with the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 (42 U.S.C. § 6101 et seq.), as amended, and any applicable regulations. No person in the United States shall, on the basis of age, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under, any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.

27. NONDISCRIMINATION. The Contractor shall comply with all federal, state, and local statutory, regulatory and constitutional non-discrimination provisions. Except as otherwise provided under 41 CFR Part 60, if the Agreement meets the definition of "federally assisted construction contract" in 41 CFR Part 60-1.3, the Contractor shall comply with and must include in each non-exempt subcontract the following equal opportunity clause provided under 41 CFR § 60-1.4(b), in accordance with Executive Order 11246, "Equal Employment Opportunity" (30 FR 12319, 12935, 3 CFR Part, 1964-1965 Comp., p. 339), as amended by Executive Order 11375, "Amending Executive Order 11246 Relating to Equal Employment Opportunity," and implementing regulations at 41 CFR part 60, "Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, Equal Employment Opportunity, Department of Labor":

A. The Contractor will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or national origin. The Contractor will take affirmative action to ensure that applicants are employed, and that employees are treated during employment, without regard to their race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or national origin. Such action shall include, but not be limited to the following: Employment, upgrading, demotion, or transfer; recruitment or recruitment advertising; layoff or termination; rates of pay or other forms of compensation; and selection for training, including apprenticeship. The Contractor agrees to post in conspicuous places, available to employees and applicants for employment, notices to be provided setting forth the provisions of this nondiscrimination clause.

B. The Contractor will, in all solicitations or advertisements for employees placed by or on behalf of the Contractor, state that all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or national origin.

C. The Contractor will not discharge or in any other manner discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because such employee or applicant has inquired about, discussed, or disclosed the compensation of the employee or applicant or another employee or applicant. This provision shall not apply to instances in which an employee who has access to the compensation information of other employees or applicants as a part of such employee's essential job functions discloses the compensation of such other employees or applicants to individuals who do not otherwise have access to such information, unless such disclosure is in response to a formal complaint or charge, in furtherance of an investigation, proceeding, hearing, or action, including an investigation conducted by the employer, or is consistent with the Contractor's legal duty to furnish information.

D. The Contractor will send to each labor union or representative of workers with which it has a collective bargaining agreement or other contract or understanding, a notice to be provided advising the said labor union or workers' representatives of the Contractor's commitments under this section, and shall post copies of the notice in conspicuous places available to employees and applicants for employment.

E. The Contractor will comply with all provisions of Executive Order 11246 of September 24, 1965, and of the rules, regulations, and relevant orders of the Secretary of Labor.

F. The Contractor will furnish all information and reports required by Executive Order 11246 of September 24, 1965, and by rules, regulations, and orders of the Secretary of Labor, or pursuant thereto, and will permit access to its books, records, and accounts by the administering agency and the Secretary of Labor for purposes of investigation to ascertain compliance with such rules, regulations, and orders.

G. In the event of the Contractor's noncompliance with the nondiscrimination clauses of these Supplementary Conditions or with any of the said rules, regulations, or orders, the Agreement may be canceled, terminated, or suspended in whole or in part and the Contractor may be declared ineligible for further Government contracts or federally assisted construction contracts in accordance with procedures authorized in Executive Order 11246 of September 24, 1965, and such other sanctions may be imposed and remedies invoked as provided in Executive Order 11246 of September 24, 1965, or by rule, regulation, or order of the Secretary of Labor, or as otherwise provided by law.

H. The Contractor will include the portion of the sentence immediately preceding paragraph (A) and the provisions of paragraphs (A) through (H) in every subcontract or purchase order unless exempted by rules, regulations, or orders of the Secretary of Labor issued pursuant to section 204 of Executive Order 11246 of September 24, 1965, so that such provisions will be binding upon each subcontractor or vendor. The Contractor will take such action with respect to any subcontract or purchase order as the administering agency may direct as a means of enforcing such provisions, including sanctions for noncompliance; provided, however, that in the event a Contractor becomes involved in, or is threatened with, litigation with a subcontractor or vendor as a result of such direction by the administering agency, the Contractor may request the United States to enter into such litigation to protect the interests of the United States.

With respect to construction contracts and subcontracts exceeding $10,000, The Contractor shall comply with Executive Order 11246 of September 24, 1965, entitled "Equal Employment Opportunity," as amended by Executive Order 11375 of October 13, 1967; Executive Order 11478 of August 8, 1969; Executive Order 12107 of December 28, 1978; Executive Order 12086 of October 5, 1978; and as supplemented in Department of Labor regulations (41 C.F.R. Part 60). Contractor shall include the following specifications, which are required pursuant to 41 C.F.R. 60-4.3 in all Federal and federally assisted construction contracts in excess of $10,000 to be performed in geographical areas designated by the Director (as such term is defined below) pursuant to and as referenced in 41 C.F.R. 60-4.6 and in construction subcontracts in excess of $10,000 necessary in whole or in part to the performance of nonconstruction Federal contracts and subcontracts covered under the Executive Order 11246. For the purposes of the Equal Opportunity Construction Contract Specifications and Clause below, the term "Construction Work" means the construction, rehabilitation, alteration, conversion, extension, demolition or repair of buildings, highways, or other changes or improvements to real property, including facilities providing utility services. The term also includes the supervision, inspection, and other onsite functions incidental to the actual construction.

Standard Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Construction Contract Specifications for Contracts and Subcontracts in Excess of $10,000. (Federal Notice Required by 41 C.F.R. 60-4.3)

1. As used in these specifications:

a. "Covered area" means the geographical area described in the solicitation from which the Agreement resulted;

b. "Director" means Director, Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, United States Department of Labor, or any person to whom the Director delegates authority;

c. "Employer identification number" means the Federal Social Security number used on the Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return, U.S. Treasury Department Form 941.

d. "Minority" includes:

(i) Black (all persons having origins in any of the Black African racial groups not of Hispanic origin);

(ii) Hispanic (all persons of Mexican, Puerto Rican, Cuban, Central or South American or other Spanish Culture or origin, regardless of race);

(iii) Asian and Pacific Islander (all persons having origins in any of the original peoples of the Far East, Southeast Asia, the Indian Subcontinent, or the Pacific Islands); and

(iv) American Indian or Alaskan Native (all persons having origins in any of the original peoples of North America and maintaining identifiable tribal affiliations through membership and participation or community identification).

2. Whenever the Contractor or any subcontractor at any tier, subcontracts a portion of the work involving any Construction trade, it shall physically include in each subcontract in excess of $10,000 the provisions of these specifications and the Notice which contains the applicable goals for minority and female participation and which is set forth in the solicitations from which the Agreement resulted.

3. If the Contractor is participating (pursuant to 41 C.F.R. § 60-4.5) in a Hometown Plan approved by the U.S. Department of Labor in the covered area either individually or through an association, its affirmative action obligations on all work in the Plan area (including goals and timetables) shall be in accordance with that Plan for those trades which have unions participating in the Plan. Contractors must be able to demonstrate their participation in and compliance with the provisions of any such Hometown Plan. Each contractor or subcontractor participating in an approved Plan is individually required to comply with its obligations under the EEO clause, and to make a good faith effort to achieve each goal under the Plan in each trade in which it has employees. The overall good faith performance by other contractors or subcontractors toward a goal in an approved Plan does not excuse any covered contractor's or subcontractor's failure to take good faith efforts to achieve the Plan goals and timetables.

4. The Contractor shall implement the specific affirmative action standards provided in paragraphs 7 a through p of these specifications. The goals set forth in the solicitation from which the Agreement resulted are expressed as percentages of the total hours of employment and training of minority and female utilization the Contractor should reasonably be able to achieve in each construction trade in which it has employees in the covered area. Covered Construction contractors performing Construction Work in geographical areas where they do not have a Federal or federally assisted Construction contract shall apply the minority and female goals established for the geographical areas where the work is being performed. Goals are published periodically in the Federal Register in notice form, and such notices may be obtained from any Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs office or from Federal procurement contracting officers. The Contractor is expected to make substantially uniform progress in meeting its goals in each craft during the period specified.

5. Neither the provisions of any collective bargaining agreement, nor the failure by a union with whom the Contractor has a collective bargaining agreement, to refer either minorities or women shall excuse the Contractor's obligations under these specifications, Executive Order 11246, or the regulations promulgated pursuant thereto.

6. In order for the nonworking training hours of apprentices and trainees to be counted in meeting the goals, such apprentices and trainees must be employed by the Contractor during the training period, and the Contractor must have made a commitment to employ the apprentices and trainees at the completion of their training, subject to the availability of employment opportunities. Trainees must be trained pursuant to training programs approved by the U.S. Department of Labor.

7. The Contractor shall take specific affirmative actions to ensure equal employment opportunity. The evaluation of the Contractor's compliance with these specifications shall be based upon its effort to achieve maximum results from its actions. The Contractor shall document these efforts fully, and shall implement affirmative action steps at least as extensive as the following:

a. Ensure and maintain a working environment free of harassment, intimidation, and coercion at all sites, and in all facilities at which the Contractor's employees are assigned to work. The Contractor, where possible, will assign two or more women to each construction project. The Contractor shall specifically ensure that all foremen, superintendents, and other on-site supervisory personnel are aware of and carry out the Contractor's obligation to maintain such a working environment, with specific attention to minority or female individuals working at such sites or in such facilities.

b. Establish and maintain a current list of minority and female recruitment sources, provide written notification to minority and female recruitment sources and to community organizations when the Contractor or its unions have employment opportunities available, and maintain a record of the organizations' responses.

- c. Maintain a current file of the names, addresses and telephone numbers of each minority and female off-the-street applicant and minority or female referral from a union, a recruitment source or community organization and of what action was taken with respect to each such individual. If such individual was sent to the union hiring hall for referral and was not referred back to the Contractor by the union or, if referred, not employed by the Contractor, this shall be documented in the file with the reason therefore, along with whatever additional actions the Contractor may have taken.
- d. Provide immediate written notification to the Director when the union or unions with which the Contractor has a collective bargaining agreement has not referred to the Contractor a minority person or woman sent by the Contractor, or when the Contractor has other information that the union referral process has impeded the Contractor's efforts to meet its obligations.
- e. Develop on-the-job training opportunities and/or participate in training programs for the area which expressly include minorities and women, including upgrading programs and apprenticeship and trainee programs relevant to the Contractor's employment needs, especially those programs funded or approved by the Department of Labor. The Contractor shall provide notice of these programs to the sources compiled under 7b above.
- f. Disseminate the Contractor's EEO policy by providing notice of the policy to unions and training programs and requesting their cooperation in assisting the Contractor in meeting its EEO obligations; by including it in any policy manual and collective bargaining agreement; by publicizing it in the company newspaper, annual report, etc.; by specific review of the policy with all management personnel and with all minority and female employees at least once a year; and by posting the company EEO policy on bulletin boards accessible to all employees at each location where Construction Work is performed.
- g. Review, at least annually, the company's EEO policy and affirmative action obligations under these specifications with all employees having any responsibility for hiring, assignment, layoff, termination or other employment decisions including specific review of these items with on-site supervisory personnel such as Superintendents, General Foremen, etc., prior to the initiation of Construction Work at any job site. A written record shall be made and maintained identifying the time and place of these meetings, persons attending, subject matter discussed, and disposition of the subject matter.
- h. Disseminate the Contractor's EEO policy externally by including it in any advertising in the news media, specifically including minority and female news media, and providing written notification to and discussing the Contractor's EEO policy with other contractors and subcontractors with whom the Contractor does or anticipates doing business.
- i. Direct its recruitment efforts, both oral and written, to minority, female and community organizations, to schools with minority and female students and to minority and female recruitment and training organizations serving the Contractor's recruitment area and employment needs. Not later than one month prior to the date for the acceptance of applications for apprenticeship or other training by any recruitment source, the Contractor shall send written notification to organizations such as the above, describing the openings, screening procedures, and tests to be used in the selection process.
- j. Encourage present minority and female employees to recruit other minority persons and women and, where reasonable, provide after school, summer and vacation employment to minority and female youth both on the site and in other areas of a Contractor's work force.
- k. Validate all tests and other selection requirements where there is an obligation to do so under 41 C.F.R. Part 60-3.

- l. Conduct, at least annually, an inventory and evaluation of at least all minority and female personnel for promotional opportunities and encourage these employees to seek or to prepare for, through appropriate training, etc., such opportunities.
- m. Ensure that seniority practices, job classifications, work assignments and other personnel practices do not have a discriminatory effect by continually monitoring all personnel and employment related activities to ensure that the EEO policy and the Contractor's obligations under these specifications are being carried out.
- n. Ensure that all facilities and company activities are non-segregated except that separate or single-user toilet and necessary changing facilities shall be provided to assure privacy between the sexes.
- o. Document and maintain a record of all solicitations of offers for subcontracts from minority and female Construction contractors and suppliers, including circulation of solicitations to minority and female contractor associations and other business associations.
- p. Conduct a review, at least annually, of all supervisor's adherence to and performance under the Contractor's EEO policies and affirmative action obligations.

8. Contractors are encouraged to participate in voluntary associations which assist in fulfilling one or more of their affirmative action obligations (7a through p). The efforts of a contractor association, joint contractor-union, contractor-community, or other similar group of which the Contractor is a member and participant, may be asserted as fulfilling any one or more of its obligations under 7a through p of these specifications provided that the Contractor actively participates in the group, makes every effort to assure that the group has a positive impact on the employment of minorities and women in the industry, ensures that the concrete benefits of the Program are reflected in the contractor's minority and female work force participation, makes a good faith effort to meet its individual goals and timetables, and can provide access to documentation which demonstrates the effectiveness of actions taken on behalf of the Contractor. The obligation to comply, however, is the Contractor's and failure of such a group to fulfill an obligation shall not be a defense for the Contractor's noncompliance.

9. A single goal for minorities and a separate single goal for women have been established. The Contractor, however, is required to provide equal employment opportunity and to take affirmative action for all minority groups, both male and female, and all women, both minority and non-minority. Consequently, the Contractor may be in violation of the Executive Order if a particular group is employed in a substantially disparate manner (for example, even though the Contractor has achieved its goals for women generally, the Contractor may be in violation of the Executive Order if a specific minority group of women is underutilized).

10. The Contractor shall not use the goals and timetables or affirmative action standards to discriminate against any person because of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or national origin.

11. The Contractor shall not enter into any Subcontract with any person or firm debarred from Government contracts pursuant to Executive Order 11246.

12. The Contractor shall carry out such sanctions and penalties for violation of these specifications and of the Equal Opportunity Clause, including suspension, termination and cancellation of existing subcontracts as may be imposed or ordered pursuant to Executive Order 11246, as amended, and its implementing regulations, by the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs. Any Contractor who fails to carry out such sanctions and penalties shall be in violation of these specifications and Executive Order 11246, as amended.

13. The Contractor, in fulfilling its obligations under these specifications, shall implement specific affirmative action steps, at least as extensive as those standards prescribed in paragraph 7 of these specifications, so as to achieve maximum results from its efforts to ensure equal employment opportunity. If the Contractor fails to comply with the requirements of the Executive Order, the implementing regulations, or these specifications, the Director shall proceed in accordance with 41 C.F.R. § 60-4.8.

14. The Contractor shall designate a responsible official to monitor all employment related activity to ensure that the company EEO policy is being carried out, to submit reports relating to the provisions hereof as may be required by the Government and to keep records. Records shall at least include for each employee the name, address, telephone numbers, construction trade, union affiliation if any, employee identification number when assigned, social security number, race, sex, status (e.g., mechanic, apprentice trainee, helper, or laborer), dates of changes in status, hours worked per week in the indicated trade, rate of pay, and locations at which the work was performed. Records shall be maintained in an easily understandable and retrievable form; however, to the degree that existing records satisfy this requirement, contractors shall not be required to maintain separate records.

15. Nothing herein provided shall be construed as a limitation upon the application of other laws which establish different standards of compliance or upon the application of requirements for the hiring of local or other areas residents (e.g., those under the Public Works Employment Act of 1977 and the Community Development Block Grant Program).

28. CERTIFICATION OF NONSEGREGATED FACILITIES (Applicable to construction contracts exceeding $10,000). The Contractor certifies that it does not maintain or provide for its establishments, and that it does not permit employees to perform their services at any location, under its control, where segregated facilities are maintained. It certifies further that it will not maintain or provide for employees any segregated facilities at any of its establishments, and it will not permit employees to perform their services at any location under its control where segregated facilities are maintained. The Contractor agrees that a breach of this certification is a violation of the nondiscrimination clause of these Supplementary Conditions.

As used in this certification, the term "segregated facilities" means any waiting rooms, work areas, rest rooms and washrooms, restaurants and other eating areas, time clocks, locker rooms, and other storage or dressing areas, parking lots, drinking fountains, recreation or entertainment areas, transportation and housing facilities provided for employees which are segregated by explicit directive or are, in fact, segregated on the basis of race, color, religion, or national origin because of habit, local custom, or any other reason.

The Contractor further agrees that (except where it has obtained for specific time periods) it will obtain identical certification from proposed subcontractors prior to the award of subcontracts exceeding $10,000 which are not exempt from the provisions of the nondiscrimination clause; that it will retain such certifications in its files; and that it will forward the preceding notice to such proposed subcontractors (except where proposed subcontractors have submitted identical certifications for specific time periods).

29. SECTION 503 OF THE REHABILITATION ACT OF 1973 (Applicable to contracts exceeding $10,000). The Contractor shall comply with section 503 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. § 793), as amended, and any applicable regulations.

A. The Contractor will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of physical or mental disability in regard to any position for which the employee or applicant for employment is qualified. The Contractor agrees to take affirmative action to employ, advance in employment and otherwise treat qualified individuals with disabilities without discrimination based on their physical or mental disability in all employment practices, including the following:

1. Recruitment, advertising, and job application procedures;
2. Hiring, upgrading, promotion, award of tenure, demotion, transfer, layoff, termination, right of return from layoff and rehiring;
3. Rates of pay or any other form of compensation and changes in compensation;
4. Job assignments, job classifications, organizational structures, position descriptions, lines of progression, and seniority lists;
5. Leaves of absence, sick leave, or any other leave;
6. Fringe benefits available by virtue of employment, whether or not administered by the Contractor;
7. Selection and financial support for training, including apprenticeship, professional meetings, conferences, and other related activities, and selection for leaves of absence to pursue training;
8. Activities sponsored by the Contractor including social or recreational programs; and
9. Any other term, condition, or privilege of employment.

B. The Contractor agrees to comply with the rules, regulations, and relevant orders of the Secretary of Labor issued pursuant to the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

C. In the event of the Contractor's noncompliance with the requirements of this clause, actions for noncompliance may be taken in accordance with the rules, regulations, and relevant orders of the Secretary of Labor issued pursuant to the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

D. The Contractor agrees to post in conspicuous places, available to employees and applicants for employment, notices in a form to be prescribed by the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Federal Contract Compliance Programs, provided by or through the contracting officer. Such notices shall state the rights of applicants and employees as well as the Contractor's obligation under the law to take affirmative action to employ and advance in employment qualified employees and applicants with disabilities. The Contractor must ensure that applicants and employees with disabilities are informed of the contents of the notice (e.g., the Contractor may have the notice read to a visually disabled individual, or may lower the posted notice so that it might be read by a person in a wheelchair).

E. The Contractor will notify each labor organization or representative of workers with which it has a collective bargaining agreement or other contract understanding, that the Contractor is bound by the terms of section 503 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and is committed to take affirmative action to employ and advance in employment individuals with physical or mental disabilities.

F. The Contractor will include the provisions of this clause in every subcontract or purchase order in excess of $10,000, unless exempted by the rules, regulations, or orders of the Secretary issued pursuant to section 503 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, so that such provisions will be binding upon each subcontractor or vendor. The Contractor will take such action with respect to any subcontract or purchase order as the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Federal Contract Compliance Programs may direct to enforce such provisions, including action for noncompliance.

LABOR PROVISIONS

30. COPELAND "ANTI-KICKBACK" ACT (Applicable to all construction or repair contracts). Salaries of personnel performing work under the Agreement shall be paid unconditionally and not less often than once a month without payroll deduction or rebate on any account except only such payroll deductions as are mandatory by law or permitted by the applicable regulations issued by the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the Copeland "Anti-Kickback Act" of June 13, 1934 (48 Stat. 948; 62 Stat. 740; 63 Stat. 108; 18 U.S.C. § 874; and 40 U.S.C. § 3145) as supplemented by Department of Labor regulations (29 C.F.R. Part 3). The Contractor shall comply with all applicable "Anti-Kickback" regulations and shall insert appropriate provisions in all subcontracts covering work under the Agreement to ensure compliance by subcontractors with such regulations, and shall be responsible for the submission of affidavits required of subcontractors thereunder except as the Secretary of Labor may specifically provide for variations of or exemptions from the requirements thereof.

31. CONTRACT WORK HOURS AND SAFETY STANDARDS ACT (Applicable to contracts exceeding $100,000 that involve the employment of mechanics or laborers). The Contractor shall comply with 40 U.S.C. §§ 3702 and 3704 of the Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act, as supplemented by Department of Labor regulations (29 C.F.R. Part 5). All laborers and mechanics employed by contractors or subcontractors shall receive overtime compensation in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act, and the contractors and subcontractors shall comply with all regulations issued pursuant to that act and with other applicable federal laws and regulations pertaining to labor standards.

32. DAVIS-BACON ACT AND OTHER LABOR COMPLIANCE (Applicable to construction contracts exceeding $2,000 when required by federal program legislation). The Contractor shall comply with the Davis Bacon Act (40 U.S.C. §§ 3141 to 3144, and 3146 to 3148) as supplemented by Department of Labor regulations (29 C.F.R. Part 5), and all other applicable federal, state, and local laws and regulations pertaining to labor standards insofar as they apply to the performance of the Agreement.

All laborers and mechanics employed by contractors or subcontractors, including employees of other governments, on construction work assisted under the Agreement, and subject to the provisions of the Federal acts and regulations listed in this paragraph, shall be paid wages at rates not less than those prevailing on similar construction in the locality as determined by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis Bacon Act. The Contractor shall maintain documentation that demonstrates compliance with hour and wage requirements of this part. Such documentation shall be made available to the County and Secretary of Labor for review upon request.

If Contractor is engaged under a contract in excess of $2,000 for construction, renovation, or repair work financed in whole or in part with assistance provided by the County, Contractor agrees, except with respect to the rehabilitation or construction of residential property containing less than eight (8) units, to comply and to cause all subcontractors engaged under such contracts to comply with federal requirements adopted by the County pertaining to such contracts and with the applicable requirements of the Department of Labor under 29 C.F.R. Parts 1, 3, 5, and 7 governing the payment of wages and ratio of apprentices and trainees to journey workers; provided that, if wage rates higher than those required under the regulations are imposed by state or local law, nothing hereunder is to relieve Contractor of its obligation, if any, to require payment of the higher wage. Contractor shall cause or require to be inserted in full, in all such contracts subject to such regulations, provisions meeting the requirements of this paragraph.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROVISIONS

33. ENERGY EFFICIENCY. The Contractor shall comply with mandatory standards and policies relating to energy efficiency which are contained in the New York State energy conservation plan issued in compliance with the Energy Policy and Conservation Act (Public Law 94-163, 89 Stat. 871).

34. SOLID WASTE DISPOSAL. Pursuant to 2 C.F.R. § 200.323, Contractor must comply with section 6002 of the Solid Waste Disposal Act, as amended by the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act. The requirements of Section 6002 include procuring only items designated in guidelines of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) at 40 C.F.R. Part 247 that contain the highest percentage of recovered materials practicable, consistent with maintaining a satisfactory level of competition, where the purchase price of the item exceeds $10,000 or the value of the quantity acquired during the preceding fiscal year exceeded $10,000; procuring solid waste management services in a manner that maximizes energy and resource recovery; and establishing an affirmative procurement program for procurement of recovered materials identified in the EPA guidelines.

35. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION LAWS.

If the Agreement is in excess of $150,000, the Contractor shall comply with all applicable standards, orders, or regulations issued pursuant to the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. §§ 7401-7671q), Federal Water Pollution Control Act as amended (33 U.S.C. §§ 1251-1387), Section 508 of the Clean Water Act (33 U.S.C. § 1368), Executive Order 11738, Environmental Protection Agency regulations (provisions of 40 CFR Part 50 and 2 CFR Part 1532 related to the Clean Air Act and Clean Water Act), and all other applicable environmental laws that may exist now or in the future. Violations must be reported to the U.S. Treasury and the Regional Office of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The Contractor shall include this provision in all subcontracts in excess of $150,000.

CONTRACT FOR SERVICES

THIS AGREEMENT, made as of the date this agreement is last executed by the County (together with the schedules, appendices, attachments and exhibits, if any, this "Agreement"), between (i) Nassau County, a municipal corporation having its principal office at 1550 Franklin Avenue, Mineola, New York 11501 (the "County"), acting on behalf of the County Department of Parks, Recreation & Museums, having its principal office at Administration Building, Eisenhower Park, East Meadow, NY 11554 (the "Department"), and (ii) Ed Moore Advertising Agency, Inc., having its principal address at 10 Village Drive West, Dix Hills, NY 11746 (the "Contractor").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, the County has received funding from the State of New York (the "State") pursuant to State Tax Law §1202-q and appropriated said funds to the Department in accordance with said law in order to improve and advance the marketability of cultural and historic attractions located in the County;

WHEREAS, the services to be performed pursuant to this Agreement are within the intent and purview of State Tax Law 1202-q;

WHEREAS, in order to procure said services, the Department issued Request for Proposals ("RFP") #PK0211-1909, issued February 11, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the RFP provided for an Agreement term of three (3) years with the possibility of renewing for two (2) years; and

WHEREAS, the Contractor was selected based upon its proposal, including consideration of its experience and expertise; and

WHEREAS, the County desires to hire the Contractor to perform the services described in this Agreement;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and mutual covenants contained in this Agreement, the parties agree as follows:

1. Term. This Agreement shall commence on March 1, 2020 and shall terminate on February 28, 2023, unless sooner terminated as provided for herein. The Department may, in its sole discretion, renew the term of this agreement, on the same terms and conditions for one (1) two (2) year period.

2. Services. The services to be provided by the Contractor under this Agreement shall consist of assisting in the development and implementation of a promotional and event marketing plan for the Department and providing advertising, including, but not limited to print, radio and internet advertising for the Nassau County Events, per example as described in Attachment "A". Contractor acknowledges that all monies paid under the terms of this contract are only used for advertising, and that the Department must approve the placement of all advertising. Contractor receives a commission from the entity wherein such advertising is placed.

3. Payment. (a) Amount of Consideration. The maximum amount to be paid to the Contractor as full consideration for the services under this Agreement shall be One Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($150,000.00) per year. This amount is inclusive of any and all expenses, including, travel.

(b) Vouchers; Voucher Review, Approval and Audit. All Payments shall be made in accordance with Section 3(a) above and shall be contingent upon (i) the Contractors submitting Vouchers in a form satisfactory to the County that: (a) states with reasonable specificity the services to be provided and the payment requested as consideration for such services, (b) certifies that the services to be rendered and the payment requested are in accordance with this Agreement, and (c) is accompanied by documentation satisfactory to the County supporting the amount claimed, and (ii) review, approval and audit of the Voucher by the Department and/or the County Comptroller or his or her duly designated representative (the "Comptroller").

(c) No Duplication of Payments. Payments under this Agreement shall not duplicate payments for any work performed or to be performed under other agreements between the parties and any funding source including the County.

(d) Payments in Connection with Termination or Notice of Termination. Unless a provision of this Agreement expressly states otherwise, payments to the Contractor following the termination of this Agreement shall not exceed payments made as consideration for services that were (i) performed prior to termination, (ii) authorized by this Agreement to be performed, and (iii) not performed after the Contractors received notice that the County did not desire to receive such services.

(e) Partial Encumbrance. The Contractor acknowledges that the County will partially encumber funds to be applied toward the Maximum Amount throughout the term of this Agreement. The Contractor further acknowledges that there shall be no initial encumbrance under this Agreement. Thereafter, the Department will notify the Contractor of the availability of monies, which notice shall include the amount encumbered. Such notification shall serve as notice to proceed.

5. No Arrears or Default. The Contractor is not in arrears to the County upon any debt or contract and it is not in default as surety, Contractor, or otherwise upon any obligation to the County, including any obligation to pay taxes to, or perform services for or on behalf of, the County.

6. Compliance With Law. (a) Generally. The Contractor shall comply with any and all applicable Federal, State and local Laws. In furtherance of the foregoing, the Contractor is bound by and shall comply with the terms of the County's vendor registration protocol. As used in this Agreement the word "Law" includes any and all statutes, local laws, ordinances, rules, regulations, applicable orders, and/or decrees, as the same may be amended from time to time, enacted, or adopted.

(b) Nassau County Living Wage Law. Pursuant to LL 1-2006, as amended, and to the extent that a waiver has not been obtained in accordance with such law or any rules of the County Executive, the Contractor agrees as follows:

- (i) Contractor shall comply with the applicable requirements of the Living Wage Law, as amended;
- (ii) Failure to comply with the Living Wage Law, as amended, may constitute a material breach of this Agreement, the occurrence of which shall be determined solely by the County. Contractor has the right to cure such breach within thirty days of receipt of notice of breach from the County. In the event that such breach is not timely cured, the County may terminate this Agreement as well as exercise any other rights available to the County under applicable law.
- (iii) It shall be a continuing obligation of the Contractor to inform the County of any material changes in the content of its certification of compliance, attached as Appendix L, and shall provide to the County any information necessary to maintain the certification's accuracy.

(c) Records Access. The parties acknowledge and agree that all records, information, and data ("Information") acquired in connection with performance or administration of this Agreement shall be used and disclosed solely for the purpose of performance and administration of the contract or as required by law. The parties acknowledge that Information in the County's possession may be subject to disclosure under Section 87 of the New York State Public Officer's Law. In the event that such a request for disclosure is made, the County shall make reasonable efforts to notify the parties of such request prior to disclosure of the Information so that the parties may take such action as it deems appropriate.

(d) Prohibition of Gifts. In accordance with County Executive Order 2-2018, the Contractor shall not offer, give, or agree to give anything of value to any County employee, agent, consultant, construction manager, or other person or firm representing the County (a "County Representative"), including members of a County Representative's immediate family, in connection with the performance by such County Representative of duties involving transactions with the Contractor on behalf of the County, whether such duties are related to this Agreement or any other County contract or matter. As used herein, "anything of value" shall include, but not be limited to, meals, holiday gifts, holiday baskets, gift cards, tickets to golf outings, tickets to sporting events, currency of any kind, or any other gifts, gratuities, favorable opportunities or preferences. For purposes of this subsection, an immediate family member shall include a spouse, child, parent, or sibling. The Contractor shall include the provisions of this subsection in each subcontract entered into under this Agreement.

(e) Disclosure of Conflicts of Interest. In accordance with County Executive Order 2-2018, the Contractor has disclosed as part of its response to the County's Business History Form, or other disclosure form(s), any and all instances where the Contractor employs any spouse, child, or parent of a County employee of the agency or department that contracted or procured the goods and/or services described under this Agreement. The Contractor shall have a continuing obligation, as circumstances arise, to update this disclosure throughout the term of this Agreement.

7. Minimum Service Standards. Regardless of whether required by Law:

(a) The Contractor shall conduct its, his or her activities in connection with this Agreement so as not to endanger or harm any Person or property.

(b) The Contractor shall deliver services under this Agreement in a professional manner consistent with the best practices of the industry in which the Contractor operates.

8. Indemnification; Defense; Cooperation. (a) Contractor shall be responsible for and shall indemnify and hold harmless the County, the Department and its officers, employees, agents, volunteers and representatives (the "Indemnified Parties") from and against any and all liabilities, losses, costs, expenses (including, without limitation, attorneys' fees and disbursements) and damages ("Losses"), arising out of or in connection with any acts or omissions of the Contractor, regardless of whether due to negligence, fault, or default, including Losses in connection with any threatened investigation, litigation or other proceeding or preparing a defense to or prosecuting the same; provided, however, that the Contractor shall not be responsible for that portion, if any, of a Loss that is caused by the negligence of the County.

(b) The Contractor shall, at the County's demand and at the County's direction, promptly and diligently defend, at the Contractor's own risk and expense, any and all suits, actions, or legal proceedings which may be brought or instituted against one or more Indemnified Parties, on any such claim, demand or cause of action in connection with this Agreement and Contractor shall pay and satisfy any judgment or decree which may be rendered against the indemnified Parties in any suite, action or other legal proceeding; and Contractor shall pay for any and all damages to the property of the Indemnified Parties, for loss or theft of such property, done or caused by the Contractor.

(c) Contractor hereby (i) assumes all risk, danger and injury arising out of or in connection with this Agreement and (ii) releases the County, its officers, employees, and agents from and against any and all liabilities, losses, costs, expenses and damages arising out of or in connection with this Agreement. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Contractor agrees it will not, by reason hereof, make any claim, demand, or application for any right or privilege applicable to an officer or employee of the County, including but not limited to worker's compensation coverage, unemployment insurance benefits, social security coverage, or employee retirement membership or credit.

9. Insurance. (a) Types and Amounts. The Contractor shall obtain and maintain throughout the term of this Agreement, at its own expense: (i) one or more policies for commercial general liability insurance, which policy(ies) shall name "Nassau County" its officials, employees, volunteers, agents, volunteers and representatives as an additional insured and have a minimum single combined limit of liability of not less than two million dollars ($2,000,000) per occurrence and four million dollars ($4,000,000) aggregate coverage, (ii) if contracting in whole or part to provide professional services, one or more policies for professional liability insurance, which policy(ies) shall have a minimum single combined limit liability of not less than two million dollars ($2,000,000) per occurrence and two million dollars ($4,000,000) aggregate coverage, (iii) compensation insurance for the benefit of the Contractor's employees ("Workers' Compensation Insurance"), which insurance is in compliance with the New York State Workers' Compensation Law, and (iv) such additional insurance as the County may from time to time specify. A waiver of subrogation is granted in favor of the County of Nassau.

(b) Workers' Compensation: In the event that the Permittee engages, or intends to engage employees for the use, maintenance or repair of the permitted area covered by this Permit, Permittee will furnish a certificate of current Worker's Compensation insurance to cover all such personnel.

10. Assignment; Amendment; Waiver; Subcontracting. This Agreement and the rights and obligations hereunder may not be in whole or part (i) assigned, transferred or disposed of, (ii) amended, (iii) waived, or (iv) subcontracted, without the prior written consent of the County Executive or his or her duly designated deputy (the "County Executive"), and any purported assignment, other disposal or modification without such prior written consent shall be null and void. The failure of a party to assert any of its rights under this Agreement, including the right to demand strict performance, shall not constitute a waiver of such rights.

11. Termination. (a) Generally. This Agreement may be terminated (i) for any reason by the County upon thirty (30) days' written notice to the Contractor (ii) for "Cause" by the County immediately upon the receipt by the Contractor of written notice of termination, (iii) upon mutual written agreement of the County and the Contractor, and (iv) in accordance with any other provisions of this Agreement expressly addressing termination.

As used in this Agreement the word "Cause" includes: (i) a breach of this Agreement; (ii) the failure to obtain and maintain in full force and effect all Approvals required for the services described in this Agreement to be legally and professionally rendered; and (iii) the termination or impending termination of federal or state funding for the services to be provided under this Agreement.

12. Limitations on Actions and Special Proceedings Against the County. No action or special proceeding shall lie or be prosecuted or maintained against the County upon any claims arising out of or in connection with this Agreement unless:

(a) Notice. At least thirty (30) days prior to seeking relief the Contractor shall have presented the demand or claim(s) upon which such action or special proceeding is based in writing to the Applicable DCE for adjustment and the County shall have neglected or refused to make an adjustment or payment on the demand or claim for thirty (30) days after presentment. The Contractor shall send or deliver copies of the documents presented to the Applicable DCE under this Section to each of (i) the Department and the (ii) the County Attorney (at the address specified above for the County) on the same day that documents are sent or delivered to the Applicable DCE. The complaint or necessary moving papers of the Contractor shall allege that the above-described actions and inactions preceded the Contractor's action or special proceeding against the County.

(b) Time Limitation. Such action or special proceeding is commenced within the earlier of (i) one (1) year of the first to occur of (A) final payment under or the termination of this Agreement, and (B) the accrual of the cause of action, and (ii) the time specified in any other provision of this Agreement.

13. Work Performance Liability. The Contractor is and shall remain primarily liable for the successful completion of all work in accordance this Agreement irrespective of whether the Contractor is using a Contractor Agent to perform some or all of the work contemplated by this Agreement, and irrespective of whether the use of such Contractor Agent has been approved by the County.

14. Consent to Jurisdiction and Venue; Governing Law. Unless otherwise specified in this Agreement or required by Law, exclusive original jurisdiction for all claims or actions with respect to this Agreement shall be in the Supreme Court in Nassau County in New York State and the parties expressly waive any objections to the same on any grounds, including venue and forum non conveniens. This Agreement is intended as a contract under, and shall be governed and construed in accordance with, the Laws of New York State, without regard to the conflict of laws provisions thereof.

15. Notices. Any notice, request, demand or other communication required to be given or made in connection with this Agreement shall be (a) in writing, (b) delivered or sent (i) by hand delivery, evidenced by a signed, dated receipt, (ii) postage prepaid via certified mail, return receipt requested, or (iii) overnight delivery via a nationally recognized courier service, (c) deemed given or made on the date the delivery receipt was signed by a County employee, three (3) business days after it is mailed or one (1) business day after it is released to a courier service, as applicable, and (d)(i) if to the Department, to the attention of the Commissioner at the address specified above for the Department, (ii) if to an Applicable DCE, to the attention of the Applicable DCE (whose name the Contractor shall obtain from the Department) at the address specified above for the County, (iii) if to the Comptroller, to the attention of the Comptroller at 240 Old Country Road, Mineola, NY 11501, and (iv) if to the Contractor, to the attention of the person who executed this Agreement on behalf of the Contractor at the address specified above for the Contractor, or in each case to such other persons or addresses as shall be designated by written notice.

16. All Legal Provisions Deemed Included; Severability; Supremacy. (a) Every provision required by Law to be inserted into or referenced by this Agreement is intended to be a part of this Agreement. If any such provision is not inserted or referenced or is not inserted or referenced in correct form then (i) such provision shall be deemed inserted into or referenced by this Agreement for purposes of interpretation and (ii) upon the application of either party this Agreement shall be formally amended to comply strictly with the Law, without prejudice to the rights of either party.

(b) In the event that any provision of this Agreement shall be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

(c) Unless the application of this subsection will cause a provision required by Law to be excluded from this Agreement, in the event of an actual conflict between the terms and conditions set forth above the signature page to this Agreement and those contained in any schedule, exhibit, appendix, or attachment to this Agreement, the terms and conditions set forth above the signature page shall control. To the extent possible, all the terms of this Agreement should be read together as not conflicting.

17. Section and Other Headings. The section and other headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement.

18. Administrative Service Charge. Administrative Service Charge. The Contractor agrees to pay the County an administrative service charge of five hundred thirty-three Dollars ($533.00) for the processing of this Agreement pursuant to Ordinance Number 74-1979, as amended by Ordinance Numbers 201-2001, 128-2006, and 153-2018. The administrative service charge shall be due and payable to the County by the Contractor upon signing this Agreement.

19. Executory Clause. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement:

(a) Approval and Execution. The County shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to any Person unless (i) all County approvals have been obtained, including, if required, approval by the County Legislature, and (ii) this Agreement has been executed by the County Executive (as defined in this Agreement).

(b) Availability of Funds. The County shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to any Person beyond funds appropriated or otherwise lawfully available for this Agreement, and, if any portion of the funds for this Agreement are from the state and/or federal governments, then beyond funds available to the County from the state and/or federal governments.

20. Entire Agreement. This Agreement represents the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with regard to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements (whether written or oral) of the parties relating to the subject matter of this Agreement.

Appendix EE
Equal Employment Opportunities for Minorities and Women

The provisions of this Appendix EE are hereby made a part of the document to which it is attached.

The Contractor shall comply with all federal, State and local statutory and constitutional anti-discrimination provisions. In addition, Local Law No. 14-2002, entitled "Participation by Minority Group Members and Women in Nassau County Contracts," governs all County Contracts as defined herein and solicitations for bids or proposals for County Contracts. In accordance with Local Law 14-2002:

(a) The Contractor shall not discriminate against employees or applicants for employment because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status in recruitment, employment, job assignments, promotions, upgradings, demotions, transfers, layoffs, terminations, and rates of pay or other forms of compensation. The Contractor will undertake or continue existing programs related to recruitment, employment, job assignments, promotions, upgradings, transfers, and rates of pay or other forms of compensation to ensure that minority group members and women are afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination.

(b) At the request of the County contracting agency, the Contractor shall request each employment agency, labor union, or authorized representative of workers with which it has a collective bargaining or other agreement or understanding, to furnish a written statement that such employment agency, union, or representative will not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, or marital status and that such employment agency, labor union, or representative will affirmatively cooperate in the implementation of the Contractor's obligations herein.

(c) The Contractor shall state, in all solicitations or advertisements for employees, that, in the performance of the County Contract, all qualified applicants will be afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability or marital status.

(d) The Contractor shall make best efforts to solicit active participation by certified minority or women-owned business enterprises ("Certified M/WBEs") as defined in Section 101 of Local Law No. 14-2002, for the purpose of granting of Subcontracts.

(e) The Contractor shall, in its advertisements and solicitations for Subcontractors, indicate its interest in receiving bids from Certified M/WBEs and the requirement that Subcontractors must be equal opportunity employers.

(f) Contractors must notify and receive approval from the respective Department Head prior to issuing any Subcontracts and, at the time of requesting such authorization, must submit a signed Best Efforts Checklist.

(g) Contractors for projects under the supervision of the County's Department of Public Works shall also submit a utilization plan listing all proposed Subcontractors so that, to the greatest extent feasible, all Subcontractors will be approved prior to commencement of work. Any additions or changes to the list of subcontractors under the utilization plan shall be approved by the Commissioner of the Department of Public Works when made. A copy of the utilization plan any additions or changes thereto shall be submitted by the Contractor to the Office of Minority Affairs simultaneously with the submission to the Department of Public Works.

(h) At any time after Subcontractor approval has been requested and prior to being granted, the contracting agency may require the Contractor to submit Documentation Demonstrating Best Efforts to Obtain Certified Minority or Women-owned Business Enterprises. In addition, the contracting agency may require the Contractor to submit such documentation at any time after Subcontractor approval when the contracting agency has reasonable cause to believe that the existing Best Efforts Checklist may be inaccurate. Within ten working days (10) of any such request by the contracting agency, the Contractor must submit Documentation.

(i) In the case where a request is made by the contracting agency or a Deputy County Executive acting on behalf of the contracting agency, the Contractor must, within two (2) working days of such request, submit evidence to demonstrate that it employed Best Efforts to obtain Certified M/WBE participation through proper documentation.

(j) Award of a County Contract alone shall not be deemed or interpreted as approval of all Contractor's Subcontracts and Contractor's fulfillment of Best Efforts to obtain participation by Certified M/WBEs.

(k) A Contractor shall maintain Documentation Demonstrating Best Efforts to Obtain Certified Minority or Women-owned Business Enterprises for a period of six (6) years. Failure to maintain such records shall be deemed failure to make Best Efforts to comply with this Appendix EE, evidence of false certification as M/WBE compliant or considered breach of the County Contract.

(l) The Contractor shall be bound by the provisions of Section 109 of Local Law No. 14-2002 providing for enforcement of violations as follows:

- a. Upon receipt by the Executive Director of a complaint from a contracting agency that a County Contractor has failed to comply with the provisions of Local Law No. 14-2002, this Appendix EE or any other contractual provisions included in furtherance of Local Law No. 14-2002, the Executive Director will try to resolve the matter.

- b. If efforts to resolve such matter to the satisfaction of all parties are unsuccessful, the Executive Director shall refer the matter, within thirty days (30) of receipt of the complaint, to the American Arbitration Association for proceeding thereon.
- c. Upon conclusion of the arbitration proceedings, the arbitrator shall submit to the Executive Director his recommendations regarding the imposition of sanctions, fines or penalties. The Executive Director shall either (i) adopt the recommendation of the arbitrator (ii) determine that no sanctions, fines or penalties should be imposed or (iii) modify the recommendation of the arbitrator, provided that such modification shall not expand upon any sanction recommended or impose any new sanction, or increase the amount of any recommended fine or penalty. The Executive Director, within ten days (10) of receipt of the arbitrator's award and recommendations, shall file a determination of such matter and shall cause a copy of such determination to be served upon the respondent by personal service or by certified mail return receipt requested. The award of the arbitrator, and the fines and penalties imposed by the Executive Director, shall be final determinations and may only be vacated or modified as provided in the civil practice law and rules ("CPLR").

(m) The contractor shall provide contracting agency with information regarding all subcontracts awarded under any County Contract, including the amount of compensation paid to each Subcontractor and shall complete all forms provided by the Executive Director or the Department Head relating to subcontractor utilization and efforts to obtain M/WBE participation.

Failure to comply with provisions (a) through (m) above, as ultimately determined by the Executive Director, shall be a material breach of the contract constituting grounds for immediate termination. Once a final determination of failure to comply has been reached by the Executive Director, the determination of whether to terminate a contract shall rest with the Deputy County Executive with oversight responsibility for the contracting agency.

Provisions (a), (b) and (c) shall not be binding upon Contractors or Subcontractors in the performance of work or the provision of services or any other activity that are unrelated, separate, or distinct from the County Contract as expressed by its terms.

The requirements of the provisions (a), (b) and (c) shall not apply to any employment or application for employment outside of this County or solicitations or advertisements therefor or any existing programs of affirmative action regarding employment outside of this County and the effect of contract provisions required by these provisions (a), (b) and (c) shall be so limited.

The Contractor shall include provisions (a), (b) and (c) in every Subcontract in such a manner that these provisions shall be binding upon each Subcontractor as to work in connection with the County Contract.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "Best Efforts Checklist" shall mean a list signed by the Contractor, listing the procedures it has undertaken to procure Subcontractors in accordance with this Appendix EE.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "County Contract" shall mean (i) a written agreement or purchase order instrument, providing for a total expenditure in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), whereby a County contracting agency is committed to expend or does expend funds in return for labor, services, supplies, equipment, materials or any combination of the foregoing, to be performed for, or rendered or furnished to the County; or (ii) a written agreement in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), whereby a County contracting agency is committed to expend or does expend funds for the acquisition, construction, demolition, replacement, major repair or renovation of real property and improvements thereon. However, the term "County Contract" does not include agreements or orders for the following services: banking services, insurance policies or contracts, or contracts with a County contracting agency for the sale of bonds, notes or other securities.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "County Contractor" means an individual, business enterprise, including sole proprietorship, partnership, corporation, not-for-profit corporation, or any other person or entity other than the County, whether a contractor, licensor, licensee or any other party, that is (i) a party to a County Contract, (ii) a bidder in connection with the award of a County Contract, or (iii) a proposed party to a County Contract, but shall not include any Subcontractor.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "County Contractor" shall mean a person or firm who will manage and be responsible for an entire contracted project.

As used in this Appendix EE "Documentation Demonstrating Best Efforts to Obtain Certified Minority or Women-owned Business Enterprises" shall include, but is not limited to the following:

- a. Proof of having advertised for bids, where appropriate, in minority publications, trade newspapers/notices and magazines, trade and union publications, and publications of general circulation in Nassau County and surrounding areas or having verbally solicited M/WBEs whom the County Contractor reasonably believed might have the qualifications to do the work. A copy of the advertisement, if used, shall be included to demonstrate that it contained language indicating that the County Contractor welcomed bids and quotes from M/WBE Subcontractors. In addition, proof of the date(s) any such advertisements appeared must be included in the Best Effort Documentation. If verbal solicitation is used, a County Contractor's affidavit with a notary's signature and stamp shall be required as part of the documentation.

- b. Proof of having provided reasonable time for M/WBE Subcontractors to respond to bid opportunities according to industry norms and standards. A chart outlining the schedule/time frame used to obtain bids from M/WBEs is suggested to be included with the Best Effort Documentation
- c. Proof or affidavit of follow-up of telephone calls with potential M/WBE subcontractors encouraging their participation. Telephone logs indicating such action can be included with the Best Effort Documentation
- d. Proof or affidavit that M/WBE Subcontractors were allowed to review bid specifications, blue prints and all other bid/RFP related items at no charge to the M/WBEs, other than reasonable documentation costs incurred by the County Contractor that are passed onto the M/WBE.
- e. Proof or affidavit that sufficient time prior to making award was allowed for M/WBEs to participate effectively, to the extent practicable given the timeframe of the County Contract.
- f. Proof or affidavit that negotiations were held in good faith with interested M/WBEs, and that M/WBEs were not rejected as unqualified or unacceptable without sound business reasons based on (1) a thorough investigation of M/WBE qualifications and capabilities reviewed against industry custom and standards and (2) cost of performance. The basis for rejecting any M/WBE deemed unqualified by the County Contractor shall be included in the Best Effort Documentation
- g. If an M/WBE is rejected based on cost, the County Contractor must submit a list of all sub-bidders for each item of work solicited and their bid prices for the work.
- h. The conditions of performance expected of Subcontractors by the County Contractor must also be included with the Best Effort Documentation
- i. County Contractors may include any other type of documentation they feel necessary to further demonstrate their Best Efforts regarding their bid documents.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "Executive Director" shall mean the Executive Director of the Nassau County Office of Minority Affairs; provided, however, that Executive Director shall include a designee of the Executive Director except in the case of final determinations issued pursuant to Section (a) through (l) of these rules.

As used in this Appendix EE the term "Subcontract" shall mean an agreement consisting of part or parts of the contracted work of the County Contractor.

As used in this Appendix EE, the term "Subcontractor" shall mean a person or firm who performs part or parts of the contracted work of a prime contractor providing services, including construction services, to the County pursuant to a county contract. Subcontractor shall include a person or firm that provides labor, professional or other services, materials or supplies to a prime contractor that are necessary for the prime contractor to fulfill its obligations to provide services to the County pursuant to a county contract. Subcontractor shall not include a supplier of materials to a contractor who has contracted to provide goods but no services to the County, nor a supplier of incidental materials to a contractor, such as office supplies, tools and other items of nominal cost that are utilized in the performance of a service contract.

Provisions requiring contractors to retain or submit documentation of best efforts to utilize certified subcontractors and requiring Department head approval prior to subcontracting shall not apply to inter-governmental agreements. In addition, the tracking of expenditures of County dollars by not-for-profit corporations, other municipalities, States, or the federal government is not required.

COMPTROLLER APPROVAL FORM FOR PERSONAL, PROFESSIONAL OR HUMAN SERVICES CONTRACTS

Attach this form along with all personal, professional or human services contracts, contract renewals, extensions and amendments.

CONTRACTOR NAME: Ed Moore Advertising Agency, Inc.

CONTRACTOR ADDRESS: 10 Village Drive West., Dix Hills, NY 11745

FEDERAL TAX ID #: 11-2396029

Instructions: Please check the appropriate box ("☑") after one of the following roman numerals, and provide all the requested information.

I. The contract was awarded to the lowest, responsible bidder after advertisement for sealed bids. The contract was awarded after a request for sealed bids was published in _____ [newspaper] on _____ [date]. The sealed bids were publicly opened on _____ [date]. _____ [#] of sealed bids were received and opened.

II. The contractor was selected pursuant to a Request for Proposals.

The Contract was entered into after a written request for proposals was issued on _____ [date]. Potential proposers were made aware of the availability of the RFP by advertisement in _____ [newspaper], posting on industry websites, via email to interested parties and by publication on the County procurement website. Proposals were due on _____ [date]. _____ [state #] proposals were received and evaluated. The evaluation committee consisted of: _____

_____ (list # of persons on committee and their respective departments). The proposals were scored and ranked. As a result of the scoring and ranking, the highest-ranking proposer was selected.

III. This is a renewal, extension or amendment of an existing contract.

The contract was originally executed by Nassau County on 3/1/2020 [date]. This is a renewal or extension pursuant to the contract, or an amendment within the scope of the contract or RFP (copies of the relevant pages are attached). The original contract was entered into after _____ _____ [describe procurement method, i.e., RFP, three proposals evaluated, etc.] Attach a copy of the most recent evaluation of the contractor's performance for any contract to be renewed or extended. If the contractor has not received a satisfactory evaluation, the department must explain why the contractor should nevertheless be permitted to continue to contract with the county.

IV. Pursuant to Executive Order No. 1 of 1993, as amended, at least three proposals were solicited and received. The attached memorandum from the department head describes the proposals received, along with the cost of each proposal.

- A. The contract has been awarded to the proposer offering the lowest cost proposal; OR:
- B. The attached memorandum contains a detailed explanation as to the reason(s) why the contract was awarded to other than the lowest-cost proposer. The attachment includes a specific delineation of the unique skills and experience, the specific reasons why a proposal is deemed superior, and/or why the proposer has been judged to be able to perform more quickly than other proposers.

V. Pursuant to Executive Order No. 1 of 1993 as amended, the attached memorandum from the department head explains why the department did not obtain at least three proposals.

- A. There are only one or two providers of the services sought or less than three providers submitted proposals. The memorandum describes how the contractor was determined to be the sole source provider of the personal service needed or explains why only two proposals could be obtained. If two proposals were obtained, the memorandum explains that the contract was awarded to the lowest cost proposer, or why the selected proposer offered the higher quality proposal, the proposer's unique and special experience, skill, or expertise, or its availability to perform in the most immediate and timely manner.
- B. The memorandum explains that the contractor's selection was dictated by the terms of a federal or New York State grant, by legislation or by a court order. (Copies of the relevant documents are attached).
- C. Pursuant to General Municipal Law Section 104, the department is purchasing the services required through a New York State Office of General Services contract no. _____, and the attached memorandum explains how the purchase is within the scope of the terms of that contract.

D. Pursuant to General Municipal Law Section 119-o, the department is purchasing the services required through an inter-municipal agreement.

VI. This is a human services contract with a not-for-profit agency for which a competitive process has not been initiated. Attached is a memorandum that explains the reasons for entering into this contract without conducting a competitive process, and details when the department intends to initiate a competitive process for the future award of these services. For any such contract, where the vendor has previously provided services to the county, attach a copy of the most recent evaluation of the vendor's performance. If the contractor has not received a satisfactory evaluation, the department must explain why the contractor should nevertheless be permitted to contract with the county.

In certain limited circumstances, conducting a competitive process and/or completing performance evaluations may not be possible because of the nature of the human services program, or because of a compelling need to continue services through the same provider. In those circumstances, attach an explanation of why a competitive process and/or performance evaluation is inapplicable.

VII. This is a public works contract for the provision of architectural, engineering or surveying services. The attached memorandum provides details of the department's compliance with Board of Supervisors' Resolution No. 928 of 1993, including its receipt and evaluation of annual Statements of Qualifications & Performance Data, and its negotiations with the most highly qualified firms.

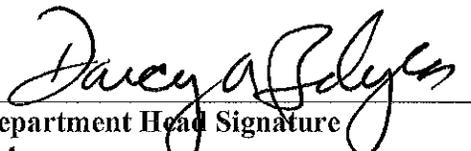

Instructions with respect to Sections VIII, IX and X: All Departments must check the box for VIII. Then, check the box for either IX or X, as applicable.

VIII. Participation of Minority Group Members and Women in Nassau County Contracts. The selected contractor has agreed that it has an obligation to utilize best efforts to hire MWBE sub-contractors. Proof of the contractual utilization of best efforts as outlined in Exhibit "EE" may be requested at any time, from time to time, by the Comptroller's Office prior to the approval of claim vouchers.

IX. Department MWBE responsibilities. To ensure compliance with MWBE requirements as outlined in Exhibit "EE", Department will require vendor to submit list of sub-contractor requirements prior to submission of the first claim voucher, for services under this contract being submitted to the Comptroller.

X. Vendor will not require any sub-contractors.

In addition, if this is a contract with an individual or with an entity that has only one or two employees: a review of the criteria set forth by the Internal Revenue Service, Revenue Ruling No. 87-41, 1987-1 C.B. 296, attached as Appendix A to the Comptroller's Memorandum, dated February 13, 2004, concerning independent contractors and employees indicates that the contractor would not be considered an employee for federal tax purposes.

RULES RESOLUTION NO. – 2022

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE TO EXECUTE A PERSONAL SERVICES AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COUNTY OF NASSAU, ACTING ON BEHALF OF THE NASSAU COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PARKS, RECREATION & MUSEUMS AND BACK STAGE PASS MEDIA PRODUCTIONS, INC.

WHEREAS, the County has negotiated a personal services agreement with Back Stage Pass Media Productions, Inc. to arrange for live musical performance on June 11, 2022 and other musical performance in subsequent years at the Lakeside Theatre, Eisenhower Park, East Meadow, NY, a copy of which is on file with the Clerk of the Legislature; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the Rules Committee of the Nassau County Legislature authorizes the County Executive to execute the said agreement with Back Stage Pass Media Productions, Inc.

CONTRACT FOR SERVICES

THIS AGREEMENT, made as of the date this agreement is last executed by the County (together with the schedules, appendices, attachments and exhibits, if any, this "Agreement"), between Nassau County, a municipal corporation having its principal office at 1550 Franklin Avenue, Mineola, New York 11501 (the "County"), acting on behalf of the County Department of Parks, Recreation & Museums, having its principal office at Administration Building, Eisenhower Park, East Meadow, NY 11554 (the "Department"), and the Back Stage Pass Media Productions, Inc., an organization, having its principal address 190 Asharoken Avenue, Northport NY 11768 (the "Performer" or "Contractor").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, the County has received funding from the State of New York pursuant to State Tax Law §1202-q and appropriated said funds to the Department in accordance with said law in order to improve and advance the marketability of cultural and historic attractions located in the County;

WHEREAS, in order to provide entertainment for the residents of the County, the Department issued RFQ# PK0408-2213 ARTISTS AND MUSICAL GROUP PERFORMANCES AT LAKESIDE THEATRE AT EISENHOWER PARK RFQ 2022 on April 8, 2022.

WHEREAS, the performer was selected based on its experience and expertise; and

WHEREAS, the County desires to hire the Contractor to perform the services described in this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, the Performer desires to perform the services described in this Agreement,

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and mutual covenants contained in this Agreement, the parties agree as follows:

1. Term. This Agreement shall commence on June 8, 2022 and shall terminate on December 31, 2024, unless sooner terminated as provided for herein. The Department may in its sole discretion, renew the term of this agreement, on the same terms and conditions, for one (1) two (2) year period.

2. Program. (a) The Performer is hereby retained to perform one (1) live musical performance by the NEW YORK BEE GEES on Saturday June 11, 2022 from 8:00pm to 10:00pm, at the Lakeside Theatre, Eisenhower Park, East Meadow, NY 11554 (the "Program").

(b) The Performer must appear for a sound check on the day of the Program, at a time to be determined by the Department, and must appear at least sixty (60) minutes prior to the commencement of the program. The Performer will not receive its compensation in the event it fails to appear as stated herein.

(c) The County shall supply venue stage and sound.

(d) The Performer shall be responsible, at its own cost and expense, for supplying the Performer's set-up, breakdown, and backline. Breakdown shall commence immediately after the completion of the performance.

(e) At least ten (10) days prior to the Program, the Performer shall provide to the Department the Program's complete production details and stage plot.

3. Payment.

(a) Amount of Consideration. The maximum amount to be paid to the Contractor as full consideration for the services under this Agreement shall not exceed Twenty four thousand eight hundred twenty-five Dollars ($24,825.00). This amount is inclusive of any and all expenses including travel and rehearsal and shall be payable as follows:

(i) The full payment of the maximum amount Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($7,500.00), payable to the Performer upon the completion of the performance and submission of the payment voucher(s) as herein described. Payment of this amount shall be contingent upon submission of the standard County claim voucher (the "Voucher") pursuant to subsection (b) of this section.

(b) Vouchers; Voucher Review, Approval and Audit. All Payments shall be made in accordance with Section 3(a) above and shall be contingent upon (i) the Performer submitting Vouchers in a form satisfactory to the County that: (a) states with reasonable specificity the services to be provided and the payment requested as consideration for such services, (b) certifies that the services to be rendered and the payment requested are in accordance with this Agreement, and (c) is accompanied by documentation satisfactory to the County supporting the amount claimed, and (ii) review, approval and audit of the Voucher by the Department and/or the County Comptroller or his or her duly designated representative (the "Comptroller").

(c) No Duplication of Payments. Payments under this Agreement shall not duplicate payments for any work performed or to be performed under other agreements between the parties and any funding source including the County.

(d) Payments in Connection with Termination or Notice of Termination. Unless a provision of this Agreement expressly states otherwise, payments to the Performer following the termination of this Agreement shall not exceed payments made as consideration for services that were (i) performed prior to termination, and (ii) authorized by this Agreement to be performed. The Performer will receive no payments respecting any services performed after the Performer received notice of termination from the County.

(e) Non-Completion. Unless otherwise specifically addressed elsewhere in this Agreement, in the event the Agreement is terminated, or the Program cancelled for any reason prior to the completion of the Program, the Performer shall immediately return any and all payments that the Performer has received. The re-payment shall be made within seven (7) days from the notice of cancellation or when the performance was due, whichever is sooner.

4. Independent Contractor. The Performer is an independent contractor of the County. The Contractor shall not, nor shall any officer, director, employee, servant, agent or independent contractor of the Performer (a "Performer Agent"), be (i) deemed a County employee, (ii) commit the County to any obligation, or (iii) hold itself, himself, or herself out as a County employee or Person with the authority to commit the County to any obligation. As used in this Agreement the word "Person" means any individual person, entity (including partnerships, corporations and limited liability companies), and government or political subdivision thereof (including agencies, bureaus, offices and departments thereof).

5. No Arrears or Default. The Contractor is not in arrears to the County upon any debt or contract and it is not in default as surety, Performer, or otherwise upon any obligation to the County, including any obligation to pay taxes to, or perform services for or on behalf of, the County.

6. Compliance with Law. (a) Generally. The Performer shall comply and shall cause all Performer Agents to comply with any and all applicable Federal, State and local Laws, including, but not limited to, those relating to the reproduction or performance of proprietary or copyrighted materials and works of third parties and to the protection of the intellectual property rights associated with such work, conflicts of interest, discrimination, disclosure of information and vendor registration in connection with its performance under this Agreement. In furtherance of the foregoing, the Contractor is bound by and shall comply with the terms of the County's vendor registration protocol. As used in this Agreement the word "Law" includes any and all statutes, local laws, ordinances, rules, regulations, applicable orders, and/or decrees, as the same may be amended from time to time, enacted, or adopted.

(b) Records Access. The parties acknowledge and agree that all records, information and data ("Information") acquired in connection with performance or administration of this Agreement shall be used and disclosed solely for the purpose of performance and administration of the contract or as required by law. The parties acknowledge that Information in the County's possession may be subject to disclosure under Section 87 of the New York State Public Officer's Law. In the event that such a request for disclosure is made, the County shall make reasonable efforts to notify the Performer of such request prior to disclosure of the Information so that the Performer may take such action as it deems appropriate.

COMPLIANCE WITH LAWS, REGULATIONS AND CODES:

(a) The Performer shall comply with any and all applicable Federal, State and local Laws, including, but not limited to those relating to conflicts of interest, discrimination, prevailing and living wage, disclosure of information, and vendor registration, in connection with its performance under this Permit. As used in this Agreement the word "Law" includes any and all statutes, local laws, ordinances, rules, regulations, applicable orders, and/or decrees, and any requisite approvals or permits as may be required by the County Police Department or County Department of Public Works, as the same may be amended from time to time, enacted, or adopted.

(b) Nassau County Living Wage Law. Pursuant to LL 1-1206, as amended, and to the extent that a waiver has not been obtained in accordance with such law or any rules of the County Executive, the Licensee agrees as follows:

(i) Licensee shall comply with the applicable requirements of the Living Wage Law, as amended.

(ii) Failure to comply with the Living Wage Law, as amended, may constitute a material breach of this Agreement, such breach being determined solely by the County. Licensee has the right to cure such breach within thirty days of receipt of notice of breach from the County. In the event that such breach is not timely cured, the County may terminate this Agreement as well as exercise any other rights available to the County under applicable law.

(iii) On a yearly basis, Licensee shall provide the County with any material changes to its Certificate of Compliance, attached to this Agreement as Appendix C.

(c) Performer shall be responsible for the recruitment and screening of appropriate personnel and verification of credentials, references, and suitability for working with the public, including minors. In addition, Performer shall check each prospective personnel and volunteer against the Statewide Sexual Offenders Registry. Performer agrees not to hire or retain any personnel who have not completely and truthfully reported information concerning their criminal convictions; whose criminal convictions record directly bears on their fitness to work with or in close proximity to the public, including minors, or whose employment would involve an unreasonable risk to the safety or welfare of the public, including minors, subject to and consistent with Article 23-A of the New York State Correction Law; or who have been the subject of an indicated child abuse and maltreatment report on file with the New York State Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment, or are the subject of an ongoing investigation pursuant to a child abuse and maltreatment report on file with the New York State Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment.

(d) Prohibition of Gifts. In accordance with County Executive Order 2-2019, the Permittee shall not offer, give, or agree to give anything of value to any County employee, agent, consultant, construction manager, or other person or firm representing the County (a "County Representative"), including members of a County Representative's immediate family, in connection with the performance by such County Representative of duties involving transactions with the Performer on behalf of the County, whether such duties are related to this Agreement or any other County contract or matter. As used herein, "anything of value" shall include, but not be limited to, meals, holiday gifts, holiday baskets, gift cards, tickets to golf outings, tickets to sporting events, currency of any kind, or any other gifts, gratuities, favorable opportunities, or preferences. For purposes of this subsection, an immediate family member shall include a spouse, child, parent, or sibling. The Performer shall include the provisions of this subsection in each subcontract entered into under this Agreement.

(e) Disclosure of Conflicts of Interest. In accordance with County Executive Order 2-2019, the Performer has disclosed as part of its response to the County's Business History Form, or other disclosure form(s), any and all instances where the Performer employs any spouse, child, or parent of a County employee of the agency or department that contracted or procured the goods and/or services described under this Agreement. The Performer shall have a continuing obligation, as circumstances arise, to update this disclosure throughout the term of this Agreement.

(f) Vendor Code of Ethics. By executing this Agreement, the Contractor hereby certifies and covenants that:

- (i) The Contractor has been provided a copy of the Nassau County Vendor Code of Ethics issued on June 5, 2019, as may be amended from time to time (the "Vendor Code of Ethics"), and will comply with all of its provisions;
- (ii) All of the Contractor's Participating Employees, as such term is defined in the Vendor Code of Ethics (the "Participating Employees"), have been provided a copy of the Vendor Code of Ethics prior to their participation in the underlying procurement;
- (iii) All Participating Employees have completed the acknowledgment required by the Vendor Code of Ethics;
- (iv) The Contractor will retain all of the signed Participating Employee acknowledgements for the period it is required to retain other records pertinent to performance under this Agreement;
- (v) The Contractor will continue to distribute the Vendor Code of Ethics, obtain signed Participating Employee acknowledgments as new Participating Employees are added or changed during the term of this Agreement, and retain such signed acknowledgments for the period the Contractor is required to retain other records pertinent to performance under this Agreement; and
- (vi) The Contractor has obtained the certifications required by the Vendor Code of Ethics from any subcontractors or other lower tier participants who have participated in procurements for work performed under this Agreement.

7. Minimum Service Standards. Regardless of whether required by Law:

(a) The Performer shall, and shall cause all Performer Agents to conduct its, his or her activities in connection with this Agreement so as not to endanger or harm any Person or property. The Performer shall prominently display on the home page of the Performer's website its scheduled performance at the Holiday Spectacular.

(b) The Performer shall deliver services under this Agreement in a professional manner consistent with the best practices of the industry in which the Performer operates. The Performer shall take all actions necessary or appropriate to meet the obligation described in the immediately preceding sentence, including obtaining and maintaining, and causing all Performer Agents to obtain and maintain, all approvals, licenses, and certifications ("Approvals") necessary or appropriate in connection with this Agreement.

8. Indemnification; Defense; Cooperation. (a) The Performer shall be solely responsible for and shall indemnify and hold harmless the County, the Department and its officers, employees, agents, volunteers and representatives (the "Indemnified Parties") from and against any and all liabilities, losses, costs, expenses (including, without limitation, attorneys' fees and disbursements) and damages ("Losses"), arising out of or in connection with any acts or omissions of the Performer or a Performer Agent, regardless of whether due to negligence, fault, or default, including Losses in connection with any threatened investigation, litigation or other proceeding or preparing a defense to or prosecuting the same; provided, however, that the Performer shall not be responsible for that portion, if any, of a Loss that is caused by the negligence of the County.

(b) The Performer shall indemnify, defend, protect and hold harmless the Indemnified Parties from and against any and all Losses arising from the use by the Performer of proprietary intellectual property of third parties (whether such claims are actual or threatened) under the copyright or other laws of the United States. The foregoing shall apply regardless of the means of publication or performance by the Performer, and shall include without limitation the use of recordings, audio broadcasts, video broadcasts and all other publication or performances whatsoever, whether now known or developed after the date of this Agreement.

(c) The Performer shall, upon the County's demand and at the County's direction, promptly and diligently defend, at the Performers own risk and expense, any and all suits, actions, or proceedings which may be brought or instituted against one or more Indemnified Parties for which the Performer are responsible under this Section, and, further to the Performer's indemnification obligations, the Performer shall pay and satisfy any judgment, decree, loss or settlement in connection therewith.

(d) The Performer shall, and shall cause all Performer Agents to cooperate with the County and the Department in connection with the investigation, defense or prosecution of any action, suit or proceeding in connection with this Agreement, including the acts or omissions of the Performer and/or a Performer Agent in connection with this Agreement.

(e) The provisions of this Section shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

9. Insurance. (a) Types and Amounts. The Contractor shall obtain and maintain throughout the term of this Agreement, at its own expense: (i) one or more policies for commercial general liability insurance, which policy(ies) shall name "Nassau County" its officials, employees, volunteers, agents, volunteers and representatives as an additional insured and have a minimum single combined limit of liability of not less than one million dollars ($1,000,000) per occurrence and two million dollars ($2,000,000) aggregate coverage, (ii) if contracting in whole or part to provide professional services, one or more policies for professional liability insurance, which policy(ies) shall have a minimum single combined limit liability of not less than one million dollars ($1,000,000) per occurrence and two million dollars ($2,000,000) aggregate coverage, (iii) compensation insurance for the benefit of the Contractor's employees ("Workers' Compensation Insurance"), which insurance is in compliance with the New York State Workers' Compensation Law, and (iv) such additional insurance as the County may from time to time specify. A waiver of subrogation is granted in favor of the County of Nassau.

(b) Acceptability; Deductibles; Subcontractors. All insurance obtained and maintained by the Contractors pursuant to this Agreement shall be (i) written by one or more commercial insurance carriers licensed to do business in New York State who maintain an A.M. Best rating of at least A- and acceptable to the County, and which is (ii) in form and substance acceptable to the County. The Contractor shall be solely responsible for the payment of all deductibles to which such policies are subject. The Contractor shall require any subcontractor hired in connection with this Agreement to carry insurance with the same limits and provisions required to be carried by the Contractor under this Agreement.

(c) Delivery; Coverage Change; No Inconsistent Action. Prior to the execution of this Agreement, copies of current certificates of insurance evidencing the insurance coverage required by this Agreement shall be delivered to the Department. Not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date of any expiration or renewal of, or actual, proposed or threatened reduction or cancellation of coverage under, any insurance required hereunder, the Contractor shall provide written notice to the Department of the same and deliver to the Department renewal or replacement certificates of insurance. The Contractor shall cause all insurance to remain in full force and effect throughout the term of this Agreement and shall not take or omit to take any action that would suspend or invalidate any of the required coverages. The failure of the Contractor to maintain Workers' Compensation Insurance shall render this contract void and of no effect. The failure of the Contractor to maintain required coverages shall be deemed a material breach of this Agreement upon which the County reserves the right to consider this Agreement terminated as of the date of such failure.

IMPORTANT: a Certificate of Insurance is to be issued to the County of Nassau on an acceptable form which shows that the coverage has been obtained and that the County will be given ten (10) days of notice of cancellation.

The following must be on Certificate of Insurance to be valid and acceptable for Nassau County Department of Parks, Recreation and Museums:

10. Assignment; Amendment; Waiver; Subcontracting. This Agreement and the rights and obligations hereunder may not be in whole or part (i) assigned, transferred or disposed of, (ii) amended, (iii) waived, or (iv) subcontracted, without the prior written consent of the County Executive or his or her duly designated deputy (the "County Executive"), and any purported assignment, other disposal or modification without such prior written consent shall be null and void. The failure of a party to assert any of its rights under this Agreement, including the right to demand strict performance, shall not constitute a waiver of such rights.

11. Termination. (a) Generally. This Agreement may be terminated (i) for any reason by the County upon ten (10) days' written notice to the Contractor (ii) for "Cause" by the County immediately upon the receipt by the Contractor of written notice of termination, (iii) upon mutual written agreement of the County and the Contractor, and (iv) in accordance with any other provisions of this Agreement expressly addressing termination.

As used in this Agreement the word "Cause" includes: (i) a breach of this Agreement; (ii) the failure to obtain and maintain in full force and effect all Approvals required for the services described in this Agreement to be legally and professionally rendered; and (iii) the termination or impending termination of federal or state funding for the services to be provided under this Agreement.

(b) By the Performer. This Agreement may be terminated by the Performer if performance becomes impracticable through no fault of the Performer where the impracticability relates to the Performers ability to perform its obligations and not to a judgment as to convenience or the desirability of continued performance. Termination under this subsection shall be effected by the Performer delivering to the commissioner or other head of the Department (the "Commissioner"), at least thirty (30) days prior to the termination date (or a shorter period if thirty days' notice is impossible), a notice stating (i) that the party is terminating this Agreement in accordance with this subsection, (ii) the date as of which this Agreement will terminate, and (iii) the facts giving rise to the party's right to terminate under this subsection. A copy of the notice given to the Commissioner shall be given to the Deputy County Executive who oversees the administration of the Department (the "Applicable DCE") on the same day that notice is given to the Commissioner.

12. Accounting Procedures; Records. The Performer shall maintain and retain, for a period of six (6) years following the later of termination of or final payment under this Agreement, complete and accurate records, documents, accounts and other evidence, whether maintained electronically or manually ("Records"), pertinent to performance under this Agreement. Records shall be maintained in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles and, if the Performer is a non-profit entity, must comply with the accounting guidelines set forth in the federal Office of Management & Budget Circular A-122, "Cost Principles for Non-Profit Organizations." Such Records shall at all times be available for audit and inspection by the Comptroller, the Department, any other governmental authority with jurisdiction over the provision of services hereunder and/or the payment therefore, and any of their duly designated representatives. The provisions of this Section shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

13. Limitations on Actions and Special Proceedings Against the County. No action or special proceeding shall lie or be prosecuted or maintained against the County upon any claims arising out of or in connection with this Agreement unless:

(a) Notice. At least thirty (30) days prior to seeking relief, the Performer shall have presented the demand or claim(s) upon which such action or special proceeding is based in writing to the Applicable DCE for adjustment and the County shall have neglected or refused to make an adjustment or payment on the demand or claim for thirty (30) days after presentment. The Performer shall send or deliver copies of the documents presented to the Applicable DCE under this Section to each of (i) the Department and the (ii) the County Attorney (at the address specified above for the County) on the same day that documents are sent or delivered to the Applicable DCE. The complaint or necessary moving papers of the Performer shall allege that the above-described actions and inactions preceded the Performer's action or special proceeding against the County.

(b) Time Limitation. Such action or special proceeding is commenced within the earlier of (i) one (1) year of the first to occur of (A) final payment under or the termination of this Agreement, and (B) the accrual of the cause of action, and (ii) the time specified in any other provision of this Agreement.

14. Work Performance Liability. The Performer is and shall remain primarily liable for the successful completion of all work in accordance this Agreement irrespective of whether the Performer uses a Performer Agent to perform some or all of the work contemplated by this Agreement, and irrespective of whether the use of such Performer Agent has been approved by the County.

15. Consent to Jurisdiction and Venue; Governing Law. Unless otherwise specified in this Agreement or required by Law, exclusive original jurisdiction for all claims or actions with respect to this Agreement shall be in the Supreme Court in Nassau County in New York State and the parties expressly waive any objections to the same on any grounds, including venue and forum non conveniens. This Agreement is intended as a contract under, and shall be governed and construed in accordance with, the Laws of New York State, without regard to the conflict of laws provisions thereof.

16. Notices. Any notice, request, demand or other communication required to be given or made in connection with this Agreement shall be (a) in writing, (b) delivered or sent (i) by hand delivery, evidenced by a signed, dated receipt, (ii) postage prepaid via certified mail, return receipt requested, or (iii) overnight delivery via a nationally recognized courier service, (c) deemed given or made on the date the delivery receipt was signed by a County employee, three (3) business days after it is mailed or one (1) business day after it is released to a courier service, as applicable, and (d)(i) if to the Department, to the attention of the Commissioner at the address specified above for the Department, (ii) if to an Applicable DCE, to the attention of the Applicable DCE (whose name the Performer shall obtain from the Department) at the address specified above for the County, (iii) if to the Comptroller, to the attention of the Comptroller at 240 Old Country Road, Mineola, NY 11501, and (iv) if to the Performer, to the attention of the person who executed this Agreement on behalf of the Performer at the address specified above for the Performer, or in each case to such other persons or addresses as shall be designated by written notice.

17. All Legal Provisions Deemed Included; Severability; Supremacy. (a) Every provision required by Law to be inserted into or referenced by this Agreement is intended to be a part of this Agreement. If any such provision is not inserted or referenced or is not inserted or referenced in correct form then (i) such provision shall be deemed inserted into or referenced by this Agreement for purposes of interpretation and (ii) upon the application of either party this Agreement shall be formally amended to comply strictly with the Law, without prejudice to the rights of either party.

(b) In the event that any provision of this Agreement shall be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable; the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

(c) Unless the application of this subsection will cause a provision required by Law to be excluded from this Agreement, in the event of an actual conflict between the terms and conditions set forth above the signature page to this Agreement and those contained in any schedule, exhibit, appendix, or attachment to this Agreement, the terms and conditions set forth above the signature page shall control. To the extent possible, all the terms of this Agreement should be read together as not conflicting.

18. Section and Other Headings. The section and other headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement.

19. Miscellaneous.

(a) The Performer hereby acknowledges and agrees that the Department shall have sole discretion in determining whether the Program should be cancelled due to inclement weather or other dangerous or emergency condition. The decision to cancel the Program due to inclement weather or other dangerous or emergency condition may be made by the Department up to one half (1/2) hour before the commencement of the Program. In the event the Program is cancelled due to inclement weather or other dangerous or emergency condition, not caused by the Performer, the Performer shall be paid in full, provided the Performer was willing and able to perform, appeared at the sound check and at the venue prior to the Program being cancelled. In the event that the program is cancelled prior to the Performer performing as stated in this section, the Performer shall return all payments received by the Performer pursuant to Section 3, above.

(b) The Performer grants the Department a limited, non-exclusive, license to use the Performer's name, image and Trademark (as hereinafter defined) in connection with advertising, promotion and/or publicity for the Program. Without the prior written approval by the Department, the County and Department's Trademark shall not be used in connection with the Performers own promotion and advertisement of the Program. For this Agreement, the term "Trademark" shall include name, trade names, service marks, logos, symbols, design image, seals, flag and symbols.

(c) Each party will bear the cost of its own development, production, promotion and distribution of their respective promotional materials. Each party warrants that their respective promotional materials will be of high standard, style, appearance and quality so as not to reflect adversely upon the good names of the parties.

(d) The Performer represents and warrants that it is the authorized agent for the Performer and has the authority to enter into this Agreement on the behalf of the Performer and agrees that as the authorized agent, by executing this Agreement, the Performer shall be bound by the terms and conditions contained herein. The Performer further acknowledges and agrees for the purposes of undertaking this Agreement each shall be jointly and severally liable to third parties, including, but not limited to, the County, for the acts or omissions of the Performer.

(e) Performer acknowledges that the Nassau County Executive shall make introductory remarks at the beginning of the Program.

(f) The Performer shall make itself available for photographs prior to the performance.

(g) All authorized County personnel and Contractors shall have unrestricted access to the backstage areas and all other areas required to be accessed during the Program. The Commissioner of Parks or his representative shall make any determination as to those employees and/or Contractors who shall have such access.

(h) All final decisions respecting stage and set decorations shall be made by the Commissioner or his designated representative, in his sole discretion.

20. Streaming Video. The Performer and/or Performer hereby acknowledge that the County, in its sole discretion, may elect to stream the performance live over the Nassau County website for the benefit of Nassau County residents.

21. Executory Clause. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement:

- (a) Approval and Execution. The County shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to any Person unless (i) all County approvals have been obtained, including, if required, approval by the County Legislature, and (ii) this Agreement has been executed by the County Executive (as defined in this Agreement).
- (b) Availability of Funds. The County shall have no liability under this Agreement (including any extension or other modification of this Agreement) to any Person beyond funds appropriated or otherwise lawfully available for this Agreement, and, if any portion of the funds for this Agreement are from the state and/or federal governments, then beyond funds available to the County from the state and/or federal governments.

22. Entire Agreement. This Agreement represents the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with regard to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements (whether written or oral) of the parties relating to the subject matter of this Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Performer and the County have executed this Agreement as of the date first above written.

CONTRACTOR NAME: BACK STAGE PASS MEDIA PRODUCTIONS, INC.

CONTRACTOR ADDRESS: 190 Asharoken Ave., Northport, NY 11768

FEDERAL TAX ID #: 26-3538746

Instructions: Please check the appropriate box ("") after one of the following roman numerals, and provide all the requested information.

I. The contract was awarded to the lowest, responsible bidder after advertisement for sealed bids. The contract was awarded after a request for sealed bids was published in _____ [newspaper] on _____ [date]. The sealed bids were publicly opened on _____ [date]. _____ [#] of sealed bids were received and opened.

II. The contractor was selected pursuant to a Request for Proposals.

The Contract was entered into after a written request for qualifications was issued on April 8, 2022. Potential proposers were made aware of the availability of the RFQ by advertisement in Newsday on April 8, 2022, posting on industry websites, via email to interested parties and by publication on the County procurement website. Eighteen (18) of potential proposers received notice of the RFQ. Eighteen (18) viewed the documents, Fifteen (15) of potential proposers opened the documents and requested a copy of the RFQ on the Nassau County website. Ten (10) Potential Proposers were sent a link to access the RFQ on the Nassau County website via email. Proposals were due on April 22, 2022. Addendum No. 1 issued on April 20, 2022 extended the due date to April 29, 2022. A total of Ten (10) proposals were received and evaluated. The evaluation committee consisted of: Six (6) employees of the Department of Parks, Recreation & Museums; Christine Fairchild, Cynthia Gillen, Paul Wygand, Dave Franklin and Frank Alagia and Karen Beckhard-Ravener (Non-Voting Member Technical Advisor). The proposals were scored and ranked. As a result of the scoring and ranking, the one (1) highest-ranking proposer was selected. BACK STAGE PASS MEDIA PRODUCTIONS, INC. was the sole proposer for the Bee Gees Tribute Band. BACK STAGE PASS MEDIA PRODUCTIONS, INC. was the awarded Proposer.

III. This is a renewal, extension or amendment of an existing contract.

The contract was originally executed by Nassau County on _____ [date]. This is a renewal or extension pursuant to the contract, or an amendment within the scope of the contract or RFP (copies of the relevant pages are attached). The original contract was entered into after _____ _____ [describe procurement method, i.e., RFP, three proposals evaluated, etc.] Attach a copy of the most recent evaluation of the contractor's performance for any contract to be renewed or extended. If the contractor has not received a satisfactory evaluation, the department must explain why the contractor should nevertheless be permitted to continue to contract with the county.

IV. Pursuant to Executive Order No. 1 of 1993, as amended, at least three proposals were solicited and received. The attached memorandum from the department head describes the proposals received, along with the cost of each proposal.

- A. The contract has been awarded to the proposer offering the lowest cost proposal; OR:
- B. The attached memorandum contains a detailed explanation as to the reason(s) why the contract was awarded to other than the lowest-cost proposer. The attachment includes a specific delineation of the unique skills and experience, the specific reasons why a proposal is deemed superior, and/or why the proposer has been judged to be able to perform more quickly than other proposers.

V. Pursuant to Executive Order No. 1 of 1993 as amended, the attached memorandum from the department head explains why the department did not obtain at least three proposals.

- A. There are only one or two providers of the services sought or less than three providers submitted proposals. The memorandum describes how the contractor was determined to be the sole source provider of the personal service needed or explains why only two proposals could be obtained. If two proposals were obtained, the memorandum explains that the contract was awarded to the lowest cost proposer, or why the selected proposer offered the higher quality proposal, the proposer's unique and special experience, skill, or expertise, or its availability to perform in the most immediate and timely manner.
- B. The memorandum explains that the contractor's selection was dictated by the terms of a federal or New York State grant, by legislation or by a court order. (Copies of the relevant documents are attached).
- C. Pursuant to General Municipal Law Section 104, the department is purchasing the services required through a New York State Office of General Services contract no. _____, and the attached memorandum explains how the purchase is within the scope of the terms of that contract.

D. Pursuant to General Municipal Law Section 119-o, the department is purchasing the services required through an inter-municipal agreement.

VI. This is a human services contract with a not-for-profit agency for which a competitive process has not been initiated. Attached is a memorandum that explains the reasons for entering into this contract without conducting a competitive process, and details when the department intends to initiate a competitive process for the future award of these services. For any such contract, where the vendor has previously provided services to the county, attach a copy of the most recent evaluation of the vendor's performance. If the contractor has not received a satisfactory evaluation, the department must explain why the contractor should nevertheless be permitted to contract with the county.

In certain limited circumstances, conducting a competitive process and/or completing performance evaluations may not be possible because of the nature of the human services program, or because of a compelling need to continue services through the same provider. In those circumstances, attach an explanation of why a competitive process and/or performance evaluation is inapplicable.

VII. This is a public works contract for the provision of architectural, engineering or surveying services. The attached memorandum provides details of the department's compliance with Board of Supervisors' Resolution No. 928 of 1993, including its receipt and evaluation of annual Statements of Qualifications & Performance Data, and its negotiations with the most highly qualified firms.

Instructions with respect to Sections VIII, IX and X: All Departments must check the box for VIII. Then, check the box for either IX or X, as applicable.

VIII. Participation of Minority Group Members and Women in Nassau County Contracts. The selected contractor has agreed that it has an obligation to utilize best efforts to hire MWBE sub-contractors. Proof of the contractual utilization of best efforts as outlined in Exhibit "EE" may be requested at any time, from time to time, by the Comptroller's Office prior to the approval of claim vouchers.

IX. Department MWBE responsibilities. To ensure compliance with MWBE requirements as outlined in Exhibit "EE", Department will require vendor to submit list of sub-contractor requirements prior to submission of the first claim voucher, for services under this contract being submitted to the Comptroller.

X. Vendor will not require any sub-contractors.

In addition, if this is a contract with an individual or with an entity that has only one or two employees: a review of the criteria set forth by the Internal Revenue Service, Revenue Ruling No. 87-41, 1987-1 C.B. 296, attached as Appendix A to the Comptroller's Memorandum, dated February 13, 2004, concerning independent contractors and employees indicates that the contractor would not be considered an employee for federal tax purposes.

SCHEDULE

Name Of Additional Insured Person(s) Or Organization(s) COUNTY OF NASSAU 1550 FRANKLIN AVE MINEOLA, NY 11501 Named Insured: BACK STAGE PASS MEDIA PRODUCTIONS, INC. Information required to complete this Schedule, if not shown above, will be shown in the Declarations.

A. Section II – Who Is An Insured is amended to include as an additional insured the person(s) or organization(s) shown in the Schedule, but only with respect to liability for "bodily injury", "property damage" or "personal and advertising injury" caused, in whole or in part, by your acts or omissions or the acts or omissions of those acting on your behalf:

1. In the performance of your ongoing operations; or
2. In connection with your premises owned by or rented to you.

However:

1. The insurance afforded to such additional insured only applies to the extent permitted by law; and
2. If coverage provided to the additional insured is required by a contract or agreement, the insurance afforded to such additional insured will not be broader than that which you are required by the contract or agreement to provide for such additional insured.

B. With respect to the insurance afforded to these additional insureds, the following is added to Section III – Limits Of Insurance:

If coverage provided to the additional insured is required by a contract or agreement, the most we will pay on behalf of the additional insured is the amount of insurance:

1. Required by the contract or agreement; or
2. Available under the applicable Limits of Insurance shown in the Declarations; whichever is less.

SUBJECT: DELAY MEMO – BACK STAGE PASS MEDIA PRODUCTIONS, INC. – CQPK22000010

This memorandum is submitted in response to your request for a delay memo to explain the retroactivity of the above-mentioned Contract for Services CQPK22000010 with Back Stage Pass Media Productions, Inc. Back Stage Pass Media Productions, Inc. will provide one (1) live musical performance by the New York Bee Gees on Saturday, June 11, 2022 at Lakeside Theater, Eisenhower Park. The term of this agreement is from June 8, 2022 through December 31, 2024 and may be renewed for one (1) additional two (2) year period under the same term and conditions.

This Agreement had to go through the RFQ process which was very time consuming and lengthy. In addition, as a new vendor to Nassau County, the vendor was not familiar with the Vendor Portal system, which delayed the completion of the required disclosure forms. These delays led to the retroactivity of this agreement.

8 separately. A motion to table A-18? Moved by 9 Legislator Rhoads. Seconded by Legislator
10 DeRiggi-Whitton. All in favor of tabling that 11 contract signify by saying aye.

12 B-3. A motion by Legislator
13 Rhoads. Seconded by Legislator Schaefer. All
14 in favor of tabling that item signify by 15 saying aye. That motion succeeds by a vote of 16 six to nothing with Minority Leader Abrahams
17 not voting. As convoluted as that might be.

18 The first contract to be considered
19 is with the police department. E-68 with 20 Selex.

21 MR. FIELD: Good afternoon.
22 William Field, inspector with the police
23 department.

24 Item E-68-22 this is an amendment
25 to extend the contract for services related to

1 Rules - 6-27-22
2 the department's license plate readers. This 3 amendment is with Selex who does business as 4 LSAG. The purpose is to extend the term of 5 the contract for one additional year. They 6 were selected as a sole source provider and 7 their system is a proprietary system of 8 hardware and software.

9 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: The 10 contract, though, with the extension expires
11 on July 31 of 2022. Is there something in the 12 works for another contract for them or is this 13 going to be it?

14 MR. FIELD: Yes, sir. We're 15 currently trying to figure out the best way to 16 proceed. We have a couple of options we're 17 weighing and we're working with the county
18 attorney because we don't have a lot of time.

19 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Those
20 options include another extension for Selex?

21 MR. FIELD: Possibly.

22 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: But you
23 haven't made a determination yet.

24 Legislator DeRiggi-Whitton.

25 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON: Do

1 Rules - 6-27-22

2 you know if this is a considered a sole
3 source?

4 MR. FIELD: Yes. This was
5 originally, back in 2016, determined as a sole
6 source. It's their hardware, their software
7 system that they maintain for us.

8 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON: I
9 guess we can probably get an extension a
10 little bit easier if that's the case.

11 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Any other
12 debate or discussion? Thank you inspector.

13 E-70 of 2022. This is with TPVA
14 and Howard Krebs.

15 MR. MULLIN: Mark Mullin, general
16 counsel to TPVA. As many of you are aware,
17 TPVA is in need of judicial hearing officers.
18 The Honorable Judge Howard Krebs has applied.
19 He's qualified under the statute and has been 20 approved by the administrative judge.

21 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Any
22 discussion or debate? Thank you.

23 Next item is with the parks
24 department and it's E-73 of 2022.

25 MS. BELYEA: Good afternoon

1 Rules - 6-27-22

2 Presiding Officer. Darcy Belyea. I'm joining
3 you remotely today.

4 We are looking to amend a personal
5 services agreement of a contract in place
6 since March 1, 2020 as a result of an RFP. We 7 are seeking to extend the term for two years.
8 It would now expire on February 28, 2025. For 9 purposes of additional funding, which I will 10 explain momentarily, will be to develop a new 11 broad-based marketing plan for Nassau County
12 that would promote tourism to the county from 13 the tri-state area as well as from our own 14 residents here in the county as you work to 15 recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

16 The goal is to have people from 17 within Nassau County and the tri-state come to 18 Nassau, spend money in our stores and 19 restaurants, stay in our hotels and also visit 20 our county parks, beaches, museums and 21 preserves which have all seen a dramatic drop 22 in visitation and revenue numbers due to the 23 pandemic.

24 And the funding that we would like
25 to add was budgeted for by the prior

1 Rules - 6-27-22
2 administration. The additional funds to
3 initially be added are $600,000 from ARPA
4 funding. The maximum amount of the contract
5 shall be increased from $450,000 by an
6 additional $1.8 million over the term to a 7 total of $2.25 million. Funding sources will 8 be $150,000 per year as it currently is from 9 hotel-motel funds and the balance from ARPA
10 funds as I previously mentioned as allocated
11 by the previous administration.

12 And I am excited about continuing
13 to work with the Ed Moore Agency who's done
14 nice work with the county in recent years and 15 also our county team to bring people to 16 Nassau, encourage our own residents to visit 17 facilities and attend events as we continue to 18 be open in Nassau County.

19 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: I have 20 some questions. Is this taking the place of 21 the contract with Discover Long Island or 22 supplemental?

23 MS. BELYEA: No. This will
24 supplement, work in concert. Again, a more
25 broad-based marketing plan specific for

1 Rules - 6-27-22
2 Nassau. The Discover Long Island contract
3 currently has expired and we're in the process
4 of reissuing an RFP. The prior administration
5 had reissued an RFP and we weren't comfortable
6 moving forward with their selection. So we 7 are in the process of reissuing that. But 8 this is separate and apart from that.

9 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: In terms
10 of the ARPA funds will they be used, in 11 addition to this year, will they be used in 12 the next two years as well? Do you anticipate 13 those funds being available? Do you
14 anticipate those funds still being available
15 in the next two years?

16 MS. BELYEA: I would think so.
17 With additionally hopefully added.

18 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Anyone
19 else have questions? Yes.

20 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON: Hi
21 commissioner. This is Legislator Whitton. I
22 understand that they're going to increase
23 everything and I think that's great to help
24 but it's only going to be for the Nassau
25 County events or --?

1 Rules - 6-27-22

2 MS. BELYEA: No. Our goal is to
3 get people to shop in our stores, eat in our
4 restaurants, stay in our hotels and also come
5 to Nassau County. And while you're here
6 hopefully enjoy an event or two and visit one
7 of our amazing parks or preserves.

8 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON: How 9 are you going to decide what hotels to promote 10 or what restaurants?

11 MS. BELYEA: We aren't going to 12 specifically support or promote individual
13 businesses. But the end goal is to have a 14 broad-based marketing plan that gets bodies
15 here in Nassau County staying, eating,
16 shopping and doing.

17 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON: It
18 is a big increase because it used to be 150
19 per year and now we're going up to about 750 a 20 year. Do you have like feel secure with the 21 plan that you've seen? There's a pretty good 22 outline of the efforts they're going to be 23 making?

24 MS. BELYEA: I worked with Ed
25 Moore since I came on in January and his work

1 Rules - 6-27-22
2 has been great. We're going to work with him
3 and the consultant, Adora, actually help to 4 oversee as well to make sure that we are 5 following suit with how the funds can be 6 used. But I hope to model a plan in line with 7 what other municipalities are currently using 8 their ARPA funds for. A close example to us
9 would be Gloucester County, New Jersey,
10 Boston, Washington D.C.

11 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON: As
12 far as the ARPA funding you've had that looked 13 into, correct? Because I know there was a 14 question that like I don't know if you can 15 hire personnel with that funding.

16 MS. BELYEA: No. I have full
17 confidence in our team from OMB and county
18 attorney's office and we've both been working
19 together as a team along with county
20 communications with the consultant Adora and 21 they've been advising us on how we can use
22 these funds. They'll guide us as needed as we 23 go along.

24 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON:
25 Thank you.

1 Rules - 6-27-22

2 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Another
3 question. Does Ed Moore Agency have 4 experience in broad-based marketing?
5 Obviously he's been in a more narrow function
6 with the county for years in terms of 7 promoting our concerts and actually probably 8 booking concerts. Does he have experience?

9 MS. BELYEA: Yes, sir. We have 10 the luxury of having him subcontract out to 11 production houses and other consultants as 12 well. So if there is a time when he needs
13 assistance we can call on them.

14 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: What would 15 differentiate what he's going to be doing as 16 opposed to what the vendor will be doing that 17 responds to the RFP? What's different about 18 his role? Is it the same?

19 MS. BELYEA: Truthfully, no. His 20 role is different because we want to bring
21 people here to the county and immediately
22 increase our revenue and visitors to our own
23 facilities as well as private businesses as I
24 mentioned. What I have seen from what I have 25 reviewed and met with who was awarded the RFP

1 Rules - 6-27-22
2 last year and also meeting with Discover a
3 couple of times they are very regionally
4 based, not Nassau County specific. So we're 5 looking to put more of a focus here on our 6 county.

7 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Any other
8 questions? All right. Thank you Darcy.

9 MS. BELYEA: Thank you.

10 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Next parks
11 item is a contract U-3 with Backstage Pass
12 Media.

13 MR. MESSNER: Tim Messner, deputy
14 commissioner with the parks department.

15 The contract you have before you is 16 an award to Backstage Pass Media who is a 17 performer that was awarded a contract based on 18 a RFQ process. This is retroactive.
19 Unfortunately we did not get this to you in 20 time for the first concert series that we had 21 dated June 11th.

22 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Any
23 questions to Tim? No? Thank you.

24 Next contracts are with the county
25 attorney's office, E-54.

1 Rules - 6-27-22

2 MR. LIBERT: Brian Libert from
3 the county attorney's office. This is a
4 contract with Kaufman Dolowich Vullock for the 5 case known as Volpe. The case actually has 6 now been transferred. This is actually a 7 closeout contract. It is a labor and 8 employment matter. Of course I'm happy to 9 answer any questions.

10 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: I don't 11 know if you can answer, do you know why it was 12 transferred to a new counsel? I don't know if 13 you can answer it anyway.

14 MR. LIBERT: I would just say for 15 strategy reasons for the purposes of this 16 record.

17 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Any other
18 questions on this contract?

19 Move to the second one which would 20 be E-69, Law Office of Vincent McNamara.

21 MR. LIBERT: This is a new
22 contract with the Law Office of Vincent
23 McNamara for a contract a case called Bram
24 Surup against Nassau County. This is a very 25 serious personal injury case and the county's

1 Rules - 6-27-22
2 involvement stems mostly from the transport of 3 the patient. And again, it's very serious and 4 that's why we need counsel.

5 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Any
6 questions on this contract? Nope.

7 E-72 Sokoloff Stern.

8 MR. LIBERT: This is contract
9 with Sokoloff Stern for the case of Gurleen
10 Felix and the Estate of Matthew Felix. Last 11 month I was here I believe with two contracts
12 for the same case. There is a conflict in the 13 case and this is the third counsel that is 14 required due to that legal conflict.

15 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Any
16 questions on this one? Thank you Brian.

17 MR. LIBERT: Have a great day.

18 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: We have
19 two contracts with public works. A-21.

20 MR. ARNOLD: A-21 is a purchase
21 order for Howell bathroom tissue and 22 dispensers. There were three vendors that 23 solicited on the bid and the bidder that we're 24 choosing is a small business minority and runs
25 his own business.

1 Rules - 6-27-22

2 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Any

3 questions on this one?

4 Next one is B-1. Next and last
5 one.

6 MR. ARNOLD: B-1 is our general
7 construction requirements contract. This
8 contract we use for emergencies and for timely
9 projects that need to get done. We had two 10 bids received and E and A was the lowest
11 responsible bidder. There were some questions
12 from the IG that were satisfied.

13 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Any
14 questions for this item? Legislator
15 DeRiggi-Whitton.

16 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON: I
17 understand the inspector general is on the 18 meeting. Jodi, are you there?

19 MS. FRANZESE: Good afternoon.
20 Jodi Franzese from the Office of the Inspector
21 General.

22 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON: If
23 you wouldn't mind just giving us a brief
24 update as to your findings.

25 MS. FRANZESE: So, our office was

1 Rules - 6-27-22
2 unable to find any evidence in the record that 3 DPW conducted a capacity assessment as part of 4 its vendor responsibility review. Since the 5 vendor was currently working on two of 6 Nassau's largest projects, we inquired of the 7 department as to whether or not they planned
8 to do or had done such an assessment. So DPW
9 gave us a detailed response that seems to be 10 the results of very careful consideration and 11 their response allayed our concerns.

12 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON: It
13 would be helpful if -- when did you receive 14 that response?

15 MS. FRANZESE: Actually, I
16 received it and I sent it to the members, the 17 people who are in my email send list.
18 Minority counsel, majority counsel, the 19 administration. I sent their response out I 20 think a week or so ago. But I can confirm the 21 date for you but that's -- and just to be 22 clear, if I could help with this. It was 23 never our intention to prevent this particular 24 award. We just wanted to make sure that the 25 vendor didn't have too much on their plate so

1 Rules - 6-27-22

2 that they could complete both the police
3 academy and the family court and then also 4 take on a requirements contract.

5 LEGISLATOR DERIGGI-WHITTON:

6 Thank you for putting everything on the 7 record. I appreciate it.

8 MS. FRANZESE: My pleasure.

9 LEGISLATOR NICOLELLO: Any other
10 questions? No? Now we are going to --
11 actually before we go to a vote we need to ask
12 if there's any public comment? Hearing none, 13 we're going to go for a vote on all those 14 contracts including E-68, E-70, E-73, U-3,
15 E-54, E-69, E-72, A-21 and B-1. All in favor
16 signify by saying aye. Those opposed? Carries
17 unanimously.

18 Motion to adjourn by Legislator
19 Rhoads. Seconded by Legislator Schaefer. All
20 in favor of adjourning signify by saying aye.
21 Those opposed? That carries unanimously.
22 We're adjourned.
